Twinkling Lights Chattanooga - Downtown

Walnut Street Bridge Snowflakes

View the thousands of twinkling lights in snowflake form along the Walnut Street Bridge, one of the longest pedestrian-only bridges in the world at 2,370 feet. The bridge connects downtown Chattanooga with the historic North Shore District, offering incredible views of the Tennessee River. At each end are a variety of shopping, green spaces, dining, attractions, galleries and more.

EPB's Holiday Windows

Explore EPB's Holiday Windows, depicting the sights and sounds of the season. The displays feature unique and known holiday characters as well as Chattanooga scenes and landmarks. The Holiday Windows celebration continues a tradition that dates back to the World War II era. View the displays in the windows on the Broad and Market Street sides of EPB's downtown headquarters building at 10 W. M.L. King Blvd.

Insider Tips

- Grab a hot drink from the espresso bar at the Ice Cream Show at the South end of the Walnut Street Bridge or on the North end, take a ride on the antique carousel and enjoy a seasonal holiday ice cream from Clumpie's
- Check out the illuminated Miller Park just across from EPB and grab a slice of Neapolitan, New York or Detroit-style pizza at Community Pie

Schedule Highlights

- Twinkling Snowflakes: Nov. 2019-Feb. 2020, lights turn on daily at dusk
- EPB Holiday Windows: Nov. 27, 2019-Jan. 1, 2020
- Lighted Boat Parade & Holiday Cheer at the Pier: Nov. 29, 5-8:30 p.m.
- MAINx24: a 24-hour festival on the Southside, Dec. 7

Enchanted Garden of Lights Rock City

Head high atop Lookout Mountain for Rock City's 25th Anniversary of the Enchanted Garden of Lights! Discover four uniquely themed realms of wonder including one of the world's largest walk-through electronic Christmas trees. To celebrate the Silver Anniversary, Inara the Ice Queen and Jack Frost are bringing the Aurora Lights to the Arctic Kingdom in a stunning display of ice crystals reminiscent of the aurora borealis. Stop by the firepit in the new Glacier Grotto. In all, more than a million LED lights transform the gardens' natural daytime splendor into a glittering fantasyland complete with photos with Santa, gingerbread cookie decorating with Mrs. Claus, hot cocoa and live nightly entertainment by the fire.

Plan

- With nighttime magic all day at Christmas Underground, you don't have to wait until after dark to experience the fun

Schedule Highlights

- Journey through a sparkling ice cave in the North Pole where Santa awaits your visit
- Discover and crack your very own geode with the help of Santa's miners
- Play in magical snow flurries
- Explore the Joystone Express Miniature Village

Holidays Under the Peaks Tennessee Aquarium & IMAX 3D

Head inside for Holidays Under the Peaks at the Tennessee Aquarium for some underwater holiday fun. Whether watching for snowflakes or listening for sleigh bells, plenty of attention is paid to the sky during the holidays, but even underwater, there's yuletide cheer aplenty waiting at the Tennessee Aquarium. This year, under the lighted candy cane peaks, guests can enjoy seasonal tunes in the lobby, fin-tastic appearances by SCUBA Claus (weekends, Nov. 23-Dec. 22) as well as special programs featuring penguins and sea stars. In keeping with holiday tradition, The Polar Express 3D returns to the Tennessee Aquarium IMAX 3D Theater Nov. 22-Dec. 26 with the always-popular PJs and Polar screening events on Dec. 14 and 15.

Create Your Own Lights Creative Discovery Museum

Holiday lights come in all forms, and at the hands-on Creative Discovery Museum, kids can explore several kinds! Beginning in December in Make It, children and families can participate in interactive, light-based activities. Have your kids try their hand at a gingerbread house in one of multiple workshops throughout the holidays. Explore the current exhibit, where children can step inside the framework of famous paintings and experience art like never before in Framed: Step into Art. Don't miss the first snowfall of the year at Snow Day on Nov. 16, where Suzy Snowflake, Jack Frost and friends help guests celebrate the start of winter. Meet Santa at an exclusive PJs with Santa event on Nov. 30. Then, on New Year's Eve, kids get to join in on the year-end fun with a countdown and celebration at noon.

Plan
