WELCOME

Dear Friends,

Thank you for choosing our community for your stay. Whether you are here for business, pleasure – or both – you will find Chandler to be an ideal place for a visit. We're known as a Community of Innovation and have an entrepreneurial spirit that allows people and companies to thrive amid a lifestyle of hometown values and traditions.

Foodies will enjoy culinary options that deliver on taste, complexity and atmosphere. And if you enjoy a nice glass of wine, craft beers and spirits, we have that, too! Outdoor recreation enthusiasts will enjoy our award-winning parks, top-quality golf courses, hiking and biking trails and a United States Tennis Association's top-rated tennis center.

We work hard to keep Chandler a premier destination for families and business travelers, and continue to add amenities, including a downtown entertainment district that is a hub for live music and hosts an active events calendar. The Chandler Fashion Center is also elevating with the addition of the new Crayola Experience.

Through this guide – we encourage you to explore all of Chandler. I am confident you will find Chandler to be one of the friendliest and most inviting communities in the Southwest.

Sincerely,
Kevin Hartke, Mayor

THIS IS CHANDLER:

A COMMUNITY OF INNOVATION

Located in southeast greater Phoenix, with easy access to both Sky Harbor International Airport and Phoenix-Mesa Gateway Airport, Chandler has long been an attractive outpost for tech campuses and start-ups. But our city's innovation goes beyond the Silicon Desert.

❖ @caysocotillo, Biking The Cays at Downtown Ocotillo

Chandler's past and future often sit side by side, from our historic downtown, shopping malls and dining corridors, to neighborhood parks, desert trails and active farmland.

Discover Chandler's history with a museum stop. The newly remodeled Chandler Museum houses a rotation of exhibits that provide local and international perspective on our city's growth and also contains the McCullough-Price House, a 1938 ranch home now on the National Register of Historic Places. For kids young and old, the Arizona Railway Museum has an envious collection of trains, railway equipment and artifacts to explore.

❖ Crowne Plaza Phoenix Chandler Golf Resort

Where museums provide a look to our past, our neighborhoods show where we are going. Grab a latte at Peixoto Coffee Roasters and explore Downtown Chandler. Known as the heart of the city, this walkable district is a mix of co-working hubs like Gangplank, a collaborative space where business visitors can connect, and local boutiques, galleries and restaurants.

Disconnecting at the end of the day is easy with a happy hour or live music. Stop by The Brickyard Downtown, where mixologist Bobby Brick is always shaking up new seasonal cocktails. Or enjoy a pint at SanTan Brewery, one of Arizona's first craft breweries. Be sure to check the performance schedule at the Chandler Center for the Arts to see which local and national acts will be in town.

For outdoor lovers, Chandler offers plenty for every pace. With more than 60 city parks, there's always an open space nearby for picnics, a pleasant stroll or playtime with the family. Veterans Oasis Park lives up to its name. Its 113 acres includes wetlands, a lake and trail system. It's a prime spot for bird-watching and horseback riding. The kids will enjoy the Chandler Solar System Walk, a half-mile path around the lake that identifies the sun, planets and celestial objects with distances scaled to the solar system.

If you're looking to take more than memories home, it's easy to make a day of our shopping districts. Chandler Fashion Center includes shops for local and coast-to-coast brands, a movie theater and the colorful Crayola Experience, as well as a variety of casual and full-service dining choices. Or spend an afternoon at The Shoppes at Casa Paloma with a mix of boutiques, national dining spots like Fleming's Prime Steakhouse & Wine Bar and Roy's Restaurant, and even ice skating at the Ice Den Chandler.

❖ The Brickyard Downtown

❖ Residence Inn Phoenix Chandler South

"When we started State Forty Eight, it was important for us to stay in Chandler. It's trendy to go to other locations and establish a business, but there's a sense of pride in staying close to home and being able to showcase Chandler," says Mike Spangenberg, co-founder and CEO of State Forty Eight, a state-themed apparel company located in Uptown Chandler.

