WILLOWBROOK HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY
VILLA PARK, ILLINOIS

Behind a seemingly permanent facade lies a world of change . . . A change which is controlled not by a sudden overpowering force, but rather by a continuing force which remains ever present in the life of each high school student . . . It is by adapting to this change, however large or small it may be, that the individual develops, matures—in short, "grows up."

Despite an outward guise of sameness, each person develops an identity — each mind expands in its own way.

Contact and experience with a variety of academic endeavors brings about a change, a change in mental outlook reflected, favorably or unfavorably, through an attitude toward the learning process.

The option to reach a better understanding of a subject or to expand an interest more fully exists . . . the competent teacher challenges the student to exercise this option.

Though social priorities shift, there is a tendency to grasp hold of and maintain certain traditions—Homecoming, Prom.

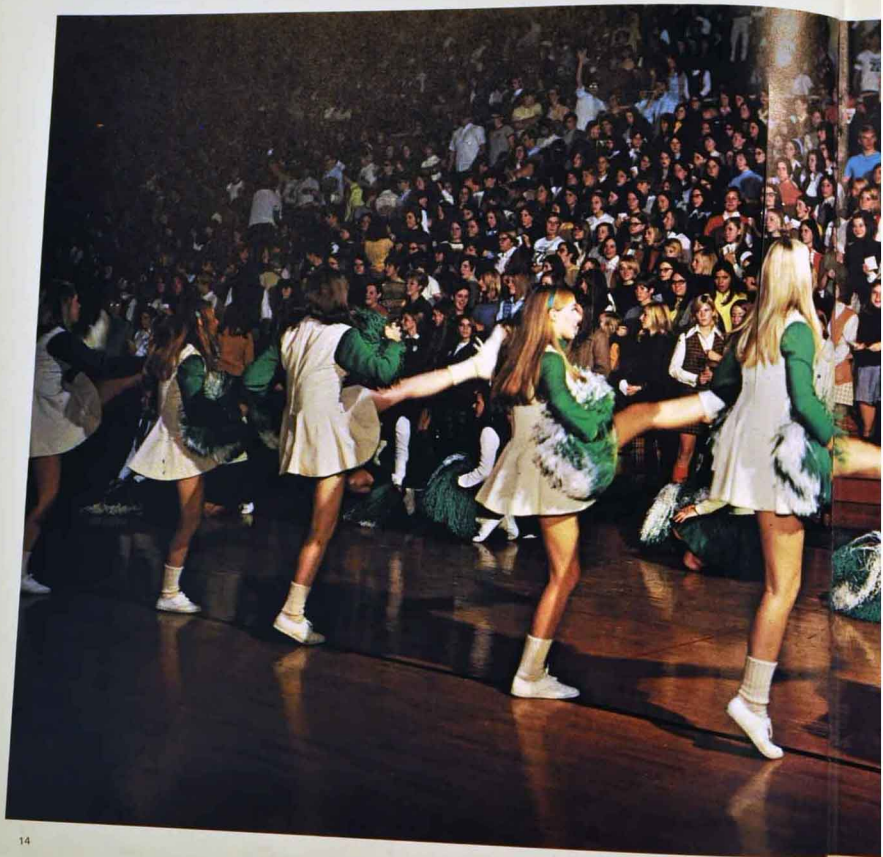

In contrast to long standing traditions, new and highly visible changes are evident.

Change of pace becomes important
... athletics offers a diversion
... With school work temporarily set aside, spectators become a part of the action; as scores fluctuate, emotions run high.

For the participants athletics is much more than mere diversion . . .

... Forged in long and often frustrating hours of practice are the skill, strength, and stamina so important in competition.

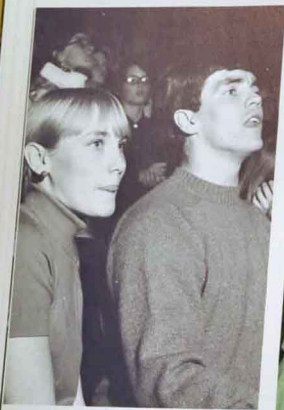

Often times feigned appearance temporarily replaces the "real" identity of the individual.

Changing interests, in addition to those which tend to stabilize, call for the special relationships found in friends...

Progression through high school sometimes tenders a new relationship — that of a couple.

Essentially, the interval between freshman orientation day and commencement night produces an individual who develops by adapting to the various changes he encounters during his high school years.

Few moments escape the influence of change.

HOMECOMING 1969 . . . Weeks of preparation . . . Float construction — chicken wire, napkins, spray paint . . . Friday night pep rally — rain in the court, "We've got the fever," introduction of teams . . . Friday night activities — the Box Tops, royalty coronation, class competition . . . All night work on floats . . . Parade — overcast skies, austerity band, float competition, "Stomp Out Glenbard" . . . Sophomore game — defeat . . . Varsity game — half-time activities, victory, York 13, Glenbard 12, anvil . . . "All the King's Horses and all the King's Men," "Beat the Dealer" casino . . .

Projects Add Variety To English Program

A Chekhov play read in Yorkshire Hall by students from a neighboring school was one of the appealing features experienced by students in classes of the English Department. Just a few of the other projects undertaken included the appearance of "Magic Carpet" in sophomore honors with tales from a short story unit related by the students in fairy tale form, a discussion on "Interfaith Marriage" in the library by community leaders of several faiths with members of the Contemporary Problems classes, the publishing of an anthology of the poems they had written by some freshman classes, along with the writing of autobiographies preceded by a vocational study. Students in English-Journalism gathered ads for the York-Hi and made a documentary film. Individual case history books on semantics were developed by junior honors students. These activities provided variety in the usual study of literature, composition and language.

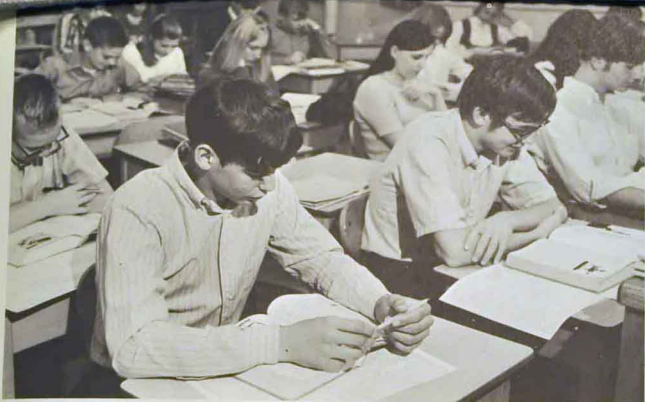

Social Studies Stirs Individual Interests

Seminars, research projects, and independent study for special reports were a few of the innovations in which members of social studies classes participated this year. Students in Basics undertook individual research projects in areas of economics and government. American History Seminar students devoted most of their time to individual research on special topics and discussions that involved the entire group.

Two seniors traveled to Washington, D. C. to attend the Presidential Classroom for Young Americans. This provided the opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of the federal government. York's seniors held two positions in Congress representing the 14th Congressional District.

Extension of Courses Benefit Math Students

If x plus y equals z then certainly more students plus greater interest equals a better math department. To better clarify this axiom, a new Math Eleven course was offered this year as a follow-up to the introductory math program. The Computer Programming course was continued and so was the accelerated program which allows advanced students to take a college credit calculus course. In addition to the new courses, members of the classes took a field trip to the Illinois Institute of Technology.

Mathematically speaking, the high point of the year was the annual Math Contest. About 200 students took part in the competition for top honors in the school with the individual champion receiving a pin and certificate. York's top three scores were compiled as a team score and compared with the scores of other schools.

Science Labs Provide A World of Discovery

A complex genetics study in biology, experiments in molecular structure in chemistry, and work in light refraction in physics exemplified laboratory work that led science students to learn through experience. By discovery rather than simply reading a textbook, students throughout York's Science Department obtained a greater understanding of the basic principles. Stress fell on experimentation including freshman Physical Science as well as Advanced Placement Chemistry or Biology (studies giving college credits). Physical Science II, in its second year, gave students the chance to relate their experiences to other diversified fields. One upperclassman was rewarded with the Bausch and Lomb Science Award for his achievement.

To enable students to make their experiments a success, new equipment was purchased for all classrooms. Discovery and evaluation were keys to the study of science at York.

