YORK COMMUNITY HIGH SCHOOL
ELMHURST, ILLINOIS

VOLUME 38

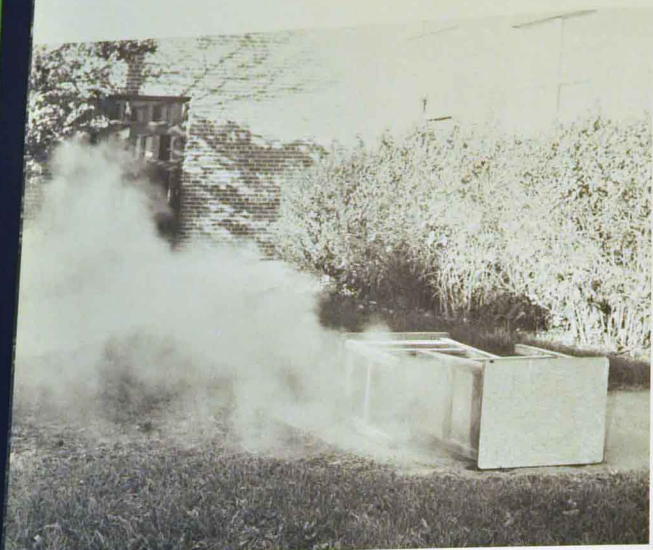

WILLOWBROOK HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY
PARK, ILLINOIS

Every day students enter that establishment known as York Community High School. Despite what they may think, by the simple act of entering the edifice they become involved with the building and its inhabitants.

Everyday, commonplace things take on a special meaning, they are a part of the high school experience, an experience that will be long remembered.

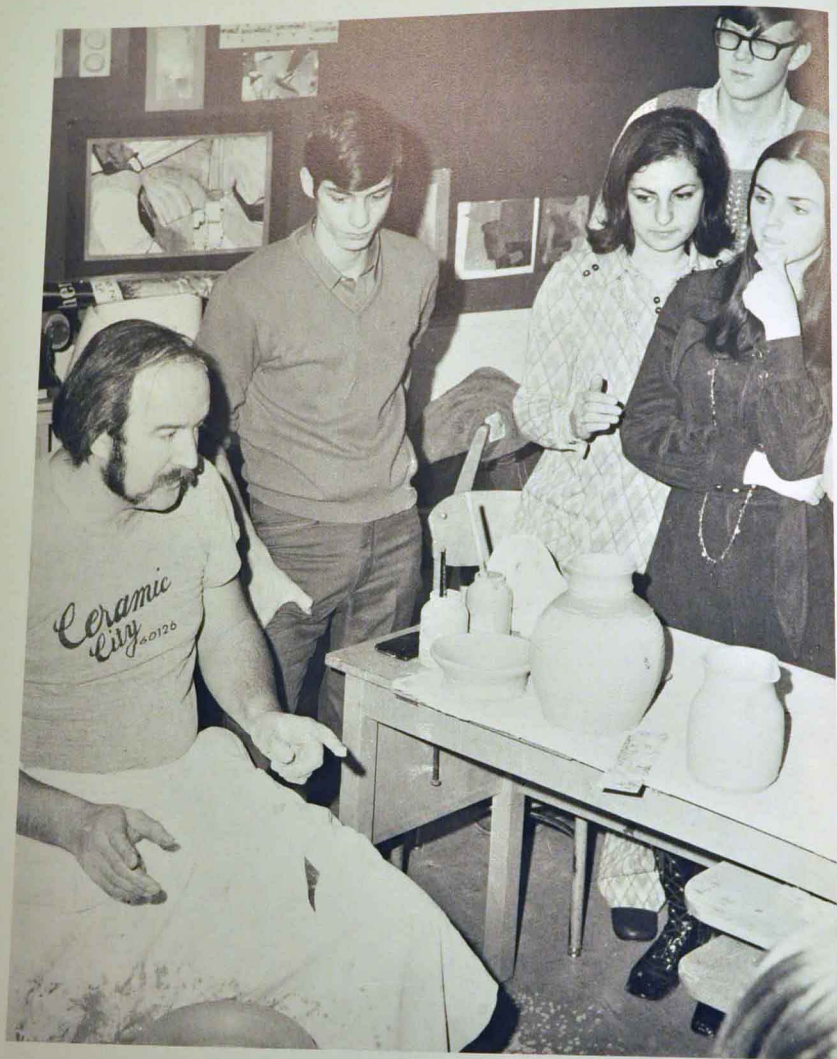

Given the opportunity and stimulation to experience the excitement of learning, one finds the lasting rewards of the life of the mind, an encounter that produces an everlasting love of knowledge.

No longer existing as a receptacle of meaningless facts and outdated principles, teachers can not remain complacent, expounding the same thing year after year, but must daily bring some new facet to each and every class.

Absorbed in study, the individual sometimes becomes oblivious to his surroundings.

Faced with the challenge of scholarship, each student reacts to problems in different ways.

The ability to conform to the group but to remain in one's own way unique is to be successful.

Involvement in a common interest delivers upon the individual an outlet for his own creativity.