THREE DAYS OF FUN

Looking for a great weekend getaway? For the ultimate in fun, Chandler packs relaxation, adventure and culture in one memorable trip.

DAY 1

Launch your itinerary with a sunrise hot air balloon ride complete with champagne toast and hors d'oeuvres over the Sonoran desert with Aerogelic Ballooning. After landing, get some retail therapy at the Chandler Fashion Center, the East Valley's premier shopping destination with more than 185 stores, 20-plus restaurants and entertainment options. Nearby, visit the Chandler Museum, a 1938 Pueblo Revival-style house, to learn about Chandler's culture, people and history. Next, discover Veterans Oasis Park, an urban outdoor recreation area with 113 acres of wetlands and desert habitats, hiking and biking trails, birding and fishing spots, and picnic areas. Sign off with a self-guided solar system walk or enjoy the Sonoran Sunset concert series (October through March).

DAY 2

Rise and shine for a day of exploring Downtown Chandler, a bustling historic square brimming with more than two dozen independent restaurants, boutique shops, entertainment venues and specialty events. For starters, sample fresh produce and unique goods or join a free yoga class on Saturday at the Farmer's Market at Dr. A.J. Chandler Park West. Then fuel up with a hearty, handcrafted breakfast at the charming Downtown Chandler Café & Bakery or take a midday break at SanTan Brewing Company, where you can sample local craft beers and spirits, and make your way to Uptown Chandler to take a tour of Arizona's largest combined brewery and distillery. End the day by kicking up your heels at Bourbon Jacks American Tavern, where you'll also enjoy dinner, dancing and live country music.

Chandler is home to an array of diverse neighborhoods. Discover what each of these colorful communities has to offer.

❖ SanTan Brewing Co. Mural by @_suchstyles and @champ.styles

CHANDLER FASHION CENTER

You'll find just about whatever you're searching for at Chandler Fashion Center. The mall is home to more than 185 stores, a Harkins Theatre, more than a dozen full-service restaurants and 12 hotels—making it one of the city's busiest spots.

DOWNTOWN CHANDLER

Charming Downtown Chandler is the perfect place to spend the afternoon. You can walk to many of the city's top spots including DC Steak House, The Hidden House, and West Alley BBQ and Smokehouse. If you're looking to wet your whistle with a craft cocktail, stop by The Brickyard Downtown or Spirit House. You can also squeeze in a round of golf at the San Marcos Golf Course, Arizona's original grass golf course. When it's time to sleep, consider booking a room at the Crowne Plaza or the Hilton Garden Inn.

UPTOWN CHANDLER

Uptown Chandler is brimming with plenty of hot spots that locals love. One great example? Clothing shop State Forty Eight, which exclusively creates and sells Arizona-branded clothing featuring its name. Find a plethora of furniture, collectives and home décor from more than 200 vendors at the 58,000-square-foot Merchant Square Antique Marketplace.

Uptown is also home to a variety of restaurants that cater to just about every diner's tastes. Feast on barbecue at American Way Market and baked goods from the on-site Tattered Aprons Baking Co., Dominican sandwiches at Mambo's Dominican Kitchen and lite and healthy options from Fruta Healthy Eating, just to name a few.

And for some unique activities, book a tour at SanTan Brewery & Distillery, where you'll learn the ins and outs of brewing and distilling, and sample products along the way. For some fun family time, check out the indoor playground at Uptown Jungle and the trampoline park at Jumpstreet.

WEST CHANDLER

West Chandler's outdoor shopping mall The Shoppes at Casa Paloma features a variety of local and national shops in addition to restaurants and service providers. One stand-out option is the beautifully curated, independently-owned women's clothing, accessories and home décor store T. Madison Boutique.

West Chandler is also home to an outpost of Honolulu, Hawaii-based Roy's Restaurant, serving Pacific Rim cuisine like roasted macadamia nut crusted mahi-mahi. Other spots include Fleming's Prime Steakhouse & Wine Bar, Italian restaurant Buca di Beppo, and Galeto Brazilian Steakhouse.

