From the President

Welcome to the vibrant, innovative, eclectic Ann Arbor area! I couldn't be more delighted that you've chosen to indulge in a visit to the home of the University of Michigan, the birthplace of Zingerman's Deli, and to a region that is home to some of the best dining and art in the country.

As you peruse the pages of this guide, I hope that you're inspired to check out some of our most iconic attractions, like the awe-inspiring Michigan Stadium, as well as some under-the-radar hidden gems like White Lotus Farms, Original Gravity Brewing Company, and the Kerrytown Concert House. From downtown Ann Arbor's walkable neighborhoods to the rolling pastoral hills of Manchester, and from Ypsilanti's World War II history to Chelsea's exquisite theatre scene, there's tons to explore in our diverse and unique destination.

If you find yourself here in the Ann Arbor area during the summer months, you'll undoubtedly want to experience the world-renowned Ann Arbor Art Fair - a beloved tradition that incorporates fine art, fantastic shopping, live music, and much more on the streets of beautiful downtown Ann Arbor. You can experience the arts year-round in the Ann Arbor area, however, with a visit to the Yourist Studio or University of Michigan Museum of Art, a show at Hill Auditorium or the Encore Musical Theatre Company, and much more.

In the fall, football fever takes over as the University of Michigan team gears up for a season of excitement at The Big House. If you're visiting as part of a trip to cheer on the Wolverines, welcome! I hope you'll enjoy all that Ann Arbor has to offer during your stay. Go Blue!

Regardless of your reason for visiting, I think you'll find great value in our newly-launched, mobile-friendly website, www.AnnArbor.org, which features an interactive map, real-time Instagram posts from our followers, and oodles of inspirational travel information.