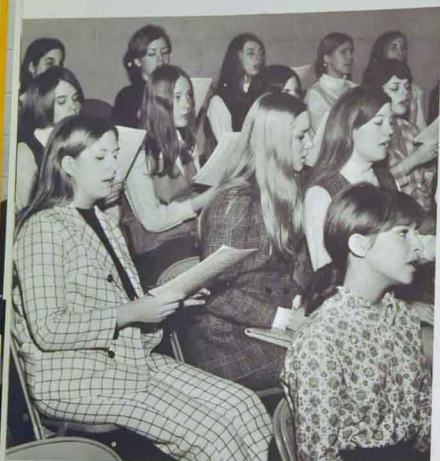

New Electronics Labs Accelerate Oral Study

"Plug in the earphones and turn down the volume." Thus began another day in the foreign language department. The installation of five electronic laboratories provided students with the opportunity for intensive oral drill, especially underclassmen. Classes rotated, each spending an average of two days per week with concentrated study in these laboratories.

During field trips students studied the culture and arts of their respective languages. French students traveled to Chicago for a look at French impressionism at the Art Institute, while Spanish students visited Rich Township East High School in Park Forest for a look at Spanish drama.

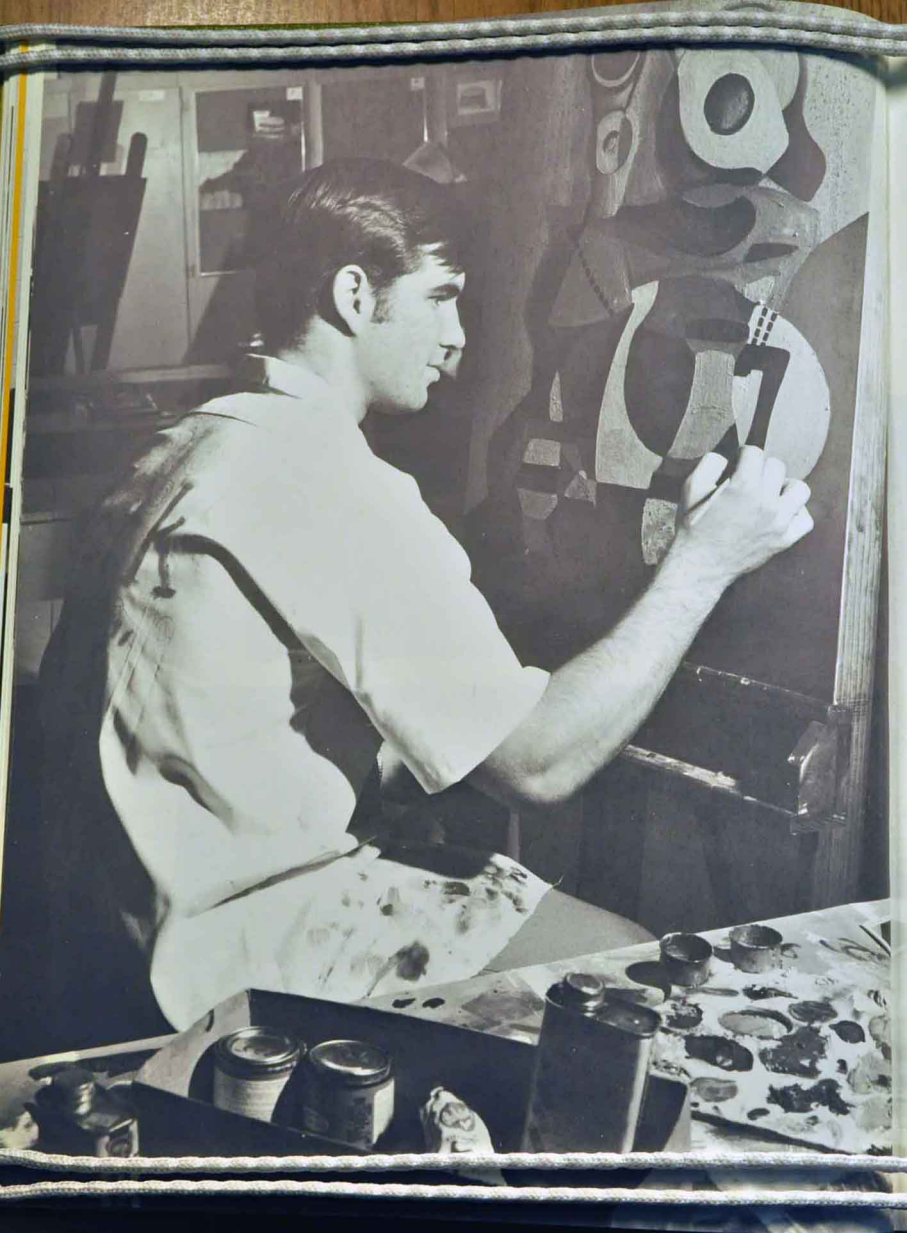

York Hosts District's Second Music Festival

The York Music Department hosted the annual District Music Festival Thursday, January 29. Students from Willowbrook, Addison Trail, and York bands, orchestras, and choral groups studied and practiced together intensively all day and presented a concert for the public in the evening. Guest conductors were Dr. Thor Johnson, conductor of the Cincinnati Symphony; Mr. Walter Rodby from the Homewood-Flossmoor School District, and Leonard Falconi, Professor Emeritus of the University of Michigan. This was just one of the musical experiences in which students in this department participated. Among others were the district and state music contests, separate programs presented by the concert band, the concert orchestra, and the senior choir. All groups combined their efforts in the traditional Christmas concert for the public. Regular class periods with additional practice sessions for sections, ensembles, cadet orchestra and band provided the instruction, background, and training needed to achieve excellence.

Art Program Stresses Individual Expression

Flames shooting from a torch in an asbestos booth convert a nondescript slab of silver into a unique creation. A heated mixture of threads and small lumps produce an enamel upon which designs will be placed. These were just two of the ways in which a student could have expressed his own ideas of art this year.

Opportunities abounded in the Art Department with courses that varied from weaving to oil painting. Students frequently deviated from classwork to pursue independent study. This was encouraged by a recently donated floor loom, which enabled those interested to weave tapestries and blankets. The Scholastic Art Contest held at the beginning of the second semester and the awards given at the school art show in the spring instigated initiative.

A field trip to I.I.T. in the fall to study the Bauhaus exhibit from an architecturally-oriented art school in Germany contributed to students' appreciation and historical background of the courses.

Attending only four periods a day, members of York's re-initiated Distributive Education class left York at 11:35 to enter the adult business world. These seniors, chosen last year on the basis of their interest in business careers, gained "on the job training" at local businesses by working as cashiers, sales personnel, and stock clerks, supplementing their marketing oriented classroom work. The Business Education department reopened the program in an effort to keep up with students' more diversified needs for an educational curriculum.

The Distributive Education program is only one facet of Business Education's diverse offerings. Office occupations, clerical, stenographic, and accounting areas offering a variety of courses, some more specialized than others, allow the business-minded student to lay the basic foundation for a successful career in both business and college.

Business Ed Seniors

Gain Job Experience

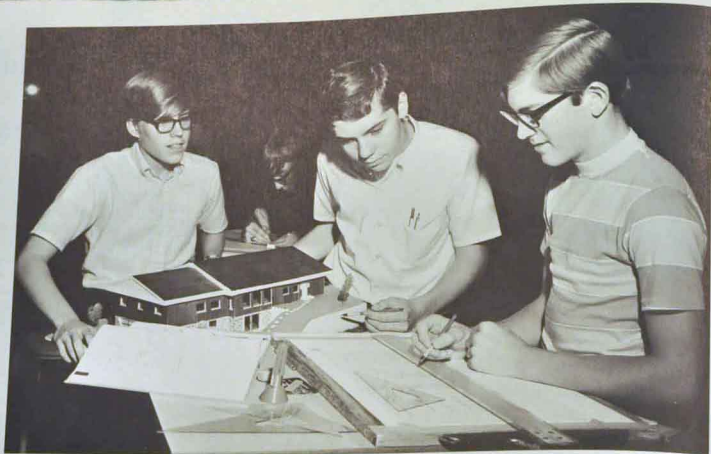

Home Economists Study Pre-School Youngsters

The chatter of youngsters busy at play is not usually associated with one's conception of the average school day at York. This year, however, proved an exception as home economics students participated in a new Child Development study which included in its program a nursery school for twenty-six pre-school children, ages two to four. Held for two hours at a time, the study group met six weeks each semester and afforded the students an opportunity to observe first-hand the behavior of youngsters given access to educational play equipment.

