On behalf of more than 59,000 residents in the One & Only Casper, I thank you for your interest in the Oil City.

Located in the heart of Wyoming, Casper offers the convenience and accessibility of year-round outdoor recreation. The famed North Platte River flows right through our city and provides world-class fly-fishing opportunities while the wide-open spaces on Casper Mountain connect visitors with pristine mountain biking, hiking, cross-country skiing, downhill skiing, and snowshoeing trails. With four of the most historical trails in the United States converging in Casper, our charming downtown is rich with pioneer history and legends from the Wild West. Although filled with a storied past, downtown Casper exudes urban vibes and features diverse restaurants, local microbreweries, unique shopping, and art museums.

Casper has been featured in publications such as American Angler as the number one Big Fish Destination, Men’s Journal as a top 20 mountain town in America, Forbes as the best place to retire in Wyoming and True West Magazine as one of the top True Western Towns of 2022. In 2024, we’ll be celebrating the grand opening of the WYO Sports Ranch, a brand-new sporting facility that will help brand Casper has one of the top youth sporting communities in the west. This venue will bring more hotels, restaurants, and shops, and will continue to make Casper the cultural hub of the state of Wyoming.

I invite you to make Casper your next destination and experience our version of the West!

"If you like Thai food you will like this place. The curry's are really tasty, and with the coconut sweet rice it is a perfect match. The Yellow Chicken Curry had that great curry flavor and is mild for those who can't do the heat. The Massaman Curry has a wonderful peanut flavor - also mild. The Lettuce wraps may seem simple, but they had a really great flavor. They came with some Thai Chili Sauce if you wanted to heat them up. Try the Thai Tea for a sweet and creamy treat... The staff was very friendly and helpful with suggestions as needed... This place is clean and simple and should be getting your business."

Museums & History

LET THE LEGENDS OF THE WEST LEAD YOU TO THE ONE & ONLY CASPER

At the heart of Wyoming lies some of the state's richest history, just waiting to be uncovered. Casper's storied past includes tales from American Indian trails, fur trappers, pioneers, a thriving oil and gas industry, dinosaurs and the Wild West. To truly experience our touchable history, it's best to just dive in.

PREHISTORIC WYOMING

The area's amazing history predates humans by thousands, and even millions, of years. Start by discovering rich geological and prehistoric history at the Tate Geological Museum at Casper College. This museum is free to the public and you can often watch the museum's paleontologists working on their latest findings from the field. You can also meet Dee – an 11,600-year-old Columbian mammoth – and 3,000 of his closest fossilized friends. Out at Alcova Reservoir, you can hike along the Cottonwood Creek Dinosaur Trails and see fossils from some of our earliest dinosaurs in their natural setting.

WHERE HISTORIC TRAILS MEET

As pioneers and forty-niners headed west in the mid-1800s, Casper became a central hub for some of the nation's most historical and well-traveled trails. With the Oregon, California, Pony Express, Bozeman and Mormon trails all converging in Casper, more than half a million travelers stopped in Casper to rest and refuel before they continued on with their journey. Before they made their final trek west, pioneers would carve their names into Independence Rock, a unique historical landmark that sits southwest of Casper off Highway 220. Visitors can learn more about these trails at the world-class National Historic Trails Interpretive Center, Fort Caspar Museum and the Mormon Handcart Visitors Center at Martin's Cove.

THE OIL CITY

As early pioneers began to see the beauty of Casper, a settlement was built. What began as a cluster of shacks grew into a small town of around 1,000 residents in the late 1800s. Within 20 years, Casper's population grew by more than 600% following the boom of oil around 1910 and our small western town became known as the "Oil Capital of the Rockies."

A WWII MILITARY HUB

During World War II, Casper briefly served as an Army Air Base to support the war effort. Today, the site of the base is partially intact with several original buildings and hangars still standing on the airport grounds, including the Good Aviation and Veterans Museum.

The QR code will direct you to a self-guided audio tour where you can learn more about the airport's World War II operations and how soldiers had their own bowling alley right on base.

QUICK FACT

Casper took its name from Fort Caspar, a fully reconstructed frontier outpost named after Lt. Caspar Collins who was killed in the 1865 Battle of Platte Bridge Station. The Fort Caspar Museum showcases Casper's first 100 years of history.

Arts & Culture

ONLY IN CASPER IS BIG CITY ENTERTAINMENT THIS EASY TO EXPERIENCE

With art museums showcasing local talent, drinkeries with crowds being serenaded by Casper musicians and our streets painted with murals, the experiences you can find in a big city are at your fingertips right here in our mountain town.

