
A Rich Tapestry of Good Food

PATCHWORK QUILT

Patchwork Quilt

You won't find food this tasty in the big city (or most any other town, for that matter). The Patchwork Quilt features Buttermilk Pecan Chicken as its signature entrée. But that's only the beginning of a home-cooked, hearty menu that includes other delicious main courses, a country buffet and, of course, mouthwatering desserts. Housed within the Patchwork Quilt Country Inn, a historic farmhouse inn, the restaurant is a must for gourmet diners, food aficionados, and anyone who enjoys a satisfying meal.

Points of Interest:

- The historic farmhouse was built on 18 acres in 1875.
- It was transformed into a bed & breakfast in 1962.
- The restaurant has won the International Restaurant Rating Bureau

Award of Excellence and the Indiana Restaurant Association Director's Club Award.