New appliances made their appearance in this department, too. Besides the usual ranges, washers, and dryers, the food labs acquired self-cleaning electric ranges, programmed ovens with built-in rotisseries, and two ultra-violet ray broilers. Among the innovations obtained by the clothes department were perfected electric scissors and buttoners which attach buttons without thread.

Senior girls interested in earning College Scholarships participated in the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow. The contest, held in early December, covered all phases of home-making, stressing the importance of the Homemaker's career today.

Industrial Arts Plans Curriculum Additions

An increased curriculum for next year, coupled with an ever-growing number of students and a program reaching into the junior high schools accented the growth of the Industrial Arts Department this year. New drawing boards and tables for the drawing classes, a new, safer hoist for the auto shop, and three 25-inch color TV chassis donated by the Zenith company for the advanced electronics class were some of the new equipment made available.

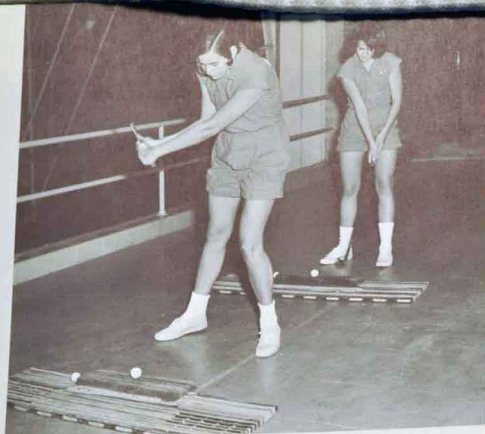

To continue this trend, the department decided to offer two new courses next year, one entitled "Your Home," and the other "Vic-Ed." "Your Home" is meant for the junior and senior college bound student as a basic home-repairs course. Fixing a drippy faucet, safely putting in a new outlet, cutting down a door for new carpeting, and soldering, brazing, welding, and other basic metal operations will be just a part of the wide variety taught in this course. Meant for both boys and girls, this course will correlate with the basic purposes of the department, the teaching of students the safe use and maintenance of power equipment.

The other new course, "Vic-Ed", will be concerned with business machines, commercial art, photography, and graphic arts. This will be the first program of its type in the Chicago area, and was started by an industry grant. Offset presses and a large camera will be some of the new equipment used in this course, which will work in conjunction with the York-Hi in printing news, advertising, and art.

As the number of classes increases to meet the need of the growing number of interested students, so the widening curriculum evidences the enlarging industrial needs of our society.

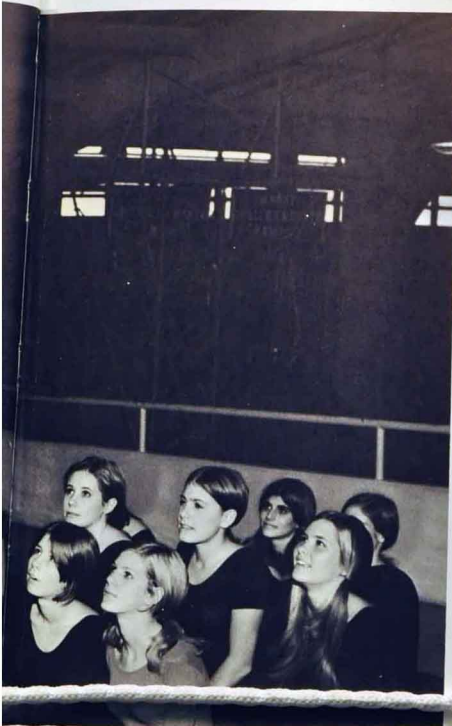

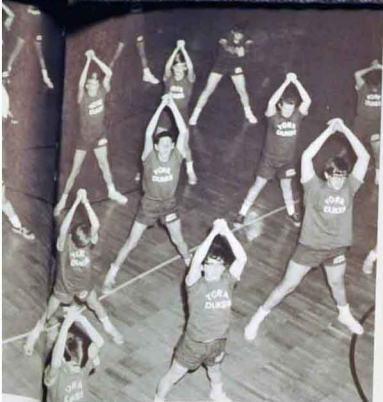

New Attire, Programs

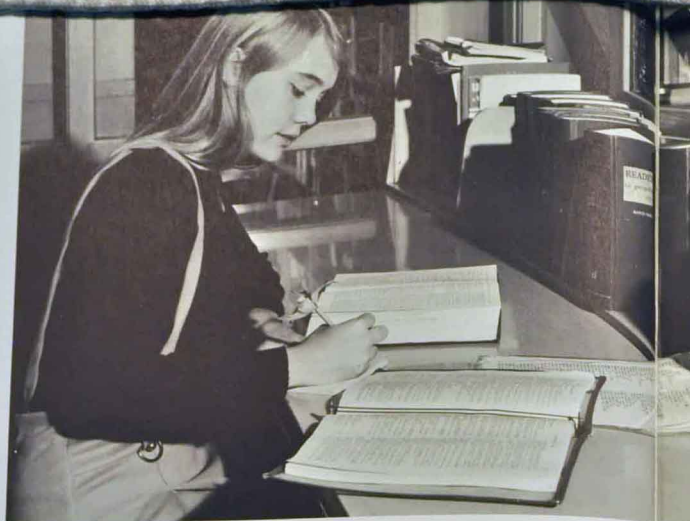

Modify P.E. Department

Freshmen and seniors in the same class? With the Girls P. E. Department's new elective program, girls from all the classes were placed together in one gym class. In September the program allowed all girls to choose what they would like to have in gym; then the P. E. Department tried to give every girl her choice, with seniors having priority. Other new programs offered this year were advanced classes in gymnastics, team sports, modern dance, and a leadership class which trains girls to be gym teachers' assistants. A course in swimming was initiated with the help of the Elmhurst YMCA.

"Boys in their underwear? They're running around half-dressed!"

Shouts like these will not be heard again in the halls of York. The drab white shorts and shirts of the Boys P. E. Department were changed this year to keen green. The new shirts prevent the boys from going "topless" to tell what team they're on while participating in gym class sports. They are reversible with one side sporting keen green while the other is bold gold.

Gift, Slides Expand Library, Guidance Uses

A record player with headphones, the 1969 senior class gift, added to the facilities of the first floor library. Along with this came funds to purchase an additional supply of microfilm for the viewer acquired last year for the second floor. As for atmosphere, a new mood was created by the art committee's choice of colorful tapestries designed by art students for the first floor library.

Slide presentations of the Illinois state colleges and universities were offered through Project State Schools to interested upperclassmen by the Guidance Department. These, along with visiting college representatives, gave juniors and seniors greater opportunity to become familiar with prospective colleges. The College Board and occupational examinations helped students plan toward the future with the aid of their counselors. A list of employment opportunities was kept up-to-date for students desiring jobs after graduation.

A photography seminar taught during the home-room periods was begun second semester by the Visual Aids Department. The class was taught by senior Gary Merrinette and junior Paul Shenefelt. The students involved provided their own equipment. It is hoped that eventually a regular credit course will be instituted as a result of this course.

Another aspect of the increased interest in this subject was the photographing of students at such school activities as Homecoming, basketball games, and the Spring Fling.

There was wide use of the video-tape recorder, from plays to chemistry to girls' golf classes, with Room 266 set aside for the monitor and individual study screens and earphones. The department increased its amount of work with photography and video-taping, as well as showing the usual number of films.

Senior Girls Assist Special Ed Students

Included in the special education program this year were the classes for the Multiply-Handicapped Deaf and those for the Educable Mentally Handicapped. The class for the hearing-impaired students provided a program of study emphasizing basic academic skills, particularly those dealing with facility in communication. In addition, pre-vocational training was offered as a means toward development of the greatest possible degree of independence in adult life. The instructor of the group was Mrs. Catherine Meyer, who was assisted by a para-professional, Mrs. Dolores Green.