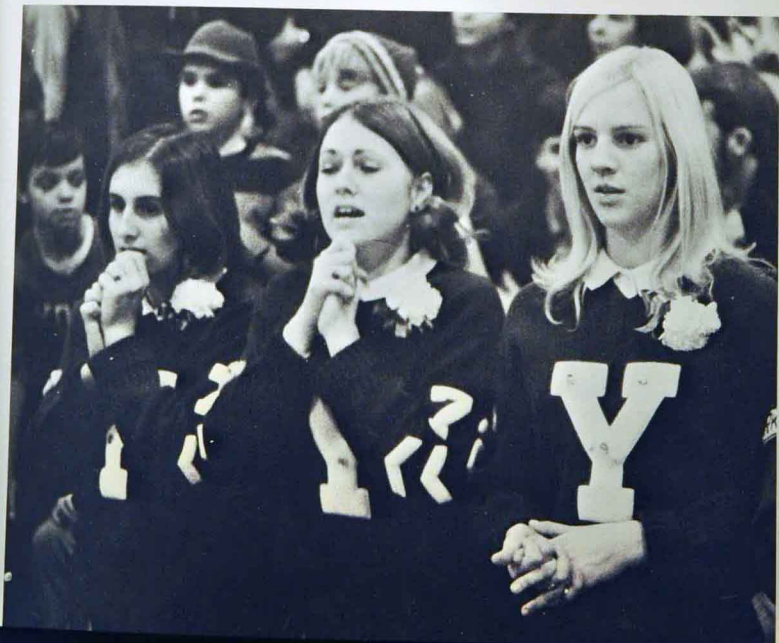

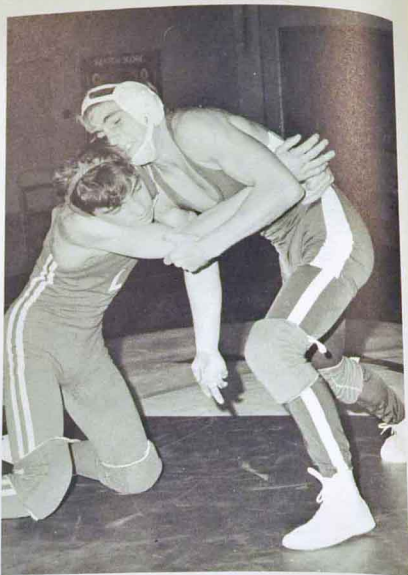

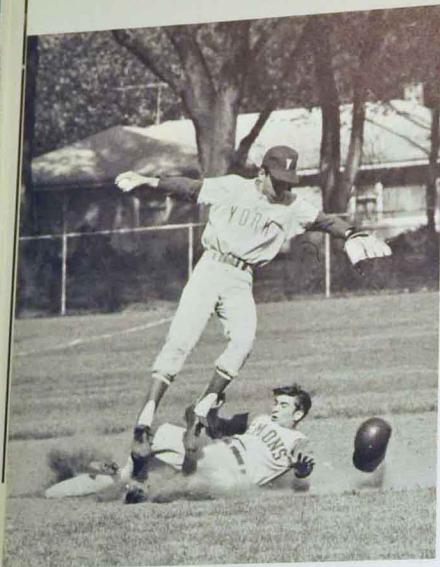

Emotion is but involvement.

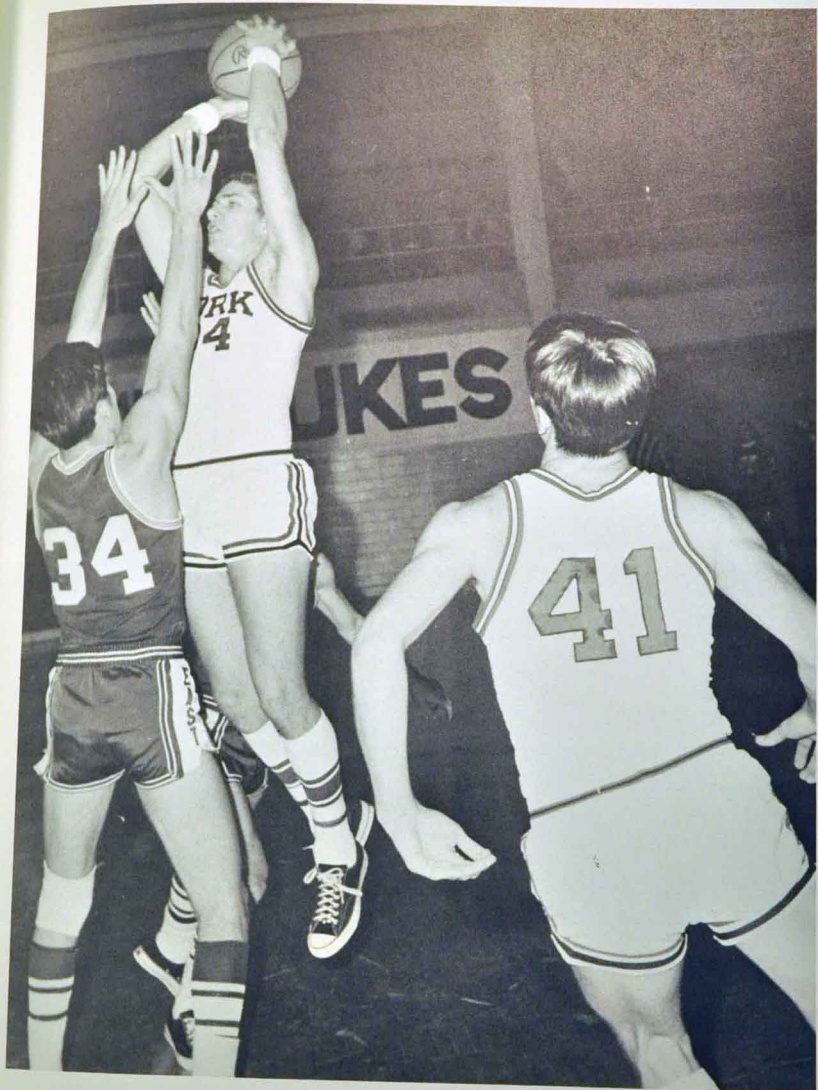

Allowing the urge for self-satisfaction to become subordinate the individual finds pride in the success of a group.

But in order to contribute to a team the drive for self-improvement must remain predominant.

Within every individual is the desire to be associated with a group, to be able to partake of common experience.

Friends provide a necessary escape from the accumulated pressures of a life of involvement.

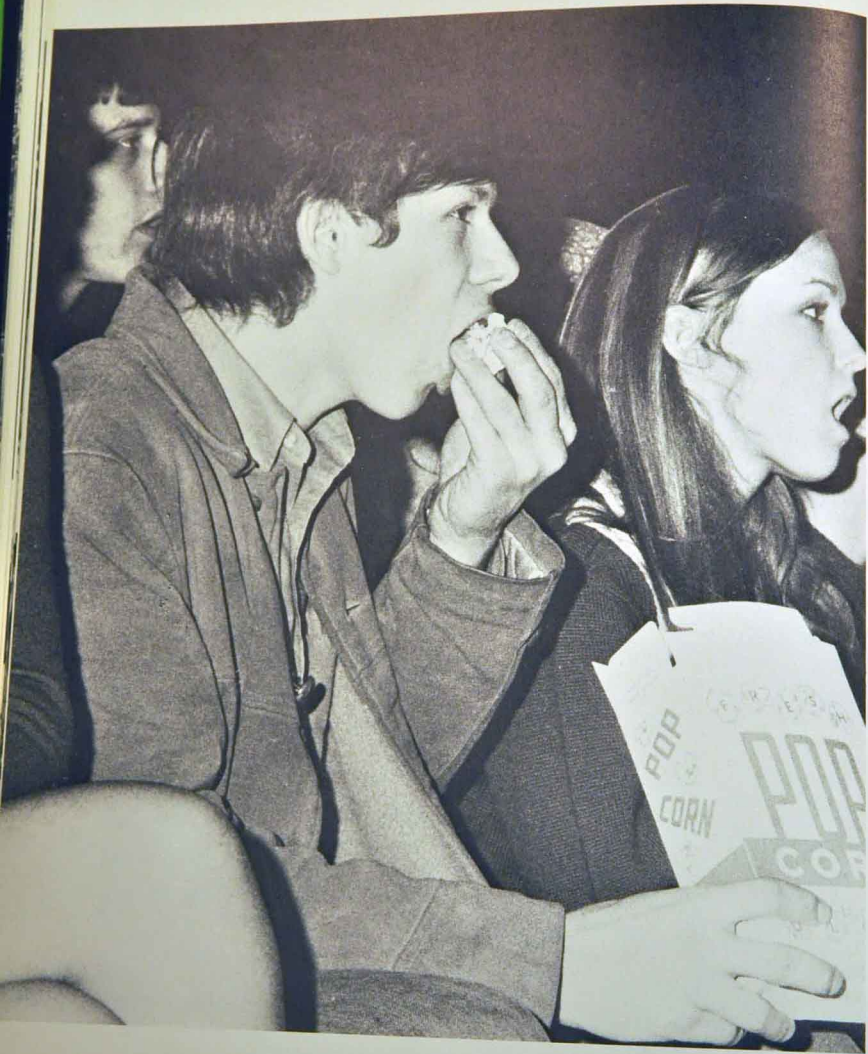

Together couples discover,
sometimes losing the drive for individuality.