PRICE CORRIDOR

Located at the intersection of major freeways Loop 101 and 202, Chandler's Price Corridor is packed with top employers. PayPal and Intel both have offices here. Visitors in town for job interviews or leisure will find a variety of reasonably priced hotels where they can stay. This area is also home to new restaurant The Parlay Kitchen + Cocktails, which serves craft cocktails and dynamic cuisine like the triple decker turkey club and house-made egg rolls.

DOWNTOWN OCOTILLO

Downtown Ocotillo is home to plenty of hotels, one top-rated golf course and a handful of notable restaurants. Visitors can stay at hotels including Home2 Suites, Holiday Inn and the Residence Inn by Marriott Phoenix Chandler. Golfers can tee off at the Ocotillo Golf Club, notable for its cascading waterfalls and dramatic water features. Some of the area's top restaurants include CHoP Chandler steakhouse; Japanese-spot Rock Lobster; American food and wine bar The Living Room. And for high-end, local fare, reserve a table at nearby St. Amand Kitchen & Cocktails.

CHANDLER AIRPORT

With more than 200,000 operations in 2019, the Chandler Municipal Airport is one of the busiest airports in the country. From corporate jets flying in business travelers to work at the area's many corporate, high-tech and industrial centers, to private aircraft giving leisure vacationers easy access to all the city has to offer, the airport makes traveling to and from Chandler a breeze.

Hidden House

Chandler is full of flavor. Go to visitChandler.com/restaurants for more delicious ideas.

Tastes of the Town

To put it simply: Chandler is full of flavor. Whether you're looking to explore a new cuisine or discover a local gem, a wide array of restaurants, bars and coffee shops makes Chandler one of the best places in the Valley to indulge and imbibe. Each neighborhood and area serves something new, from dinner destinations housed in historic buildings to havens for fans of international eats.

In Downtown Chandler, explore some of the city's most unique fare. The hip and historic district is home to restaurants, bars and breweries that have helped define Chandler's food culture. Seek out SanTan Brewery, one of Arizona's top beer-makers, and excellent locally-owned destinations including DC Steakhouse and Mingle + Graze, a kitchen and cheese shop. Peixoto Coffee is a don't-miss for coffee lovers; the cozy shop locally roasts and serves beans grown at the owner's family farm in Brazil.

Next, head west to find some of Chandler's most family-friendly dining options including Abuelo's, for made-from-scratch Mexican food at everyday prices, and Majerle's Sports Grill, owned by legendary local NBA star "Thunder Dan" Majerle. Enjoy a dinner for two or your entire team at The Keg Steakhouse + Bar. All three are located near Chandler Fashion Center.

South Chandler's stars include elevated options in the Ocotillo community: CHoP Chandler, a sleek steakhouse, and The Living Room Wine Cafe & Lounge, where the wine list includes affordable options from all over the world. Or check a local favorite off the list with a stop at Zipps Sports Grill, where Arizona Cardinals fans can always find the game on TV and the golden wings are a must-try.

Asian flavors also abound in Chandler, making it one of the best places to seek out a new cuisine. At Lee Lee International Supermarket, food lovers can wander aisles loaded with hard-to-find ingredients then hit one of the many great restaurants nearby. Hand-made noodles are the specialty at nearby China Magic Noodle House and at Shimogamo, a longstanding Japanese restaurant, customers will find only the highest-quality sushi.

Then venture beyond the area around the International Market to seek out Chon Thai Food, a friendly neighborhood spot for crispy garlic chicken and other specialties, or head to the east side of town to Singing Pandas Asian Restaurant & Bar, a chic Asian eatery serving classic plates with a lounge area and live music. Northeast of Downtown Chandler, slurping authentic noodles at Nishikawa Ramen is not-to-be-missed and you can also find Vietnamese favorites including pho and bahn mi sandwiches at AZ Pho and Grill.