For the first time, the second group, the Educable Mentally Handicapped, met in two rooms. Following instruction there, many of these students attended regular classes throughout the school with scheduling and report cards from the student accounting office. A curriculum close to everyday living needs, training in personal and social adjustment, and vocational orientation were goals for this group. Mr. Dan E. Kane and Mrs. Gwendolyn Tveter were instructors of this group. They were assisted by senior girls interested in special education and other students who aided by giving up free periods to tutor in reading.

Student "Conglomerate" Stresses Communication

HOLDOVER MEMBERS. Seated: Tom Marcucci, Beth Russell. Standing: Bill Neu, Bob Knuepfer.

As the mediator between students and administration, the vehicle for questions, complaints, and suggestions, the sponsor of activities and innovations, the guiding force behind the scenes, Student Council was this year responsible for preserving, despite austerity, much of what we have come to know as York.

The Student Council clothing drive, held in November, brought in clothing which was sent to Chicago welfare centers, the American Indian Center, Casa Central, and Hull House. Meanwhile, doughnut lovers had their heyday during Student Council Week when doughnuts and lemonade were sold everyday during lunch periods.

The Student Administration Board was created to improve and develop relations between students and faculty and was composed of six faculty members and six students from varying segments of the school population. Membership on the board was on a rotating basis throughout the year and was not restricted by grade average; all students were eligible.

Other projects and programs were also initiated this year. Student Council was not just the big successful activities, but little things also, such as babysitting service, alternate schedule arrangements, a smile at Great Lakes Naval Hospital, taking an underprivileged child to the museum, sending a get well card to a lone-some sick student, or a flower to a faculty member. These unaccented occurrences depended upon all the students to make them happen.

Two Way Exchange Benefits AFS'ers, Yorkites

AFS'ers: Chris Green, committee chairman; Sula Lima, Persi Karayannopoulou.

"Twelve degrees below zero?! That's cold!!" The sub-zero degree weather during January proved to be only one of the many new and different things which AFS'ers Persi Karayannopoulou of Volos, Greece, and Sula Lima of San Palo, Brazil, encountered during their stay in the United States. The girls received American Field Service International Scholarships, coming here to study and to learn of the American way of life. In keeping with the purpose of AFS, there was a mutual exchange of knowledge and ideas between the AFS'ers and interested Yorkites.

Liz Marbach, AFS Finalist, participated in the Americans Abroad Summer Program, spending the 1969 summer in Ilmajoki, Finland. This year's semi-finalists for the Americans Abroad program were juniors Nancy Baker and Bill Eichar. They were chosen after a series of interviews.

The York AFS committee responsible for raising the money to sponsor AFS scholarships worked under the direction of Mr. Warner Brown, faculty sponsor, and Chris Green, committee chairman. The annual candy sale and mistletoe sale were held. In addition, the committee welcomed AFS students from surrounding communities with AFS day activities in mid-February.

"We can't use that head!" The editors don't mean to raise their voices, but that group has been working on a headline for a long time with no results.

The yearbook staff's work began with sorting and delivering students' pictures in the Fall, and it never ended. Each member was responsible for writing copy for at least one of the school's clubs. Everyone was called upon at one time or another to use his imagination for headlines. Picture identifications had to be made. During the winter the staff had to repeat reminders to seniors about senior pictures and biographies. A time-consuming job — recording the name of every person and on which pages he appeared — was done on the index. Co-editors-in-chief worked on prologue, pondering over which candids to use. Sitting at the big table in the back of the room, layout staff, amid constant distraction, figured out how each page would be arranged. Rushing to meet deadlines, finally finishing an important layout, and trying to write a suitable headline were only a few things of which Y's Tales staff consisted. From what seemed to be continuous confusion and disorganization came the 1970 yearbook. Although the staff and Mrs. Albert, its sponsor, had some anxious moments, everything was finished on time.

York-Hi Conveys Today's Contemporary Problems

"School papers should reflect whatever the students are interested in, whether it is school news or national news," stated Mrs. Marjorie Rollow, new sponsor of the York-Hi. This policy was followed in the paper with the publication of in-depth stories.

Contributing to the new format of the publication were changes in the print, size, and type of paper, and layout. Reviews of plays, books, and movies were added to the literary page.

"Berfunkel," a new column, expressed the opinions of editors Keith 'E' Owens and Ray Petersen on numerous topics. The "Bumble Line" satirized questions about the school.

Junior Staff created their own supplement, the Y Eye. Featured in it were club and school news. It was published between issues of the York-Hi.

"California — here we come!" This was the cry of the band as they flew west during spring vacation. While in the Los Angeles area they performed at several high schools and marched down the main street of Disneyland. To help with the cost of the trip, band members sold Christmas greens. This group had a chance to show off fine rehearsal techniques before an audience of fifty directors and twenty-five bands at Thornton High School in February. "Running music" provided by some members of the group encouraged York harriers in the State Cross Country Meet. This was a "first" in Illinois history. Furnishing music for home football and basketball games was a regular practice. Since the band did not march in the homecoming parade, a car was decorated and entered in competition representing the group. The car, shaped like a large horn, took first place in their division. Three concerts were given by the band, along with the rest of the music department. They performed in the Christmas, Winter, and Spring Concerts, and the District 88 Music Festival.

Maxi-Skirts Complement Orchestra's Appearance

Floor-length black skirts appeared at York this year. It was not a change in world fashions, but an addition to the orchestra. The skirts were worn by the girls of the group for formal concerts, including the District 88 Music Festival. Mr. John Latta was the new conductor. Under his direction the orchestra completed another year of performances playing for P.T.A. dinners, at local schools, accompanying the Senior Choir, providing background music for teas and receptions, giving Spring and Winter Concerts, and participating in the State Solo and Ensemble Contest.

Choir Seasonal Songs

Charm Chicago Shoppers

In the midst of much rushing and confusion, voices were heard. They belonged to the members of the Senior Choir who delighted Chicago's Christmas shoppers this year as they sang at the Chicago Federal Savings Building. Their music was piped through the building and out to the streets. Other performances by the group included the Christmas and Spring Concerts and the State Music Contest. Learning and having fun in a special activity, the entire choir attended "Cavelleria Rusticana" at the Chicago Civic Opera House. To make each performance enjoyable for listeners having a variety of tastes, director Jack Witmer planned a repertoire which combined classical music with popular tunes from modern musicals.

Forensic Trophies Speak for Themselves

"A war moratorium all year long — it's impossible!" Overcoming the seeming difficulty of this year's debate topic, the varsity and novice debate teams attempted to resolve whether Congress should prohibit the United States unilateral military intervention into foreign countries. Although the question boggled the mind at first, the debaters dissected and probed every aspect of it to wage oral fights in their tournaments. Traveling to Western Illinois University, in January for a two-day event, varsity debaters compiled a 7 win and 1 loss record to add a third place trophy to the awards case. Besides another two-day contest held at Southern Illinois University, team members battled orators from Highland Park, Deerfield, Maine East, and other area schools.

"Do your own thing" could well be the words which depict another group which loves speech, Individual Events. Forensic fanatics had the opportunity this year to participate individually in ten different speaking areas ranging from original monologue to serious reading. After practice with and help from the group's coach, Mrs. Vida Snively, the participants with eyes half-open gathered on cold and bleak Saturday mornings to travel to area high schools to compete with other students in their respective events. At the District Meet held at Oak Park High School in February, York earned enough speaker points to bring home the team's first tournament trophy. During library week in April members performed their oral works.

Novice debaters practiced the skills of argumentation and rebuttal during afterschool sessions.

Scholars Experience "Magical Mathematics"

MATH CLUB OFFICERS, Steve Jackson, Treasurer; Jim Price, President; Jay Carl Klemme, Vice President.

Make a circle into a square? Take a vest off from underneath a coat without removing the coat? These seeming impossibilities were performed and explained for members of York's Math Club this year. The presentations, along with the majority of the other meetings, were handled by members of the club. At one session, the group witnessed a demonstration of a moebius strip, a one-sided loop of paper. Mr. Nelson, head of the math department, gave a talk concerning career possibilities in the field of mathematics. Students participating in the Illinois State Math Contest were given preparatory help by mathematicians from the club. Pins and guards were distributed at a party held at the end of the year.