What a piece of work is man . . .
—Hamlet

ACA

A variety of events and activities offers each student the chance to become involved.

Everyone continues to go forth on different paths — inevitably involved with each other.

In the final year of high school life, the activities of seniors are bound to be varied and sometimes peculiar.

English Reintroduces Old Mother Goose

Authors ranging from Chaucer and other English greats to Ogden Nash were studied by students in English Literature. During a three-week study of children's literature, students wrote rhymes and tales for young children. It was not merely a fun course since the students had to pretend they were back in primary school.

Several field trips were taken this year by the humanities classes. They viewed movies at the Art Institute. Students also conducted a class project in which everyone brought a different object to class. The articles were then randomly assembled to form a collage. Afterwards students tried to find a meaning for their new creation.

Students Conduct Psychological Test

From the study of physical geography to the study of Buddha—these were some of the many varied topics students in the Social Studies Department researched. In the psychology classes experiments were conducted to show the effects of conditioning on learning. Students worked with mazes and, in another experiment, a rat was trained to get water by pressing a rod.

In an effort to expose students to current issues, a political discussion group was formed. This group met with similar groups from other schools several times during the year. An assembly for junior and senior social studies classes was also held to acquaint students with the proposed constitution. Mr. William Sommershield, a Con-Con delegate, summarized the constitution and answered questions from the audience.

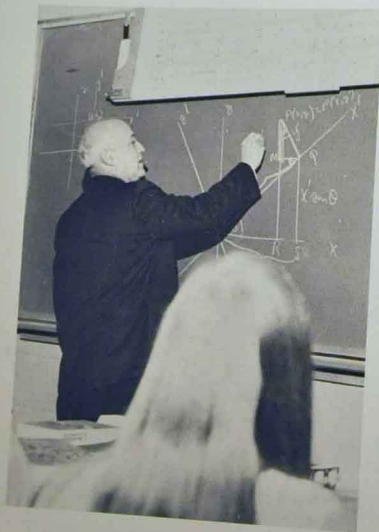

Math Lab Serves Confused Students

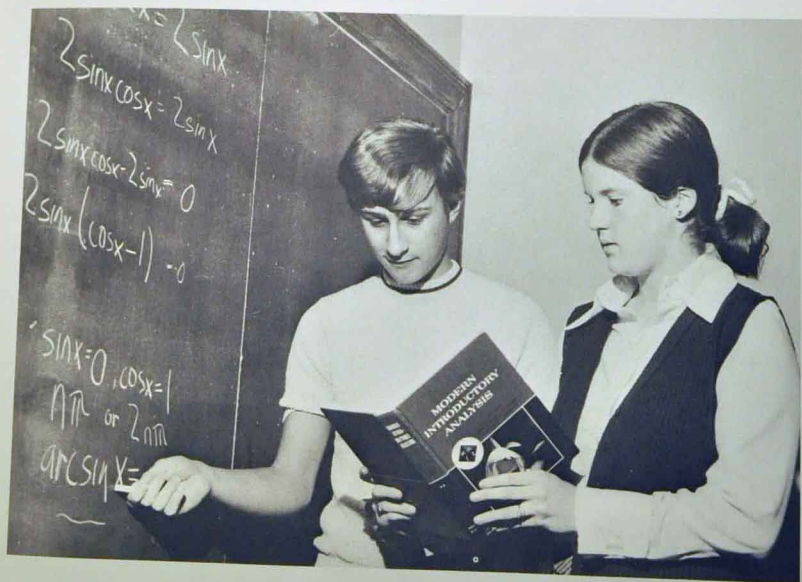

Algebraic functions and circular geometry no longer proved to be an "impossible problem." With the installment of the math lab, students were able to receive help from qualified mathematics teachers. The lab was open all day for the students' convenience.

Those wishing to pursue their interests in computers were able to receive credit through a new program,—the Independent Study Course for Computer Programming. The purpose of this program was to permit interested students to acquaint themselves with the computer, a vital instrument in today's world. This course made it possible for students to study the computer whenever they had spare time and receive credit for their study.

Experiments Helpful In Investigations

With the broadening of the science curriculum and the purchasing of new equipment, students were offered new opportunities to pursue their scientific interests. In a new course, Project Physics, teachers hoped to demonstrate the fascination and importance found in the field of physics by emphasizing extensive experimentation and the study of renowned physicists. Carefully selected instruments, such as the laser, a high-speed timer, and a ripple tank, aided the student in comprehending vital principles and concepts during his laboratory endeavors.

Some participants in the science program displayed an extraordinary amount of interest. The Bausch and Lomb Award, presented annually to the senior who displayed the most outstanding effort and ability in science, brought worthy recognition and honor. Another student won an award for his project concerning amino acid synthesis at the University of Illinois; still another engaged in the activities of a summer science institute and spent several weeks working with students at the University of Colorado.

French Food Co-op Unites Departments

"Tres delieux!" This comment rang through the halls of York following the French dinner served by the Home Economics Food classes to the advanced French classes. These students were taking part in a new cooperative project on the subject of French eating habits. They studied French history, customs, and food preparation. The techniques of gourmet cooking were demonstrated to the French students, who then had the pleasure of sampling the feast. The unanimous response — a loud "merci beaucoup!"

The Foreign Language Department offered a few select students a chance for individualized study. Fourth year students who excelled in their respective language were allowed to engage in a more in-depth study of the literature of each country. These students also led class discussions of major literary works.

Music Appreciation Reaches Crescendo

In an effort to increase music appreciation, the Music Department performed both in and out of school. Senior Choir sang holiday greetings at Christmas, spreading yuletide cheer in the halls of York and in Chicago where they caroled at the Northwestern train station and Federal Reserve Building. At Easter the choir appeared on television as a part of a special program of the Lenten season. Jazz Band furthered its reputation by giving several concerts including a combined concert with its counterpart at Willowbrook. For the first time, Jazz Band entered competition at the Oaklawn Stage Band Festival in which one hundred suburban and downstate high school bands and combos took part.

A color guard and flag corps were added to the marching band. Carrying alternate flags of green and white, the flag corps added color to the marching units. The varsity band, color guard, and flag corps performed at football games and two parades.

