D.C. FAMILY VACATION

Alexandria is an affordable and accessible home base.

Planning a D.C. vacation and looking for the perfect place to stay? Stay in Alexandria, Money magazine's #1 Best U.S. Travel Destination for 2018 for delivering the highest value for exploring the D.C. region.

Old Town offers convenient access to the nation's capital and a relaxing respite at the end of each day.

Water Taxi to D.C.

Take the scenic route from Old Town to the National Mall aboard the seasonal water taxi. The 30-minute cruise offers stunning views of D.C. and is a memorable activity itself. Disembark at the Tidal Basin steps from the Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial and create your own adventure as you visit D.C.'s awe-inspiring memorials and monuments.

Metro to Museums

Hop on Metrorail at the King St-Old Town station for an 18-minute ride to the National Mall. Take the Yellow line to L'Enfant Plaza station, a three-minute walk to the National Air and Space Museum. Then, explore the family-favorite National Museum of Natural History. Take special shuttles during the renovation of Alexandria's Metrorail stations in the summer of 2019.

Stroll Old Town

Unwind by strolling historic Old Town and King Street, a walkable mile named one of the "Great Streets" of America lined with hundreds of restaurants, boutiques and fun for the family. Explore 82 artists' studios and seven galleries at the Torpedo Factory Art Center. Discover history where it happened at intimate historic site museums. Or solve a mystery together at Escape Room Live.

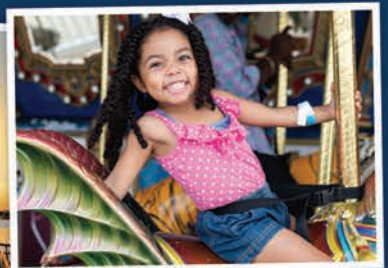

Visit Mount Vernon

George Washington's Mount Vernon is just a bike or boat ride from Old Town along the picturesque Potomac River. Tour the mansion and step inside one of the most iconic homes in the country, interact with history at the Museum and Education Center, visit animals and get a taste of 18th-century farm life at the Pioneer Farm.

Alexandria's

Neighborhoods

Discover the city that everyone from Condé Nast Traveler to Money magazine is buzzing about.

Del Ray's Mount Vernon Ave.

MOST KNOWN FOR its colonial heritage, the timeline of Alexandria's history is filled with events that helped shape the United States. Founded by Scottish merchants in 1749, Alexandria was a vital seaport during colonial times, is George Washington's adopted hometown and was part of the original Washington, D.C. Here's a look at the neighborhoods waiting to be discovered in Alexandria today.

OLD TOWN

On the Potomac River waterfront, Old Town Alexandria is the heart of the city, filled with beautifully-preserved 18th- and 19th-century architecture and picturesque cobblestone streets and alleys. The brick-lined sidewalks hum with an energy that attracts everyone from D.C. locals to international visitors, who enjoy the city's best restaurants, arts and live music, events, shopping and historic attractions. Walkable King Street, recognized as one of the "Great Streets" of America, stretches one mile from the waterfront marina and the renowned Torpedo Art Factory Center toward the iconic George Washington Masonic National Memorial. Dine, shop and stroll at more than 200 independent boutiques and restaurants along the way.

In Old Town you'll find seasonal parades and festivals year-round, from the Campagna Center's Scottish Christmas Walk Weekend to the King Street Art Festival. On Saturday mornings, stop by the Old Town Farmers' Market at Market Square. It's one of the longest operating farmers markets in the country and where George Washington once traded goods. Need a break? Hop on the free King Street Trolley and enjoy the ride to your next destination on King Street.

DEL RAY

“Where Main Street still exists,” Del Ray features made-for-strolling Mount Vernon Avenue, buzzing with independent boutiques, community events and locally owned eateries that have food critics raving. Eclectic shops, extensive murals, Art Deco architecture and signature festivals like Art on the Avenue lend an artsy vibe to the area. The neighborhood is also known as “Well Ray” for its many yoga, barre and wellness businesses. Del Ray’s the place where neighbors know each other and you can still find a local butcher, hardware store and pharmacy all on one street.