Exciting Worlds Found Through Observation

Odd-shaped things magnified hundreds of times resemble nothing commonly referred to as life, yet they move, feed, and live. Quiet, small, simple yet complex, describes the microscopic life studied by biologists. Examining museum specimens first hand by special arrangement with the Field Museum of Natural History and visiting the University of Illinois Chicago campus medical center gave Biology Club members the chance to learn more about the science of living things.

Launching into its second year, the club set out to show what could be accomplished by an enthusiastic group with a common interest. Sponsored by Miss Viola Henrikson, the club met bi-monthly to explore the world of biological science outside the classroom. Special activities focused constantly on observation and experimentation in related areas. Members performed experiments at the regular meetings and held a birthday party to honor Gregor Mendel, father of the study of genetics.

Members View French Masters at Art Institute

Rembrandt, Renoir, and Monet are just a sampling of the masters whose paintings members of French Club had the opportunity to study. On November 22, they traveled to the Art Institute to view the French Impressionist and Rembrandt exhibits on display. This excursion was characteristic of projects undertaken by the club with the French government's grant of $50.00 aiding in the continuation of its study of French civilization.

Initiation of prospective members was again conducted at Mardi Gras. Election of a king and queen, the grand march, the traditional costumes and the French dinner combined to make this an eventful evening. The Christmas play, written and directed by members of the club, and the daffodil sale conducted in spring added to the activities of the year, all under the supervision of Mrs. Hannah Schade and Mrs. Lois Wallace.

Best costume award for the Mardi Gras went to this inspired Indian, Don Weeda.

French-style dining, a feature at the Mardi Gras festivities, proved enjoyable for the members and initiates experiencing the French cuisine.

Spanish culture, personified through puppets, costumes, and dolls, helped to expand the knowledge of Spanish Club members.

Mini-Fiesta, Slides Show Spanish Culture

"Arriba! Arriba! A la derecha, a la derecha!" were the directions heard at this year's Spanish Club Christmas party. The cry encouraged the member who tried to break the pinata hung from the ceiling, and when it was shattered, club members gathered the candy it held. Another way the club celebrated Christmas was by decorating classroom doorways with nativity scenes and even a Picasso Christmas tree.

Weekly meetings included such things as movies on bullfighting, slides of sights in Spanish-speaking countries, and discussions concerning Spanish culture. In the spring the annual Mini-Fiesta was held, featuring Spanish dishes prepared by the members, displays, and music.

New Activities, Name Revolutionize Clubs

Since when do cookies, apples, and toys adorn Christmas trees on classroom doors at York? This unusual sight appeared this year when German Club participated in hall decoration competition for the first time. Also during the Christmas holidays, an informal party was held to initiate new members. With help from new sponsors Mr. and Mrs. Eric Bajars the club produced the second place Homecoming float in which a broken Humpty Dumpty came spilling out of a huge beer barrel. The group had a traditional dinner at a German restaurant to finish the year's activities.

"Revolution" was the cry in Latin Club this year, as sweeping changes took place in one of York's oldest clubs. The primary change was in the name and purpose of this organization. The name was changed to AWT, Ancient World Today, and the purpose included spreading the knowledge of ancient civilization. Mrs. Judith Vonasch, sponsor, helped in the coordination of change, activities, and funds.

Club's Giving Brightens Children's Holidays

Picking the best cake proved a difficult task for those who judged at the Home Ec Club Cake-Baking Contest.

Decorating a winning hall for Christmas, Home Ec Club members won money which was donated to the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society. Because of the donation the club had the privilege of serving as a patron for the Society's January 17 benefit. Christmas also meant a time for giving, as members decorated and filled stockings for underprivileged children. The stockings were donated and distributed by the Red Cross.

This was an eventful year for Home Ec Club. One hundred dollars were made from the selling of mints. This money went toward the cost of having a progressive dinner, where each course of the meal was served at a different girl's home. The club held a cake baking contest in February, a home talent show for members in March, and their annual awards banquet in May. Since the club was unable to have a faculty sponsor, meetings under the guidance of Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Nally were held once a month at homes of the members.

DE Club Takes Second in Area Competition

Bonded by a common interest in marketing and business, students in the Distributive Education class took the initiative to form their own club. Members attended a conference of twelve area schools at the Villa Olivia Country Club. The day consisted of a luncheon and an afternoon workshop, and was climaxed by a dinner and dance held that evening.

In an area contest, members entered three events: interview, public speaking, and display. Each took second place, giving York second in the entire contest. A field trip to the Merchandise Mart offered members a first-hand look at marketing. The cost of the field trip and the contests was supplemented by a candy sale held in the beginning of the year.

Chess Team Takes Third; Stamps, Coins Displayed

An upset victory over Proviso West and a third place finish in the eight school Proviso West Invitational started off the season for the Chess Team. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Frank Allen, the club participated in the West Suburban Conference for the first time this year. Looking for both experienced players and beginners, the club strived to create popularity for the chess game among the student body.

Sympathizing with the U.S. Post Office and its heavy Christmas burden, Stamp-Coin Club members decided to lend a helping hand by establishing an intraschool postal system during the Yuletide season. Any student who purchased a special three cent stamp could have his holiday greetings delivered to a friend in school. With Mrs. Margaret Pfaffle as sponsor, the young philatelists and numismatists also arranged a display of both foreign and domestic stamps and coins in the spring.

"A" Is For Apple — Also for Appreciation

FTA OFFICERS. Seated: Judy Eppelheimer, Vice-President; Jim Price, President; Cindy Steagall, Secretary. Standing: Dean Grubbe, Points Chairman; Mickey Price, Treasurer.

In appreciation of services rendered, the Future Teachers of America chose National Education Week to grace each hard-working York teacher with a shiny apple, a tradition reminiscent of one room schoolhouses and lazy afternoons by the swimmin' hole. Of course FTA does not deal in the past; instead they concentrate upon guaranteeing a good educational system in the future. By helping students to explore various fields in the teaching occupation and spreading general information regarding the beginning steps toward a teacher's certificate, FTA hopes to interest young men and women in education as a lifetime career.

A part of their overall program, the Future Teachers of America sponsored speakers, including an active representative of the Peace Corps, films, the student tutoring organization, college visits every other year, and Teacher's Aids who assist faculty members in the routine chores of the teaching occupation. One service project was dubbed "Easter Baskets for the Needy" in which members met for a combined party and work session, filling plastic baskets with sweet treats for the residents of the Bensenville and Elmhurst homes for the aged. For their contribution to the Homecoming revelry, FTA christened their parade car "Little Miss Muffet Sat on Her Tutor." The homecoming car, as well as the other diverse activities of FTA were supported by their sale of green and white, "Y" antenna balls.

Hearing a lecture at Elmhurst Memorial Hospital provided FNA members with information concerning the various fields of nursing.

Working during their study halls or homerooms, FTA tutors provided an invaluable service for students needing extra help.

FNA OFFICERS: Kathy Ebenezzer, Treasurer; Sandy Mielchen, President; Jeanette Garrett, Vice President; Jan Ferraro, Secretary.

Insight Gained Through Numerous Field Trips

Field trips to Elmhurst Memorial Hospital to watch an X-ray technician demonstrate her work, to Elmhurst College to learn about speech therapy, and to Loyola University Hospital which is run completely by computers were among those projects undertaken by members of Future Nurses of America. By taking these field trips the girls and their sponsor, Mrs. Patricia Neu, an R.N., with the Public Health Department, were able to learn more about the specialized areas of nursing.

Also on FNA's agenda was a Christmas party at an old people's home where they distributed slippers they made from washcloths. Members participated in the homecoming parade by decorating a car, and they sponsored a Spring Fling booth in order to raise money.

Girls Assume Roles Of Big Sisters, Santas

"Vive L'Amour," the Girls' Club semi-formal dance on Valentine's Day, had a setting of Paris with visions of the Eiffel Tower, cafes, can-can girls, and a balloon man. Wine bottles were available to couples as remembrances of the dance.

Before the school year, members introduced incoming freshmen girls to York at "Little Sister" parties. Assisted by sponsors Miss Shirley Hassler and Mrs. Ilene Hardy, the members made and sold bows during the Christmas season. Candy-filled stockings were also made and given to the faculty, maintenance, and cafeteria staffs. New this year was a visit to a nursing home in Elmhurst during the Christmas holidays, at which time members had the opportunity to visit and present home-baked goods to senior citizens. The year ended with the presentation of awards and announcement of the new officers and board at the annual Spring Mother-Daughter Tea.

