A REAL-LIFE Shopping Paradise

BY E.J. LANDO

As the popularity of online shopping grows, shoppers experience more pinches of inconvenience. What was initially a cyberspace of ease and comfort has degraded into absurd shipping estimates, out-of-stock notices, and the possibility of your package simply disappearing! Leave your laptop and buyer's remorse behind and head out into the real-life shoppers' paradise in Chicago Northwest.

EXPLORE WELL-ROUNDED SCHAUMBURG

The most famous shopping attraction in Chicago Northwest is Woodfield Mall, one of America's largest malls that offers nearly 300 different stores! From specialty items to a new dining pavilion, your nostalgic memories will come to life. Looking for great deals? Head to Woodfield Village Green, a sizable strip mall featuring some budget-friendly options like Old Navy, Nordstrom Rack, Marshalls, and even a Bloomingdale's Outlet. There are plenty of fun food options, and you can find shops for pets, babies, plus-sized clothing, and makeup—pretty much anything you could want!

In the mood to give your home a makeover? Swing by IKEA, the Swedish sensation that provides home goods and furniture that adorns dorm rooms and upscale New York City lofts alike! This high-quality and budget-conscious superstore is a design devotee's dream and be sure to come hungry—their freshly made Swedish meatballs have munched their way to culinary superstar status with fans across the nation.

Another favorite shopping option is The Streets of Woodfield, an open-air streetscape where you'll find a unique mix of shops, full-service dining, and entertainment. Classic decor and furniture gifts can always be found at Crate & Barrel, and it's easy to pick out a dress for your next special occasion at LOFT. Head to nearby Jewelry Mart for all things sparkly and discover a treasure trove staffed by seasoned experts who scour the globe for high-quality pieces.

Not ready to call it a day? The Streets of Woodfield also makes for a romantic date night, with tasty restaurants, a movie theater, and even an improv comedy club!

FOR THE TRICKY GIFTS: ROSELLE

Roselle is the perfect option for when you want to make a day of it. The downtown area has a vibrant, relaxed vibe and is home to more than a few delightful shops.

Head to Prospect Street Market for vintage furniture, books, and decor, housed in a historic Chicago home. The owner, Lynn Taylor, sources unique vintage items of the highest quality that evoke nostalgia and joy, with a little bit of something for everyone.

Lynfred Winery has been around for 40 years, and the longevity shows in the quality of their products. Their tasting menu rotates monthly, so there's always something new—come hungry to try their savory and sweet breads of the month. Share the experience of a tasting and tour with family and friends, or consider staying at their bed and breakfast for a weekend getaway.

Your next stop in Roselle should be the Little Red Ribbon boutique, a darling shop with almost infinite gift options—so many that it's difficult to choose! You can always find something special here, even for the most notoriously tricky in-laws on your list.

Pollyanna Brewing Company-Roselare has a unique selection of beers on tap that will please the pickiest of palates. Located just a few blocks from Little Red Ribbon, Pollyanna is known for their chill ambiance and trivia nights!

For your caffeine needs, head over to Maple Leaf Coffee Roasters for an artisan coffee experience that will appeal to bean devotees and novices alike. With carefully selected roasts from all over the world, you're sure to find an option that sets your taste buds tingling.

MEANDER DOWNTOWN IN ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

Wander through the many specialty shops, salons, and restaurants of Downtown Arlington Heights. There are a ton of clothing stores to comb through, along with unique boutiques that offer carefully curated goods. Top that off with plenty of great salon options and a wine and paint studio, and you've got an outstanding day of shopping and entertainment!

If you've forgotten what it's like to enjoy shopping, this guide should help you remember what you love about it! Being able to hold a product before buying it is much more personal than just adding products to a digital cart. Shopping should be more than a haphazard convenience—it should be an experience!

Busse Woods

UNEXPECTED OUTDOOR ADVENTURES

BY QUINCY KOETZ

Gazing out the window on a sunny Monday morning, I saw nothing but tall skyscrapers. My wife, Dee, was folding the last of our moving boxes as I glanced longingly at my old hiking boots. Catching my eye, she smiled.

“We need a new destination,” Dee declared.

Living in downtown Milwaukee was a new experience. I grew up in the rural Northeast, and Dee was raised in a small coastal town in California. Both of us deeply missed the outdoors and were craving a nature getaway.

After a quick internet search, we discovered Busse Woods, a beautiful, 3,558 acre, all-seasons nature destination. Just a few clicks later, we booked our trip, and I promised my hiking boots they’d escape the closet that coming weekend. Little did I know our weekend getaway would turn into a year-round retreat, one we’d revisit time and time again.