WEST END

Alexandria’s West End is home to one of the top small breweries in the U.S., Port City Brewing Company, which offers tours and tastings, plus events like Beer Yoga and Pedals and Pints. The West End is known for international dining, including some of the best Thai, Vietnamese and Ethiopian food in the region. You’ll also find historic parks like the 45-acre

Civil War-era Fort Ward Museum & Historic Site, Dora Kelly Nature Park and Jerome “Buddie” Ford Nature Center, where you can see animals up close.

CARLYLE & EISENHOWER

In the southwestern part of the city, Carlyle and the Eisenhower Valley is Alexandria’s contemporary counterpoint to historic Old Town. Known as an “economic engine of Alexandria,” with scores of businesses taking root here, the neighborhood celebrates the spirit of science and innovation. The National Science Foundation is located in Carlyle, along with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, which is home to the National Inventors Hall of Fame museum. Take in Alexandria’s history at the African American Heritage Park and the Edmonson Sisters sculpture. Outdoor spaces host community events and pop-up shops, and the dining scene keeps the mix of old and new fresh, with local favorites like Table Talk and Sweet Fire Donna’s anchoring new spots like Tequila and Taco.

EVOLVING WATERFRONT

A busy seaport since colonial times, Alexandria juxtaposes historic authenticity and new happenings among a growing scene of D.C.-area waterfront destinations.

Visitors flock to Alexandria's waterfront to enjoy boat cruises, outdoor dining, waterfront parks, stand-up paddle boarding, festivals and more. Here's a look at Alexandria's portside history, what's new and what's on the horizon.

Alexandria is established, a year after teenage surveyor George Washington draws plans for the town.

1847

An international seaport from its start, the city ranks ninth in the U.S. in overall trade following cities like New York, New Orleans and Philadelphia.

1900

1801

Alexandria becomes part of D.C.

The city retroceded to Virginia in 1847, but you can still see the original boundary stone at Jones Point Park.

1861

The Civil War begins

Virginia secedes from the Union, and Alexandria is quickly occupied by Union troops. PBS' Mercy Street, inspired by true stories of Civil War Alexandria and available on Amazon, follows two nurses on both sides of the conflict as well as African-Americans claiming their freedom. Today, visitors discover the stories of African-Americans who shaped Alexandria and America by exploring a historically rich collection of sites.

1918

Construction on the Torpedo Factory begins

After manufacturing torpedoes during World War II and being used as a storage site for the federal government after the war, it opens as an art center in 1974.

Historic ships discovered

A 300-year-old ship is discovered at the construction site of Hotel Indigo Old Town Alexandria. Three years later, in 2018, three more 18th-century ships are discovered at a nearby construction site for the new Robinson Landing in Old Town.

October 2018

Portside in Old Town launches, offering free-to-the-public waterfront happenings.

March 2019

New public art

A new temporary public art installation from New York City studio SOFTlab will debut on the waterfront near King Street and will be on display through November 2019.

2000

2017

First waterfront hotel

Hotel Indigo Old Town Alexandria, the city's first waterfront hotel, opens.

2017

Regional water taxi service expands to include high-speed service to the new Wharf in D.C.

June 2019

The tall ship Providence, a full-scale replica of one of the U.S. Continental Navy's first warships that has appeared in Pirates of the Caribbean, arrives as a new permanent attraction.

WATERFRONT FARE

Where to find fresh seafood and stunning riverfront views.

Nothing pairs better with fresh seafood than stunning views of the Potomac River. Enjoy waterfront fare like shrimp po-boys and Carolina low country steamer pails at Vola's Dockside Grill. Nearby on the marina is Blackwall Hitch, serving up local Chesapeake oysters, Prince Edward Island mussels and more. For more waterfront views, head to the iconic Chart House or Hummingbird, which is inspired by the American spirit of clambakes and crab boils, fish fries and oyster roasts. You don't have to stick to the waterfront to enjoy mouthwatering seafood. From Fish Market to The Wharf and from Hank's Oyster Bar to Augie's Mussel House, you'll find fresh fish and shellfish on restaurant menus throughout King Street.