From breakfast at Hash Kitchen, a buzzy brunch spot with an extensive Bloody Mary bar, to dinner at Hidden House a new American restaurant blending the best of fun and fancy, Chandler dining options include some of the Valley's best no matter what you crave.

Ocotillo Sky,
Grubstak

Inspired by the beautiful sunsets that paint the skies over Chandler in ethereal colors, the Ocotillo Sky is made with your choice of tequila or rum, orange juice, pineapple juice and a splash of grenadine, making it the perfect drink to sit back and unwind with.

Retox Detox,
Hash Kitchen

From the bustling nightlife of Downtown Chandler, to the bucolic farmland that dots the rich landscape, Chandler is unique in its variety. A true representative of the Chandler lifestyle, the Retox Detox is made with celery-infused vodka, freshly-squeezed carrot juice, pomegranate juice, lemon juice, orange juice and ginger.

Tequilologic,
The Brickyard

Chandler is a city of collaboration and community. To pay tribute to that, the Tequilologic showcases the city has to offer by combining Herradura Reposado tequila, Meletti coffee liqueur, dark cacao and coffee syrup with Mi Casa bitters from AZ Bitters Lab, and cold brew from Peixoto Coffee Roasters.

The Commonwealth, Spirit House

SanTan Brewing Co. has added a distillery to its lineup, SanTan Spirits. For a cocktail that epitomizes the essence of Chandler, try the Commonwealth, made with Sacred Stave single malt whiskey, maple simple syrup and toasted coconut bitters, garnished with a smoked cinnamon stick.

Ocotillo Apple Cooler, ChoP

Nothing is more perfect than fall in Chandler. Celebrate this heavenly time of year with an Ocotillo Apple Cooler, made with Crown Royal Regal Apple, agave, lemon juice and ginger beer, garnished with a green apple slice and a sprig of mint.

Arizonans love beer and while in Chandler, you will find many of Arizona's best beers are brewed right here in the community. From Chandler's original craft brewery, SanTan Brewing Company to newer establishments, the city has several breweries and drinking establishments with impressive craft beer menus.

AMERICA'S #1 ABUELO'S MEXICAN RESTAURANT

❖ Desert Breeze Park

Chandler is one of the most family-friendly cities in the U.S., and there are a million reasons why. From its highly-ranked schools to its abundance of open space and its unique attractions, there's no shortage of family fun to be had in the burgeoning Phoenix suburb.

On any given weekend, families have the opportunity to participate in a fun run, visit a local park, attend a one-of-a-kind festival, or hit the trails by bike or foot to explore all the Sonoran desert has to offer. Here are just a few must-see and must-do activities for families in Chandler.

For families wanting to commune with nature, Veterans Oasis Park offers an abundance of outdoor activities, from hiking and horseback riding, to fishing and birding. From burrowing owls to vermilion flycatchers, more than 150 bird species have been documented in the park. Take a birding class or go on a guided bird watching tour; you can even learn how to create a backyard bird habitat at your own home.

It isn't often that a kid can walk into a rainbow, but the Crayola Experience at Chandler Fashion Center, comes pretty close. The 20,000-square-foot destination allows children – and adults – to explore a world of color through 19 interactive, hands-on attractions that take coloring to the next level. Visitors can name their own crayon (complete with a custom wrapper) and pose inside a photo booth that turns the photo into a coloring page. The Crayola Experience also features a number of melt-and-mold stations, and includes a station that allows kids to make pieces of art from dripping, melted crayons.

For the quintessential Chandler experience, don't miss the annual Ostrich Festival, the ultimate must-do for families. The outdoor festival features carnival games and rides, live shows, pig and ostrich races, BMX demos and a reptile exhibit. The festival, held in the spring, usually includes a meet-and-greet of characters or stars from kid-friendly shows.

If your family enjoys a little adrenaline rush, hightail it to KTR Chandler, an indoor sports playground that allows kids and adults to pull tricks on trampolines, hit jumps on skateboards and scooters, scale the warped wall and work up a sweat in a game of dodgeball. KTR really has something for everyone and, the best part, it's air-conditioned.