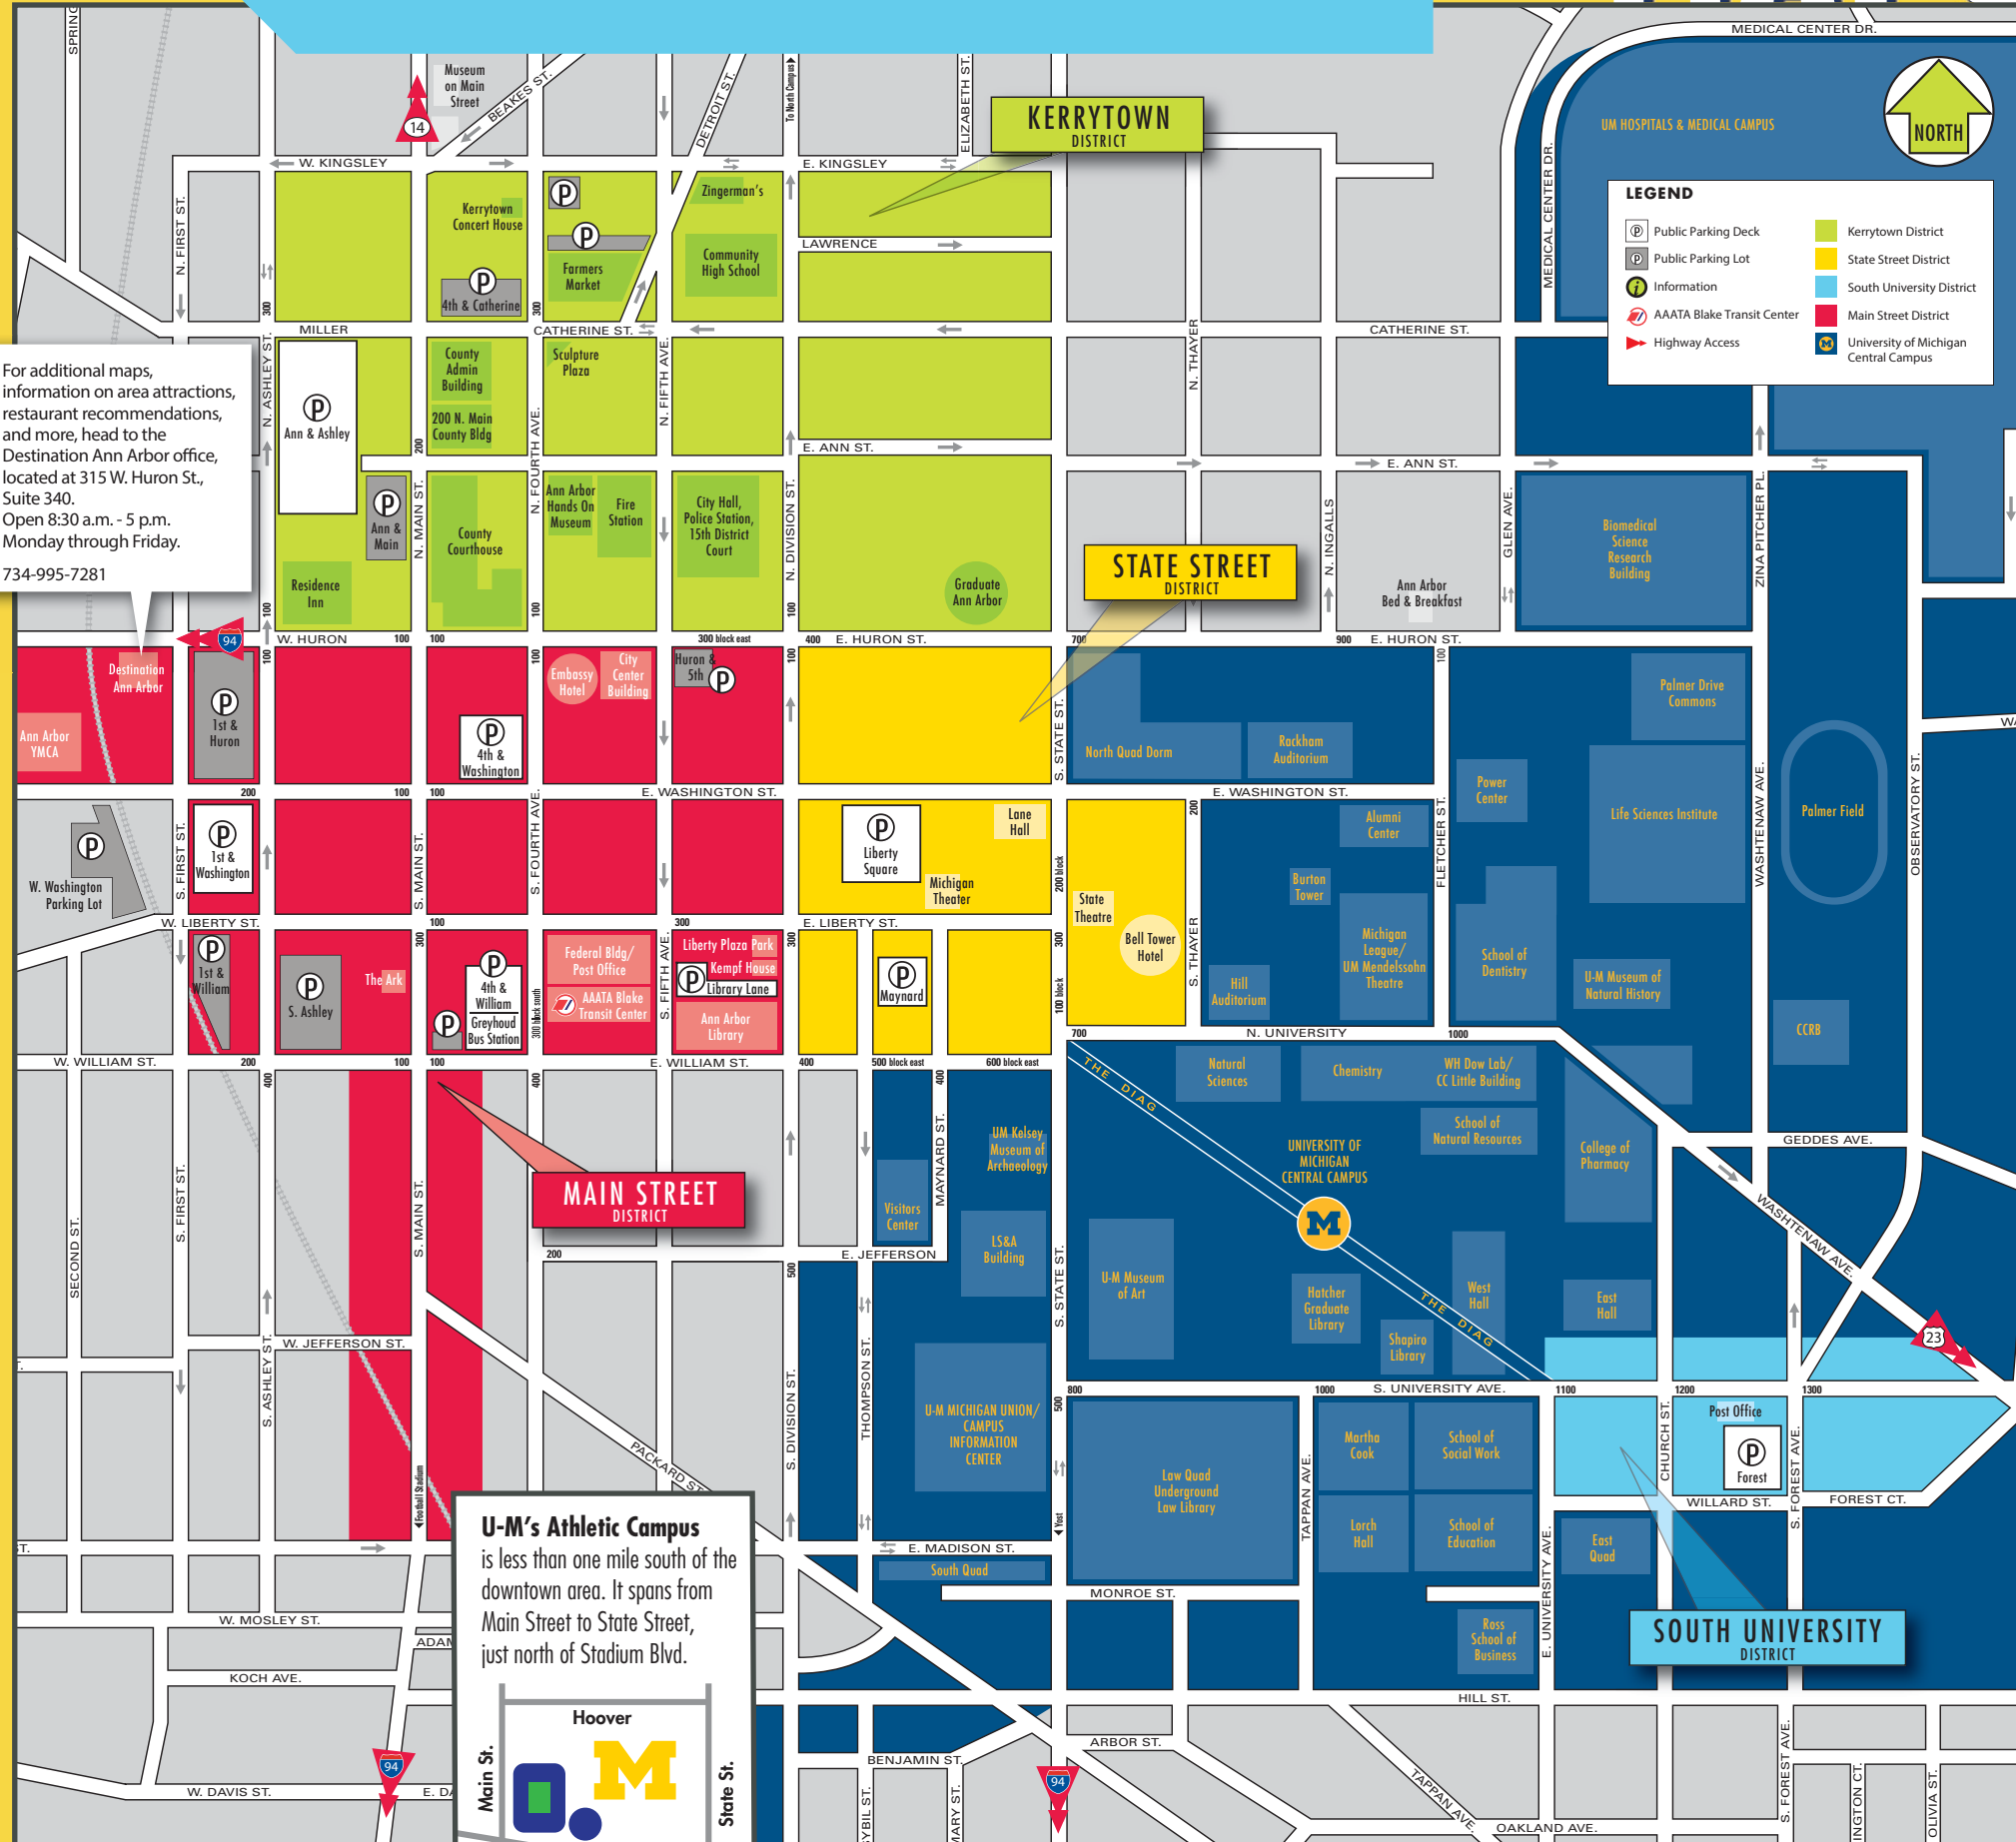

Thanks for reading!

MAIN STREET

DISTRICTS &
DESTINATIONS

ANN ARBOR NATIVE BOB SEGER SANG ABOUT IT IN HIS 1977 HIT “MAINSTREET” – AND WHILE IT’S CHANGED WITH THE TIMES, THE MAIN STREET AREA REMAINS AN ENTERTAINMENT AND NIGHTLIFE DESTINATION.

Music dominates the Main Street scene. The Ark is a well-known destination for fans of folk and roots music. The intimate (400 seat) club features excellent acoustics and live programming over 300 nights per year. Acts range from up-and-comers to internationally known figures. Jazz lovers with epicurean tendencies should check out the Blue Llama Jazz Club, serving gourmet “jazz-inspired” shareable plates. For a colorful (literally) after-dinner or late-night experience, try Lo-Fi, a basement bar with custom neon lighting showcasing a variety of local live acts and DJs.

Soccer fans are in their element at Conor O'Neill’s, which shows all Premier League games. In addition to a bar designed and built in Ireland, the pub offers a lively atmosphere along with Guinness, Harp, a number of other draft beers and ciders, and a menu of Irish favorites.

Blom Meadworks (pronounced “bloom”) offers a decidedly modern take on an ancient beverage, serving crisp, light meads and ciders made with locally-sourced honey, hops, and fruits. The Ravens Club merges a speakeasy vibe with modern mixology. Their draft old fashioned is a popular happy hour and late-night pick.

Some of Ann Arbor’s most established restaurants call Main Street home. Gratzi (upscale Italian), the Chop House (premium steaks and seafood), and Shalimar (North Indian, Tandoori, and Mughlai cuisine) are popular local choices. The Pretzel Bell, with an interior constructed from reclaimed Detroit wood including gym floors and bleachers, is a new incarnation of a longtime campus classic.

Just around the corner on Liberty Street, Pacific Rim by Kana serves an innovative pan-Asian menu. Chef Duc Tang’s cuisine is heavily influenced by his upbringing in Vietnam, Hong Kong, and the Philippines, coupled with the careful application of classic French cooking techniques. The resulting dishes are seasonal creative takes on traditional Asian flavors.

STATE STREET

DISTRICTS & DESTINATIONS

HISTORY. ART. MUSIC. MOVIES. PLUS A HANDFUL OF FAVORITE TOWNIE BARS AND UPSCALE EATERIES. FOR AN AFTERNOON OF CULTURE OR A NIGHT ON THE TOWN, THE STATE STREET DISTRICT DELIVERS.

The State Street District is Ann Arbor's arts and culture hub. Cutting through the University of Michigan's main campus, this downtown thoroughfare boasts museums, galleries, performance spaces, and more.

Three University museums house world-class, award-winning collections mere footsteps apart from each other. Stop by the University of Michigan Museum of Natural History to view mammoth bones recently unearthed in nearby Chelsea. Ancient Egypt enthusiasts should pay a visit to the mummy coffin of Djehutymose, covered in hieroglyphs and housed at the Kelsey Museum of Archaeology. Both the collection and the building provide plenty of Instagram inspiration at the University of Michigan Museum of Art, one of the largest university art museums in the country.

It's hard to miss the original Art Deco marquee of the State Theatre. Recently restored to its 1940s glory, the movie palace shows an eclectic schedule of art house, cult favorite, and first-run films – which look and sound better than ever, thanks to upgraded projection and sound systems.

To experience the kinetic energy of a live performance or dance the night away, turn the corner on to Liberty Street. The Michigan Theater hosts a number of musical, comedic, and stage productions, as well as movies. Venture across the street to Necto, a pulsating nightclub bringing in a number of DJs and musical performers.

The State Street District is also a destination for beer enthusiasts. Ashley's, in business since 1983, offers a world-class selection of beer and ale, with a large European collection. Or sample one of the many Michigan beers on tap at Hopcat, the regional gastropub chain known for its brew selection and famously addictive "Cosmik Fries." Both offer a number of options to suit a variety of tastes.

SOUTH U

DISTRICTS & DESTINATIONS

ANN ARBOR'S COLLEGIATE ROOTS ARE ON DISPLAY ON SOUTH UNIVERSITY AVENUE, AFFECTIONATELY DUBBED "SOUTH U" BY STUDENTS AND TOWNIES. THE STREET SERVES AS A GATEWAY TO THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN'S CENTRAL CAMPUS AND HOUSES A NUMBER OF POPULAR UNIVERSITY HANGOUTS.

The South U dining scene is dominated by affordable, international eats. Belly Deli serves up gourmet Asian-inspired sandwiches on fresh-baked Zingerman's bread, as well as a variety of salads and steamed buns. Sadako Japanese Restaurant's sushi and bento lunch combinations deliver on both quality and quantity. Get a falafel or shawarma fix at Oasis Mediterranean Grill, offering quick service and budget-friendly prices.

Visitors may think they've stumbled onto the campus of Oxford or Cambridge when they encounter the University of Michigan Law Quadrangle. The Tudor Gothic buildings occupying the corner of South U and South State Street were purportedly considered as a filming location for the Harry Potter movies. Visit the Reading Room (quietly) for a taste of Hogwarts right here in Ann Arbor, or pack a picnic to enjoy on the meticulously manicured grounds.

The east end of South U is home to the "The Rock" – alas, not actor Dwayne Johnson, but rather a large boulder frequently painted by student organizations to advertise events, advocate for causes, or celebrate accomplishments. The Rock is the cornerstone of a neighborhood housing historic homes, many now occupied by Greek organizations and student groups. Cap off a stroll with a beverage at the Common Cup Café, a non-profit coffee shop serving local roasts and showcasing local artists.

Pinball Pete's arcade has been a South U mainstay for 30+ years. Have hours of fun at the nearly endless rows of pinball machines, neon air hockey tables, old-fashioned skeeball, and all the newest arcade games. Keep the energy going with a rolled ice cream covered in rainbow toppings or milky bubble tea from SweetING across the street.

KERRYTOWN

THERE ARE FEW PLACES BETTER THAN KERRYTOWN TO GET A (LITERAL) TASTE OF ANN ARBOR. HOME TO INSTITUTIONS LIKE THE YEAR-ROUND ANN ARBOR FARMERS MARKET AND THE FAMOUS ZINGERMAN'S DELI, KERRYTOWN IS THE PERFECT PLACE TO GRAB A BITE, CATCH A CONCERT, OR SHOP FOR MEMENTOS.

The Kerrytown Market & Shops are a hub of activity. Locals shop for fresh cuts of meat and pantry staples at Sparrow Market. Grab today's fresh catch – either to cook later or eat while watching the hustle and bustle – at Monahan's Seafood Market.

Hollander's is a destination for artisans specializing in bookbinding or seeking specialty papers and supplies for drawing, print-making, painting, and calligraphy (along with a large selection of specialty papers, gift items, and cards for the less-artistically inclined). Browse the games, toys, and books at Mudpuddles – the vast selection offers creative playthings for kids of all ages.

A short walk from the market brings visitors to Treasure Mart, an aptly-named thrift shop. Items range from large (mid-century modern furniture) to small (vintage valentines and postcards) with plenty of options in between.

While Ann Arbor offers plenty of large performance venues, few provide as intimate an experience as the Kerrytown Concert House, a 110-seat venue operating out of a historic 1860s-era home. Try to catch one of the frequent classical or jazz shows.

Plenty of imported and specialty food and beverage items are available in and around Kerrytown. Don't miss the market section at the internationally-lauded Zingerman's Delicatessen, worth browsing even for visitors not hungry enough to eat the famous Reuben. The Lunch Room offers up a hearty vegan menu with veggie-forward takes on favorites like mac & cheese, pad Thai, and burrito bowls. Don't skip the frozen desserts (built around coconut milk ice cream) or the handcrafted cocktails, mocktails, and homemade sodas.

RICH WITH BOTH HYPER-LOCAL AND GLOBAL CUISINE, ANN ARBOR'S AWARD-WINNING DINING SCENE HAS BEEN GARNERING PRAISE FOR DECADES. THAT BREADTH OF QUALITY AND DIVERSITY LED ANIRUDH GALA - INSPIRED BY A WEEKEND VISIT - TO MOVE TO THE AREA AND FOUND BY THE SIDEWALK FOOD TOURS.

By the Sidewalk Food Tours take place in downtown Ann Arbor and last 2.5-3 hours. Fees and schedule vary. Every tour is different (itineraries vary seasonally and as the food scene evolves) and no stops are guaranteed. To find out more or book a tour, visit www.bysidewalk.com.

