WHERE HISTORY COMES ALIVE: BOY SCOUT PROGRAMS

As New Jersey's premier American History education center, Liberty Hall Museum is proud to offer a series of programs specifically tailored for Boy Scouts. These programs offer scouts a unique opportunity to engage, experience and explore. Liberty Hall Museum has the unique advantage of allowing scouts to fully experience an American history related program in the setting where the history actually happened.

In addition to American History, Liberty Hall Museum's wooded setting and extensive gardens offer a one of a kind opportunity for scouts to explore the world of nature. Several of their programs highlight the carefully planned and maintained grounds of Liberty Hall and offer scouts a chance to explore, experience and learn about the natural world.

The Art of Liberty Hall Program (Fulfills several requirements for the Art Badge)

The extensive art collection of Liberty Hall Museum will provide a springboard for scouts to discover the elements of art and the principles of design. Scouts will explore the collection of landscapes, portraits and still life paintings with a museum educator and the draw inspiration from the museum's artifacts and grounds to create their own one-of-a-kind masterpiece. In addition, they'll use a simple printmaking technique to create an original logo and discuss three career opportunities in the arts.

The Legacy of Liberty Hall Program (Fulfills several requirements for the American Heritage Badge)

Built in the early 1770's, Liberty Hall has been witness to countless historic events and its residents have shaped New Jersey history. Scouts will tour Liberty Hall Museum and learn what qualifies a building for National historic Register status. Museum educators will lead a discussion of careers in historic preservation and the education and experience needed to work in this exciting field! Finally, scouts will examine a selection of historic documents and practice writing with quill pens.

The Architecture of Liberty Hall Program (Fulfills several requirements for the Architecture Badge)

Liberty Hall was a residence for prominent New Jersey families for over 200 year. During that time, the house grew from 14 rooms to 50. The house reflects the changes in architecture styles over three different centuries. Scouts will learn about the variety of the building materials used on structures throughout the property and learn how form follows function in the design and construction of those buildings. They'll examine floor plans and elevations and observe how they were translated into actual buildings. Finally, scouts will create a scale drawing of a museum room.

WHERE HISTORY COMES ALIVE: CUB SCOUT PROGRAMS

As New Jersey's premier American History education center, Liberty Hall Museum is proud to offer a series of programs specifically tailored for Boy Scouts. These programs offer scouts a unique opportunity to engage, experience and explore. Liberty Hall Museum has the unique advantage of allowing scouts to fully experience an American history related program in the setting where the history actually happened. Liberty Hall's extensive collections of artifacts and documents, along with their seasoned, enthusiastic museum educators bring history to life. All programs include a hands-on component that further allows scouts to not only hear, but see and touch history! Always presented by museum educators in period dress, the programs transport scouts to another time.

In addition to American History, Liberty Hall Museum's wooded setting and extensive gardens offer a one of a kind opportunity for scouts to explore the world of nature. The grounds of Liberty Hall Museum were carefully planned by governor William Livingston, New Jersey's first governor, who's love of gardening and agriculture lead him to establish a garden filled with unique specimens of plants and trees that provide a habitat for an abundance of native animals and birds. The magnificent Horse Chestnut tree which stands just outside the front door, sprouted from a seed obtained in England over 240 years ago, and is not one of the oldest trees in New Jersey! Several of Liberty Hall's programs highlight the carefully planned and maintained grounds of Liberty Hall and offer scouts a chance to explore, experience and learn about the natural world.
