

Downtown Parking FAQs

How many on-street parking spaces are located in the Central Business District?

There are more than 900 metered spaces.

How much does it cost to park at a meter?

The cost is $0.75-$1.00 depending on location. Pay the meters with quarters, dimes, and nickels, or use a credit or debit card via the mobile phone app Parkmobile. Visit www.parkmobile.com for details.

When are the meters enforced?

Per City ordinance, enforcement of parking meter spaces is from 8 am to 6 pm Mondays through Saturdays, excluding Sundays and City-designated holidays.

If I do get a ticket, how do I pay it?

What if I feel that a violation has been issued in error?

If you feel you've received a ticket in error, there is an appeal process. As a matter of policy, we do not accept the following as grounds for an appeal:

- Lack of knowledge of the City's parking regulations
- Conflicts or tardiness going to or returning from appointments, which includes being in court
- Inability to find a valid parking space
- Failure to have appropriate or sufficient amount of coins for payment.

For more information about the appeals process, visit us online at www.greensboro-nc.gov/parking.

Helpful Tips for Using Parking Decks

- When parking your vehicle, make sure it is parked between the lines of the designated parking space.
- Arrive early to use lower level parking, which is more convenient to businesses and merchants.
- Mondays through Fridays, parking is free for the first hour until 6 pm at all four City-owned decks. Parking is free from 6-9 pm as well.
- Drive slowly through the parking decks.
- Be courteous to your fellow parkers.
- Pay attention to signs. They are placed in strategic locations to assist you in maneuvering successfully through the deck.
- Monthly card holders can exit through any designated exit lane at the decks. Customers who take a parking ticket when entering the deck must exit through a lane staffed by an attendant.