Ann Arbor may be considered part of Middle America, but the local dining scene spans the globe. "Meat and potatoes" here might refer to braised lamb with green onion at Ayse's Turkish Café, or patatas bravas with honey aioli at Aventura. Many local restaurants serve creative cocktails using ingredients or spices native to the type of cuisine served. Almost all add a local spin with ingredients sourced from nearby farms or producers. The restaurants here are just a sample of what visitors can find in the Ann Arbor area.

BLUE NILE

Snag a mesob - a woven table with a removable cover - and enjoy authentic Ethiopian dishes served with injera, a tangy flatbread used to scoop up food in lieu of western-style utensils.

CARDAMOM

Cardamom emphasizes freshness: fresh (often local) produce and spices, fresh dishes cooked to order, and a fresh approach to Indian dining with sophisticated takes on classic dishes. Indian-inspired signature cocktails round out the menu.

AVENTURA

Sip a Spanish-style gin & tonic and nosh on tapas, or order one of the signature paellas for the table. An extensive selection of Spanish wine is also available - perfect for enjoying on the quiet, cozy back patio.

TOMUKUN

The sophisticated noodle bar on the right serves up an array of Asian comfort food, including pho, ramen, and udon. The Korean barbeque on the left features tabletop grills and classically-trained chefs who honed their skills in LA's Koreatown.

AYSE'S TURKISH CAFÉ

Traditional, home-style Turkish dishes abound at this local favorite, including braised lamb, moussaka, and hearty vegetarian stews. The menu changes daily based on fresh, seasonal ingredients, and it's not unusual to spot Ayse herself waiting tables.

ISALITA

Isalita recreates the warmth and spirit of a Mexico City mercado. Inventive tacos and tasty takes on snacks like ceviche and elotes populate the diverse menu, rounded out with a cocktail list that takes advantage of fun, seasonal ingredients. The frozen blood orange margarita is a local favorite, or ask the bartender to take you through the well-curated selection of tequilas and mezcal.

"The idea behind our food tours is not just to enjoy a meal," Anirudh Gala, founder of By the Sidewalk Food Tours, said. "In addition to a unique dining experience, guests get a peek into Ann Arbor's history and culture by walking downtown streets and exploring local businesses. We want to show our guests what our beautiful town is all about." Here, Anirudh shares his personal Ann Arbor foodie favorites.

MISS KIM

"Miss Kim is part of the Zingerman's Community of Businesses. It's got a cool Kerrytown location and a chic atmosphere. Chef Ji Hye Kim puts her own spin on authentic Korean comfort food, often using local ingredients."

TEAHAUS

"I never knew 'tea sommeliers' existed before I met Lisa MacDonald! Her shop provides a peaceful atmosphere, hundreds of hot or iced tea selections, and a rotating selection of classic French macarons in fun, seasonal flavors."

MANI OSTERIA

"Mani has been featured in Travel & Leisure, Food & Wine, and other national food publications. Visitors and locals love it. The pickled tomatoes are a must-try, and the pizza menu has choices for adventurous and picky eaters alike."

ARGUS FARM STOP

"Local is the name of the game at this sunny shop and greenhouse. There's a full coffee bar, baked goods, fresh produce, and prepared foods. It's a great stop for a snack on the go or to pick up a few essentials."

FRITA BATIDOS

"This is Chef Eve Aronoff's - you may remember her from season 6 of Top Chef - love letter to Miami's Cuban street food culture. A frita is a burger (traditionally made with chorizo, but Frita Batido's has a variety of patty options) with shoestring fries and an egg, served on a soft bun. It's messy - but delicious!"

LOCAL
RECOMMENDATIONS
FROM A SUDS-SEEKING JOURNALIST

Dave Bardallis praises Ann Arbor's mix of beer styles. "Downtown brewpubs offer outstanding traditional and sometimes historical styles of beer. Newer breweries like HOMES specialize in kettle-soured, coffee-flavored, and experimental styles currently in high demand."

Michigan is a perennial presence on craft beer ranking lists - and according to local beer expert David Bardallis, author of Ann Arbor Beer: A Hoppy History of Tree Town Brewing, the Ann Arbor area is a significant contributor.

"Ann Arbor has quietly had a major impact on the development of the craft beer industry in Michigan and even beyond. Two of the state's first brewpubs, Grizzly Peak and Arbor Brewing, opened in Ann Arbor in 1995 and are still going strong," Dave said. Here are Dave's top picks for visiting beer lovers.

MICHIGAN BREWERS GUILD SUMMER BEER FESTIVAL (JULY)
"This is a must-do for beer lovers. Held in Ypsilanti's Riverside Park, it's the state's oldest and largest beer festival, and it's right in our backyard every July. Many of the breweries bring special or limited-edition beers that can only be tasted at this event."

GERMAN PARK PICNICS (LAST SATURDAYS IN JUNE, JULY, AND AUGUST)
"If your timing's right, the German Park Picnics are a family-friendly and fun slice of Ann Arbor tradition since 1938, with plenty of German beer, brats, and dancing. Prost!"

WOLVERINE STATE BREWING COMPANY
"Located just outside of downtown, Wolverine State Brewing was an all-lager brewery before lagers became cool again, and they offer many excellent takes, from traditional styles like pilsners and doppelbocks to more experimental tipples."

JOLLY PUMPKIN ARTISAN ALES
"Dexter's Jolly Pumpkin was a pioneer in popularizing barrel-aged sour beers, and they offer plenty of the same (and also many non-sour beers from sister brewery North Peak). Their recently added kitchen also dishes out delicious, locally-sourced food to go with your brew."

YPSI FAVORITES
"Weather permitting, the beer garden at Arbor Brewing's Ypsilanti location is the perfect place to unwind with a pint or two of your favorites. Not far away, you can visit the Ypsi Alehouse and sample beers brewed by Ted Badgerow, the guy who opened Michigan's first modern brewery in 1982."

When it comes to satisfying a coffee craving or finding a one-of-kind blend to take home, visitors have plenty of options. The communities of Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti in particular have become hotspots for local roasters, each offering a selection of carefully-sourced, thoughtfully-prepared craft coffee beverages.

RoosRoast's Lobster Butter Love has a dedicated following extending far beyond Ann Arbor - it gets shipped all over the country, along with Roos' other freshly-roasted bean blends. (No need to fear if your tastes don't run toward the adventurous: the coffee contains neither lobster nor butter.) Bring home a pound in a hand-painted bag as a souvenir.

Zingerman's Coffee Company's "Big Brew Board" offers an easy-to-read breakdown of different blends and brewing methods, helping visitors craft the perfect cup. Pick up a four-pack of their bottled cold brew to stash in the fridge or cooler for later.

Ypsilanti's Hyperion Coffee Co. houses a communal table and tasting room in the same building as its wholesale roasting operation. The coffee menu changes to showcase the current inventory, carefully roasted to bring out each variety's best qualities. Hyperion also hosts regular "lab" events, which offer deep-dives into a particular coffee, brewing method, or piece of equipment - check their website for the schedule.

Across the street from Hyperion, fellow coffee roasters at Cultivate serve their house-roasted blends and espresso beverages (along with beers and cocktails) in a renovated auto-electric shop. The fenced-in garden is a hub for community events, as well as growing produce for local hunger-fighting nonprofit Food Gatherers. Tips are reinvested back into community causes and organizations.

6 Little Gems

THAT WILL TAKE YOU BACK IN TIME

Blast the Buddy Holly on your radio and take a delicious trip down memory lane! Ypsilanti takes pride in its history, and you can see that by visiting one (or all) of these six little gems that will take you back in time.

These Ypsi gems are 100% authentic and local, and the food is served with a smile. These establishments have truly stood the test of time. They are popular among both locals and area visitors. Make sure you wear your stretchy pants when you make the rounds. You'll need the extra wiggle room.

1 GABRIEL'S CHEESE STEAK HOAGIES

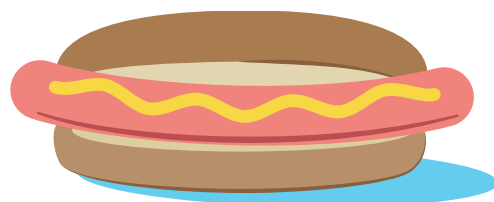

There's nothing quite like a Gabriel's Cheese Steak Hoagie. These cheesy, meaty gifts from heaven are well-known throughout the area as one of the best hoagies around. Established in 1959 - Gabriel's remains one of the most popular restaurants in town.

Pro Tip: Lots of folks like to get their hoagies to go, because the buns get steamy when they are wrapped in parchment paper for the ride home. Yum!

2 BILL'S HOT DOG STAND

Bill's Hot Dog Stand has been feeding Ypsilanti locals for more than 50 years. There is no menu - only hot dogs, chili dogs, and loose burgers. Oh - and the BEST homemade root beer that has ever graced your lips! You can order it as a side beverage, as a float, or by the gallon. The homemade chili is savory, sweet, and unique. The onions are grilled to perfection. Hot dogs are to be ordered in pairs, as eating only one is simply not an option.

3 ROY'S SQUEEZE INN

Aside from having the most adorable building in the city, Roy's Squeeze Inn was voted one of the top three places to get a burger in Ypsilanti. They are juicy, come with delicious toppings, and have a signature seasoning salt in every bite. You can order wedges or fries to accompany your top-notch burger, while you sit at the old counter and chat with their friendly staff.

4 CHICK-INN DRIVE-IN

Another notable little gem is the Chick-Inn. This full service drive-in is famous for their shakes, curly fries, burgers, and more. The Chick-Inn has been around since 1953, and will take you back to the simpler times of milkshakes, Marilyn Monroe, and Nat King Cole. But seriously, people talk about their milkshakes quite a bit. They have 16 different flavors. You can mix together strawberry, chocolate, and even peanut butter banana!

5 KLUCK'S DRIVE-IN

Another establishment that has been around since the 1950s! Kluck's has it all, from burgers to fries, grilled cheese to coney dogs, ice-cold root beer, and more. You can also snag a sloppy joe, which has a unique spice similar to their chili dog sauce. If you're craving something sweet, Kluck's has soft serve ice cream to cool things down. Check them out for yourself to see why folks return to this drive-in year after year.

6 MILAS MARKET

It's been several colors throughout the years, but the giant cow structure atop Milas Market has been an Ypsi landmark since 1962. In true time-traveling style, Milas Market puts the "convenience" back in "convenience store" - pull up to the window and an attendant will fetch whatever you need! (You can also go in and shop for yourself.)

KEEPIN' IT Ypsi Real!

The food scene isn't Ypsi's only nod to the past. These diners and restaurants grew from the need to feed automotive and aviation factory workers who helped put Michigan on the map as a manufacturing powerhouse. Visit the Ypsilanti Automotive Heritage Museum or the Yankee Air Museum on the site of the former Willow Run Bomber Plant to see some famous local contributions, along with other landmark automobiles and airplanes.

BAKER'S DOZEN

Visitors to the University of Michigan won't have a problem finding things to do. Here's a "baker's dozen" of 13 top attractions you won't want to miss.