SPRING

Finding wilderness near Chicago

The drive to Busse Woods took just over an hour, but we felt like we were a world away. The temperature that morning broke 70 degrees for the first time in that year, and we rolled our windows down as we immersed ourselves in the thick canopy.

Lacing up my boots, Dee and I tackled Red Loop, a 7.2-mile hike. Trail runners jogged past us, and just as I was tempted to give chase, Dee grabbed my hand to slow me down.

"Look at those trees," she said breathlessly. "It's like something out of a Tolkien novel."

"WE WERE BOTH SPELLBOUND BY BUSSE WOODS' NATURAL BEAUTY"

I smiled in agreement, looking up at the trees crisscrossed on our walking path. Their long branches reached out desperately towards one another. Golden sunlight illuminated their leaves, and a warm breeze filtered through, whispering hints of summer to come.

"It's a National Natural Landmark," I explained. "This is Illinois before downtown Chicago emerged."

We were both spellbound by Busse Woods' natural beauty.

Once we had finished our hike, we found an excellent microbrewery less than ten minutes from the preserve: Mikerphone Brewing. Their extensive draft list is filled with punny (and delicious) beers named after songs and musicians. I got the Fiona Apfel, an apple cobbler inspired Berliner Weisse. Dee opted for the Zig a Zig Ahh, a double IPA.

We snapped photos and toasted other couples in hiking boots. Pink-cheeked from the sunny weather and beer, we piled back into the car for the short ride back to our hotel room.

SUMMER

Fish tales

"The last time I cast a line, my fishing pole had a picture of Snoopy on it," Dee admitted to the helpful purveyors at Busse Lake Boating Center.

I hadn't fished since I was in a Boy Scout uniform, but fortunately, while renting kayaks and purchasing bait, a few friendly fishers shared their wisdom with us. We learned that Walleye and Largemouth Bass were the premium catches of the lake, and start by dropping a line in the deep water near the dams. Though inexperienced, our optimism assured us we'd catch something!

Placid waters greeted us as we cast off into the main pool. We paddled lazily and took in the gorgeous scenery. Finally, we dropped our lines near a small island by the dam. Minutes later, I felt an insistent tug on my fishing rod.

"Watch out!" I shouted, and Dee paddled over to get a better view. I reeled in the line, and sure enough, a Largemouth Bass wriggled and flopped above the water. Dee yelled and ducked as it splashed her. I quickly unhooked the fish from the line and tossed it back.

A small shout of excitement from nearby told me Dee hooked a fish of her own. We spent the rest of the afternoon splashing and laughing as the sun went down.

BIKE RIDERS CAN ENJOY NEARLY
13 MILES OF PAVED
TRAIL AT BUSSE WOODS

FALL

Leaf peeping on two wheels

For this visit, we traded our hiking boots for bikes. We tried out the park's dockless bike rental service and found it to be a quick and painless convenience. Eleven miles of paved trails winding through the forest awaited us.

Riding through Busse Woods in the fall felt like wandering through an oil painting. Maples, oaks, and ash trees created a mosaic of fall colors rivaling that of my former home in the Northeast. We couldn't resist frequent stops for pictures.

The most photo-worthy moment of our ride was when we stumbled upon an elk herd! These stately creatures strutted right up to the fence, almost like they were posing. Safe to say, Dee and I snapped a few selfies.

Stopping for a breather, I took a long drink from my water bottle as Dee studied a trail map.

"Look!" she said, "there's a bunch of other trails that link to Busse Woods." She trailed her finger along the map. "If we took the Salt Creek Trail all the way, we would end up at the Brookfield Zoo!"

I laughed. "And we thought the elks were impressive. Imagine ending a nice long bike ride with some elephants?"

WINTER

Staying fit and ski-sons greetings

Although it was a challenge to escape our well-heated apartment, we discovered winter bliss on a bold February trip to Busse Woods. Bundled up in the warmest down Patagonia could offer, we tried our hand at cross-country skiing.

"It's like jogging," I gasped. Yep, running outside in the snow.

Keeping up a respectable, but by no means fast pace, we skied off into a Norman Rockwell painting. Solitude and silence fell around us. We hardly saw a soul that day—even the birds stood still. Winter's tranquility melted our work stress like snowflakes falling on warm pavement.

At the end of this excursion, we unstrapped from our skis. Wiping sweat from my face, I turned to my wife.

"Next time, we're getting a snowmobile."