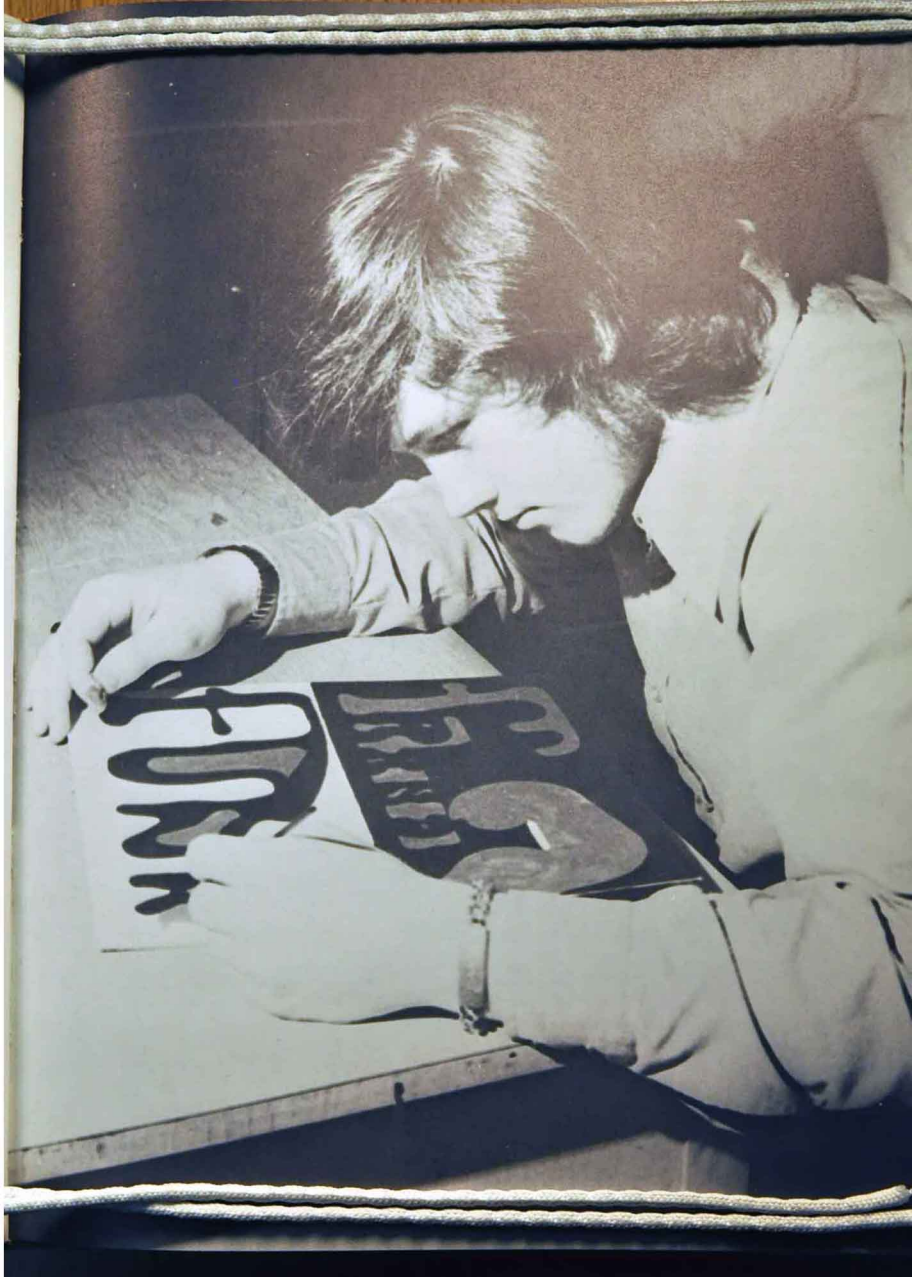

Art Shows Become Point Of Interest

The world of ceramics and commercial art came to York students in the form of two guest speakers. Mr. Bill Farrell, a well-known ceramist, demonstrated his work and talked to art students. A commercial artist, Mr. Milton Priggee, spoke to the painting classes and arranged a field trip through several Chicago art studios.

New to the Art Department was an independent study program. It gave students an opportunity to pursue an area of particular interest. With the help of his advisor, each participant arranged a curriculum for his individualized studies.

Art shows gave students an opportunity to display their talent. Students' work was displayed at the Elmhurst Public Library and at shows held in conjunction with school plays and concerts.

Jobs Teach Basic Office Techniques

Money-making is a sure-fire way to interest students in business techniques and that is the approach the Business Education Department used. The theory and study of the classroom was combined with actual business experience in this dual-purpose course. Important business fundamentals, such as typing, shorthand, filing, the operation of office machines, bookkeeping, and office etiquette were learned not only through books, but also through job experience. Students participating in the program were employed part-time in offices and received compensation for it.

A guest speaker from the Patricia Stevens Finishing School discussed occupational opportunities with several business education classes. Students discovered many facts about careers in modeling, secretarial work, the airlines, and computer programming.

Boys Experiment In Art Of Cooking

While women are fighting to get away from the drudgery of homemaking, some men have a secret longing to get into the kitchen and do their thing. Here at York, they are not keeping it a secret any longer. The Home Economics Department initiated a new course called Boys' Chef, designed for all young men with an interest in food preparation. They are taught basic cooking principles, management, care and use of equipment, consumer buying, and etiquette in food service, both in restaurants and at home.

Many tastefully decorated homes will be seen in the future as a result of another new career course available to junior and senior girls. Housing and Home Furnishing taught students not only how to co-ordinate furnishings, but how to find good values and choose furniture wisely.

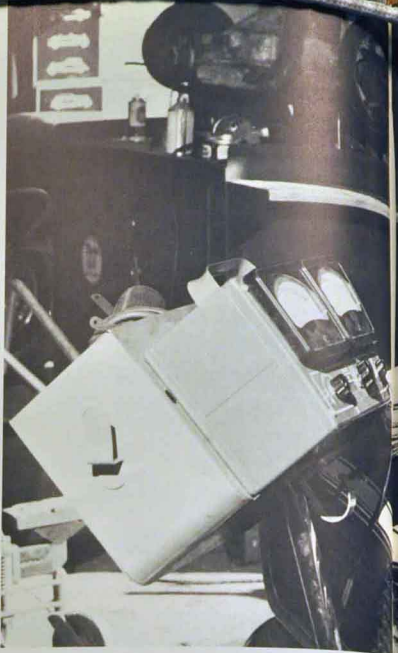

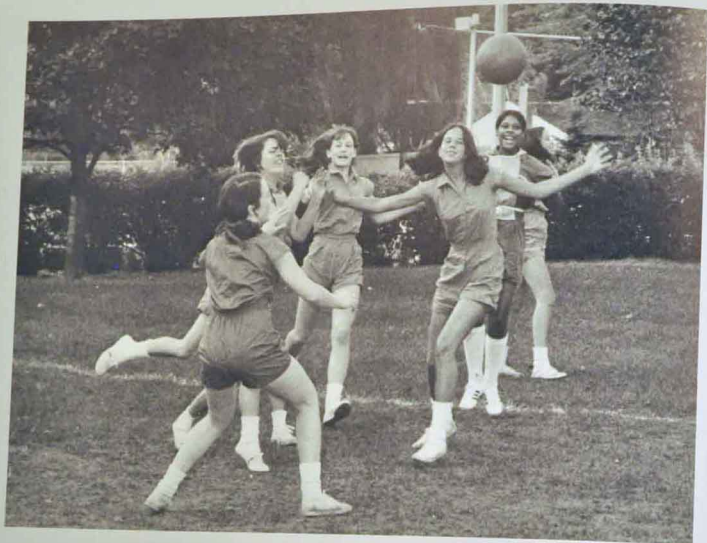

New Machines Aid Vocational Training

Cleaning up the odds and ends, such as tools, bicycles, and gardening equipment, that clutter most homes was the goal of the boys enrolled in the woods course. The mission was accomplished through the construction of home storage centers. Students studied construction carpentry and then designed and constructed the home storage centers.