1 The U-M Museum of Natural History reopened in May in its brand-new location. Enjoy interactive exhibits and the state-of-the-art planetarium, and drop in for a cup of coffee at the Darwin Cafe.

2 The Diag, in the heart of Central Campus, gets its name from the many diagonal sidewalks running through it. But don't walk on the brass Block M at the center!

3 The U-M Museum of Art (UMMA) offers exhibitions, tours, classes, and much more. Be sure to visit the UMMA Store for unique merchandise inspired by current exhibits and created by regional artists.

4 An Egyptian mummy coffin, magical amulets, Greek pottery, Roman sculptures, and a reproduction of ancient Pompeii's "Villa of the Mysteries" are just a few of the treasures at the Kelsey Museum of Archaeology.

5 Opened in 1929, the Michigan League offers cafes and coffee shops, a convenience store, an inn, and a common area with comfortable chairs and wireless access—the perfect place to take a break.

6 The Nichols Arboretum Peony Garden is one of U-M's most popular outdoor areas. May and June are the top months for the flowers, but from March to November there's always something to see!

7 One of the jewels of campus, the 3,500-seat Hill Auditorium has featured a veritable who's who of musicians including Leonard Bernstein, Aretha Franklin, and Bob Marley, to name just a few.

umich.edu

8 The newest building on Central Campus, the Trotter Multicultural Center celebrates the tradition and history of the Center and the activism of U-M students. The Center sponsors lectures, events, and other programming, including the Trotter Distinguished Leadership Series.

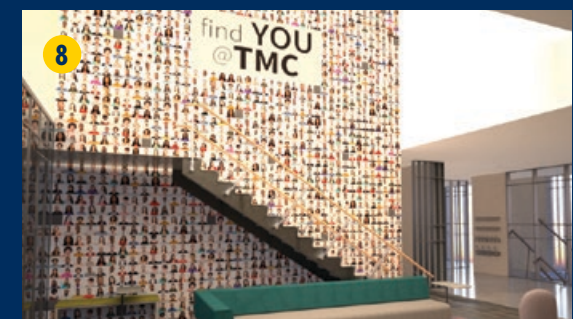

9 Maya Lin, who designed the Vietnam Veterans Memorial in Washington DC, also created the Wave Field on U-M's North Campus. The Field changes appearance depending on the time of day.

10 Part of the Special Collections Library, the Audubon Gallery features The Birds of America, a collection of hand-colored prints. Audubon's masterpiece is on permanent display; a page is turned weekly.

11 Modeled after Oxford and Cambridge, the Tudor-Gothic Law Quad is one of U-M's most-photographed structures, and a great place to relax on a summer day.

12 Visitors can enjoy a noon recital of the Baird Carrillon at the Burton Memorial Tower, a campus landmark built in 1936.

ATHLETICS

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

There are very few collegiate institutions in the world with as much rich athletics history and pride as the University of Michigan. Drawing hundreds of thousands of spectators annually, Michigan athletics events are legendary and part of a centuries-long tradition of excellence and leadership at U-M. Consistently ranked a top town for college football, and one of the best mid-size cities for sports fans, you'll want to make time during your visit to experience Michigan Athletics.

CHEER ON THE WOLVERINE FOOTBALL TEAM AT THE BIG HOUSE.

There's nothing quite like a football game at Michigan Stadium. Also known as "The Big House," this stadium is the largest football venue in the world. On Saturdays in the fall, Michigan Stadium is packed with hundreds of thousands of spectators eager to be a part of the tradition of Michigan Football. Led by coach Jim Harbaugh, the 2020 football team's schedule includes home matchups with Big Ten rivals Wisconsin, Penn State, Indiana, and more.

VISIT SCHEMBECHLER HALL'S TOWSLEY MUSEUM.

Wolverine football fans won't want to miss this experience that brings together U-M history and state-of-the-art technology for a journey through Michigan football past, present, and future. Don't miss the Win Wall, retired jerseys, artifacts, and interactive displays.

WELCOME BACK COACH JUWAN HOWARD TO MICHIGAN MEN'S BASKETBALL.

Back in the early 1990s, Juwan Howard was known as one of Michigan's Fab Five — considered by many to be one of the greatest recruiting classes in the history of collegiate men's basketball. Now, he's returned as the Wolverines' head coach, and Ann Arbor couldn't be more excited. Cheer him on at the legendary Crisler Center as he leads his first team in the 2019-20 season.

EXPERIENCE THE ENERGY AT A MICHIGAN HOCKEY GAME.

Yost Arena has a special kind of buzz in the winter when the Wolverines take the ice for hockey season. Led by coach Mel Pearson, who took the team to a Frozen Four appearance in his first season, the U-M hockey program is known for producing champions and NHL players. As of now, 21 alumni are currently represented in the NHL and the program has 10 alumni with their names etched on the Stanley Cup as champions.

BASK IN THE EXCELLENCE OF THE WINNINGEST COACH IN COLLEGE SOFTBALL.

That's right. The winningest coach in NCAA softball history is right here at the University of Michigan. That would be Carol Hutchins, or "Coach Hutch," as she's affectionately known. With over 1500 wins under her belt since joining the U-M softball program in 1983 (and an NCAA title, and 20 Big Ten Conference titles), you're sure to get energized by the excitement of a Michigan softball game.

THAT'S NOT ALL!

There's plenty more Michigan athletics to keep your school spirit alive throughout the year. Wolverine teams compete in soccer, swimming & diving, lacrosse, tennis, track & field, wrestling, and more. When you visit Ann Arbor, be a part of Michigan's tradition of athletics excellence and check out one of these champion teams.

BONUS

When you experience Michigan sports, it's not just the athletes that bring the spine-tingling energy and excitement to the game — it's also the incomparable Michigan Marching Band, Michigan Dance Team, and Michigan Cheer Team. So don't run for the concession stand as soon as half-time hits: stick around and watch these incredible talents take the field.

Art Fair

WATCH THE STREETS OF ANN ARBOR TRANSFORM INTO AN ART LOVER'S PARADISE—ALL PART OF THE ANNUAL ANN ARBOR ART FAIR.

Creativity Abounds

VISUAL ARTS

Ann Arbor is famous for its annual Art Fair – which is no surprise, considering that art is in the air year-round. Locals and visitors have many options to shop for, view, or even create the perfect piece.

GALLERIES

The Stamps Gallery, at the University of Michigan's Penny W. Stamps School of Art & Design, showcases work by current U-M students, faculty, and alumni, as well as visiting artists. The Ann Arbor Art Center hosts innovative installations and pop-up exhibits, plus offers a retail shop featuring original, handmade works of art, including paintings, ceramics, and jewelry.

STUDIOS AND EXPERIENCES

Get hands-on at Yourist Studio, where clay artist Kay Yourist and her staff run a variety of classes and demonstrations. Take a tour of the Motawi Tileworks factory for an inside look at how the unique, sought-after art tiles are produced.

ART OUTDOORS

The community of Chelsea is home to the SculptureWalk – downtown outdoor locations create a seasonal display of public art. Installations rotate each year. Visit nearby Dexter in the summer for Paint Dexter Plein Air. Artists from around the country converge on the picturesque town and attempt to capture its charm with paint.

ART IN ACTION

The Westside Art Hop is a combination of art walk and art fair. Neighborhood residents act as hosts, donating their driveways, carports, and porches to local and visiting artists. Ypsilanti's Riverside Arts Center attracts exhibits that capture the eclectic vibe of the city. Make a stop during Ypsi's First Fridays, a self-guided arts and culture walk with displays at various downtown venues.

FOR MORE ARTS AND CULTURE LISTINGS, VISIT PAGE 82.

Comprised of four individual non-profit fairs spanning 30 city blocks, the Ann Arbor Art Fair surprises and delights at every turn. Over 1,000 artists showcase and sell works spanning mediums like photography, ceramics, fiber, jewelry, and sculpture. Artist demonstrations, live music, children's activities, and more round out the festivities. In addition to each fair's jury-selected artists, this beloved event offers plenty of highlights.

A recent addition to the State Street Art Fair, the Ann Arbor State Street Hand-Crafted Marketplace provides a venue for artists and craftspersons to showcase their works and build awareness for handmade goods as alternatives to mass-produced items.

The Art Demo Zone at the Ann Arbor Street Fair, The Original allows a peek into the creative process of a professional artist. Visitors can also try out their own artistic skills at the nearby Art Activity Zone.

Centrally located on Main Street, the Ann Arbor Summer Art Fair is home to the Ark Stage – one of the event's most vibrant performance spaces. This stage stays alive all day with live music, including family-friendly daytime performances.

Even serious art enthusiasts need a break sometimes. The Church Street Beer Tent, part of the South University Art Fair, offers visitors a place to relax with a refreshing beverage and live music. The South University Craft Fair is also found here.

In addition to art, the shops and restaurants of the State Street District, South University District, and the Main Street District join in the fun, offering sales, specials, and prime sidewalk seating for people watching. Don't miss it!

The 2020 Ann Arbor Art Fair runs July 16-19. Find out more at www.theannarborartfair.com.

PERFORMING ARTS

Live performances are a mainstay of the Ann Arbor area's cultural scene. Local venues draw internationally-known artists and host an abundance of local and emerging talent. Visitors of all ages have plenty to choose from - below are several ideas.

WORLD-CLASS PERFORMANCES

The University Musical Society (UMS) was awarded the National Medal of Arts in 2014. Notable performances scheduled for 2020 include the Budapest Festival Orchestra, Lee Minora's White Feminist, and the American Ballet Theatre's performance of Swan Lake.

IMPROV

A house cast and guest groups anchor the offerings at Pointless Brewery & Theatre, where no show is ever the same. This all-ages venue serves craft beer brewed on-site, along with concession-style snacks and non-alcoholic beverages.

LIVE MUSIC

Classical music fans should check out the Ann Arbor Symphony Orchestra, a professional company presenting pops, chamber, and mainstage concerts at the historic Michigan Theater and Hill Auditorium. Pack a picnic and head to Manchester on Thursday nights during the summer for the Riverfolk Music & Arts free gazebo concerts.

FESTIVALS

The Ann Arbor Summer Festival, a nearly four-week celebration of performing arts, offers dozens of performances, activities, and movie screenings over the course of its run. Many of the activities are family-friendly - perfect for visitors with kiddos in tow.

The above offerings barely scratch the surface of performance art in the Ann Arbor area. Check the Calendar of Events for festivals, concerts, and more.

FOR MORE ARTS AND CULTURE LISTINGS, VISIT PAGE 82.

A Family AFFAIR

Have you ever tried your hand at fly fishing? Climbed inside a fire truck? Put yourself inside a giant bubble? The Ann Arbor area offers the opportunity to do ALL of these things, and much, much more.

A museum where kids can touch everything? The Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum is housed in a historic former firehouse. The museum celebrates science, technology, engineering, and math through 250+ interactive exhibits.

