If my trip was a book it would be The Notebook ; If it were a song it would be "This Is Me"

If you know “me” & have followed me through my blogs journey well this song pretty much sums it up. Through my blogs journey I've met my best friends, which are in the form of my family. I've been pregnant, a lot, I've miscarried, my face has been paralyzed, just to meet these people. I couldn't of imagined through it all, my life would be where it is today.

Today I am recapping the Crystal Coast as I just wrapped up a trip of a lifetime with my family. I want to thank the Crystal Coast for inviting us to partake of what you get to call “home”.

Two things I do when I travel without a doubt, besides post tons, is try to see if I could live where I am and I “Zillow” like crazy. I have to say out of all the places I've ever been North Carolina is IT for me.

It's like my beloved Ocean City, but with better taxes and better year round weather. I could honestly call this place home. It was unlike any beach vacation I've ever been on. It was relaxing, fun and ultra romantic from start to finish. I got to really enjoy my family and I felt so at peace.

I could write a novel, but if you have any questions about our trip please feel free to ask.

Have a wonderful night my friends.