HISTORIC CHARM

Can't-beat dishes served in an unforgettable atmosphere make these restaurants a must-try.

Vermilion

1120 King St.

Tucked into an historic storefront, Vermilion is the place to impress a date with its locally-sourced menu praised by The Washington Post.

Fontaine Caffe & Crêperie

119 S. Royal St.

This European-style café is perfect for weekend brunch or a relaxing lunch. Choose from crêpes, mussels, frites and more.

Virtue Feed & Grain

106 S. Union St.

Enjoy legendary appetizers, craft beer, brunch and other American favorites near the waterfront in a former feed warehouse from the 1800s.

Del Ray Café

205 E. Howell Ave.

This go-to neighborhood eatery serves up delicious French-style country cuisine in a cozy refurbished 1925 Del Ray home.

SWEET SPOTS

Alexandria is a dessert-lover's dream destination.

Alexandria is a top dessert destination, with nearly 20 artisanal bakeries and sweets spots serving everything from creative cupcakes to handcrafted ice cream. Cool off in the warmer months with authentic Italian gelato from Dolci Gelati, which offers flavors like Mojito and Poached Pear Cinnamon. For more cold treats, try Nicecream's liquid nitrogen made-to-order ice cream or Casa Rosada's boozy Argentinean gelato flavors. Treat yourself to a Blood Orange Dreamsicle cupcake from Lavender Moon Cupcakery, or a Tastes Like a Samoa doughnut from Sugar Shack. For gluten-free macarons, eclairs and more, visit The Happy Tart. Chocolate lovers should head to Fleurir Chocolates and Blüprint Chocolatiers.

CUP OF JOE

Get your caffeine fix at these top coffee spots.

Misha's

102 St. Patrick St.

Notice all the locals carrying around orange coffee cups? Head to Misha's in Old Town for coffee roasted on-site and served in their signature cup.

Killer ESP

1012 King St.

This cozy spot in Old Town specializes in espresso, snacks and pies. Warm up with a cup of coffee or tea and enjoy creative pastries.

St. Elmo's Coffee Pub

2300 Mount Vernon Ave.

Grab a cup of coffee at this community gathering spot, located in the heart of Del Ray. On Thursday evenings, enjoy live jazz music.

Swing's

501 E. Monroe Ave.

Part of the D.C. coffee culture for 100 years, Swing's roasts ethically-sourced coffees on-site at their Del Ray coffee bar and hosts free coffee cuppings on Friday mornings.

CHEERS

Where to raise a glass in the Port City.

From upscale lounges to pubs with live music, Alexandria caters to any occasion with more than 35 bars and pubs. For craft cocktails in Old Town, head to Magnolia's on King, The Peoples Drug, The Majestic, Vermilion or BRABO. In Del Ray, try a Bourbon Slush at The Front Porch or grab a drink at the swanky and funky No. 9 Lounge. No visit to Alexandria would be complete without a locally-made pint from Port City Brewing Company, the 2015 Best Small Brewery in the U.S.

Captain Gregory's

804 N. Henry St.

This raved-about bar hidden inside a donut shop serves handcrafted cocktails, savory small plates and, of course, donuts.

LIVE MUSIC

The Birchmere

3701 Mount Vernon Ave.

Legends and rising stars perform at what The Washington Post calls the "best listening club in America."

Blackwall Hitch

5 Cameron St.

Catch local musicians at this bustling waterfront restaurant Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, plus jazz during Sunday brunch.

The Light Horse

715 King St.

Enjoy late-night music and games like skeeball and shuffleboard, plus karaoke on Sunday and Monday nights.

Murphy's

713 King St.

For traditional Irish food and nightly Irish entertainment with no cover, head to this local favorite.

HISTORIC HOUSES

Step inside the first president's estate and a Frank Lloyd Wright dream home.

George Washington's Mount Vernon

Carlyle House

Frank Lloyd Wright's Pope-Leighey House

Lee-Fendall House

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S MOUNT VERNON

The most popular historic estate in America is located just eight miles south of Old Town Alexandria and is accessible by bike and by boat. Here, visitors get a glimpse into 18th-century life by exploring the mansion, gardens, working farm, distillery and gristmill, and interactive visitor facilities with 25 theaters and galleries honoring George Washington's life and legacy and legacy.