Sweet Sales Contribute to Blazer Purchase

Did you realize that a club catered to your sweet tooth? That is precisely what Green Key Club did when it held a Fall Sweet Sale. Members participated in bringing home-made cookies, brownies, and fudge, which were on sale after seventh and eighth periods outside of school by the flagpole. Another sweet sale was held at Spring Fling.

Green Key members, guided by Mrs. Mildred Topinka, were striving toward a goal — purchasing blazers similar to those of Ushers' Club. The blazers would be worn while the members gave of their time to serve the school.

Not everyone is able to become a member of Green Key Club. One has to be a junior or senior girl, have at least a C average, and a good citizenship record. The girls chosen served as guides at open house, had lunch with transfer students, and showed college and high school representatives around York. By giving their services the girls were given the chance to view slides at sessions of continuing education. An annual mother-daughter tea was held May 25 for the purpose of handing out awards.

Green Key members provided an essential service guiding continuing education adults through the school.

Orchesis Production Reveals World of Fantasy

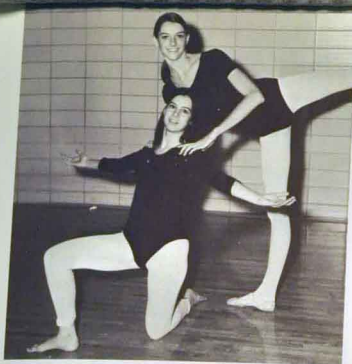

Peter Pan flew in York's window when Orchesis presented the production "Peter Pan" on April 17. The Never-Never-Land of Lost Boys, Pirates, and Indians came alive as each character part was interpreted individually through modern dance. Girls strove for perfection in original compositions as they tried out for the major parts. Mrs. Louise Nettleton, sponsor, directed the production, but all the choreography was done by those who succeeded at tryouts. Those who preferred behind the scenes work designed costumes and stage settings. Members developed poise, gracefulness, and expression through dance while working to portray the world of fantasy.

GAA Hosts First Girls' Sports Invitational

Practice sessions and try-outs held by members of the Girls' Athletic Association culminated in an invitational sports day that was held for the first time in Illinois, in November, and provided the opportunity for participation in competitive sports. Representatives from eight schools met at York for a morning of volleyball matches and a luncheon in Yorkshire Hall. The eight GAA members selected to participate as York's representatives in the inter-school volleyball day were chosen from some sixty-four other girls by physical education teachers on the basis of their performance in tryouts held a week before the event.

The rest of the year, under the sponsorship of Miss Margaret Lacey, the organization continued its development of sportsmanship and athletic ability, striving for a good time as well as competition in the games they organized and in which they participated.

Skiers Wear Shorts Under Colorado Sun

Schussing down the mountainside, casting dark shadows against the brilliant white snow, the skiers seemingly represented a typical winter scene. To the members of Ski Club who journeyed to Steamboat Springs, Colorado, though, there was one major difference. These skiers with tanned faces and legs were flying down the hills in cut-offs! Even though the sun was warm, excellent skiing still existed, and for five days during spring vacation they took advantage of these unusual conditions.

Under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gorman and Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Gore, Ski Club enthusiasts went to Tyrol Basin, Wisconsin, for Christmas vacation. Besides these excursions during the holidays, one-day trips to nearby ski areas were planned.

Pep Week, Decorations

Display School Spirit

"Blast-off to a Victory" was the theme for Pep Week sponsored by Pep Club. With this theme in mind, classes competed — making banners, signs, and buttons to promote spirit for the winter sports. At the end of the week, Mr. and Miss Pep, along with the winning class, were announced. Seniors Bill Lorey and Wendy Uecker were chosen as Mr. and Miss Pep, respectively, and the sophomores won the class competition by best displaying spirit throughout the week.

Athletes often entered the locker rooms before important games to see balloons, green and white crepe paper, and signs reading "Beat 'Em!" Banners were made and hung in the cafeteria before every athletic event. A cleaning job was done on the trophy cases in front of the boys' gym by the club's members. With the help of Miss Betty Bingham, sponsor, Pep Club sent nine busloads of students to the State Cross-Country Meet.

Money-making projects, such as a soc-hop, and the selling of mums and sweatshirts were undertaken so that Pep Club could present a gift of money to the athletic department at the end of the year.

Dukettes Spark Spirit With Home Game Pep

DUKETTES CO-CAPTAINS. Robin Becker, Kathie Meske.

A change of name was only one of the many changes incorporated by the Dukettes this year. At each home basketball game the crowd sang along with the thirty girls while they performed a pep dance. The words of the song were to the tune of "Hey, Look Me Over." Another first for the Dukettes were small ten-inch long pom-poms. The group used both the larger traditional pom-poms and the new small green and white ones throughout the year. To show York's hospitality and welcome to visiting teams the girls wore hair ribbons the color of the opposing school.

The squad members, under the supervision of Miss JoAnn Damratowski, were scheduled for a 4/1 home-room period together. This allowed them to practice with the band during the football season. The girls were required to maintain a "B" grade average in physical education and a "C" grade average in academic subjects. The Dukettes sponsored a soc hop after a December basketball game.

New Techniques Break Cheerleaders' Tradition

"Stop, look, and listen, here come the mighty Dukes!" was just one of the new chants that four of our varsity cheerleaders brought home from the National Cheerleading Association Camp. During their 5-day visit, the girls learned new cheers, techniques, and competed with other cheerleaders from many different schools.

To keep up with the many changes in cheerleading tradition at York the squad improvised many of their own cheers this year and practiced them to perfection after school on Tuesdays and Wednesdays under the supervision of Miss Sara Dewey. Another revision on the cheerleading squad was the varsity's new uniforms of green wool culottes, V-necked vests, and white turtle-neck jerseys.

The girls organized two pep rallies this year. One was before the sock hop the Friday night of Homecoming week-end and the other was the Friday afternoon before the Downers Grove football game. They also followed the Dukes and Barons throughout the year as far as Champaign for the State Cross Country Meet and to Carbondale for the Holiday Basketball Tournament.

Coach Newton Does It Again: Dukes 1st in WSC

In their usual places at the head of the pack Steve Crogan, Ron Lichty, and Al Anderson were the main reasons for the Barons' second place conference finish.

At the finish of a race a runner sometimes feels satisfaction; sometimes disappointment; but always exhaustion.

Rebounding from a demoralizing 19-42 dual meet defeat to Riverside-Brookfield, Coach Joe Newton's Dukes battled to win their eighth consecutive West Suburban Conference title and also placed second in the State meet. Dispelling all rumors that the Dukes were dead and their seven years of conference domination were coming to an end, Mark Schmelzel paced the Dukes to the conference title by placing second in the Conference meet. Following Schmelzel were John Wagner, John McCarty, Tom Nichols, and Larry Thomas finishing 7th, 10th, 11th, and 24th respectively.

Having placed second in both the District and Sectional meets, the Dukes earned the right to defend the state title they had won in 1968. The Harriers' efforts fell short as they placed second to Fremd. Earlier in the year the Dukes had placed third behind Fremd in the Peoria Invitational. Schmelzel was voted Most Valuable while Wagner and McCarty were Co-Captains.

With Ron Lichty, Steve Crogan, and Al Anderson leading the way, the Barons placed second in a hotly contested conference race. The sophs were undefeated until they suffered a dual meet loss to Maine East late in the season. Ron Lichty was voted Most Valuable.

Climaxing a strong season, Ron Lichty was the Dukes' fourth man in the State meet. As a result of his superior running, Lichty was voted Most Valuable Runner by his teammates.

Running in tandem, John Wagner and John Beyer provided depth in the Dukes' conquest of Proviso West in a crucial dual meet.

Finishing 10th in the State meet, Mark Schmelzel led the "Long Green Line" throughout the season.

In an attempt to relieve pre-meet tension, the Dukes go through their traditional four mile warm-up.

Keever, Mikal Lead Dukes' Resurgence in WSC

With the power and determination that were typical of the Dukes' 1969 comeback, Pat Keever sweeps end with pay dirt in sight.

In the first of two upsets, John Dearborn led the Dukes with 95 yards rushing and two touchdowns.