Speaking of museums in former firehouses, the Michigan Firehouse Museum near Ypsilanti's Depot Town features rotating exhibits of antique firetrucks and early firefighting equipment. Late-summer visitors may overlap with the annual Michigan Fire Truck Muster in nearby Riverside Park, a gathering of antique-to-present-day fire trucks with all their hoses, bells, and whistles on display.

Learn the art of fly fishing with the staff of Schultz Outfitters, also based in Ypsilanti. All instructors are FFF Certified Casting Instructors. Half-day "get started" classes accommodate 1-4 students of any age and are a great way to learn the basics. Larger groups and more experienced anglers are easy to accommodate, too.

Try out rock climbing in any weather! Planet Rock, an indoor climbing gym, has routes and heights to satisfy first-timers as well as experienced climbers, plus an area exclusively for kids. Classes and instruction are offered as well.

Catch a show by Wild Swan Theater, a nationally-recognized performance group known for creative artistry and a commitment to audience accessibility. The award-winning Spinning Dot Theatre also presents theatrical productions aimed at children, many with a global spin.

Cap off any activity with a trip to Washtenaw Dairy, an Ann Arbor favorite for hand-dipped ice cream cones. If it's too early in the day for ice cream (is it ever?) try one of the fresh-made donuts instead.

FOR MORE FAMILY-FRIENDLY FUN, TRY EXPLORING THE AREA'S HIKING, BIKING, AND WATER TRAILS (PAGES 52 AND 56), OR ATTENDING ONE OF THE MANY ALL-AGES EVENTS (PAGE 61) HELD THROUGHOUT THE YEAR.

Fairytale Dwellings

Back in 2005, patrons of Sweetwaters Coffee and Tea on Washington Street noticed something unusual. A small door had appeared in the corner of a brick wall by the window. It was later joined by a window, which, to the delight of guests, revealed a tiny café table and two tiny mugs. The dwelling was soon identified by local "fairyologist" Jonathan B. Wright as a fairy door.

Once the Sweetwaters portal was established, fairy dwellings popped up in and around businesses throughout town. Twenty years after it first appeared, the Sweetwaters fairy door continues to draw visitors, and searching out the other doors has become a favorite pastime. Wright, for one, is not surprised: "There's a great deal of imagination percolating in Ann Arbor!"

Try searching for fairies at the following downtown locations:

ANN ARBOR DISTRICT LIBRARY

Visit the library's youth section and look for the cheerful blue and green door, which leads to an enchanting room carved out of storybooks.

FOUND

"The fairies that live here are pretty quiet," says Michael Smothers, manager of the Kerrytown shop, "but sometimes, they like to party."

THE ARK

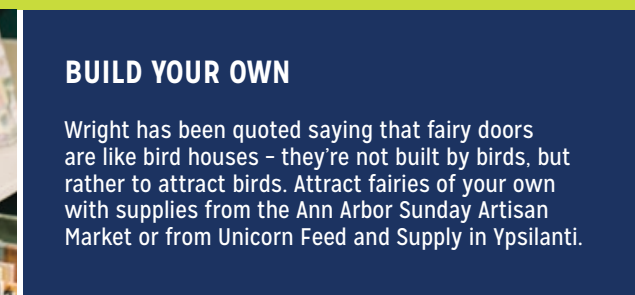

Staff and patrons worried the fairies would flee when the building underwent recent exterior renovations - but the appearance of a NEW door indicated that the fairies upgraded their digs as well.

CRAZY WISDOM BOOKSTORE & TEAROOM

It's no surprise fairies would choose to settle at the New Age bookstore and tea room, which hosts regular fairy tea parties.

THE MICHIGAN THEATER

The fairies have their own VIP entrance and box office window at the historic movie palace.

BUILD YOUR OWN

Wright has been quoted saying that fairy doors are like bird houses - they're not built by birds, but rather to attract birds. Attract fairies of your own with supplies from the Ann Arbor Sunday Artisan Market or from Unicorn Feed and Supply in Ypsilanti.

According to Eileen Spring, CEO of Food Gatherers, nearly 40% of the food produced in the United States goes to waste, while 1 in 8 people nationwide are food insecure. While fighting hunger is hard work, Eileen pointed out that there are plenty of opportunities for fun – many of which benefit the local community and welcome visitors. Here are some of her favorites.

DOWNTOWN YPSILANTI FARMERS MARKET (TUESDAYS)

“One of our favorite markets! It’s staffed and funded by a local organization, Growing Hope, and features local food growers, artisans and often hosts family-friendly activities. Food Gatherers encourages folk of all income levels to support our local markets, and the Ypsilanti market makes this more accessible by accepting multiple forms of assistance.”

CULTIVATE’S SUNDAYS IN THE GARDEN (SUNDAYS JUNE-AUGUST)

“Cultivate put together this free outdoor concert series to benefit local nonprofits. Each week spotlights a different cause, musician, and a featured Michigan brewery. A portion of the proceeds from featured beverages go directly to that week’s beneficiary.”

GRILLIN’ FOR FOOD GATHERERS (SECOND SUNDAY IN JUNE)

“Grillin’ is Food Gatherers’ biggest fundraiser – a fun-filled, family-friendly, food-centric event with fantastic music. More than 150 volunteers and dozens of our community’s best food purveyors serve up grilled delicacies, salads, and Zingerman’s desserts to more than 1,000 guests. One adult Grillin’ ticket raises the equivalent of about 150 meals for a neighbor in need of food assistance.”

DAWN FARM JAMBOREE (SEPTEMBER)

“A free event for the entire family featuring tours of a beautiful working farm that’s helped people recover from addiction for over forty years! Hayrides, pony rides, and delicious food abound.”

Eileen Spring, self-professed “Carrot Queen,” comes by the title honestly. As president and CEO of local nonprofit Food Gatherers, Eileen works alongside her team (and more than 7,000 volunteers) to alleviate hunger and eliminate its causes in Washtenaw County.

Countryside Treasures

Manchester resident Barb Fuller didn’t consider herself a quilter. In late 2007, however, she read a story about a young man in Iowa who designed and hung a “barn quilt” – a plywood panel overlaid with weather-resistant resin with a traditional quilt-square design – as an Eagle Scout project.

Inspired, she bought a few books with quilt square designs, found a pattern she liked, and “drew it, traced it, and played with it with some colored pencils.”

“I thought it would be a nice addition to our barn,” said Fuller. “I appreciated the artwork, the quilt concept, as an homage to the agrarian lifestyle, and to the quilts women have made through the years.”

She hung her square in 2008 – only to find that there were other barn quilts already on display in Manchester. When more began to appear, local leaders took notice.

With the help of a tourism grant, community leaders officially established the “Tour de Barn Quilts,” inviting visitors to bike or drive on a self-guided tour of the quilts, historical landmarks, a park, and the downtown business district.

Barn quilt tours have grown so popular in rural areas that nearly 30 counties in Michigan feature at least one, and they exist in more than forty states. The DIY public art form has boomed, and Fuller has some ideas as to why. “It’s kind of like a treasure hunt,” she said. “It’s a fun activity for a nice day. It’s inexpensive, and it’s something that’s not so common, locally.”

“I’ve always appreciated the effort it takes to create something,” she continued. “And there’s something about the symmetry of a quilt square that appeals to me. It provides a personal touch to our home and town.”

To learn more, visit www.annarbor.org and search Tour de Barn Quilts.

Barns, Birds, and Breadsticks

Tour de Barn Quilts isn’t Manchester’s only self-guided tour option. Avid birdwatchers and nature hobbyists should check out the Tour de Birds, which explores several local nature areas, as well as the landmarks and downtown attractions of the barn quilt tour. Cap off either adventure with a stop at Ollie’s Pizza & Grinders downtown. The “Boss Hawg” pizza with pulled pork and barbecue sauce is sure to satisfy after a day of touring, or fill up on the famous breadsticks, available in several different varieties.

Residents of Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, and the surrounding communities are vocal champions of inclusivity. "We recognize that diversity is a strength and strive to be welcoming and affirming of everyone," said Travis Radina, LGBTQ Liaison to the Ann Arbor Mayor's Office and president of the Jim Toy Community Center, a local LGBTQ resource center. "The Ann Arbor area is a great place to visit because of our values and our people."

Here, Travis shares his recommendations for experiencing the local LGBTQ culture.

YPSI PRIDE (JUNE)

"Ypsi Pride is an amazing way to kick off the Pride season. The celebration unites the community around local LGBTQ culture and features family-friendly entertainment, beer gardens, food trucks, and a 21+ after party!"

ANN ARBOR PRIDE (AUGUST)

"Ann Arbor Pride is a perfect close to a summer of Pride celebrations. With a full-day street festival on Saturday, family-oriented picnic on Sunday, fabulous drag shows, LGBTQ vendors, exciting partnerships & deals at local businesses, and so much more, Ann Arbor Pride has something for everyone."

THE \aüt\ BAR

"Ann Arbor's only dedicated gay bar is the place to be for a sunny Saturday in Braun Court or for a killer Sunday brunch. Their Bloody Marys are some of the best in town."

PRIDE NIGHT AT NECTO NIGHTCLUB (FRIDAYS)

"Friday Pride Night at Necto attracts a vibrant (18+) crowd and features a rotating line-up of entertainment, including many LGBTQ VIPs - it really adds to the party atmosphere."

CANDY BAR AT LIVE NIGHTCLUB (THURSDAYS)

"Candy Bar is a weekly LGBTQ dance party. It's different every Thursday, with special events, theme parties, drag shows, and guest entertainers. Everyone is always welcome."

POWERED BY Innovation

Paul Krutko, president and CEO of Ann Arbor SPARK, recommends attending the annual a2Tech360 event. “The Ann Arbor tech community comes together in an impactful way that leaves no doubt that our tech-related activity is worthy of excitement.”

Dug Song, co-founder of Duo Security, praises the area’s creativity and determination. “Ann Arbor begat punk rock, the student antiwar movement, the commercial Internet, and the winningest college football program in history. Turn on, tune in, and start up!”

The Ann Arbor region is recognized on the global stage as an area of innovation that attracts world-class companies and talent. “The visitor experience is influenced as well by the visionary people, organizations, and events found here,” said Paul Krutko, president and CEO of Ann Arbor SPARK, the region’s public, private, and academic sector economic development partnership.

Here, Krutko and local tech entrepreneur Dug Song, co-founder of Duo Security, share some of the area’s attractive attributes.

Incubators, Co-Working Spaces, and Accelerators

“The Ann Arbor region punches above its weight class in terms of support services for entrepreneurs,” said Krutko. “The area is a frequent destination for business meetings and events, and Ann Arbor SPARK is a great resource to help professionals connect with area thought leaders and coordinate tours of leading innovative facilities.”

Home Grown Innovation

If you think tech innovation only thrives on the coasts, think again. Song co-founded Duo Security as a two-person start-up in 2010 and helped grow it to a “unicorn” company valued at $1 billion in less than a decade. The company was acquired by Cisco in 2018 for $2.35 billion.