CHICAGO NORTHWEST'S Bakery Tour

BY KELSEY BARAN

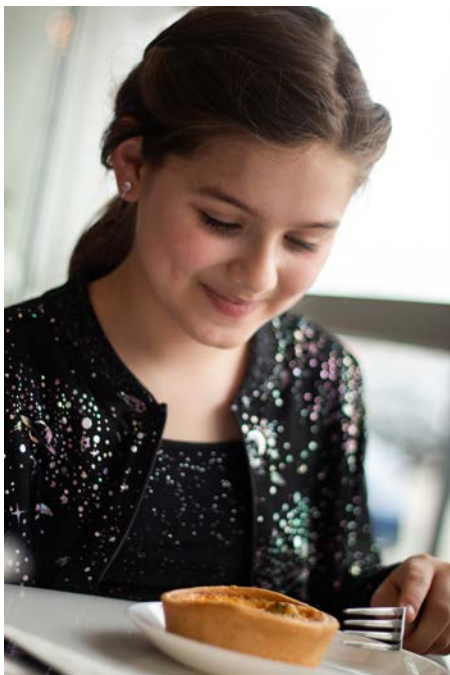

Muffin mavens and doughnut devotees rejoice—Chicago Northwest is home to delicious bakeries. Taste your way to sweet salvation with our guide: You can mix and match, pick and choose, or sample the entire experience!

SWEET TREATS

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS & ROLLING MEADOWS

Start out at The Bakerist Patisserie, a charming pastry shop with lovely French decor. The pain au chocolat is pure painless bliss, and the raspberry scones are both fresh and tart. Plan to take a few scrumptious macarons to go. The lavender macaron is so good, you'll be tempted to recommend it to strangers on the street!

Sweet T's Bakery & Cake Studio is a family-owned bakery filled with a vast selection of scratch-made treats. Known locally for their handmade cakes, be sure to try their fan-favorite key lime pie cupcake. Sweet T's also has a great selection of delectable pecan rolls, and seasonal cookies. Additionally, Sweet T's rents spaces for parties and other events, and even hosts cake decorating classes!

La Flor de Izucar Bakery, a family-owned store that specializes in Mexican pastries, is a must-have if you're in the Rolling Meadows area. Both the tres leches cake and cinnamon pan dulce are perfect dishes for someone exploring Mexican pastries for the first time. The bakery also takes special orders and offers convenient grab-and-go treats like flan and rice pudding.

ELK GROVE VILLAGE, ITASCA & WOOD DALE

Start your day bright and early at Jarosch Bakery in Elk Grove Village. Open for 60 years, and regularly voted "Best Bakery" by readers of the Daily Herald, Jarosch will not disappoint. They offer more than 60 varieties of coffee cake, everything from traditional streusel to caramel pecan to cardamom. However, a visit isn't complete without a melt-in-your-mouth butter cookie.

Right across from the Itasca train station, you'll find Kean's Bakery. Another well-loved legacy bakery, Kean's, has been around for more than 35 years. Their doughnuts are revered, especially the red velvet cake doughnut, rich and moist, with cream cheese icing. Or try the pumpkin cake slice, which comes with an adorable cream puff "pumpkin" on top.

Over in Wood Dale, you'll find Sweet Generation. This Polish bakery is a local favorite, for reasons you'll discover after your first bite. Try their delicious paczki, a fruit-filled, fried-dough Polish pastry worth every calorie. Their glazed kiwi-raspberry tart is also a strong selection if you're looking for something lighter with refreshing flavors.

ROSELLE, STREAMWOOD & SCHAUMBURG

Handsome Bakery & Café in Schaumburg features a Korean-French menu. Their pastries are tasty, in particular, the almond croissant. Its flaked layers contain a gooey, buttery filling with sliced roasted almonds. However, the standout at Handsome has to be the Cloud Latte. A traditional latte served with house-made cotton candy perched atop the cup, giving the appearance of a cloud floating over your coffee. Sweet, original, and just begging to be photographed!

For lunch, stop by Hanna's Bistro & Café, a Polish-European bakery that serves all kinds of pastries and has a fantastic lunch selection. The cheese pierogi and artichoke zapiexy are unmatched. In addition, Hanna's boasts lots of sweet and savory crepe options. Can't decide? Try the baked apple crepe!

Nearby, you'll find Azteca Bakery, a Mexican bakery that has a loyal following. Since 1998, Azteca has been baking authentic Mexican bread, pastries, and cakes for all occasions. The strawberry churros, pumpkin empanadas, and horchata (a cinnamon milk drink) are crowd favorites. Be sure to stop by on November 2nd to celebrate Day of the Dead!

