Head to Athens, an eclectic college town 60 miles northeast of Atlanta. A vibrant, restored Victorian-era downtown teems with boutiques, artwork, local products, renowned nightclubs and distinctive dining. Historic architecture and impressive gardens complete the blend of traditional Southern heritage and contemporary style. The vibe and energy that gave birth to R.E.M., the B-52s, and Widespread Panic is alive and well today!

What's New

- Southern Brewing Company, Athens' third craft brewery, opened in May 2015 and joins Creature Comforts (opened in spring 2014) and Terrapin (2002) in offering public tours and tastings.

- One of the largest mountain biking trails in the southeast, at Trail Creek Park, opened in April 2015 with more than five miles of professionally constructed trails.

- The Antebellum Trail, between Athens and Macon, has charted bicycling trails within and between the seven historic communities.

Music and Arts

Athens was named the "#1 College Music Scene in America" by Rolling Stone, and for good reason. World-class and local acts grace the main stages of the Georgia Theatre, The Foundry, The Classic Center, and the 40 Watt Club. The annual music and arts festival AthFest each June highlights and celebrates this culture that is so ingrained in the identity of the city.

The Georgia Museum of Art is the state's official art museum and features more than 9,000 pieces in its permanent collection. The Lyndon House is home to large galleries and children's programming. The Third Thursday visual art tour highlights seven of Athens' major art locations monthly.

Local Flavors: Culinary Scene

Athens is a foodie paradise, highlighted by James Beard Award-Winner and Top Chef Hugh Acheson's Five & Ten. Acheson is also a partner at The National, where chef-owner Peter Dale has made a name for himself with a Mediterranean-inspired menu. Dale has also opened Seabear Oyster Bar with chef Patrick Stubbers.

Made In Athens

Niche shops, coffee roasters and craft breweries comprise a unique Athens artistry that can be found nowhere else.

Three Athens breweries are producing award-winning craft beer and make for Athens' best happy hour with tours and tastings. New specialty shops have added to the variety of the city: Condor Chocolates creates artisan Ecuadorian chocolates, Phickles Phun Foods is a small-batch producer of pickles and spreads and Community is a boutique focused on creating local and sustainable clothing.

Visitors can experience the coffee roasting process at Jittery Joe’s or 1000 Faces Coffee Roasting companies.