Innovation Magnet

Silicon Valley-based KLA recently chose to locate its second headquarters in Ann Arbor. “If you own a cell phone or tablet device, it’s likely you have KLA’s product in your hands,” said Krutko. “Compared to Silicon Valley, Ann Arbor offers an equally strong pipeline of engineering talent, coupled with a high quality of life and a lower cost of living.”

A Foundation of Creativity

The monthly A2 Tech Meetups started in 2009 and have grown into some of the region’s most well-attended tech events. Companies get five minutes to pitch to the public, followed by a brief Q&A. “Our small city of freaks and geeks, fast learners, and team players has been a crucible for startups,” said Song. “Five new companies have been featured every month for a decade.”

Explore

Explore the unique sights, sounds, and tastes of Washtenaw County! Hop in the car and head to Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan, Saline, and Ypsilanti for distinctive points of interest, events, and experiences. All of these communities are just a short driving distance from Ann Arbor, and each offers its own unique brand of charm. Indulge your inner theater buff, car nut, or beer geek. Abundant nature, inviting downtowns, and rollicking festivals literally surround us - get out and explore!

CHELSEA

Professional productions take center stage at actor Jeff Daniels' Purple Rose Theatre, presenting world premieres and classics in an intimate venue. Just around the corner, downtown Chelsea's Main Street offers an array of dining options, art galleries, and unique shops and boutiques. For a live show of a different variety, visit the Chelsea Milling Company and tour the Jiffy Mix plant, or head to the Waterloo Recreation Area to view the Sandhill Crane sanctuary.

DEXTER

A picturesque downtown and miles of riverbank provide backdrops for a number of favorite activities. Take a scenic canoe trip, bike ride, or stroll through the Metropark. Stop for cider and doughnuts at the Dexter Cider Mill. Enjoy the family-friendly entertainment during Dexter Daze in August. Dexter offers something for everyone, every season.

MANCHESTER

Mingle with locals and out-of-towners alike at the annual Manchester Chicken Broil, the largest single-day chicken broil in the Midwest - complete with a special secret-recipe coleslaw. This small-but-not-sleepy town offers much more than just one day of (delicious) entertainment, however. Manchester is also home to Sharon Mills, a recently-renovated historic park, and is only a short drive away from Michigan International Speedway, host to NASCAR races, the Faster Horses country music festival, and more.

MILAN

A trip to Milan is anything but a drag - unless you're hitting one of the 75+ races at the Milan Dragway, that is. Need for speed satisfied? Slow down for a leisurely stroll through the downtown historic district, the Old Fire Barn, or the Hack House Museum. Top off your adventure with a visit to Original Gravity Brewing Company, widely considered one of the area's best breweries.

SALINE

Saline's downtown might give the impression of an endless block party - there is always something going on! The Farmers Market, Summerfest, Oktoberfest, and the Summer Music Series all unfold in the streets. The annual Celtic Festival, with its Highland games, jousting, and dance competitions, requires a little more room to spread out - it's held in historic Mill Pond Park.

YPSILANTI

Home to Eastern Michigan University, Ypsi honors its blue-collar heritage with automotive museums, car shows, and cruise nights while welcoming quirky shops, creative restaurants, and microbreweries. Two entertainment districts - Downtown and Depot Town - border the expansive Riverside Park, home to events like the Michigan Brewer's Guild Summer Festival and fly-fishing demonstrations.

WHERE CULTURE AND COUNTRYSIDE COLLIDE

Sean Carter Photography

If the name “Chelsea, Michigan” sounds vaguely familiar, it’s likely because its most well-known resident has talked it up in interviews and on late-night television. Actor Jeff Daniels, known for his work in “Dumb and Dumber,” “The Newsroom,” and “Fly Away Home” (among others) has long sung its praises.

Daniels is the founder of one Chelsea’s most-prized attractions: The Purple Rose Theatre Company, named after his film “The Purple Rose of Cairo.” Presenting groundbreaking new works and theatrical classics performed by professional actors, the Purple Rose is an intergal part of downtown Chelsea.

Current downtown Chelsea hums with energy, and visitors have their pick among family-owned taverns, eclectic shops, and a thriving restaurant scene. (Beer enthusiasts – don’t miss the Chelsea Alehouse Brewery.)

Theater and art galleries give Chelsea a contemporary feel, but traditional small town charm still abounds. The Chelsea Milling Company is better known as the home of JIFFY Mix. Every iconic blue-and-white box – including the world-famous corn muffins – is still produced in Chelsea. Factory tours are available for individuals and groups (visitors may even go home with a sample or two).

Chelsea has also become a destination for mountain bikers. The Waterloo Recreation Area is home to the DTE Energy Foundation Trail, a system of three distinct singletrack biking loops (with two more scheduled for completion by the end of 2020). The system will comprise 25 miles of trail within Waterloo and connect with other trail systems in the area. Waterloo also offers plenty of family fun opportunities including camping, fishing, hiking, and interactive exhibits at the Gerald E. Eddy Discovery Center.

Dexter is a picture-perfect town – literally. Every summer, hundreds of artists descend upon the community to capture the scenery during the Paint Dexter Plein Air Festival. Dexter’s scenic views shouldn’t be limited to a canvas, however – there are plenty of sights, sounds, and tastes to experience in real time.

The Border-to-Border Trail begins in downtown Dexter, connecting several area communities with 35 miles of non-motorized pathways for biking, rollerblading, or strolling. The heavily-wooded Dexter-Huron Metropark offers plenty of shade for picnickers and fishing enthusiasts seeking a break from the sun. Skip’s Huron River Canoe Livery offers canoeing, kayaking, and tubing excursions.

Any summer picnic is tastier with fresh-picked blueberries from the Dexter Blueberry Farm. Celebrate fall’s arrival and the changing colors with a trip to the Dexter Cider Mill for some of Washtenaw County’s favorite cider and doughnuts.

For an experience that’s local yet worldly at the same time, visit Mindo Chocolate Makers. Founders Jose Meza and Barbara Wilson split their time between Ecuador and Dexter, bringing cocoa nibs and beans to Michigan to roast, grind, and temper into sustainably-packaged bars (tours of the facility are available).

Continue the cultural experience by taking in a show at the Encore Musical Theatre Company, a unique performing arts organization combining Broadway, professional, and local talent to present musical theater productions. For the perfect memento, visit Artistica. This locally-owned gallery offers one-of-a-kind works ranging from intricate wall hangings to utilitarian homemade mittens, all crafted by regional artists.

SOUNDS AND Lights

Chelsea comes alive on Thursday nights June-August as musicians of all genres hold free outdoor concerts at various downtown performance spaces. The event gets extra “oomph” in July with a two-day, three-night festival featuring a classic car show, kids activities, and more.

Dexter Daze

Dexter Daze started almost 50 years ago as a community sidewalk sale. The late-summer event has since evolved into a downtown celebration with over 100 artisan booths, tasty treats, and free family entertainment. Stroll the alley between Red Brick Restaurant and the Dexter Bakery to take in “Chalk the Block,” where chalk artists transform the walkway into a beautiful gallery.

EXPLORE AT YOUR LEISURE

MANCHESTER

Manchester thrives on the spirit of community. That spirit is on full display at events like the annual Manchester Chicken Broil, a single-day fundraiser held in July that serves thousands of chickens and tasty, secret-recipe side dishes to hungry attendees, and the Manchester Community Fair.

While many guests are first drawn to Manchester by these and other events, they often find plenty of reasons to return.

The Sharon Mills County Park, on the banks of the River Raisin, houses a historic mill, originally constructed in the 1850s and almost completely rebuilt by Henry Ford in the 1930s. The park also includes a hiking and biking trail that winds through open fields and along the banks of the mill pond. The nearby Sharon Hills Nature Preserve features a similar-sounding name but a different experience, with rolling hills, oak and hickory forests, and hiking paths.

With its abundant nature areas, it's no surprise that Manchester has embraced eco-tourism. The self-guided Tour de Birds explores the parks above, along with other natural areas like the Watkins Lake State Park. Fowl spotted on the drive include osprey, Acadian flycatchers, cackling geese, and pileated woodpeckers. For a self-guided tour of a different (but equally idyllic) variety, try biking the rural roads of the Tour de Barn Quilts route.

Any Manchester tour or event will likely run through the historic downtown. Visitors wishing to fuel up for – or wind down from – a day outdoors won't have any trouble finding a hearty meal or a refreshing beverage. Two Black Sheep serves made-from-scratch breakfasts, lunches, and dinners in a homey atmosphere (don't forget to grab a drink at the gorgeous antique bar). Satisfy a sweet tooth or cap off the day with rhubarb pie or carrot cake at Linda's Diner.

DON'T MISS MANCHESTER'S
UNIQUE TOUR DE BARN QUILTS
ON PAGE 31.

'TIS THE Season

Don't be fooled into thinking that Manchester is a three-season destination. The love of community events extends into December with Christmas in the Village. Held the first weekend of the month, the celebration features decorations, a pop-up market, the Reindeer Trail Run/Walk, and a holiday parade.

SPEED UP,
SLOW DOWN, DIG IN

MILAN

A trip to Milan, located mere minutes from Ann Arbor, is anything but a drag – unless your reason for visiting is a race at the Milan Dragway, that is. The NHRA-sanctioned drag strip is home to 75+ races each year, and kids twelve and under are always admitted for free.

Once the need for speed is satisfied, slow down for a stroll. Exploring the downtown historic district, Old Fire Barn, or Hack House Museum are leisurely ways to spend an afternoon.

Milan's charm extends to its decidedly homegrown food scene. Life is Sweet Bakery and Café began as a home-based business but quickly grew in popularity. Occupying two downtown storefronts, the menu includes soup, salad, tea, and coffee. Baked goods remain the calling card, however – don't miss the Brookie, a cookie/brownie mash-up.

In addition to serving artisan coffee roasted on-site, Milan Coffee Works is a frequent collaborator with area businesses. Ann Arbor's Blom Meadworks hosts regular pop-ups, and MCW's nitro cold brew coffee is on tap alongside the craft-brewed beers at neighboring Original Gravity Brewing Company. Stop by on Saturdays for a loaf of sourdough from The Mother Loaf Breads, baked fresh in the building.

Speaking of freshness, it's hard to get fresher than Zilke's Farm Kitchen. An offshoot of the family's vegetable farm, the Farm Kitchen features a soup and salad bar, grocery items, and take-home meal kits for busy cooks.

Fall visitors should plan a stop at Wasem Fruit Farm. Along with u-pick apples and pumpkins, Wasem grows cherries, peaches, and plums... but the main attraction might be fresh-pressed cider and piping-hot cake donuts in flavors including cinnamon, blueberry, pumpkin, and more. Bonus: Talladay Farms, one of the Midwest's largest corn mazes, is located next door.

THIRD THURSDAYS in Milan

Downtown Milan radiates with excitement every third Thursday in June-October. Entertainment includes live music, a beer garden, a kid zone, and special events like tree-climbing and fire department tours. Local food trucks add a tasty dimension.