Knead Bakery & Café is a Korean-American bakery with plenty of seating and extensive hours. Small groups of students settle in and study while enjoying the occasional live music in the evenings. Knead's mango bingsoo, a type of shaved-ice dessert with various toppings, is known for being especially fluffy and delicious. Knead's offerings are a perfect blend of traditional and Korean bakeries—try a slice of airy sweet potato bread paired with a silky cappuccino.

Your sweet tooth is more than an excuse to indulge in a sugar rush. It's a chance to explore the Chicago Northwest region and try new things, all at the same time.

So go ahead—treat yourself!

Live the sweet life in Chicago Northwest.

TOPGOLF PUTS THE “PAR” IN PARTY.

THIS CHICAGO NORTHWEST VENUE
IS READY FOR ALL SKILL LEVELS

BY REBECCA BLOOM

“Looks like you had fun at your conference,” my husband said, “or should I say, golf retreat?” I laughed and mimed my newly perfected golf swing. He was a touch jealous of my recent work trip, and I didn’t blame him. If he had been posting photos of Topgolf while away, I would have felt the same way. But the truth was, my co-workers and I did attend a work conference. It was just so successful that we ended it with a fun celebration.

TOPGOLF'S NEW STATE-OF-THE-ART
FACILITY IS NOW OPEN
IN SCHAUMBURG

Our large group split into smaller groups—6 people per bay. We were glad to see comfortable couches and an exceptional drink menu waiting for us! This is not how I pictured myself golfing—it was exciting! People were cheering each other on and bending over in laughter at their own mistakes.

Our company reserved Topgolf's Rooftop Terrace, and we were blown away by the sweeping views of the outfield and the city beyond. The rooftop terrace had mood lighting, lounge furniture, outdoor fire features, and a private bar. It was the kind of place you get so comfortable in that you have to be gently reminded to leave at closing.

"No lefty left behind," said our hostess as she showed us where we could find the left-handed clubs. This gave me a much-needed confidence boost—at the very least, I'd be using the right clubs.

Most of our group had never been to a driving range before, and this one looked particularly high tech. Fortunately, we weren't left to our own devices. Our package included a friendly golf pro.

"Here at Topgolf, you don't need to hit the ball the farthest or the straightest to win," he explained, "Topgolf is more like Skee-Ball. The targets have different points depending on their size and distance. Your only job is to try and get the ball into one of the targets using talent...or luck."

"What do you know about golf?" our company's CEO asked us non-golfers on the short drive from Schaumburg Convention Center to Topgolf. The bolt of nerves must have flashed across our faces. "Forget everything you know then," she laughed. "Topgolf isn't like normal golf."

She was right. Instead of pulling up to a hedge-lined country club, we pulled up to a sleek, brand new stadium-style building. Each level featured private climate-controlled hitting bays overlooking a vast open-air outfield.

"BETWEEN THE FUN MUSIC PLAYING OVER THE SPEAKERS AND OUR HOSTESS BRINGING DELICIOUS FOOD AND DRINKS, IT ALMOST FELT LIKE WE HAD BOX SEATS AT A CONCERT."

The golf pro taught us how to use proper form and how to operate the Touchscreen controls. He also helped us decide which game would be best for our group based on our personal preferences. After his introduction, the system took care of the rest. We didn't even have to keep score thanks to the microchip in each golf ball!

Par? More like party.

Between the fun music playing over the speakers and our hostess bringing delicious food and drinks, it almost felt like we had box seats at a concert. But this was even better because the menu was more sophisticated than any concession stand. Plus, instead of just watching, we got to play!

Once the nerves faded, our group of amateurs eagerly got into the full swing of things—pun intended. In fact, I even won a game! I was so proud I took a photo of the scoreboard on the flat-screen and posted it to Facebook. I've won board games and trivia nights, but winning a sporting event? That was a first for me.

"So, how was it?" our CEO asked later that night when we met back up with our group.

While we spent the night hitting golf balls, we were mostly drinking cocktails, chatting, and cheering for one another. You would need a hundred cheesy team building retreats to create as much organic comradery as we did around that hitting bay. She could have taken us out to a fancy dinner or a ball game in town, however, we would have missed out on the side-splitting laughs, high fives, funny videos, and stories.

"Let's just say we all volunteer to attend the conference again next year," I said as our unofficial spokesperson. Even if it was a work trip that meant spending a weekend away from our families, it was worth it if we got to come back to Topgolf. None of us want to miss out on our next "golf retreat".
