Cantigny Park

Brimming with history and pride, beauty and serenity, this former estate of Chicago Tribune publisher Colonel Robert R. McCormick invites you to a 500-acre adventure. Down the grand driveway and through the historic visitor center... in gardens... on trails... amidst the tank park... within the First Division Museum... exploring the preserved McCormick House — be transported to moments in time of patriotism, perseverance, peace and reflection.

Project New Leaf

With Project New Leaf – their multi-year revitalization plan – this 500-acre oasis will become even more special, offering additional ways to enjoy the park. Dramatic landscape changes, a unification of elements, new gardens and pathways and a stunning and dramatic Red Oak Colonnade are among a comprehensive list to enhance the guest experience. Phase 1 is already complete! Cantigny Park remains open and with a full list of events. Project New Leaf is expected to be completed in 2021. Visit Cantigny.org/Project-New-Leaf for updates on progress and what to expect during your visit.