ART MUSEUMS

ART 321, a lively art incubator set in an old Pacific Fruit Warehouse, was established in 1924. Organized to promote the visual arts in the community and the legacy of our artists, it continues to support our bold creative community in Casper and across Wyoming. The Nicolaysen Art Museum is a beautifully lit contemporary museum and has been a cultural icon in our community since it opened in 1990. Featuring world-renowned artists and displays on rotation, it's one of the best places to view Western artwork.

MUSICAL PERFORMANCES

If music is more your muse, you're never far from a live performance in downtown Casper. With several drinkeries throughout town pairing live music with their delicious brews or coffee, you're able to soak in the arts scene as you sip a local drink. We'd also recommend planning your visit around a Wyoming Symphony Orchestra performance. Celebrating over 70 years, the Wyoming Symphony Orchestra is comprised of the region's best musicians.

FACES OF THE 5150'

QUICK FACT

We are firm believers in the fact that the community and its people are what truly make a destination special. Here in the 5150' we aren't afraid to boast about the unique individuals that call this place home. All bias aside, we have some of the most passionate, talented, and innovative people in all of the Rocky Mountain West.

With that being said, we are proud to showcase a handful of locals every year. These individuals represent what it means to be from Casper, and rightfully carry the pride that that comes with.

5150' is Casper's elevation and has been adopted amongst locals as a nickname for the community. @5150local on Instagram & Facebook helps connect locals with the amazing things going on around Casper.

JOHANNA WICKMAN

KEEPING LOCAL HISTORY ALIVE

Association: Wickman Historical Consultants, Research Arsenal, Fort Casper Museum

Why call Casper your home?

I've spent nearly 30 years here and was one of the first graduates of the Casper College Museum & Gallery Studies degree program. I have always had an interest in the American Civil War; I feel very fortunate to live in Casper where I can indulge that interest by supporting the Fort Casper Museum.

What opportunities in Casper have helped you pursue your passion for history?

Starting in 2012, I spent five years at the Wyoming Veterans Museum and have spent time working in the archives of the Casper College Western History Center. I founded Wickman Historical Consultants in 2012 and am proud to serve as the Lead Archivist for the Research Arsenal, a premier Civil War online database based here in Casper.

Bringing History to Life at Fort Casper Museum

I helped design and install an annual exhibit on the 11th Kansas Volunteer Cavalry and presented several programs on the regiment's last commanding officer, Preston B Plumb. I also helped organize and host a reunion of the descendants of the regiment and obtain headstones for the nine soldiers of the 11th Kansas Volunteer Cavalry who were not represented in the museum's commemorative cemetery.

BART REA

CONNECTED BY TRAILS

Association: North Platte River Trails

What's the story behind the North Platte River trails project?

I've lived here for 65 years and have seen many groups in town come together to make the Platte River Trails possible. Since the 70s Casper has called itself the "can-do" city. Cleaning up the river and creating a recreational space was a big job, but we pulled together to build this dream. It's still one of the most resilient places I know.

As a geologist for one of the big oil companies at the time and working with the trails project to bring a conservation perspective, I was able to bring a unique common ground to the project. It really has been about the community coming together to make the trails what they are from the very beginning. As for what's next, we're working to expand the trail all the way to Edness K. Wilkins State Park on the east end of Casper.

LOGAN WILSON

HOMETOWN HERO IN THE NFL

Association: Cincinnati Bengals

What do you love most about Casper?

I think it's the people that make Casper special for me. Coming home to family and friends, but also the amazing support of this community. This past summer I was able to put on my first ever youth camp at my former high school and the turnout was amazing! It's been so much fun to get involved locally inspiring other young athletes to chase their dreams.

What do you just "have to do" every time you come home?

I love being outside! Casper is great because there are so many ways to get away from city life and just enjoy nature. Hanging on Alcova Lake or hiking Casper Mountain are definitely my go-tos whenever I'm home during the off-season. I feel like whenever I'm away for long periods of time and make it back home, I'm always pleasantly surprised by how easy it is to access Wyoming's great outdoors here in Casper.

How did the sports community in Casper inspire you to dream big and reach for your dreams of playing in the NFL?

The sports community in Casper supported me in all of my endeavors! Coaches pushed me to be the best version of myself that I could be and I wouldn't have developed the drive to be great if it wasn't for them. They always preached a team first mindset. It has been instilled in me from when I was young and this is what has propelled me to excel at every level I've played at.

What are you most excited about for Casper in the next few years?