Other innovations in the Industrial Arts Department came in the form of new classes and equipment. The Graphic Arts course was designed for both girls and boys. Students were introduced to photography and graphic layout. Approaches to technical training were also changed. Drafting was emphasized as a language. New machines — a dynamometer to test automobiles, both before and after they were repaired, and tig and spot welders — were available to students enrolled in the Industrial Arts courses.

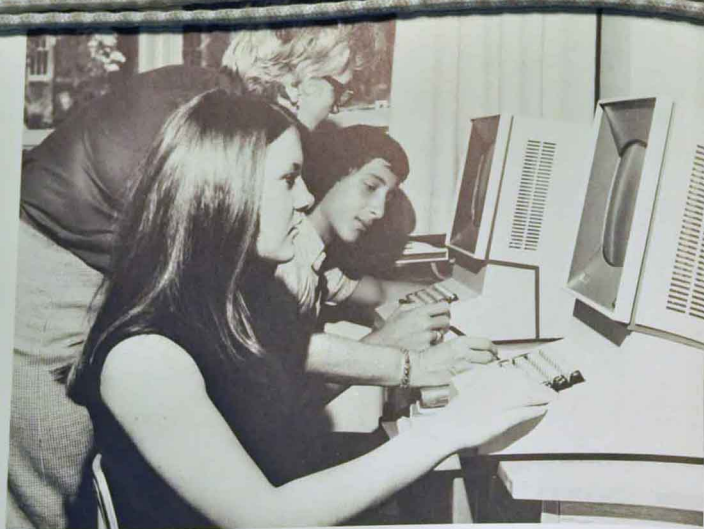

Performing Dance — A Common Interest

Whirling Dervishes? No, it was just a group of boys learning the basic techniques of modern and jazz dance. The Physical Education Department initiated this open lab last year, and students signed up for what was then just a possibility. The boys participated in the school play "Love Rides the Rails" and others joined the performing dance class.

Terpsichore also infected the Girls' Physical Education Department with a strong desire to dance. The busy little muse was responsible for York's first dance company. The girls in the performing dance class gave a tour of several Chicago area schools over a period of two months during March and April. The modern dances presented were choreographed by the students. Because of the limited size of the class, students had to apply for admittance last year.

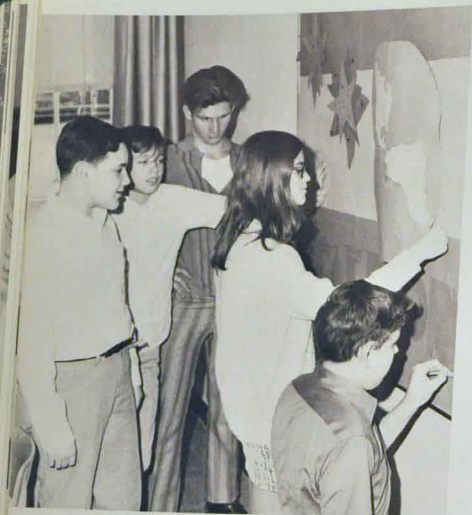

Computer, Records Modernize Services

Automation came to the guidance department in the form of CVIS, Computer Vocational Information System. The new $60,000 computer was used for obtaining vocational information and college information, and for scheduling. Schedule changes were accomplished by CVIS much faster than if they had been done by a counselor. Students were given the opportunity to sign up to operate the computer during their free periods. The computer assisted students in finding information about colleges, technical schools, local apprenticeships, jobs, and military programs.

A more relaxed atmosphere was evident in the library this year. Both the upstairs and downstairs libraries were decorated with unique and colorful pictures chosen by the art committee. A record player, including headphones and a cabinet of records, was available to students at the first floor library. The collection of records varied from Stravinski and Beethoven to Bob Dylan and the Beatles.

Individual Studies Keynote Special Ed

A new dimension — the Program for Individual Achievement — was added to the Special Education Department to go along with the existing classes for the Multiply Handicapped Deaf, and the Educable Mentally Handicapped. In its first year, this program stressed achievement by the students both in and out of school. The students participated in group development and also received individual tutoring.

Individualized instruction was the keynote for the Multiply Handicapped Deaf; their studies being primarily oriented toward increasing communication skills. In addition, pre-vocational training was offered to aid in the development of independence in adult life. Most of the students worked for several hours a day at jobs outside the classroom.

The Educable Mentally Handicapped also stressed individuality during the year. Through the use of new study carrels, students were able to work independently on studies and projects of their own.

Televisions Prompt Student Awareness

Employing their knowledge of visual aids several boys installed a television chain in the cafeteria to broadcast the daily bulletin. Student interviews and editorials were also broadcast over the television system. The television sets proved to be effective in attracting students' attention. The audio-visual room was transformed into a mock television studio with a small television set constructed from take-apart panels. Interviews and editorials were taped from this room.

Another important addition to the department was a headliner acquired during the school year. This machine photographed hand lettered master sheets, producing precisely lettered transparencies.

Ad Hoc Assumes Student Government

Because the proposal for a new constitution was not ratified last year, Ad Hoc, a principal-appointed committee, temporarily took over the duties of the nonexistent student council and the responsibility for amending or rewriting the constitution. In the fall, the proposed amendments were defeated by the student body, but another set was passed before the Christmas vacation. The major change was that representatives would be elected from senior social studies classes. A special class was set up for those seniors who took the social studies course in summer school.

The right of student council to request the principal to appoint a new sponsor, if three-fourths of the members prefer was also voted in. A change in the amendment process also increased the chance of passage of the amendments by requiring only two-thirds of one-third of the student body to pass. The new student council convened at the semester and carried on the activities already begun by the Ad Hoc committee.

Weekenders Share "Friendship's Glow"

"Walk together, talk together, O ye peoples of the earth. Then and only then shall ye find peace." The official AFS motto was truly observed this year when York was granted its first AFS weekend in several years. Twenty-one foreign students from surrounding communities were invited to experience "A Glow of Friendship" as they visited the homes of York students for three days. They joined York's AFS'ers — Keisuke Wakabayashi of Japan, Karin Asen of Sweden, and Bill Eichar, a summer returnee from France — in a tour of Elmhurst. The entire student body was invited to attend an open house to meet and talk with the guests.

The AFS Committee, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Joanne Fischer, was responsible for raising the money which supported the foreign students attending York for the year. In keeping with their aim of bringing peace and love to the world, they held their annual mistletoe sale in December. However, instead of holding their traditional candy sale, the committee experimented this year with a donkey ball game held in the spring. Spectators were treated to the sight of students and faculty playing basketball while riding donkeys.

Ideas Materialize On Yearbook Pages

Time was of the essence to staffers who had to complete pages to meet deadlines. Although the yearbook was not distributed until one of the final school days in June, section editors had to have their designated parts of the book completed many months earlier. Copy writers gathered information to write copy blocks, headlines, ident, and captions while layout members worked out the placement of pictures and copy on each page in order to finish pages needed to be sent to the printer each month.

News of yearbook sales, picture sales, and other necessary information was relayed through the daily bulletin, York-Hi articles, posters outside the staff room, and word-of-mouth. There were senior Y's Tales representatives in senior social studies classes to distribute senior biographies and bulletins relating to senior pictures.

Through the efforts of all staff members and sponsor, Mrs. Juanita Sanders, the yearbook tried to portray a memorable representation of the 1970-71 scholastic year.