CARLYLE HOUSE

Completed in 1753, Carlyle House was the home of one of Alexandria's founders, Scottish merchant John Carlyle. It was one of the grandest mansions of its time and quickly became a center of social and political life. On the National Register of Historic Places, Carlyle House is architecturally unique in Alexandria as the only stone 18th-century mansion and stands today as a museum open to visitors.

FRANK LLOYD WRIGHT'S POPE-LEIGHEY HOUSE

Designed in the 1940s, Wright's "Usonian" Pope-Leighey House was created for a couple with a modest budget. Visitors enjoy tours of the residence, located on a 126-acre estate originally part of George Washington's Mount Vernon. The Pope-Leighey House measures just 1,200 square feet, but Wright's high ceilings, large expanses of glass and open floor plan create the illusion that it is much larger.

LEE-FENDALL HOUSE

The Lee-Fendall House Museum interprets 200 years of American history through the changing lives and fortunes of the people who lived and worked in the house from 1785 to 1969. Located in Old Town and on the National Register of Historic Places for state significance and the Virginia Landmarks Register, visitors can tour the museum, view rotating exhibits, enjoy the garden and attend special events throughout the year.

SHOP SMALL

Alexandria is home to dozens of independent boutiques you won't find anywhere else. While you're here, shop small for a one-of-a-kind souvenir or gift at these local favorites and specialty shops.

The Hour

1015 King Street

In the heart of Old Town, The Hour attracts cocktail enthusiasts from around the country for its exquisite collection of vintage and new creative cocktail glassware curated by local owner Victoria Vergason, who recently launched her own line, The Modern Home Bar.

fibre space

1319 Prince Street

fibre space is as much a community as it is a store, with an avid following of yarn-lovers who flock to the shop, located in Alexandria's only historic flatiron building, for regular events and crafting supplies.

The Christmas Attic

125 S. Union Street

Alexandria is a top destination for the holidays, and we take that role seriously year-round. The Christmas Attic is a magical wonderland that is part of Alexandria's holiday tradition, opened by a local family over 35 years ago.

The Shoe Hive

127 S. Fairfax Street

There are shoe stores and then there's The Shoe Hive, the top spot for designer shoes in Alexandria. Tucked into a picturesque brick courtyard, The Shoe Hive will make any shoe-lover swoon.

EVENTS

Historic, unique and fun things to do all year long.

From annual parades to art festivals, Alexandria's calendar of events brims with seasonal fun. In the spring, step inside some of Old Town's finest homes during the Alexandria Historic Home and Garden Tour. In the summer, celebrate Alexandria's birthday with a performance by the Alexandria Symphony Orchestra and fireworks along the Potomac River. Fall brings art festivals like the King Street Art Festival and Art on the Avenue. During the holidays, visitors feel transported by nostalgic holiday wonder with Old Town's brick-lined streets, twinkling with lights and traditions like the Campagna Center's Scottish Christmas Walk Weekend and the Holiday Boat Parade of Lights. EXPLORE THE REGION

With Alexandria as your home base, adventures await.

Named the #1 Best Value U.S. Travel Destination 2018, Money magazine calls Alexandria “a surprisingly charming, inexpensive outpost for travelers to the D.C. area.” Use the historic and relaxing city as your home base for adventures throughout the region and on the Potomac River. With everything from mountain views to wineries, follow in George Washington’s footsteps and survey the region while you’re visiting. Here are some must-see sites close to home and within a two-hour drive.

PAY YOUR RESPECTS

Visit Arlington National Cemetery, only a few Metrorail stops away from Alexandria, to honor America’s bravest and see the John F. Kennedy Eternal Flame.

TRY YOUR LUCK

Board the water taxi and head to the other side of the Potomac for a night out at MGM National Harbor. Catch a show or try your luck at their Vegas-style casino.

DISCOVER GREAT FALLS PARK

Hike along Mather Gorge’s dramatic cliff tops and enjoy Great Falls Park, an 800-acre national park just 35 minutes from Old Town Alexandria.