I was recently asked to be part of the announcement video for the WYO Sports Ranch, so I'm really excited for that to open. The fact that it's a year-round facility and will allow athletes to practice their craft during the winter months is exciting in itself. It will also be great to see the opportunities it brings for the community. I'm sure it will attract larger sporting events from all over the nation, which will bring all sorts of new things to the Casper area.

ANTHONY STENGEL

EXPERIENCING THE 5150' THROUGH A LENS

Association: Stengel Media

How has Casper inspired you?

I grew up here, fell in love with the art of storytelling here and it's where I continue to create and gain inspiration. As I continue to share my stories with the world, I remain grounded in the belief that the greatest adventures are found in the simple moments, and the best stories are those that touch the heart and inspire you. I love where I come from and I'm proud to say my work often shines a light on the hidden gems of my hometown and the incredible people who call it home.

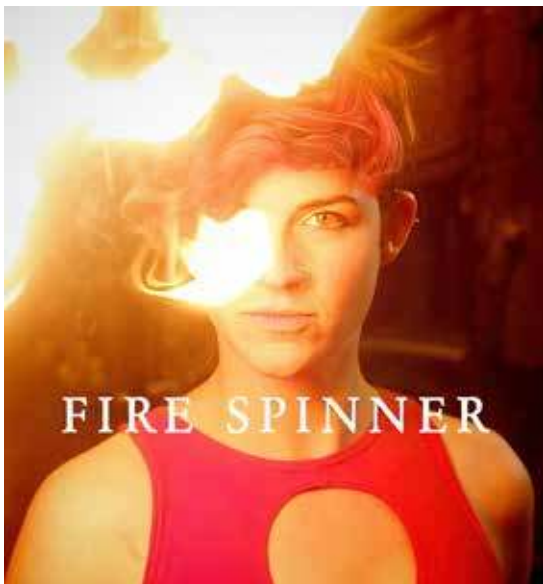

What has been a project here in Casper that has uniquely stuck with and inspired you?

My work here in Casper has been recognized with not one, but two regional Emmy Awards. The most recent came in July 2023 for my documentary "Fire Spinner," a project that highlighted a Casper farmer who aspires to become a performing artist who spins fiery props.

What is one of your favorite things about being a Casper local?

I love Casper for its beauty and simplicity. Maybe everyone that loves their hometown feels this way, but I truly feel like we have a lot of people around here that genuinely care about the community and want to help their neighbors and build each other up.

ADAM AMICK

5150'S ENTREPRENEURIAL FILMMAKER

Association: Checked In Media

How did Casper introduce you to the world of filmmaking?

My passion for filmmaking was sparked during my time in the Natrona County School District, where mentors like Lance Madzay, the film instructor, inspired me. This early passion took me on a journey of growth and exploration, from local endeavors at KCWY News 13 to global experiences producing content for giants like Mountain Dew, X-games and Red Bull.

What can visitors learn from the work you've produced?

For visitors or businesses exploring Casper, our projects at Checked In Media offer insights into a tight-knit community that values hard work and innovation. Our focused content doesn't just aim to engage; it serves as a testament to the vibrant entrepreneurial spirit that thrives here.

Why is Hogadon Basin a great place to enjoy winter sports?

I love to ski even more now that I am able to enjoy the winter sport I love with my son and wife. Hogadon is a great place to enjoy skiing and snowboarding because it is a family ski area. It's a welcoming environment that allows families with all abilities to enjoy a day on the slopes together. There is even the luxury for those who wish to stay warm inside the lodge to watch their family on the closed circuit TV.

Association: Hogadon Basin Ski Area

What makes Casper home?