Subscriptions Boost York-Hi Circulation

Surveys and the column "In My Opinion" reflected student views on subjects ranging from drugs to overcrowded buses in this year's York-Hi. A means of gaining attention and results from the administration was provided in the form of editorials. In-depth coverage of controversial issues, school news, literary reviews, and sport stories continued the paper's policy of showing student interest.

A new system of shifting staffs proved effective in increasing the number of issues. Page editors alternated with each publication. Picture pages appeared for the first time as a collage of photos with accompanying captions.

The District 88 Plan challenged the effectiveness and worth of the York-Hi in covering all the news and reaching the student body. The brainpower of sponsor Mrs. Marjorie Rollow and the entire staff combined to meet the challenge by featuring concise news coverage as well as entertainment.

Choir Serenades Busy Commuters

Serenading commuters at Union Station in Chicago, York's Senior Choir spread cheer during the Christmas season. Several other school choirs entertained passers-by during the week before Christmas vacation. The Chicago and Northwestern trains provided the transportation back and forth. Busy shoppers heard voices coming through microphones outside the Chicago Federal Savings Bank where the Senior Choir was caroling. The singers were bussed home after being served a free box lunch in the bank's cafeteria.

Folk groups and a barber shop quartet gained valuable experience in singing before an audience as they entertained during the year. Other choirs, directed by Mr. Jack Witmer, included Girls' Glee Club, Freshman Girls' Choir, and Freshman Mixed Choir.

Orchestra Blends Old, Modern Beats

Emphasis on the study of excellent literature and contemporary music guided the orchestra this year under the new directorship of Mr. James Plondke. Highlighting the Fall String Concert and the Winter Concerts were selections of the old masters Bach, Mozart, Beethoven, and Copland.

In addition to the concerts the orchestra held four Solo and Ensemble Recitals in the library, and played at assorted social functions such as faculty teas and grade school P. T. A. meetings. Various members participated in the Allerton Park Chamber Music Symposium.

The end of the year was marked by competition in the State Solo and Ensemble Contest and the State Orchestra Concert.

Preparing for their appearances before audiences at the annual Christmas, winter, and spring concerts, solo and ensemble recitals, and state solo and ensemble contest, members of the concert band, under the direction of Mr. LaVerne Reimer, practiced during fourth period each school day. Separate sections of the band practiced after school on designated nights to attain harmony throughout the section. Through general ability placement, based on try-outs and challenges, band members competed for their chairs within each section.

During the football season a color guard and flag corps were added to the marching units. With alternating flags of green and white, the flag corps led the band on the field. At basketball games a pep band entertained at half-times, between games, and accompanied pom pon girls in their routines. Christmas greens were sold to help finance a future band excursion similar to last year's tour of Southern California.

French Club Holds Annual Mardi Gras

FRENCH CLUB OFFICERS. Seated: Karen Melgard, President; Cathy Izzo, Secretary; Becky Eichar, Vice President. Standing: Linda Beecher, Treasurer.

To the tune of the Marseillaise, French Club began its annual Mardi Gras celebration last February. All the participants wore costumes, with a prize given for the best one. The initiation of the new members provided entertainment for the evening. The new members also had to wait on the old members. Highlighting the evening was the crowning of two French Club members as the king and queen of Mardi Gras.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Lois Wallace, French Club participated in many activities throughout the year. In the fall, members worked on the homecoming float, which placed second in the club competition. The annual Christmas party and play was held in December, along with a caroling party. In January, Epiphany, the commemoration of the appearance of Christ in the form of the Magi, was celebrated. Money was raised by the sale of daffodils in the spring and by the club's booth at Spring Fling.

Among the various costumes at the Mardi Gras appeared this milking maid and her unusual cow.

Tortillas Spice-Up Christmas Fiesta

Tradition reigned in Spanish Club activities. After repeated tries the pinata was finally broken and the contents were scattered all over the floor at the annual Christmas fiesta. Members made punch and cookies which were enjoyed after the members had scrambled for the contents of the pinata. Tortillas, enchilladas, and tacos were tempting treats awaiting those who attended the mini-fiesta. Members became better acquainted with Spanish cooking and customs.

Tradition also reigned in that the Spanish Club float again placed in the Homecoming competition. "Siesta Time For Lyons," a sleeping donkey, won the club a second place finish.

Culture and customs of Spanish-speaking countries of the world were also explored as club sponsor, Mr. Allan Jacobson took the Spanish enthusiasts to the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago to view the Christmas Around the World exposition. Another educational field trip was taken to the Auditorium Theater to see the Ballet Folklorico.

Strategy, Technique Improve In Play

Battling the teams of the West Suburban Conference, the York Chess Club hoped to improve its fourth place finish of the previous year. Primarily formed to spread the playing of the game throughout the school and to broaden student minds, the organization was about twenty members strong. Fund-raising activities were sponsored to aid with financial betterment and plans were made to send some participants to a tournament in New York City.

Ten members, each exercising his capabilities of strategic planning and concentration, competed in each meet. While continually hoping to improve their playing techniques, they enjoyed this interesting pastime that originated in the sixth century.

Craps! This was the shout heard at the annual Math Club craps game. It was through such activities that Math Club members learned about topics such as probability, computer technology, and other fields. The club was active in other ways also. The homecoming float placed third in club competition and club members helped math contest participants prepare for the test.

Darwin Receives Birthday Wishes

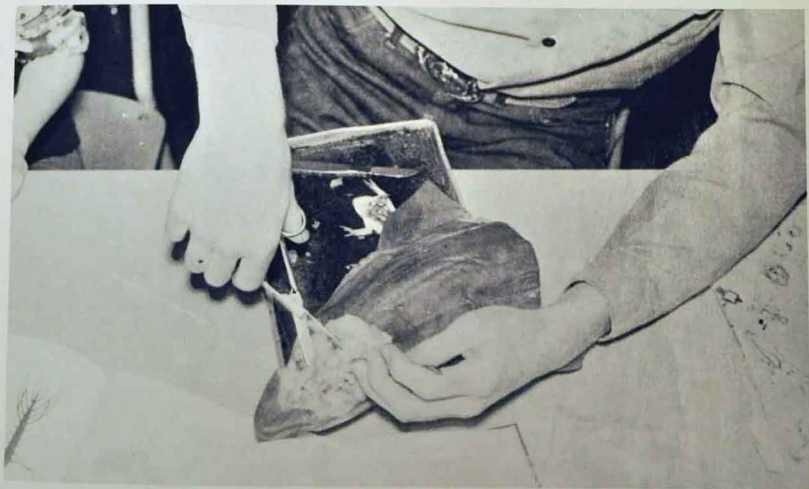

How many birthday parties do you suppose are held for men born in the early 1800's? At least one was, as the Biology Club honored Charles Darwin, a famous English naturalist and the originator of the theory of evolution. A fossil expedition and a party held at the home of the club sponsor, Miss Viola Henrikson, were also among the organizational activities.

"A Tour of the Division of Biology and Medicine" and "Diagnosis and Therapy with Radiation," movies depicting surgery and applications of the study of life, unveiled a world of fascination and discovery. Experiments and detailed talks helped members to comprehend important concepts. Ecological problems and careers in the biological field were also topics of several discussions.

