Cheyenne Winter Farmers' Market Keeps Winter Weekends Warm and Lively

Buying local at a farmers' market is always a special experience—unique, fun, and a great way to connect with the people who grow and create the food and goods you love. And here's the best part: you don't have to wait for summer to enjoy it.

The Cheyenne Winter Farmers' Market is still going strong, drawing crowds in the hundreds even on the coldest winter weekends. It's the perfect place to stock up on local meats, fresh breads, sweet honey, and so much more. From hand-made textiles to freeze-dried candies, you'll find a little bit of everything under one roof.

Head on down to the Depot on February 7 and February 21, from 9 AM to 1 PM, and experience the warmth of shopping local all winter long. We hope to see you there!