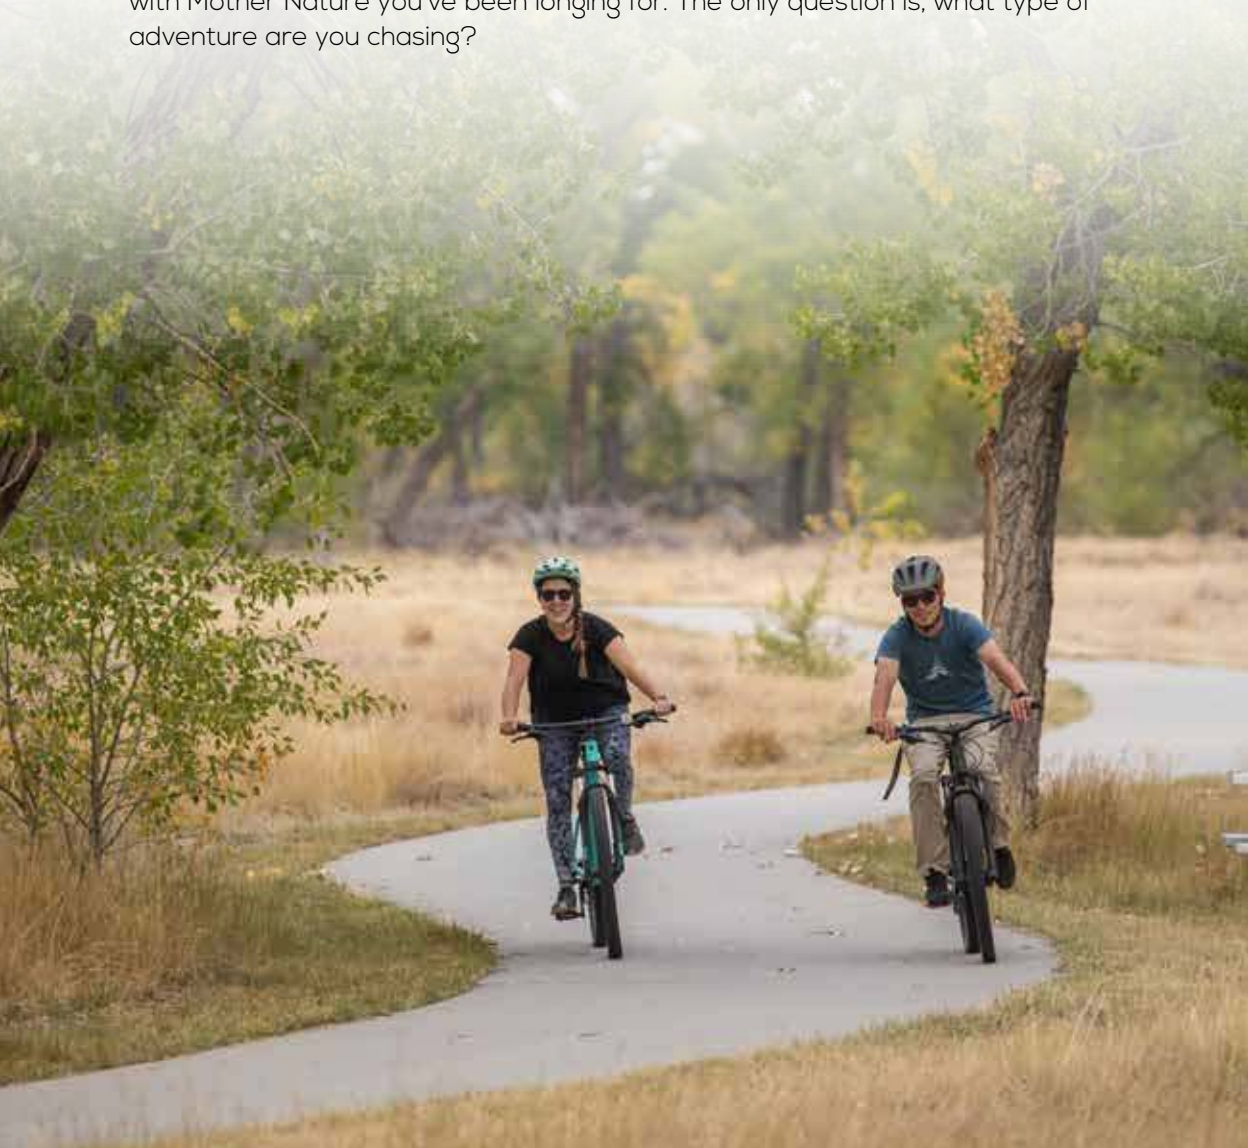

I have lived in Casper my entire life with my family close by and have been skiing at Hogadon since I was 3 years old! I love skiing because I love to be outside in the cold crisp air. There's no better feeling than being able to cut a fresh line in untouched snow or to hear the 'whirr' of the freshly groomed trails under your skis with every turn.

When I was 5 years old my grandma asked what I wanted to be when I grew up. I told her "a ski bum." I think I may be doing a little better than a ski bum, but I'm pretty close as I spend most of my waking time here at Hogadon!

Outdoor Recreation

ONLY IN CASPER IS UNMATCHED OUTDOOR RECREATION ACCESSIBLE YEAR-ROUND

Calling all mountain wanderers, arctic thrill-seekers, and wave chasers, Casper's wide-open spaces await. Year-round, Casper offers unmatched opportunities to get outside and embrace your adventurous spirit. Our scenic trails, trophy-trout filled rivers, and picturesque landscapes offer that newfound connection with Mother Nature you've been longing for. The only question is, what type of adventure are you chasing?