UNWIND IN D.C.’S WINE COUNTRY

Sip your way through a tour of Loudoun County, D.C.’s wine country, home to more than 40 unique wineries and tasting rooms.

TAKE IN MOUNTAIN VIEWS

Take in stunning views of the Blue Ridge Mountains at Shenandoah National Park, less than a two-hour drive from Alexandria.

TOP 5 PHOTO SPOTS

Our guide to the most Instagram-worthy landmarks in Alexandria.

1. MASONIC MEMORIAL

One of the most iconic buildings in Alexandria and an active Masonic temple, the George Washington Masonic National Memorial dates back to 1922 and shines in sunset photos.

2. “BEADED CURTAIN”

Located on the loading dock door of the Torpedo Factory Art Center, Erin Curtis’ “Beaded Curtain” mural makes a colorful back-drop perfect for Instagram.

3. JONES POINT PARK

A favorite spot for sunrise photography, Jones Point Park is home to an 1855 lighthouse and the southern D.C. boundary stone, representing Alexandria’s history of once being part of D.C.

4. HISTORIC HOUSES

Old Town is filled with colonial homes adorned with flags, colorful doors and flickering gas lamps. Stroll Alexandria’s historic streets and snap streetscapes guaranteed to get likes.

5. COBBLESTONE CHARM

You don’t have to walk far in Old Town to find a picturesque cobblestone alley. Plus, find two cobblestone blocks. Captain’s Row, located at the 100 block of Prince Street, is the most iconic.

MY ALX

with Braden Holtby

WHAT I LIKE ABOUT LIVING IN OLD TOWN

We like the family atmosphere, obviously the history and the walkability of everything. The restaurants are great, and the people are great.

FAVORITE EVENTS

The main one we go to is the King Street Art Festival. We try to get there every year because everything else is during hockey season. For Halloween we try to take the kids to Lee Street.

LIFE HERE COMPARED TO CANADA

It's vastly different, but I like Old Town because the people are similar. Very friendly and it's got a small town feel to it. We're glad to be able to call both places home.

GO-TO SPOTS FOR DRINKS

I like going to Virtue Feed & Grain, Hank's Oyster Bar or Hank's Pasta Bar. There's a lot of good places for drinks in the area.

A PERFECT DAY WITH THE FAMILY

Go to South Block in the morning and then come back and hang out or go for a swim if it's summer. Then we go for dinner on King Street and walk to get ice cream at Pop's.

FAVORITE RESTAURANTS

There's a ton. We go to Ichiban for sushi. Columbia Firehouse, Mia's and Vola's are at the top of the list.

WHERE TO GO IN THE REGION

We don't venture too far from Old Town very often, but if we do we usually go to Farmers Fishers Bakers in Georgetown. We go down there and walk around. But we mainly stay in Old Town.