FTA Members Aid Troubled Scholars

Aiding teachers and fellow students, members of FTA gained valuable experience in the teaching profession. For seven years Future Teachers of America, sponsored by Mr. Dan Kane and Mrs. Doris Dailey Brogren, have offered their services in this tutoring program. Any student wishing to be tutored needed only to sign up in front of the guidance office and a tutor was found for him.

Members of future teacher clubs at Willowbrook, IC, and Addison Trail were invited to a pot-luck dinner at York. The joint dinner provided a chance for the aspiring young teachers from the four different schools to exchange teaching experiences and discuss their future teaching desires. A teacher of special education spoke at one of the meetings at which all in attendance were taught sign-language used in teaching the deaf. A field trip to a state college was planned to observe teaching techniques at a college level.

Both students and FTA members benefited from the tutoring experience.

To cultivate new interests in the club, last year's Future Nurses Club changed its name to Future Health Careers Club. This year the group included not only those who plan to become nurses, but also those interested in any type of career related to medicine and health. In this way it widened the scope of membership in the organization.

Homecoming arrived, after much hard work, bringing the girls in the club a fourth-place finish in car competition with the slogan "Cage The Lions." In early December members of the Future Health Careers Club, under the guidance of Mrs. Catherine Meyer, went to the Shriners' Children's Hospital and made decorative Christmas ornaments with the patients. To earn money a wide assortment of baked goods was sold at the Elmhurst Federal Savings and Loan. The club also viewed several movies concerning possible health careers.

Spring Semi-Formal A "Barefoot" Dance

"Barefoot in the Park" was the theme for the Girls' Club traditional girl-ask-boy-ask-girl semi-formal dance held in the spring. Despite the title, shoes were worn by all who attended the dance. With the use of park benches, lamp posts, and water fountains in a vast array of blues, greens, and golds the boys' gym was transformed into a park scene. By selling calendars at the opening of school, baked goods, and concessions at basketball games, the club raised enough money to cover the expenses for the dance.

Christmas was celebrated with an annual party for all members and the making and distributing of red felt stockings filled with candy to the entire faculty. For Valentine's Day, the club sponsors, Mrs. Ilene Hardy and Mrs. Pat Brands took the girls, laden with cookies, to a convalescent home in an effort to brighten the day for the elderly at the home.

Pep Club Banners Boost School Spirit

"Victory" banners were a common sight in the cafeteria this year. Pep Club members spent many hours painting these huge posters to promote school spirit. With the new system of four shifts, students frequently were unaware of school events. Pep Club contributed a great deal by briefing the student body on all athletic events and consequently increasing the "turn-out." It was not at all uncommon for the athletes to enter the locker rooms before important games to find decorations of more banners, green and white crepe paper, and balloons. Pep Club members, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Margaret Novosad, also made felt, candy-filled stockings for the teams at Christmas time. All this was done for one reason — to boost York's school spirit.

By selling mums at the Homecoming game this fall, Pep Club succeeded in doing two things. The yellow and white flowers brightened many a girl's day and made a beautiful sight from the opposing team's bleachers. The mum-selling also helped to send spectators downstate for the cross-country meet.

Christmas Routine Brightens Holiday

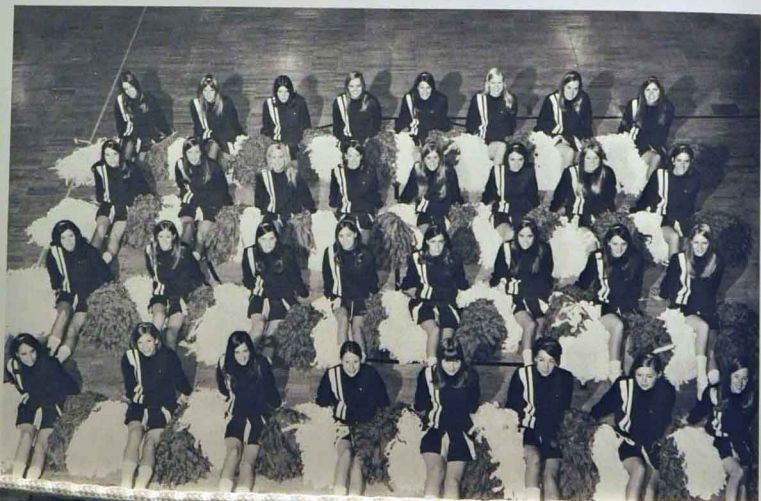

New uniforms enhanced the Dukettes in their performances at football and basketball games. The peppy green sweaters trimmed in white and matching green skirts gave a different look to the 1970-71 pom pon squad. Under the leadership of Mrs. Caryl Jones, the five juniors and twenty-seven seniors practiced during the fourth period each day, trying to reach perfection in each dance step. Through the ingenuity of the two year girls, the routines improved at each performance.

To promote Christmas spirit, the Dukettes performed a special Christmas dance, done to the music of "Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer," at the last home game before the Christmas holidays. Festive pins were sold the week before the Christmas vacation and numeral shirts were sold to make money to cover the expense of the uniforms.

Cheerleaders Win First Place Trophy

A first place trophy was won by the Varsity Cheerleaders during the summer at Lake Forest College. Here the girls learned new cheers, techniques, and competed with other cheerleaders from many different schools.

The squads improvised many of their own cheers this year and practiced them to perfection after school on Wednesdays under the supervision of Miss Sara Dewey. Another revision of the cheerleading squad was the varsity's and frosh-soph's new uniforms.