SPRING

Spring is one of Wyoming's best-kept secrets, and is also one of the most beautiful times to travel in, around, and through the Cowboy State. It's not too early to tune your mountain bike up for the season, but it's also not too late for one last run on the ski slopes. It just depends on the day! If you love wildlife, Edness Kimball Wilkins State Park is a bird-watchers paradise in the spring, and throughout its 360-acres, you're also likely to spot deer, antelope and fox. On the opposite side of Casper, Fremont Canyon boasts towering rock walls ranging from 40 to +400-feet tall for beginners to the most experienced rock climbers.

SUMMER

Casper Mountain takes center stage in the summer months. With over 50 miles of multi-use trails to ride, hike, or run, time between the iconic mountain sunrises and sunsets is easily lost. Local favorites include the Bridle Trail at Rotary Park, a 4.5 mile loop that wraps around the Garden Creek Falls waterfall and showcases stunning vistas of Casper, or the 4.1-mile Eadsville Trail that starts at the Casper Mountain Trails Center and immerses visitors in the mountain's lush forest filled with colorful Aspen trees.

Although golfers will have most likely already played a round or two by the first day of summer, the game is in full swing come June. With two visitor-friendly courses, tee times are easy to come by in Casper. Out at Three Crowns, a former oil refinery once known for pumping 100,000 barrels of oil in its prime during 1923, the front and back nine are as challenging as they are scenic with clear views of Casper Mountain. Casper Municipal Golf Course, a more affordable and beginner-friendly course, features three different nine hole courses and twilight golf after 5pm for a discounted price.

FALL

Although fly-fishing enthusiasts cast their lines in Casper's waters year-round, some of the most scenic fishing takes place amongst the changing colors that fall brings along the North Platte River. With beautiful days, cool afternoons, and shades of gold, yellow, and red as your backdrop, fall sets the scene for your next trophy catch. As the world-famous North Platte River cuts into downtown and spans across Casper, there are several access points to test the waters and plenty of guides to show you the secret fishing holes. It's always best to refer to the experts with fishing-related questions, so check out page 65-66 for our extensive list of local guides and outfitters.

WINTER

The most slept on and underrated season in Casper, winter is when the true thrill of Wyoming's outdoors comes to life. Hogadon Basin Ski Area on Casper Mountain is one of Wyoming's most notable hidden gems. With over 20 trails ranging in difficulty, Hogadon challenges seasoned skiers while also welcoming newbies to the bunny hill. With affordable lift tickets and significantly shorter lines compared to typical western ski resorts, you'll enjoy more time on the slopes, carving through fresh powder as you relish in the crisp mountain air. Paired with a newly built lodge and the unique thrill of night skiing, the experience Hogadon offers is unparalleled to what you'll find anywhere else.

Just five minutes from Hogadon, you'll find an additional 26-miles of beautifully groomed mountain trails for cross-country skiing and snowshoeing, making Casper Mountain an all-in-one winter destination.

Less than 30 miles outside of downtown Casper, Alcova Reservoir sits amongst pristine views and unique geological formations. Covering nearly 2,500 acres, Alcova is one of the most popular recreational reservoirs in the region. With six campgrounds, eight boat ramps, nearby hiking trails and some of the most picturesque sunsets you'll find in the entire state of Wyoming, there's no better place to spend a summer day with family and friends. If you're looking for a place to rent a boat, jet ski, or kayak, or you're wanting a personal sunrise excursion on the water, Alcova Marina has you covered.

Just down the road, you'll find Pathfinder Reservoir. With 117 miles of shoreline, Pathfinder Reservoir and its expansive waters are controlled by Pathfinder Dam. For a helping of local history, visit the Pathfinder Interpretive Center to learn about this engineering feat, one that has been in place since the early 1900s. For incredible views of the area, set out on the 1.7-mile-long interpretive trail near the dam.

Connected to the reservoir, you'll be pleasantly surprised to find Fremont Canyon. With towering red rock walls on both sides, boaters, kayakers, and paddle boarders can meander up and down

World-Class Fishing

STORY CRAFTED BY DAVE ZOBY

Welcome to Casper, the jumping off point to some of the best fishing in the Lower 48. Our professional guides and fly shop staff are true authorities on the local fishing opportunities. They fish and tie flies 365 days a year. Any visitor to the area should consider a float trip with one of the shops, or, at the very least, a drop-in to read the river reports and current conditions. It pays to grab a few flies and talk trout with the locals.