SALINE

FROM SALT SPRINGS TO STYLISH CITY

Saline was named for natural salt springs found when the town was established in the 1800s. Honor the past by raising a glass of handcrafted beer or cider at Salt Springs Brewery, housed in a historic church featuring original stained-glass windows. In addition to tasty brews and private-label wines, the menu offers options for both meat eaters and vegetarians (regulars recommend the crispy brussels sprouts with balsamic vinegar and bacon lardons).

Equally creative downtown dining choices include the Brecon Grille, Mac's Acadian Seafood Shack, and Matty J's

Bakery and Café. For something sweet, swing by Mickey's Dairy Twist for a classic soft-serve experience.

Saline never become a center of salt production yet the town prospered - facilitated by the Saline Railroad Depot - linking the rural community to the greater Midwest. The Depot still stands on its original site - visitors can tour the Saline History & Depot Museum and furnished caboose every Saturday.

Saline continues to thrive. A growing number of locally-owned businesses are a testament to that success. Shop for products including specialty foods, lotions, and soaps at McPherson Local or search for the perfect piece of home décor or kitchenware at Pineapple House. Fine wine, imported cheeses, and other provisions can be procured at the Cheese Shop of Saline.

Adding to the fun are frequent downtown events, including Saline Summerfest and Oktoberfest, featuring live music, outdoor beer gardens, and plenty of family-friendly activities.

VISITING IN July?

Visiting in July? Don't miss Saline's flagship event, the annual Celtic Festival in Mill Pond Park. Complete with Celtic music, Highland Games and dancing, jousting, "Nessie" the Loch Ness Monster, sheep herding, and lots more, it's a must for the whole family!

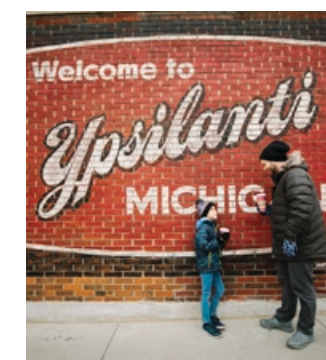

YPSILANTI

YOU CAN (AND SHOULD!) DO IT!

Named for Greek war hero Demetrius Ypsilanti and home to Eastern Michigan University, "Ypsi" (as locals call it) has an eclectic vibe to match its unusual name.

The former factory town attracted thousands of new residents during the World War II-era manufacturing boom - including Rose Will Monroe, one of the real-life inspirations for Rosie the Riveter. Today, Ypsi's can-do spirit is present in the form of a number of unique, locally-owned businesses.

The Rocket delights guests with a large selection of retro candy and Michigan-made Sanders products. Beyond the candy is a selection of Funko characters, novelty coffee mugs, activity kits, and more (including a shelf of mustache-inspired gifts and a bacon-themed product line).

Black Stone Bookstore and Cultural Center houses local art, African-inspired fashion and jewelry, handmade and imported goods, and books focused on African American identity and experience. The Eyrie carries prints, pottery, paper goods, and other items from local and regional artists.

Visitors looking for a taste of the Ypsi lifestyle have plenty of options. Cuppy's Best Soulful Café dishes up large portions of soul food classics like catfish nuggets, fried chicken, and collard greens. Sidetrack Bar & Grill has one of the best burgers in America, and an abundance of patio seating and an extensive list of craft beers. Casablanca serves authentic Moroccan and Middle Eastern cuisine including tagines, shawarmas, and more.

The Huron River winds through Ypsilanti, offering plenty of recreational opportunities, including fly-fishing, canoeing, or casually strolling the riverbank. Golf enthusiasts should book a tee time at the nationally-recognized Eagle Crest Golf Course. And with 23,000+ acres of public park and recreation areas, hiking, biking, sledding, cross-country skiing, and more are always within reach.

FIRST FRIDAYS Ypsilanti

On the First Friday of every month, Ypsi venues host artists, musicians, tastings, activities, and more for a collective self-guided art and culture walk. Businesses often offer special sales or limited-time menu items. First Fridays also partners with community celebrations like Ypsi Pride and Festival of the Honeybee - see "Events" for details.

EASTERN MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY

BEST IN THE Midwest

Eastern Michigan University (EMU) was founded in 1849 as the Michigan State Normal School. Michigan's second-oldest public university was originally established as a teacher's college, and was the first in the state to offer a four-year teaching degree. The college adopted its current moniker in the 1950s and has continued to expand to its current enrollment of over 18,000 students and a campus encompassing over 800 acres.

Today, EMU - named to the Princeton Review's "Best in the Midwest" list for 16 consecutive years - offers over 200 undergraduate majors, minors, and certificates and over 150 graduate programs. The school boasts a multitude of academic achievements, but also a historic, picturesque campus - read on for highlights.

EMU's oldest surviving buildings, Starkweather Hall and Welch Hall, were erected in the 1890s. Both buildings were designed by Detroit's Malcomson and Higginbotham firm and are on the National Register of Historic Places.

The recently-renovated $90 million Science Complex addition includes a dramatic planetarium and a basement-level rock garden. Ford Gallery displays works by artists from all over the world.

The 9/11 Memorial, visible from Cross Street, consists of a 14-foot steel beam believed to be from the 74th floor of the South Tower of the World Trade Center (donated by the New York Port Authority).

The state-of-the-art Convocation Center is home to EMU basketball and other athletic events, and also hosts megastar concerts, large-scale trade shows, and community events.

For more information, visit www.emich.edu or call (800) GO-TO-EMU to schedule a tour.

Unique Detail

The Ann Arbor area shopping scene is at once trendy and unique, high-end and thrifty, cutting-edge and classic. Like the community itself, these shopping opportunities are diverse, eclectic, and eager to welcome both first-time and returning visitors.

1 Spun
This not-so-average yarn shop radiates with a fun energy – no surprise, since it's co-owned by a former Zingerman's marketer. The yarn selection spans a variety of price ranges and includes a number of small-batch yarns produced in Michigan. The store also hosts classes and events for a more immersive experience.

2 Caravan Gift Shop
Located in the glass-covered corridor of Nickels Arcade (listed on the National Register of Historic Places), the unique blend of merchandise includes authentic German nutcrackers, Russian nesting dolls, painted boxes from Poland, Skagen watches from Denmark, and more.

3 Downtown Home & Garden
Owner Kelly Vore has joked about the selection: "Where else can you find a bag of topsoil and Le Crueset cookware on the same receipt?" Shoppers can also find brands like Keen and Stormy Kromer, organic pet food, and even grab a loaf of Zingerman's bread. Check the sunny spots for shop cat Wallace, who's usually happy to accept a few head scratches.

4 Unicorn Feed & Supply
It's hard to get past the entrance without pausing for a selfie op with Reginald Peppercorn, the official store mascot. Once guests pass "Reggie Pep" they'll find a dazzling selection of stickers, sparkles, fairy garden accessories, mermaid merch, LGBTQ Pride accessories, and more.

5 Dear Golden
Everything old is new again – or at least things seem that way in this light-filled vintage clothing shop. Browse a curated selection of women's garments from the 1920s-1980s, each one hand-selected for its overall quality, style, and appeal. Accessories including jewelry, hats, and shoes round out the selection of treasures.

6 Crazy Wisdom
Ann Arbor's unofficial Zen den carries a large selection of titles encompassing topics like holistic health, alternative spiritual practices, Buddhism, yoga, spiritual development, and more. The onsite tea room serves over 100 varieties of tea, along with coffee, snacks, and desserts. Check the website for the schedule of Fairy Tea Parties with the Crazy Wisdom fairies (dressing up is encouraged).

7 Puffer Reds
This Ypsilanti mainstay – a high-fashion streetwear retailer – has welcomed visitors including celebrities, musicians, and athletes since 1979. The carefully-curated selection, chosen to blend the culture and lifestyles of music and fashion, includes hard-to-find brands and exclusive releases like Nike quickstrikes, Jordan Retro shoes, and more.

8 Bivouac
Outdoorsy types should beeline for Ann Arbor's preeminent spot to shop for outdoor clothing and gear. Use the store's website to book a Personal Shopping Experience: Bivouac experts will pre-select items to present and review during the appointment.

9 Jessica's Apothecary
More than a great place to unwind with aromatherapy treatment or facial, the shop features owner Jessica Goniea's line of body oils and scrubs (Coconut Rose Whip and Ginger Lemon Salt Scrub are among the most popular sellers) as well as organic and pharmaceutical-grade skin and body products for men and women.

10 Vault of Midnight
The name was dreamed up to evoke the Golden Age of Comics – and visitors will certainly discover a treasure trove. Beyond the huge selection of comic books and graphic novels are board games, action figures, and fun gift items. Don't be afraid to ask the staff for recommendations!

CONTACT INFORMATION FOR THESE AND OTHER SHOPS CAN BE FOUND IN THE SHOPPING LISTINGS, BEGINNING ON PAGE 90. ALSO, BE SURE TO CHECK THE DISTRICT AND COMMUNITIES SECTIONS, STARTING ON PAGE 7, FOR MORE ONE-OF-A-KIND SHOPPING SUGGESTIONS.

For more than 50 years, Washtenaw Community College has continued a tradition of providing excellent and affordable educational programs and services to the community.

It was recently ranked one of the top 30 best online community colleges in the nation. But, WCC is also a comprehensive community college. It offers more than 100 occupational programs for entry into business and industry and for employees wanting to upgrade their skills. WCC is a leading transfer college for many universities. In fact, WCC transfers more students to the University of Michigan than any other community college. Every year, more than 20,000 students choose to study at WCC.

Visit wccnet.edu for more information.

Focus on Student Success

WCC graduates have knowledge and skills... We guarantee it! Washtenaw Community College's Assurance of Student Success board policy guarantees that all WCC degree and certificate graduates will have the knowledge and performance skills required for their major program or entry-level employment. See wccnet.edu/guarantee for more information.

Academic programs are offered at times that are convenient for working professionals and full-time students. Many classes are offered online. The College makes tuition affordable and prides itself on having small class sizes with highly experienced instructors to complement the state-of-the-art equipment in the classroom.

Nursing Center of Excellence

WCC has been named a Center of Excellence in Nursing Education by the National League for Nursing, one of just 16 nursing programs nationwide to earn the honor across the academic spectrum of higher education in nursing and leading teaching hospitals and clinical sites. WCC is the first institution in the state of Michigan to be named an NLN Center of Excellence.

National Trade Unions

Each summer, WCC opens its doors to national trade unions for weeklong training sessions. WCC provides a dedicated learning environment for specific trade certificate and associate degree programs, as well as an Ironworkers pre-apprenticeship program that guarantees direct entry into the local Ironworkers union with successful completion of the 24-credit program.

Professional Development & Community Enrichment

Professional development and personal enrichment classes are available to the community to pursue interests and hobbies, grow in careers, and meet continuing education requirements.

Advanced Transportation Center

Our Advanced Transportation Center was established to help build the talent pipeline for the mobility industry as well as meet the needs of incumbent workers to stay up-to-date on rapidly developing advanced manufacturing, intelligent transportation, and automotive technology.

