

Fresh Ideas for Your Group

Bike to Boat to BBQ

Ride a standard or electric bike on a beautiful ride to a reservoir on outskirts of Boulder with Beyond Boulder Bike Adventures. There your team can hop onto paddleboards for friendly SUP races, or choose a party barge ride around the lake. Enjoy a delicious picnic lunch BBQ from a local eco-friendly catering company. The bike ride is approximately 8 miles each way on mostly flat terrain. Ride back to the start or upgrade to a one-way tour with shuttle back to start.

Available: Spring, Summer, Fall

Outdoor Rock Climbing

The experienced guides at Colorado Wilderness Rides and Guides can lead your group on Colorado's most classic routes and climbs in the Boulder area, ensuring a safe, enjoyable and challenging experience, which is perfect for first-timers or veterans. For beginners, explore Boulder Canyon, with its varied climbing terrain and surfaces. You'll group will be amazed at what they can do with some instruction and expert guidance.

Available: Spring, Summer, Fall

Food Tours

Local Table Tours' downtown Boulder tour features some of the town's most popular restaurants and foodie hot spots on and around Pearl Street. Let a local food-loving guide bring you to a handful of Boulder's best, independently owned establishments for chef's choice food paired with bartender's choice libations. Plan for your attendees to come ready to eat with a true dining experience at each stop — not just a nibble.

Available: Year-round

Beer and Bike Tours

Beer & Bike Tours offers a Boulder Brew Cruise that includes stops at three local breweries. This is a great adventure for the beer lover who wants to see Boulder the way the locals do, from the seat of a bike. Boulder is home to a couple of dozen craft breweries and has a ton of great bicycle paths and areas to explore. This ride is almost exclusively on bicycle-only path.

Available: Spring, Summer, Fall

Fresh Ideas for Your Group

Cooking Classes

Food Lab's hands-on cooking classes, wine-pairing lessons and Iron Chef-style classes are perfect as team-building events and can be customized for your group. These fun, educational and recreational instructional sessions take place in a stunning and modern demonstration kitchen, right in the heart of downtown Boulder. Your team will have a blast trying their hand at new recipes with the help of dynamic and expert gourmet guides.

Available: Year-round

Group Skiing

Sensational snow, so close to the city! Boulder's backyard ski resort is Eldora, located just 21 miles west. This is the perfect spot for group alpine skiing, with zero-intimidation factor, short lift lines, terrain for all levels and a fun, locals-only vibe. Also check out the Nordic Center, with over 40 kilometers of terrain for cross-country skiing or snowshoeing. Catered events also available.

Available: Winter

Hot Air Balloon Flight

Gaze out at the Boulder Flatirons and the majestic Rocky Mountain as you serenely float over the spectacular Boulder Valley on a Fair Winds Hot Air Balloon Flight. Daily flights with all the extras are available for your group. And while about 10 guests can fit in each basket (they're surprisingly huge!), larger groups can be accommodated with multiple balloons.

Available: Spring, Summer, Fall

Group Hiking with a Naturalist

Boulder is surrounded by thousands of acres of stunning open space, and City of Boulder Open Space and Mountain Parks can take your group on a guided, naturalist-led hike through the wild splendor, giving your group fascinating insights about the environment's plants, animals, geology and more along the way.

Available: Year-round

Fresh Ideas for Your Group

Scavenger Hunts

Colorado Wilderness Rides and Guides offers unique outdoor scavenger and geo-tracking adventures in Boulder's spectacular foot-of-the-Rockies setting. The Geo-Hunt Boulder GPS Chautauqua Park Challenge has attendees use their smartphone GPS to guide them to items hidden outdoors, while the Pearl Street Scavenger Hunt lets participants solve riddles and navigate a course designed to discover unique and historic Colorado.

Available: Spring, Summer, Fall

Be a Winemaker for an Afternoon

At Boulder's Bookcliff Vineyards, your group can practice the art of winemaking. First, attendees will learn from the winemaker about creating a red blend from different varietal wines, then they will create their own blends to take home in a bottle adorned with a label of their own design. It starts by tasting three red varietals and then, graduated cylinder in hand, and with guidance from the winemaker, guests create the best red blends they have ever had. Light appetizers are served.

Available: Year-round

Self-Guided Art Walk

Boulder was named one of the top 10 most vibrant arts communities in the U.S., and art is everywhere you look. Our self-guided public art walking tour lets your group stroll around downtown in a pleasant loop that takes about an hour. There are plenty of places to stop for a coffee or snack. On the way, you'll see iconic Boulder sculptures, large-scale murals, fascinating Persian architecture and lots more. Just ask and we'll provide you with the map and detailed information for this free activity.

Available: Year-round

Boulder Sunset Mountain Tour

This 1.5-hour tour by Colorado Wilderness Rides and Guides combines the history of Boulder with an action-packed tour designed to stimulate the senses. Depart from downtown and travel up Flagstaff Road and down to Gross Reservoir. Along the way, watch the sunset over the Continental Divide, see the lights of Boulder and learn about natural and local history. Each day will cover different topics (and each day's participants will get to help chose the subject matter). The activity level is easy.

Available: Year-round

Fresh Ideas for Your Group

History Hike with Goats

Go on a history hike along an old miners' trail just west of Boulder with some very mehhhh-ry companions — a team of goats. Your knowledgeable guide will illuminate miners' stories and point out historic relics while you hike a 3.2-mile scenic trail at a leisurely pace beside your furry friends.

Available: Year-round

Boulder Dushanbe Teahouse

Unless you've been to Tajikistan, you've probably never seen a teahouse like this one. Handcrafted by artisans in Boulder's sister city of Dushanbe, the structure was shipped piece-by-piece and assembled in Boulder. It is an inviting and peaceful place to enjoy tea and a bite to eat while taking in the vibrant carvings and paintings that cover every inch of the interior. Your group can enjoy afternoon tea with dozens of teas to choose from and bites to nibble on, all beside a sculptural water fountain.

Available: Year-round

Colorado Chautauqua

The Chautauqua movement of the late 1800s swept the country in the form of retreats offering education, enrichment, music, nature and cultural discussions. The Colorado Chautauqua in Boulder — at the foot of the Flatirons — was founded in 1898 and is one of the few remaining Chautauquas. Today, it's a place for your group to go on a tree walk, hear live music or a lecture, see film screenings, dine in a historic dining hall and hit the trails that leave from the adjacent Chautauqua Trailhead. A menu of very Boulder-y activities (from mala beading to yoga) are available for groups, too.

Available: Year-round

Giving Back

With the highest concentration of B Corps in the country and dozens of nonprofits based here, Boulder is a place that embraces philanthropy and making the world a better place. Build bikes for kids in need, assemble prosthetic hands to be distributed around the world, work on a farm, do trail maintenance or help out a community food pantry. Boulder makes it easy for your group to pitch in, bond and feel good — and we can help you find a great experience to fit your team.

Available: Year-round