The winning of the Chicago Sun Times "Comeback of the Year" award epitomized York's resurgence to contention for the West Suburban Conference title. Coach Clark Fischer's Dukes rebounded from a 0-8 season and last place to a 6-2 season and third place in the conference, coming within one point of sole possession of the title when they lost to Downers Grove North 21-20.

All-Area and All-Conference selections Pat Keever and Randy Mikal led the comeback. Voted Most Valuable Back, Keever led the league in scoring with thirteen touchdowns while also gaining 1106 yards. Other players to be voted All-Conference were Captain Bob Stolper, Most Improved Bill Kolar, John Dearborn, and Greg Kentgen.

The misfortunes that plagued the Dukes of 1968 wore off to affect the Barons of 1969. Despite the efforts of leading scorer Frank Seter and leading rusher Brad Piche, Coach Marvin Carlson's sophomores finished the season with a 0-8 record. Dave Knuepfer was team captain while Orren Pickel, Keith Tilden, and Piche shared Most Valuable Back honors.

Converting on 18 out of 23 attempts, Greg Gale put points on the scoreboard when one point could make the difference between victory and defeat in crucial games.

With All-Conference Greg Kentgen and Earl Leuenberger blocking, John "Brill" Niemeyer connects on one of 20 passes he completed during the year. Niemeyer led the team with 485 yards passing while compiling a 53% completion average.

In order for a team to achieve success there must be a combined effort of both stars and supporting cast.

Dukes Win Regional; 2nd in Conference

Having been crowned champion in the West Leyden regional, the York Dukes advanced to the first round of sectional play where they lost to a hot-shooting Providence St. Mel team 66-55. Coach Cecil Stinson's Dukes earned the right to play Providence St. Mel when they defeated West Leyden, St. Patrick, and Holy Cross in the regional.

For the first time in the history of York basketball the varsity was captained by three men, Denny Pertle, Gary Dietelhoff, and Dan Purdom. Pertle and Dietelhoff were selected All-Conference at the end of the year. Junior Gary Pokorn was given honorable mention on the All-Conference squad. Pertle led the hard-court men in scoring and rebounds, averaging 21.2 points in conference play. Guard John Niemeyer sparked the team all year with his ballhandling as he led the varsity in assists. Niemeyer and Pertle were voted Most Valuable while Dana Wunderlich was voted Most Improved. The Dukes closed the year with a 17-7 record and second place in the West Suburban Conference.

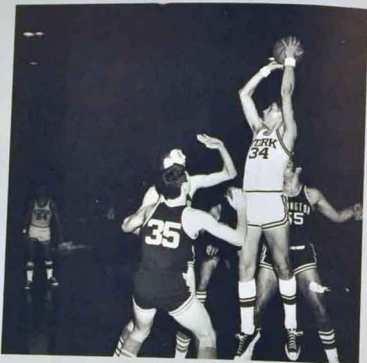

Placing third in the conference race, the Barons compiled a 19-5 overall record during the year. After losing three of their first six games, the sophomores won sixteen of their last eighteen games. Dale Hilliger led the team in points with 319. John Williams was voted team captain.

Averaging over thirty points in his last few games as a Duke, Gary Dietelhoff improved as the season progressed.

It was clutch shooting by Gary Pokorn that almost enabled the Dukes to upset LaGrange, the state's number one ranked team.

One of two Dukes named to the All-Conference squad, Denny Portie was given special mention on the Chicago Daily News All-Area team.

The winning of the Barons' last sixteen out of eighteen games came as a result of the play of sophomores like Dale Hilliger and Mike Gleason.

With precision passing and superior ballhandling John Niemeyer led the Dukes in assists.

It is said that the best defense is a good offense. In basketball a team must accomplish both for success.

DePaepe, Only Duke Named All-Conference

With varsity wrestlers Mark Koukl and Steve Priggee leading the way, Coach Lee Wachenheim's Dukes placed eighth in the District. Koukl and Priggee placed second and third respectively. Koukl had the best won-lost record as he had a season record of 14-5. Chuck DePaepe, the only Duke selected All-Conference; Brad Boers, and Priggee followed Koukl with 15-3, 10-3, and 7-3 records respectively. The matmen finished the year with a 4-9 dual meet record and a sixth place finish in the conference. Koukl was selected team captain while Most Valuable and Most Improved honors went to DePaepe.

As a result of the wrestling of Greg Henderson, Ron Lichty, and Jack Cesarone the Barons finished off the year with an 8-4 dual meet record. Suffering all their losses in conference competition, the sophs placed fifth in the conference. Coach Tony Portincaso's sophomores also compiled victories in the Wheaton and Ridgewood Quadranglers.

The sport of wrestling demands as much strategy and finesse as brute strength in order to overcome an opponent.

Raffen Places 2nd in State; Carney 3rd

Long hours are put in each week trying to perfect a routine, but when the meet arrives and practice is over, the gymnast has only one chance to prove himself.

John "Jake" McEllen, Coach Ken Scorza's top ringman, collected four first place finishes in dual meet competition.

Qualifying four men for the state finals, the varsity gymnasts had two men place. Senior Bill Carney placed third on the parallel bars while teammate Tim Raffin placed second on the trampoline. Ken Gosse who qualified in free exercises and Mark Kennedy who qualified in the trampoline failed to place.

Compiling a conference dual meet record of 3-4, Coach Ken Scorza's Dukes amassed 48½ points in the conference meet. Their total was good enough for fourth place in the meet and a tie for fourth place in the final West Suburban Conference standings. Leading the Dukes once again were Raffin and Carney as they placed first and second in their respective events.

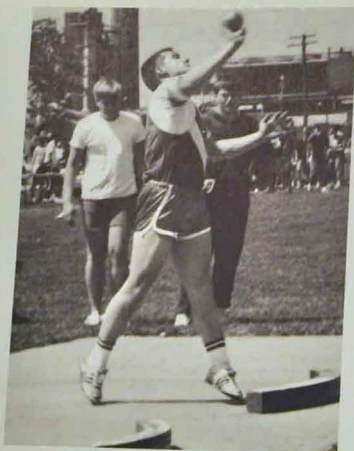

Behind the efforts of team captain Rick Hayden, the sophomore gymnasts placed third in the West Suburban Conference as they compiled a 5-2 conference dual meet record. Polled Most Valuable by their teammates were Hayden and Joe Kotowski, while Most Improved honors went to Bill Thigpen.

With a precisely timed jump, Bob Klinger was able to place third in the Conference meet.

Valant, Jones Lead Dukes to WSC Crown

Through the efforts of two-miler Pete Reiff, hurdler John Valant, and sprinter Tom Jones, the Dukes won first place in the West Suburban Conference, Rockford Relays, and the DuPage County meets. By placing second in the District Meet, York qualified ten men for the state finals. When it came to the state finals Reiff, Valant, and Jones were the only Dukes to place in their respective events.

In winning the Conference meet the thincads amassed a record 78½ points. The highlights of the meet were Valant placing first in both the high and low hurdles, Pat Keever and Tom Hagensee finishing first and second in the long jump, and Bob Rust and Chris Rentsch placing first and third in the discus respectively. Valant and Reiff were voted Co-Captains while Jones was selected Most Valuable.

Behind the record-breaking performances of Bill Uecker and Rick Dlugas the sophomore trackmen placed second in the West Suburban Conference. The Barons compiled a 6-1 dual meet record and won the Proviso West and Hinsdale Central Invitionals. John Dearborn was the soph's leading scorer.

As the Barons' leading scorer, John Dearborn starred in four events.

By placing first in the Golden Midwest Relays, Dave Burgener established himself as one of the nation's best high school pole vaulters.

Finishing first in both high and low hurdles competition, John Valant contributed 16 points of the 78 1/2 amassed by the Dukes in the Conference meet.

Flawless fielding and a .438 batting average were among the reasons for Ed Kuhlman's selection to the All-Conference team.

Kuhlman Leads League In Batting, Fielding

With an 8-6 conference and 11-8 overall record, the varsity baseball team finished in a tie for fourth place in the West Suburban Conference. Coach Eri Ellingson's Dukes were led by All-Conference stars Bob Newman and Ed Kuhlman.

