

HOW TOURISM BENEFITS THE DORSET ECONOMY

The tourism industry is important to Dorset. Tourism boosts the economy by supporting small and medium sized businesses throughout the county, bringing vitality to urban, rural and coastal communities.

There are many reasons to visit this unique destination on the south coast of England.

Dorset boasts popular seaside resorts, the Jurassic Coast UNESCO World Heritage Site and designated National Landscapes.

The county is served by Bournemouth International Airport and ferry services to Poole Port as well as cruise ships into Portland Port.