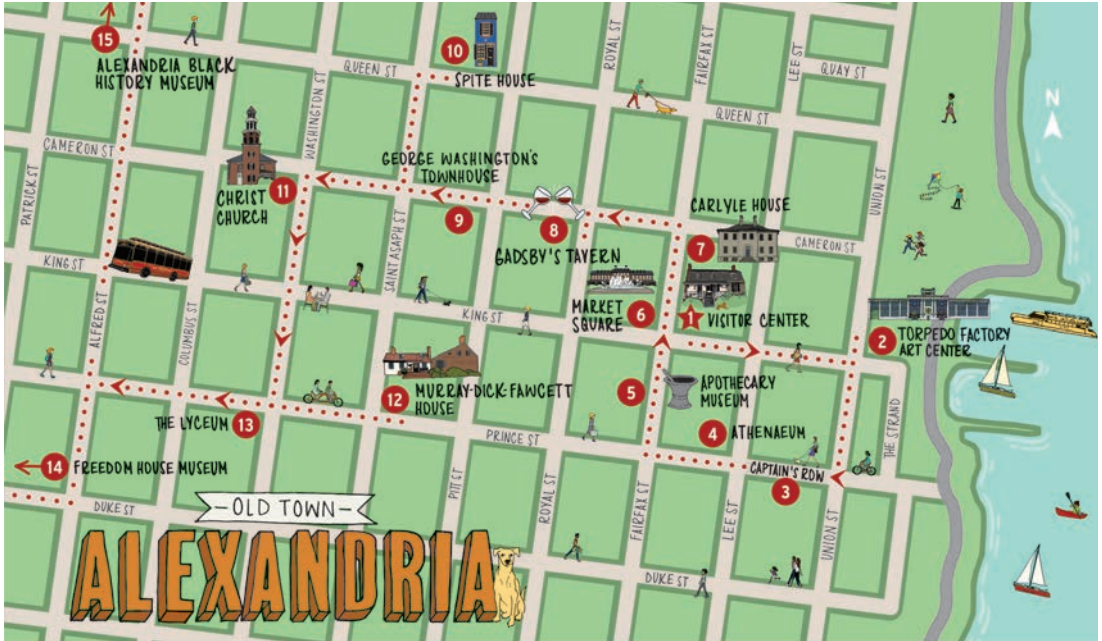

2018 Stanley Cup-winning goaltender Braden Holtby is a hero on the ice. When he's not defending the net for the Washington Capitals, the three-time NHL All-Star is spending time with his wife and two kids who call Old Town Alexandria home. Here, the Canadian-born family man and hockey star shares his go-to Alexandria restaurants, an ideal day with the family and the annual Old Town event his family never misses.

SELF-GUIDED TOUR

Discover Alexandria while you stroll historic streets.

1. 221 King St. Re-creation of the circa 1724 home of Scottish merchant and city co-founder William Ramsay.
2. 105 N. Union St. A torpedo factory during World War II, now home to 82 artists' studios and seven galleries.
3. 100 block of Prince St. One of two cobblestone blocks in the city, Captain's Row got its name from Captain John Harper, a successful overseas trader.
4. 201 Prince St. Built in 1851 and now an art gallery, this antebellum Greek Revival building originally housed the Bank of the Old Dominion.
5. 105-107 S. Fairfax St. This family-run pharmacy operated from 1792 until 1933 and served customers like Martha Washington. Tour to view its vast collection of still-intact herbal botanicals, handblown glass and medical equipment.
6. 301 King St. Now City Hall, this structure was built in 1871 as a courthouse atop a site first used as a market space frequented by George Washington. Its farmers' market tradition continues each Saturday year-round.
7. 121 N. Fairfax St. This Georgian Palladian manor house was built in 1753 by wealthy Scottish merchant and city co-founder John Carlyle.
8. 134 N. Royal St. Businessman John Wise built this two-building complex: the 1785 Georgian-style City Tavern and the 1792 Federal style City Hotel famous for its great ballroom. Ideally situated on the main stage coach route between Boston and Williamsburg, the tavern became an important political and social center, whose notable patrons included George Washington and Thomas Jefferson.
9. 508 Cameron St. Re-creation of a townhouse built by George Washington in 1769 to provide convenient quarters when business or inclement weather prevented his return to Mount Vernon.
10. 523 Queen St. Now a private residence, the skinniest historic house in America, built in 1830 to keep loiterers out of the adjacent alley, is just 7 feet wide.
11. 118 N. Washington St. Built in 1773, this is an excellent example of a small rectangular Georgian church. The three-story tower with belfry topped by a cupola was completed in 1818. George Washington played a part in building the church and was an original pew-holder (number 60).
12. 517 Prince St. Built in 1775 and one of the least-altered homes in Alexandria, this timber frame and brick dwelling was around during the American Revolution.
13. 201 S. Washington St. Built in 1839, this building has served as a Civil War hospital, private home and the nation's first Bicentennial Center. Today, visitors enjoy viewing 1,500 historical objects at Alexandria's History Museum.
14. 1315 Duke St. Located in the former headquarters of the largest domestic slave trading company in the country, the Freedom House Museum preserves the powerful stories of the enslaved in the same space where they were once held.
15. 902 Wythe St. Originally the segregated library for Alexandria's African-American residents, the museum documents the local and national history, culture and contributions of black America.