Veterans Oasis Park

One hundred acres of wetlands and other desert habitats make this a true oasis. The lush water features and wildlife make a particularly stunning backdrop at sunset.

EXPLORE THE ARTS

Chandler's arts and culture scene is thriving. Need proof? Then look no further than Downtown Chandler, which is brimming with public art. Some of the newest ones – like a bright, multi-colored mural inspired by vintage floral wallpapers – are featured at the Overstreet development.

At Downtown Chandler's Vision Gallery, visitors can see work from more than regional 300 artists at this fine arts gallery. Find a plethora of mediums ranging from ceramics works to jewelry. The nonprofit gallery is managed by the Chandler Cultural Foundation and hosts six to eight exhibitions per year. The gallery also offers complimentary Vision Kids Programs, where children can take classes like three-color screen printing from professional artists.

Downtown's Chandler Center for the Arts is the go-to place for all things artistic. The venue is home to three performance spaces: the 1,500-seat Main Stage, the 350-seat Hal Bogle Theatre, and the 250-seat Recital Hall. See top artists like India.Arie and LeAnn Rimes here. The Center is also home to The Gallery at CCA and Vision Gallery and features numerous children's programs including a musical theater camp and a circus camp.

Reopened in December of 2018 following an extensive renovation, the 10,000-square-foot Chandler Museum features local and national exhibits, as well as ongoing programs such as the Saturday Family Series and Our Stories Speaker Series. For in-depth look at the history of Chandler, explore the first floor or "tier" of the museum. You'll also want to visit the museum's courtyard after sunset to see the outdoor sculpture Infinite Shade bathed in multi-colored lights.

Opened in 1992, the Zelma Basha Salmeri Gallery, located at the Basha's corporate office in south Chandler, features one of the largest privately owned collections of contemporary Western American and American Indian art in the world. Visitors can expect to find more than 3,500 pieces of art in mediums including watercolors, charcoal drawings and bronze. Best of all, admission is free.

See rail cars of all stripes displayed on tracks – including a steam locomotive listed on the National Register of Historic Places – at the Arizona Railway Museum every Saturday and Sunday. Admission is free to just walk around, but there's a small fee associated with going inside each car. Rail cars are restored to operating condition and some have even appeared in Hollywood films, including "There Will be Blood" and "3:10 to Yuma."

Chandler does not want for good weather, having an enviable climate that boasts 300+ days of sunshine a year. So outdoor play is an easy choice year round, but especially during the months when temperatures don't top 100 degrees.

From biking and hiking to fishing, golfing, running and horseback riding, opportunities for outdoor play are endless in Chandler. And, just outside the city there are even more chances to explore the state's lakes by kayak and paddleboard, and its mountains by trail. Here are a few ways to explore the outdoors in Chandler.

THE GREAT OUTDOORS

ON HORSEBACK

The Koli Equestrian Center, near Wild Horse Pass on the Gila River Indian Community Reservation, offers a number of ways for riders to engage with its horses, including trail rides, and carriage, hay and wagon rides. Private and group trail rides are offered year round and give riders a chance to interact with the desert around them, which may include a possible sighting of wild horses that roam that area. The Center also offers horsemanship classes, birthday parties and corporate events.

IN SNEAKERS

If fitness is on the agenda, Chandler hosts a number of fun runs, including an all-female half marathon. One run organizer in particular, 131 Events, offers a series of playful 5K runs that make exercise fun for the whole family. The Donut Judge 5K is always popular and, of course, includes donuts at the finish line. And the Brew HaHa 5K run in the fall sells out for its cool medals and fun theme. The SHE Power Half Marathon & 5K features cake at the finish line, always a great motivator.

