Building a Better Cheyenne: Visit Cheyenne’s Responses to Destination Next

In late 2015, Visit Cheyenne led a research survey/workshop called Destination Next which revealed areas where Cheyenne needed improvement. The top two needs were for 1) more iconic attractions/events and 2) downtown redevelopment. To address these needs, Visit Cheyenne worked on a number of projects with public and private partners.

UNION PACIFIC STEAM SHOP TOURS

Visit Cheyenne, the Cheyenne Depot, and UP provided trolley tours to the steam shop in 2016, with more scheduled for 2017. The tours were very popular, attracting visitors from throughout the U.S.

BNSF RAILROAD BRIDGE / W. LINCOLNWAY LANDSCAPING

DOWNTOWN CORE

> DEPOT SPLASH WATER FEATURE (design completed)
> FIGHT THE BLIGHT TASK FORCE formed to address neglected buildings
> DOWNTOWN ALLEY MODERNIZATION / CLEANUP (design started)

Visit Cheyenne 2016 ACTIVITIES

2016 proved to be a challenging year for the local hospitality industry. Low energy prices dampened business and blue collar travel significantly, while state and local government budget cuts reduced the government travel that Laramie County usually enjoys.