Job Training

As a connection to the Michigan New Jobs Training Program, WCC can partner with businesses to help link available training dollars from the State of Michigan for employees hired into newly created positions.

For companies planning on expanding and adding new jobs in Michigan, this program can provide the flexible funding to meet an assortment of employee training and development needs specifically designed for businesses. For more information, visit ecdevelopment@wccnet.edu or call 734-677-5060.

Entrepreneurship Center

The Entrepreneurship Center at WCC is a meeting place not just for students, but for the public in general. There, aspiring entrepreneurs find the resources and professional assistance to bring their ideas to market. For more information, visit ec.wccnet.edu.

Conference Services

WCC Conference Services offers top-notch service, barrier-free facilities, an extensive selection of presentation and audio-visual equipment, catering services, and plenty of free parking. For more information, contact 734-677-5060.

THE Huron River Water Trail

THE HURON RIVER WATER TRAIL - THE COUNTRY'S 18TH NATIONALLY-RECOGNIZED WATER TRAIL - FLOWS OVER 104 MILES AND DRAWS MORE THAN 2.5 MILLION VISITORS EACH YEAR. THE WASHTENAW COUNTY SECTION COVERS OVER 70 MILES, FEATURING RAPIDS AND FLAT WATER PADDLING OPPORTUNITIES, AS WELL AS SCENIC SHORELINE, PICTURESQUE PARKLAND, AND EASY ACCESS TO ACTIVITIES ON AND OFF THE WATER.

WHERE TO HIT THE TRAIL

HURON-CLINTON METROPARKS

The water trail winds through three metroparks in the Huron-Clinton chain: Hudson Mills and Dexter-Huron in Dexter and Delhi in Ann Arbor. Hudson Mills, the furthest west of the three, offers a blend of woodsy scenery and water views - the gentle rapids are a favorite spot for photos, picnics, and bass anglers. Dexter-Huron's heavily-wooded grounds offer plenty of shade on sunny days, and the banks explode with colorful spring and summer blooms, including purple cresses and trout lilies. Delhi is popular for fishing, and also features mature oaks and expansive grassy lawns that provide an ideal environment for spotting wildlife like blue herons, turtles, and deer.

All three parks are serviced by Skip's Huron River Canoe Livery. Rent a canoe, kayak, or tube (or put in your own) at Hudson Mills or Dexter-Huron for the leisurely trip down to Delhi.

ARGO CASCADES, ARGO PARK, GALLUP PARK

The Argo Cascades are a favorite of kayakers and tubers. The series of nine man-made, mild rapids requires a moderate degree of skill for paddlers before entering into a mild stretch of river that flows almost four miles through the heart of downtown Ann Arbor to the flat, open pool at Gallup Park. Kids and adults alike can stay cool tubing the cascades - ride the current to Nichols Arboretum or haul tubes back up to the top for a repeat run.

Canoers looking to make the Argo-Gallup trip can bypass the rapids and put in at the bottom of the cascades. Both Argo and Gallup offer plenty of still water for stand-up paddleboards and paddleboats, both available for rent at the Argo Park Livery and Gallup Park Livery.

FROG ISLAND, RIVERSIDE PARK, AND FORD LAKE

A new staircase, access path, and handrails were recently installed in Ypsilanti's Frog Island Park (adjacent to the popular Depot Town entertainment district), making it easy for paddlers to launch their own canoes and kayaks. Paddle under the "tridge" (a three-way footbridge) into Riverside Park. The 16-acre waterfront expanse is a favorite of local fishing enthusiasts, and guides from local fly-fishing shop Schultz Outfitters can sometimes be seen giving casting instruction.

Paddle under a second footbridge (servicing Michigan Avenue and the Downtown Ypsilanti area) and head toward Ford Lake, a large still water body popular for fishing and boating. Several parks along the lakeshore, including Ford Lake Park and Loonfeather Park, offer places to put in or take out watercraft, as well as picnic areas, restrooms, trails, wetlands, and plenty of open space to play and relax.

SEE MORE RECREATION OPPORTUNITIES ON PAGE 96.

1 BIRD HILLS NATURE AREA

Grab your hiking boots, running shoes, or your four-legged pal. The undeveloped trail and surrounding nature area winds through hills, ravines, and woods, all covered with beech, sugar maple, flowering dogwood, and spring wildflowers.

2 NORTH BAY PARK

A shared-use path and boardwalk loop around Ypsilanti's Ford Lake. Swans, herons, and even pelicans have been spotted among the abundant waterfowl. Bonus: it's easily accessible from highway I-94.

3 NICHOLS ARBORETUM

Bordered by the University of Michigan academic and medical campuses, visitors are often surprised to stumble upon the scenic park and trail oasis affectionately known as "the Arb." Walkers and hikers can take in the riverfront and magnolia den. In the spring, formal peony gardens bloom with over 900 individual plants - many historic heirloom varieties.

4 WATERLOO RECREATION AREA

The largest park in the Lower Peninsula offers trails and terrain for hikers and bikers of all skill levels. Enjoy a leisurely stroll through the Bog Trail's 1.5 miles of beech-maple forest, ending at a floating bog in Cedar Lake. Mountain bikers hail from across the Midwest to ride the DTE Energy Foundation Trail's three loops.

5 ROLLING HILLS COUNTY PARK

Ypsilanti's Rolling Hills is a true family destination. The park features 5+ miles of paved mixed-use paths, several sections of which are fully accessible. Between Memorial Day and Labor Day, check out the on-site water park featuring water slides, a lazy river, and a wave pool.

6 PARK LYNDON COUNTY PARK

Flora and fauna are the main attractions here - over 500 species of plants line the park's winding hiking trails, creating a variety of wildlife habitats. Park Lyndon is a favorite spot for birdwatchers!

CAN'T DECIDE WHERE TO GO?

Explore a section of the Border-to-Border (B2B) Trail. The non-motorized pathway will eventually connect 50 miles of trails (over 40 miles have been completed so far) across Washtenaw County, linking the communities of Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Dexter, and Chelsea, along with their surrounding nature areas. Many sections border the Huron River, and signage helps visitors navigate their chosen paths.

CALENDAR OF Events

The Ann Arbor area is a year-round host to unique events showcasing the best of what our communities have to offer. Each season ushers in a wave of fun celebrations. Support a local creative at an edgy indie art fair, celebrate diversity milestones and historical achievements, or partake in local cuisine and Michigan-made beverages. Many events are family-friendly, and many involve live music or entertainment. There's truly something for everyone!

SUMMER

June, July, August

African American Downtown Festival

Annual tribute to the Historic Black Business District of Ann Arbor featuring music, art, theater, dance, poetry, crafts, merchandise, food, and kids' activities.

Ann Arbor Art Fair

Four juried art fairs held simultaneously throughout the streets of Ann Arbor comprise this nationally-recognized event – one of the nation's largest outdoor art fairs. Over 1,000 artists and a variety of artwork in every price range.

Ann Arbor Blues Festival

Established and up-and-coming artists form a line-up celebrating Chicago-style blues.

Ann Arbor Mini Maker Faire

Ann Arbor's piece of a worldwide movement! A venue for engineers, artists, scientists, and crafters to show hobbies, experiments, and projects. Held at the Ann Arbor District Library.

Ann Arbor Pride

Celebrates the lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, and allied communities with live music, art, food, dancing, and more. Held the first weekend in August, hosted by the Jim Toy Community Center.

Ann Arbor Restaurant Week

Enjoy prix fixe lunch and dinner menus highlighting favorite dishes at Ann Arbor's best restaurants.

Ann Arbor Summer Festival

A three-week festival beginning in June: free, family-friendly Top of the Park offers live music, food stands, and outdoor movies, while Hill Auditorium and the Power Center host a variety of ticketed events.

Chelsea Community Fair

Agriculture and livestock judging, carnival games, rides, tractor pull, and demolition derby. Held in August.

Chelsea Painters Art Fair

Rain or shine event highlighting the award-winning work of member artists, plus entertainment and children's art activities.

Cinetopia International Film Festival

A celebration of independent, foreign, and documentary cinema presenting 50+ movies in multiple locations in downtown Ann Arbor and Detroit.

Dexter Daze

Arts, community, and entertainment combine in a free two-day festival for the whole family.

DIYpsi Indie Art Fair

The best indie artists, hand-crafted local food and drink, and an eclectic mix of live music held at Ypsilanti's Arbor Brewing Company Microbrewery.

First Fridays Ypsilanti

Held the first Friday of every month April-December at venues throughout Ypsilanti. Self-guided arts and culture walk featuring free activities including art displays, music, and food tastings.

German Park Picnic

Held the last Saturdays in June, July, and August. German food and libations. Performances by the German Park Dancers. Dance band begins at 4pm. 21+ only unless admitted with parent/guardian. Cash only.

Juneteenth

Celebration of the abolition of slavery hosted by the Ann Arbor NAACP. Food, entertainment, children's games, vendors, and more. Open to the whole community.

Manchester Chicken Broil

The Midwest's oldest, largest single-day Chicken Broil! Enjoy broiled chicken, secret-recipe German coleslaw, and live entertainment.

Mayor's Green Fair

Rain-or-shine celebration of the Ann Arbor community's environmental leadership by citizens, nonprofits, government and businesses.

Michigan Brewer's Guild Summer Beer Festival

Over 150 breweries take over Ypsilanti's spacious Riverside Park with over 1,000 Michigan craft beers to sample. Live entertainment.

Michigan Camaro Superfest

The longest running all-Camaro show in the U.S., held in Ypsilanti's Riverside Park.

Michigan Firehouse Museum Fire Truck Muster

A diverse collection of fire rigs from the 1920s through the late 1970s displayed in Ypsilanti's Riverside Park.

Milan Bluegrass Festival

Four days of performances by established and up-and-coming bluegrass acts, held at the KC Campground.

Milan Coffee Off

Street fair with coffee-themed demonstrations, tastings, and a competition to determine a crowd favorite among local roasters and coffee shops.

Milan Community Fair

Carnival rides, entertainment, and fireworks. Held in June.

Paint Dexter Plein Air Festival

Artists converge in and around the city of Dexter, culminating in a two-day public exhibit and art sale in Monument Park.

Rolling Sculpture Car Show

Over 400 antique, classic, concept, and art cars throughout the streets of downtown Ann Arbor. Held in July.

Route 23 Arts & Music Festival

Live music, street performers, plays, street art fair, food trucks, craft beer, and beer garden, held in Milan, right off US-23 between Ann Arbor and Toledo, OH.

Saline Celtic Festival

All-ages event featuring Celtic music, dance, and athletic demonstrations, sheepherding, kids' activities, a craft beer tent, and more.

Saline Community Fair

Family-friendly community fair with rides, tractor pull, livestock and agricultural judging, beer barn, and more. Held in August.

Saline's Summerfest

Food, fun, activities for the whole family, and attractions on the streets of downtown Saline.

Sonic Lunch