The North Platte River runs directly through Casper, and is a world-famous fly-fishing destination. The river offers a tailwater experience with a real chance at catching a trophy fish. Rainbow, brown, and cutthroat trout are the targeted species here. Images of them in jumbo sizes dominates the walls of the fly shops. Several reservoirs compliment the fishing scene with stillwater options. Poke around in the high country and you'll find tiny streams and beaver ponds that hold wild brook trout. There are many opportunities for DIY visitors to wade, camp, and experience our powerful fish up close.

Although you're almost guaranteed to catch a fish year-round, here's what you can expect from each season.

SPRING

Warming waters stir the river's resident trout into feeding mode. Rainbow trout, the dominant species in the famous 29-mile stretch that runs from Grey Reef through downtown Casper, begin to feed voraciously in preparation for the annual spawn. Anglers use leeches, annelids, and egg patterns to experience action-filled days. Spring flows are low, so wading is definitely an option. Fly-fishing culture is on full display in April as trucks hauling drift boats are a daily occurrence, and wind-burnt guides huddle with their clients in breweries after a long day of action.

As the spring ripens, anglers are asked to be mindful of the redds (spawning areas where rainbows pair up), and guides encourage fishermen to catch smaller fish, the ten to fifteen inchers, that are not spawning. These hard-fighting, smaller fish, are energetic, leaping slabs of silver.

Just after ice-out is the time to try Goldeneye Reservoir, an overlooked prairie reservoir where you can cast for a true giant. Rainbow, cutthroat, and brook trout of epic proportions live in Goldeneye. But you'll need a canoe, belly-boat, or some sort of watercraft to get out past the weeds.

SUMMER

Flows increase and the riparian landscape thrums with birdsong. Fly fishermen launch their drift boats for long, bright days of casting and changing flies. The food sources broaden to include blue wing olives, caddis, and yellow sallies. Fishermen spread out and make use of the whole drainage, and some evenings, the river is an unending mirage of rising trout.

Fly fishing for carp has gained popularity in Natrona County. Some guides offer trips in flat boats that bring to mind Key West. These fish, going five to fifteen pounds, make blistering runs that are reminiscent of bonefish. Carp are targeted in Alcova and Pathfinder reservoirs and require eight and nine weight rods. Walleye fishing in Alcova and Pathfinder brings trollers from all over the country. In the high country, streams and beaver ponds hold healthy populations of gorgeous brook trout.

Streamer fishing for big rainbows and browns is one of the highlights of fall fishing. This is your best chance for a trophy German brown. Fish feed with tenacity as the days shorten and the nights become chilly. Occasionally, there will be a “hopper” event, where large insects are blown into the river in the late afternoons. Even the largest trout leave their lairs to feed on the surface during these rare events.

The Casper area is known for its heroic efforts to clean and restore the North Platte. In September, Platte River Revival group holds its annual river clean-up. Fly-fishers, birders, kayakers, and others turn out to restore the riverbanks. The whole community rallies around the unifying force of the North Platte.

WINTER

For those brave enough to fight the cold, Wyoming offers some phenomenal winter fishing. A tribe of diehards keep vigil at the Grey Reef dam. Some even sleep in wall tents to take advantage of the fishing. Water levels drop and fish are concentrated in obvious pools and turn-outs. It's a great time to wade fish and cover the whole river.

Eighty-one-year-old George Sichterman is one of the hardcore fly fishermen who actually looks forward to the solitude of winter. Conventional wisdom says that you must go way down in fly sizes, but George doesn't buy that.

LOCAL TIP

Every March, the Bureau of Reclamation performs a ten-day flushing flow to aid in successful spawning. Check with fly shops about these highwater days.