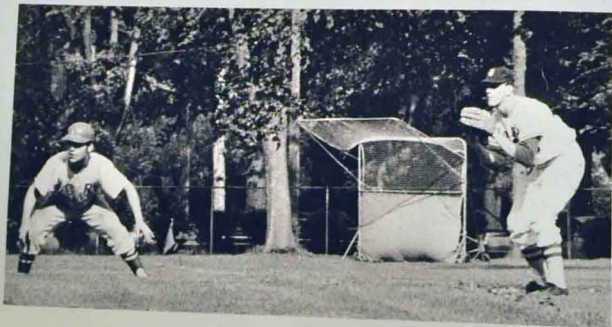

Kuhlman led the team and league in batting while also fielding his position throughout the season without committing an error. Following Kuhlman were Dan Purdom and John Niemeyer with .387 and .319 batting averages. Dennis Suominen and Newman headed the pitching staff as they both posted identical 5-2 records. Newman and Kuhlman were selected Most Valuable and Most Improved, respectively.

On the sophomore level, Coach Don Trollet's soph diamond men compiled a 6-8 record as they placed fifth in the conference. In non-conference play the Barons sported a 2-1 record. Much of the sophomores' strength came from their pitching staff led by Bob Cerone and Gary Rusch.

Enyart Sixth in WSC;

Barons Finish Third

Undefeated in non-conference competition, Coach Thomas Nelson's sophomore golfers battled their way to a third place conference finish. Shooting an 81 in the Conference meet, Ed Enyart led the Barons as he individually placed sixth in the meet. Rounding out the scoring were Les Raatz, Steve Mrowinski, and Rick Rua with an 82, 85, and 86 respectively. The soph linksters' meet total of 332 was the second best total a York sophomore team had ever compiled.

Suffering from a rash of close defeats, the varsity golfers placed seventh in the West Suburban Conference. Seniors Ken Davidsen and Leon Monachas and junior Jim Ekblad led the team throughout the year. Monachas was elected team captain as the Dukes closed the year with a 5-7 overall won-lost record.

The athlete toils through many long hours of practice until he eventually finds himself as an essential element of the team.

Dukes Third in WSC;

Barons Follow Suit

Stemming from the steady play of senior Mike Rozboril and juniors Dave Krohne and Bob Grob, the varsity tennis team battled to a third place finish in the West Suburban Conference. Bowing only to conference rivals Hinsdale Central and LaGrange, Coach Robert Paddock's Dukes compiled a 10-2 dual meet record.

The season saw Rozboril collect second place honors in both the District and Conference meets, losing to the eventual winners. By placing second in first singles in the District meet, Rozboril was the only Duke to travel to Champaign for the state finals. He was defeated in second round play. Rozboril's York tennis career was climaxed as he was voted captain and Most Valuable player. Most Improved honors went to Brent Sonnenberg.

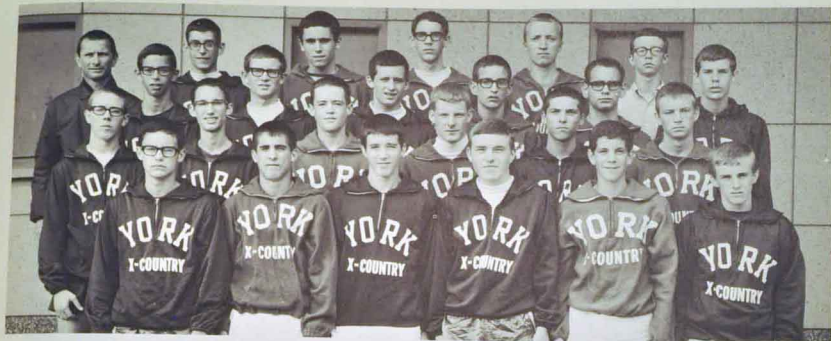

Accumulating 31 points for a third place conference finish, the Frosh-Soph netmen recorded the best season in the history of York tennis. Led by Most Valuable Player, Skip Jones, the Barons amassed a 15-3 dual meet record.

Unlike former teams, this year's girls' Tennis Team posed a real threat to opponents. Though bad weather prevented two meets, the rest were played as scheduled, with York a top contender for the number one position. Glenbard North, Glenbard East, and Willowbrook all fell prey to the girls' fine playing and it wasn't until the end of the season that Glenbard West defeated them in a well-played meet. They finished the season with a 6-2 record, placing second.

Singles players Jan Vaccaro and Sue Hahn acquitted themselves well, completing the season with individual records of 7-1 both losing only to foes from Glenbard West. The doubles sector of the team was unusually strong and contributed much to York's victories. Strong team effort and fine coaching on the part of Miss Bonnie Read enabled the team to make its best showing in several years.

Swimmers, Lettermen Work Beyond Call of Duty

With hopes of competing in two meets during the year, Phil Benezra and Hans Vogel comprised the York swimming team in a school that has no official swimming program. Sponsored by Miss Betty Bingham, the team was actually coached by Don Watson, the coach at state champion Hinsdale Central.

In the District meet Benezra qualified for State as he placed third and fifth in the one hundred yard backstroke and fifty yard free-style respectively. Vogel placed third in the two hundred yard individual medley but failed to qualify for State as he was 3.3 seconds off the state qualifying time of 2:12.0.

As a result of both Benezra and Vogel placing in two events in the West Suburban Conference meet, York placed sixth out of eight teams in the conference with a total of thirty-six team points.

Students Suffer Third Loss Against Faculty

Intramural Champions		Won	Lost
Seniors:	Doug Rose	8	2
Juniors:	John Van Sky Kyran Cahill	8	2
Sophomores:	Bob Johnson	8	2
Freshmen:	Don Busch	9	1

Suffering their third loss at the hands of the faculty, the student squad led by Jeff Kaden tied the game after three quarters, only to fall behind in the final stanza as a result of strong rebounding by Mr. Don Trollet.

Although the stakes are not as great in intramural play, competition is as intense as in any sport.

York welcomed a portrait of change this year with the arrival of Richard N. Stacy as principal. Stressing the importance of close communication between students and administration, Mr. Stacy visited homerooms on a regular basis to hear comments and to clarify school policy. He also listened to student council suggestions and those of various individuals. Communication with the faculty was strengthened through the administrative council which met every Thursday morning with Mr. Stacy. The administrative council in turn relayed messages to the teachers in their departments. Through improved communication within the school, problems were recognized and many were solved, or at least given consideration.

IN MEMORIAM — THOMAS BASH

During his years at York, Tom won his cross country and track numerals freshman and sophomore years, set a York track record in the 880 track event in 1968, won a cross country letter his junior year, and was one of five cross country runners who established the national high school cross country record in the two mile run. He served on Student Council freshman and junior years, was class treasurer his sophomore year, and was on York-Hi sports staff his junior year. Tom was an honor roll student and was chosen as the 1967 freshman citizen of the year. He will long be remembered by the class of 1970 and others for the outstanding person that he was.

Mrs. Lucile Albert, Yearbook Director

Contrary to popular belief, yearbooks don't just fall out of the sky around June 4! Months of planning and hard work on the part of the director, editors, staff, and those who work in conjunction with them go into the formulation of a yearbook.

Early sessions for planning the 1970 yearbook began in spring of 1969 when the editors, director, and Delmar Printing representative, Mr. Ed Hackleman, met to discuss the basic format of the book. Keeping in mind the budget allowed for the book, feasibility of various ideas were discussed, and some ideas were finalized. Work continued during the summer with the planning of the underclassmen and senior sections for which pictures were scheduled for late August. Staff members worked during registration week, then, to oversee and record the picture taking by Walingers Studio.

The editors and staff met every seventh hour and quite frequently more often to write copy, headlines, idents, and captions, plan pictures and sales, and design layouts for the book, as well as the cover which is manufactured by S. K. Smith and Company. Mrs. Lucile Albert, yearbook director, gave advice as problems arose with the publication; Mrs. Thor Holter kept things moving by typing the endless stream of copy. As each page was finished and ready to be sent to the Delmar Printing Company in Charlotte, North Carolina, the editors and director checked it over and it was on its way. Proofs were then made by the company and rushed back for approval by the editors. After corrections were made, the presses rolled. Thus the yearbook, filled with 240 pages of York's beautiful people, was completed.

The editors hope that this book is free of serious mistakes and apologize for any which might appear. We thank all those people involved in the preparation of this book.