ON WHEELS

With 327 miles of well-paved bike path and bike lanes, Chandler is a cycling mecca. Pedal the scenic route at San Tan Mountain Regional Park or gear up on the Paseo Trail. The popular outdoor destination has a 6.5-mile, 10-foot wide concrete multi-use pathway that overlooks the Consolidated Canal. Rent your ride at Global Bikes, consistently ranked as America's Rated Bike Shop by the National Bicycle Dealers Association.

BY GOLF CART

Arizona is known for its abundance of golf courses and Chandler helps fuel that reputation. From the Lone Tree Golf Club and the Ocotillo Golf Club, to the San Marcos Golf Course and the Springfield Golf Resort, Chandler is a golfer's daydream. And, if you play through all of them in Chandler, there are dozens more within range.

MASTER MAKERS

Risk-takers. Innovators. Entrepreneurs. Here are three Chandler-based companies who are modern-day makers, using design, technology and creativity to craft homegrown products their own way.

❖ YoYo Factory

YOYO FACTORY

When Benjamin “Benny” McPhee and Hans “YoHans” Van Dan Elzen go to work they “walk the dog” and “pop the clutch.” But their tricks of the trade are all in the name of the toy business. In 2004, the two yo-yo enthusiasts and professionals (both have won multiple national and international competitions in the sport) founded the YoYo Factory in uptown Chandler.

The YoYo Factory is considered the largest manufacturer and designer of yo-yos in the world, producing several lines of premier plastic and metal yo-yos with a retail storefront that features its toys on a string.

No novelty act, the factory creates yo-yos that are considered works of art – an intersection between functional technology and gaming that is reviving interest in a century-old pastime – with products like the Velocity, which incorporates a design element that allows players to simply twist a dial to tune their yo-yo.

The global company employs five full-time people and its products are used by both amateurs and top professionals who have nabbed Guinness World Records with YoYo Factory yo-yos, including most tricks in one minute, most yo-yo spinning simultaneously and world’s largest yo-yo (13 feet in diameter).

STATE FORTY EIGHT

Michael Spangenberg, Stephen Polando and Nicholas Polando wear their love for Arizona on their sleeves – and T-shirts.

In 2013, the Chandler High School alums turned their passion for state pride into a fashion and accessory line called State Forty Eight with a $400 investment.

The Arizona-centric company uses the original state design (Arizona was the 48th state admitted to the Union) as part of their logo, which is featured on brightly colored T-shirts, hats and other merchandise designed for men, women and children.

State Forty Eight has grown exponentially in a few short years. The trio operates their production facility, which recently expanded to include a new showroom, from the Pollack Business Park North off of Arizona Avenue and Chilton Drive. State Forty Eight sells its clothing at its headquarters, online and in a handful of retailers across the state.

Considered a living brand, the culture of State Forty Eight not only expresses pride for Arizona, but represents a lifestyle and community, which is often apparent at sporting events throughout the state where athletes and fans are donning products from the fashion company.

DNA CHOCOLATE

If there is a blueprint for making scrumptious handmade confections, then DNA Chocolate has cracked the culinary code. Denae Hostetler, who owns DNA Chocolate, discovered her love for the art of chocolate-making while working in a fudge shop in Illinois, and later while traveling through Mexico and Central America.

A licensed massage therapist, Hostetler started to dabble in chocolates in 2014, but by 2016, she was a full-fledged licensed chocolatier, operating out of her guest-house-turned-candy-factory in Chandler.

To craft her certified-organic chocolate bars, barks, bonbons, nibs, hot cocoa and assortment of other specialty products with no added ingredients, Hostetler uses rare and exceptional cacao beans that are responsibly and fair-trade sourced directly from organic farmers. She then cleans, roasts, shells, mills, stone grinds, tempers and molds the beans using a traditional chocolate technique rooted in Mayan culture – a process that can take more than a month to bring out the natural flavors of the Criollo cacao bean.

DNA Chocolates are available in markets in Chandler, Mesa, and Tempe, and can be purchased at many local events, picked up at select retailers after ordering, or delivered to your home or business in the Valley.