North Platte River

Hell's Half Acre

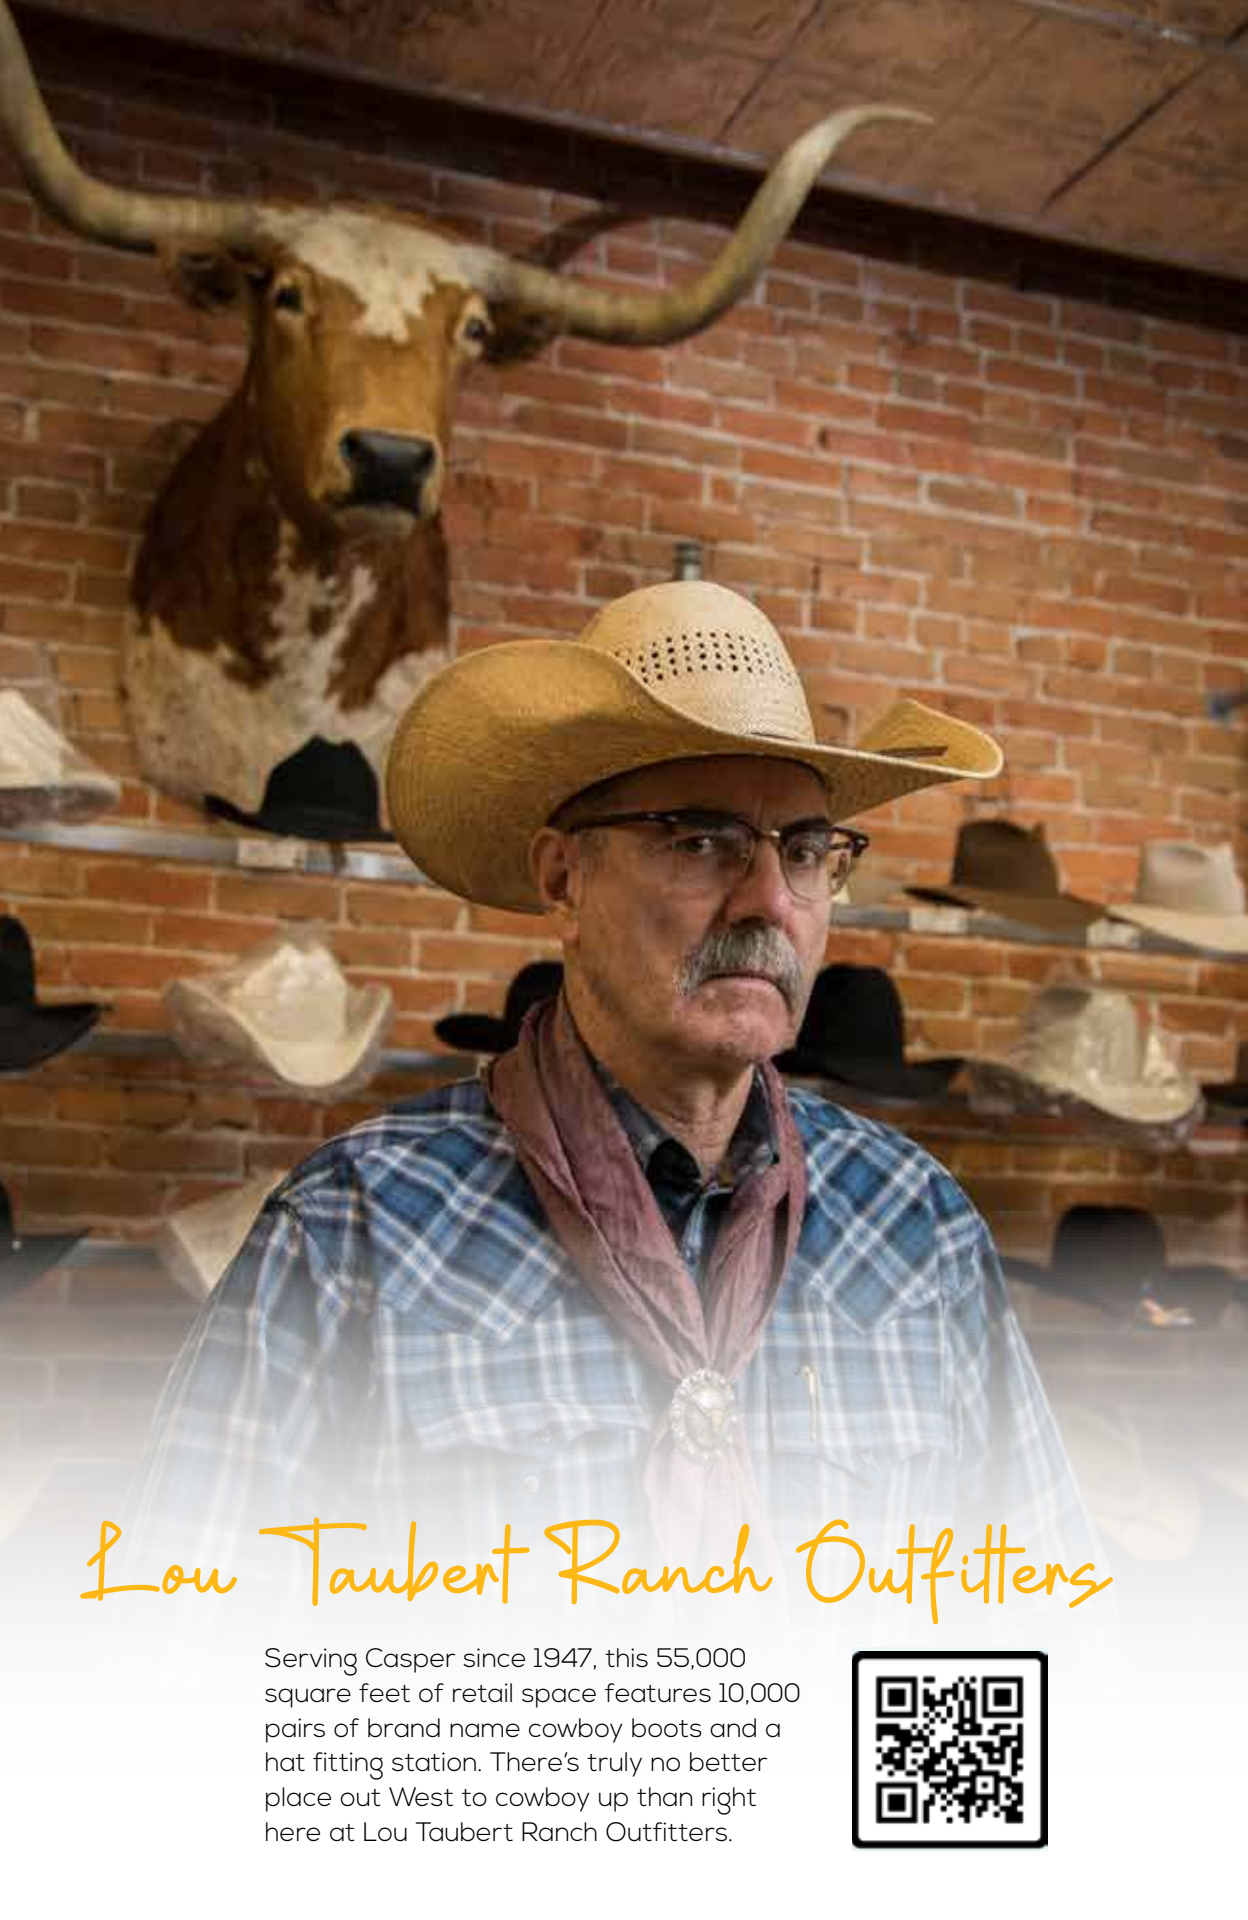

This vibrant roadside attraction sits only 42 miles west of Casper. It was declared a land mark in 1922, and has since welcomed visitors, sight-seers, geologists, and even Hollywood movie crews over the years.

Fun fact: it was the filming location for the fictional planet of Klendathu in the movie Starship Troopers.

Since 2005, its deep ravines, caves, rock formations, and hard-packed eroded earth has only been visible from the designated parking lot.

In 2025, the historic landmark will fully reopen to visitors and will feature upgraded picnic facilities, informational signage that highlights its historic significance, and hiking trails.

Lou Taubert Ranch Outfitters

Serving Casper since 1947, this 55,000 square feet of retail space features 10,000 pairs of brand name cowboy boots and a hat fitting station. There's truly no better place out West to cowboy up than right here at Lou Taubert Ranch Outfitters.

Travel & Recreate Responsibly

LOCAL TIP

Weather can change quickly. Check road conditions and weather forecasts. Pack extra layers, keep water and snacks with you and bring hard copies of maps which can be picked up from the Visit Casper office.

ROOM TO ROAM

Casper is a place where travelers have been coming to and through for hundreds of years, and everyone has played a role in keeping it just as pristine as it was when it was first founded. Our goal is to share Casper's beauty with future generations, so when you visit we invite and encourage you to become an advocate for the outdoors and Wyoming's wild prairies and untouched places.

LEAVE NO TRACE

Follow these principles to respect wildlife, wild spaces and the many who will come after you to enjoy the untamed beauty of Wyoming.

- Whatever you pack in, you must pack out (no trash or belongings left behind).
- DO NOT feed wildlife. Respect their space; you are a guest in their home.
- Remain in designated recreation areas, ie. trails, parking spaces, boat ramps, etc.
- If you discover a cool artifact, note its location and leave it there for the next visitor to enjoy!
- Ensure every fire is fully extinguished before walking away.
