DuPage Convention & Visitors Bureau
FY 2019 Annual Report

$650 Million

NEW VISITOR SPEND BY 2025
MISSION
The DuPage Convention & Visitors Bureau (DCVB) is the official destination marketing organization for DuPage, Illinois’ second largest county comprised of 38 communities. The DCVB works in partnership with community businesses, civic leaders and residents to maximize meetings, travel and tourism opportunities, a vital sector of DuPage’s economy.

DESTINATION MARKETING ACCREDITATION PROGRAM (DMAP)
This globally recognized Destination Marketing Accreditation Program (DMAP) serves as a visible industry distinction that defines the highest quality performance standards in destination marketing and management.

After a rigorous certification process, DCVB was awarded with the Destination Marketing Accreditation Program (DMAP) certification by Destinations International (DI), a national trade association that helps CVBs better serve their communities. DCVB was the only Illinois destination to receive the award at DI’s annual convention and was in company with highly distinguished destinations including: Chapel Hill/Orange County Visitors Bureau; Destination Cleveland; Sedona Chamber of Commerce & Tourism Bureau; Visit Buffalo Niagara; Hamilton County Tourism, Inc.; Visit San Antonio and others.

TODAY
Tourism is a major economic contributor to the health and vibrancy of communities throughout DuPage county, attracting $2.72 billion in travel expenditures in 2018. Through the impact of travel, the DCVB helps strengthen the county by creating economic, cultural and personal opportunities for its nearly one million residents and thousands of businesses.
A MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Partners,

Quality of place sets the backdrop for a memorable experience for residents and visitors alike. It can take many forms, from improvements to infrastructure to diverse programming to shared points of pride. Collaborations with community organizations, local municipalities, and stakeholders have furthered the DuPage CVB’s efforts in these areas to create a vibrant place to live, work and visit.

By ensuring quality of place, we ensure relevancy as we welcome our neighbors and those from afar to DuMore in DuPage. Partner with the DuPage CVB as we target and connect with prospective visitors to maximize the positive economic impact on DuPage. Be actively engaged in new product opportunities like the DuPage Sports Commission. Support the teamwork that connects our many industry partners in a highly coordinated and efficient manner to showcase all of DuPage County.

The DuPage CVB board and staff remain committed to advocating for the support of tourism to stimulate growth, a flourishing workforce and enhanced quality of life for residents. We have much of which we can be proud, with more on the horizon as we focus on what the future could hold for DuPage.

DuMore for DuPage,

Larry Forssberg
Executive Director, Westmont Chamber of Commerce & Tourism Bureau
Chairman of the Board, DuPage Convention & Visitors Bureau

A LOOK INSIDE THE BUREAU

This past year has been significant for the DCVB and our industry. As you will see in this annual report, the DCVB continues to push forward on major initiatives, with a focus on success for the entire region. You will also see the industry forecast — that action is needed now to ensure the future of this important sector of our economy.

As executive director during a critical period for our industry, I find it important to emphasize that despite the complexities of what we face, we can create a stronger, better future. But we must face it head on. The path to doing so is through collaboration, a focus on sustainability and commitment to greater investment. Collectively, our voice is formidable and we can create opportunity, serve our neighbors, provide for the 23,000 people with jobs in our communities, elevate programs and support local needs in substantial ways — while reaching the goal of $650 million in additional visitor spend by 2025.

I’d like to thank the 17 communities that have continually invested in tourism with the DCVB, as they have been stewards of regional economic strength — aside from the revenue generated from travelers’ purchase of goods and services, the industry boasts significant indirect travel output, reaching manufacturing, wholesale trade, finance and insurance, health and social services and more. When tourism thrives, so does business.

As I stated earlier, protecting and advancing this industry and its tremendous impact on local and state economy must be an entirely collaborative effort. The time is now to unite together so that we can DuMore for DuPage.

INDUSTRY CHALLENGES
- Chicago’s rapid expansion of hotel inventory: a total of 8,000 new rooms
- Chicago luring historical DuPage meetings due to dropped room rates; DuPage must find a way to close the gap
- Competitors with fully-funded incentive programs in the millions to secure events of significant size and quality
- Competitors making gains through investment in staffing, promotion and infrastructure
- Major developments that are drawing visitation away: sports tourism programs, new entertainment districts, enhancements to attractions and facilities, and more

If DuPage had maintained its market share level of 2014, that would have resulted in $53 million of additional spending in 2018.

DuPage has one of the largest suburban hotel markets in the United States, yet does not invest at parity level.

NEW WEEKEND MARKET

Investing in sports tourism, one of the fastest growing sectors in the travel industry, is a key initiative of the DCVB’s master plan for the future as it provides for greater opportunity to grow visitation to and secure new tax revenue for DuPage County.

At the launch of the commission, four new events were announced for the first time and are projected to deliver nearly $2 million in new revenue for DuPage by 2022. New events booked by the DuPage Sports Commission and announced during the launch event include: Intelligentsia Cup/DuPage Triple Crown, July 2019; USA Cycling Cyclocross National Championships, December 2020; United States Bowling Convention (USBC), April 2021, and the National Travelers Bowling League, June 2022.

DUPAGE TRIPLE CROWN ELEVATES CYCLING COUNTYWIDE

In partnership with the Village of Lombard, the DuPage Sports Commission created the inaugural Lombard Cycling Classic. As part of the event inception, this all-day criterium cycling competition joined the Intelligentsia Cup — a 10-day cycling series, visiting and racing in a different Chicagoland destination each day. The addition of the Lombard Cycling Classic to the Intelligentsia Cup complemented two existing series events in DuPage, including the Ray Whalen Builders Tour of Lake Ellyn in Glen Ellyn, and the Superior Ambulance Elmhurst Cycling Classic.

LOMBARD CYCLING CLASSIC BY THE NUMBERS:

| 471 COMPETITORS FROM 40 STATES & 20 COUNTRIES | 74% OF COMPETITORS FROM OUTSIDE ILLINOIS | 1,000+ SPECTATORS |

In collaboration, these three DuPage races formed the “DuPage Triple Crown” to further promote and showcase what DuPage has to offer as one of the healthiest destinations in Illinois, while bringing economic, social and community-based benefits to the area. In 2019, the DuPage Triple Crown races welcomed a combined 1,597 competitors, and their guests, to DuPage over a ten-day period and supported the Intelligentsia Cup to become the largest series event type of its kind in the country.
