Opened September 2021
South Boston Seaport District (450 Summer Street)
1,055 Rooms

The Omni Boston Hotel at the Seaport opened its doors on September 9, 2021 at the corner of Summer and D Streets, in a prime location opposite, and connected to, Boston Convention & Exhibition Center. The hotel tops out at 21 floors with views of Boston Harbor and 100,000 square feet of flexible space and adds 1,055 guest rooms, including 52 suites, to Boston's booming Seaport District. There are multiple, exciting dining and entertainment options on property, including Kestra, an all-day restaurant offering Mediterranean fare, a French Boulangerie, Crescendo Lobby Bar, the signature Breve Spa (coming soon), a fitness center, and Lifted Pool Bar, an elevated pool deck and bar with the Boston skyline as its backdrop.

Hampton Inn by Hilton and Homewood Suites by Hilton Boston Seaport

Opened April 6, 2021

416 Rooms

Several dual-brand properties have opened in the Boston metro area in the last two years, notably the new Hampton Inn Boston Seaport (standard king and double queen rooms) and Homewood Suites Boston Seaport (spacious studios and king suites with full kitchens), a dual brand property surrounded by rich maritime history in the Raymond L. Flynn Marine Park, a short walk from the Flynn Cruiseport Boston and the Boston Convention & Exhibition Center. Amenities include a prime waterfront location, high-speed Wifi, hot and healthy breakfast, a 24-hour fitness center, indoor pool, and 6,000 sq. ft. of meeting space, which includes a sunlit ballroom with harbor views. The Homewood Suites provides guests with a complimentary evening social and grocery service.

The Langham Boston (250 Franklin Street)

Re-opened June 2021

312 Rooms

After a thorough and thoughtful transformation, The Langham Boston returned in all its glory in summer of 2021. Built as the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston in 1922, the granite and limestone building was converted into a luxury hotel in 1981 and joined Langham Hotels & Resorts in 2004. Renovated guest rooms and suites include the addition of spacious bathrooms with walk-in showers, white marble floors and countertops. 13,000 sq. ft. of meeting space includes the new Lincoln Ballroom, which can accommodate up to 200 guests. Guests can enjoy an elevated experience by upgrading to the Langham Club level with access to a private club setting offering a wide range of privileges, including five food and drink services throughout the day.

The Newbury Boston Hotel (One Newbury Street Boston)

Re-opened May 2021

211 Rooms

Visitors to the Newbury Boston can check in at one of Boston's best addresses, on its poshest shopping street, perfectly poised next to the Public Garden. The legacy of this hotel extends to 1927, but 2021 marks its debut as an independent luxury hotel. Custom-made furniture, Frette linens and robes, handcrafted wood and marble touches lend a feeling of residential luxury. The full-service hotel offers 24-hour in-room dining, evening turndown service, housekeeping twice daily, and special touches such as clothing steamers in all rooms. For special occasions, The Newbury offers 16,000 sq. ft. of modern event space, including The Assembly grand ballroom with views of the Public Garden.

The food and beverage program at The Newbury has been designed by Major Food Group, which operates notable restaurants in New York, Hong Kong, and Las Vegas. The Street Bar is open to the public, but hotel guests get priority seating and exclusive access to The Library, an intimate salon that serves food and drink along with an equally impressive menu of books curated by the Boston Public Library. Signature Afternoon Tea is served in the Newbury Salon on the second floor overlooking the Boston Public Garden. The top floor of the hotel houses Contessa, a glass closed four-season restaurant serving a menu of northern Italian cuisine, and currently one of Boston's most in-demand tables.

DEVELOPMENT

Echelon Seaport

This new 3.5-acre, 1.3 million sq. ft. mixed-use residential complex in the heart of the Seaport will feature two levels of high-end retail, culinary experiences and recreational opportunities available to Boston's residents and visitors. A 19,000 sq. ft. destination 'piazza' will serve as a central gathering spot between the three residential towers and offer public access to communal events and programming and outdoor seating on multiple levels. Edison Power Plant Redevelopment (Summer Street, South Boston): The city has greenlighted plans to replace the long-dormant Edison Power Plant in South Boston's Point neighborhood with a 1.7 million-sq.-ft. development that will include residences, office and research facilities, 60,000 sq. ft. of retail space, and a 240-room hotel.

Fenway Boston

In a newly formed joint venture, WS will steward a collaborative effort among Fenway Sports Group Real Estate (FSGRE) and '47 Brand in the redevelopment of multiple sites in the Fenway neighborhood. The project will include approximately 5 acres within close proximity to Fenway Park located on Jersey Street, Brookline Avenue, Van Ness Street, and Lansdowne Street. The project aspires to build community and dynamism beyond the Park via active streetscapes and new uses, while respecting the historic fabric and significance of Fenway Park.

The Track at New Balance (Opened April 2022)

Boston is home to some of the world's elite sporting events and offers an array of new facilities designed to improve performance. The new Boston Landing Track & Field complex features a 200 meter hydraulically banked track, seating for over 5,000 spectators, plus premium facilities for training, events, and recovery. Ground floor retail rounds out Boston's destination location for athletes.

Cambridge Crossing

The 100,000 square feet of retail space at Cambridge Crossing will be home to esteemed local restaurateurs, makers, retailers and service providers that define CX's unique neighborhood vibe while meeting the needs of residents, tenants, and visitors morning, noon, and night. Sip coffee, brunch with friends, work out, or grab a craft brew or cocktail are just a few of the ways to immerse yourself in this vibrant place.

Of the 100,000 square feet of planned retail space, much is concentrated in the heart of the project along North First Street, steps from the Green Line Lechmere station. At the core is a set of unique standalone retail buildings that will host local leading chefs, distillers, brewers, baristas, and artisans. These structures are being designed along a consistent theme of transparency and connectedness – using metal, glass and cedar to seamlessly blend together the built environment with surrounding green and open spaces. Additional curated retail will line the streets of CX in the ground floors of various commercial and residential buildings and will be central to creating a holistic and connected experience. All of this makes for a welcoming, energetic, and extremely accessible public realm that's effortlessly woven into the existing East Cambridge neighborhood.

Currently under construction is ground floor retail space in 222 Jacobs Street, The Shed, and Parcel Q1, totaling approximately 50,000 square feet. The initial phase of retail is expected to open in Q4 2020.

Harvard Enterprise Research Center and Science & Engineering Complex

The Science and Engineering Complex (SEC) is most significant new building constructed by Harvard in a generation.

SEAS Administration and the labs and offices of approximately half of the SEAS faculty are housed in this building, along with student- and industry-facing departments, sloped and flexible flat classrooms, maker space and teaching labs, a library, café, dedicated space for student organizations, and extensive common space to encourage interaction and collaboration.

Nubian Square Ascends

Taylor is partnering with private equity firm Almiranta Capital and the curators of the neighborhood's Black Market retail incubator on a 329,000-square-foot project that would bring market-rate office space, a marketplace, and cultural hall with artists' workspace to the square. Food Hall run by Commonwealth Kitchen.