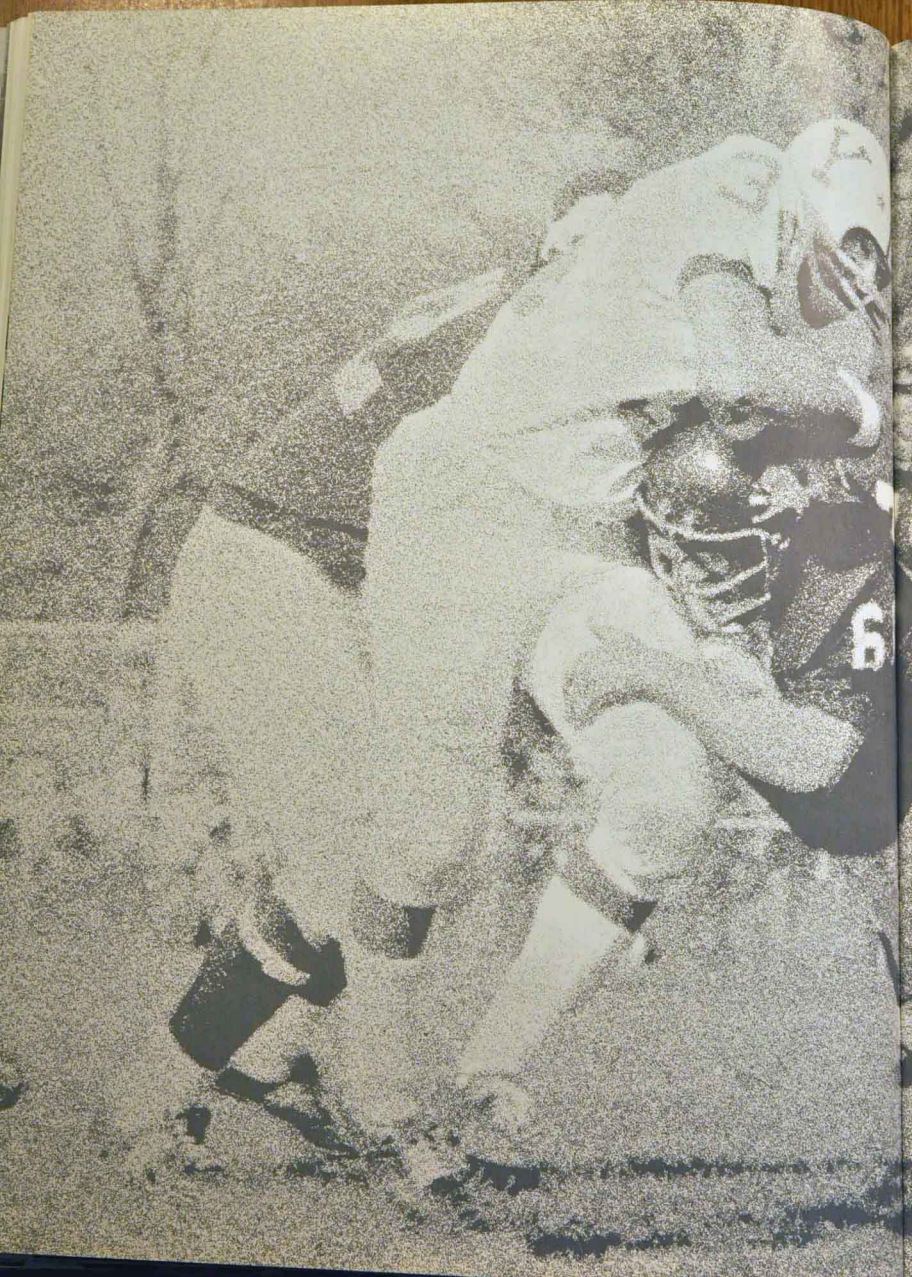

The cheerleaders sold mugs with the York emblem on them and three different types of stationery to cover their many expenses. The girls organized one pep rally this year. It was before the sock-hop, the Friday night of Homecoming weekend.

Dukes Win District Title; 8th in State

Responding to the challenge after the loss of key runner Mark Schmelzel, Coach Joe Newton's varsity cross country team was again prominent in big meet competition. With Ron Lichty and Larry Thomas heading the Long Green Line, the harriers captured the District championship, took third in the Sectional Meet, and then went on to gain an eighth place finish in the State Meet. In the DuPage County Meet, the Dukes succumbed only to Naperville, 56 to 59, a team that later went on to take fourth in the State Meet. In the powerful West Suburban Conference, the Dukes carried a 5-2 dual meet record, and finished a strong fourth in the Conference Meet. Lichty, because of his consistent excellent performances, merited Most Valuable honors, while Larry Thomas was polled Captain.

Behind the efforts of co-leading scorers John Pesek and Jeff Klemann, the Barons compiled a 7-1 dual meet record and placed second in the Conference Meet. The sophs won the DuPage County Meet with a 36 points, and merited themselves with a second place finish in the Sophomore Invitational. Pesek was voted Most Valuable.

Ron Lichty, climaxing a fine junior year as the Dukes number one man, finished 21st in the State Meet.

Running his best race of the year in the State Meet, senior Larry Thomas was a key factor in the Dukes' eighth place finish.

Rich Hart, who along with Bob Cerone qualified as York's leading pass receiver, beat Willowbrook defenders for a 23-yard score.

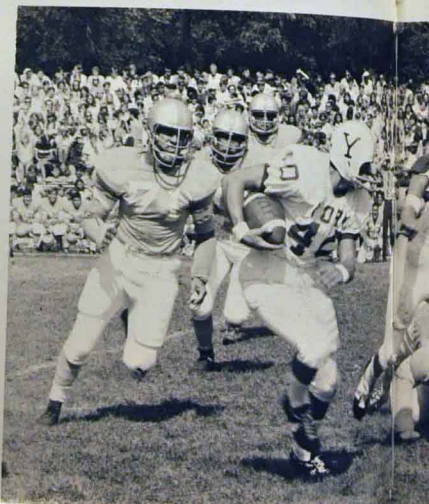

Three Dukes Named To All-WSC Squad

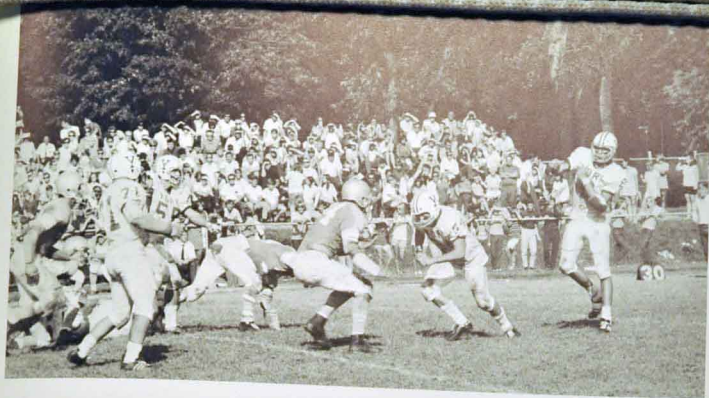

Beyond a 20-12 opening game victory over a well regarded Willowbrook team, the varsity football team failed to meet pre-season expectations, as they dropped six out of their remaining seven contests. As a result, Coach Clark Fischer's gridders fell into seventh place in the West Suburban Conference.

All-Conference honors came to the Dukes through Captain Bill Uecker, John Dearborn, and Earl Leuenberger. Uecker finished the season completing 41 passes out of 112 attempts for 642 yards, while Dearborn led the ball carriers with 386 yards. Defensively, the Dukes were led by Leuenberger who collected 189 defensive points. Ken Dyer was voted Most Improved Player.

Behind the feats of Most Valuable Back Bob Yukubonas and Co-Captains Tony Belville and Gary Moore, the sophomore football team climbed into second place in the conference, finishing with a 5-2 league record, 6-2 overall. Doug Anderson and Laddie Pircon received Most Valuable Lineman honors.

Steve Cardey, who with only a minute remaining intercepted a Willowbrook pass and ran it back for his second touchdown of the day, was the game's leading scorer.

York Cagers Gain Regional Title

Behind the efforts of Captain and Most Valuable Gary Pokorn, Bill Uecker, and Most Improved Bob Soderlind, Coach Cecil Stinson's varsity cagers succeeded in defeating well-regarded Willowbrook and a host of other schools to gain the Downers Grove North Regional Championship. From that point, the Dukes then advanced to the Sectional Tournament, but were downed in the opening round by perennial powerhouse St. Patrick, 73-64.

In the strong West Suburban Conference, York finished third with a 9-5 record while overall the hardwood men were 18-8. The Dukes' balanced scoring attack was headed by All Conference players Pokorn and Uecker who amassed 427 and 329 points respectively, while Soderlind led the team in rebounds with a 14 per game average. Uecker performed as the Dukes' chief playmaker collecting 147 assists for the season while guards Steve Cardey, Terry Granahan, and Gary Nottlemann combined to collect 102.

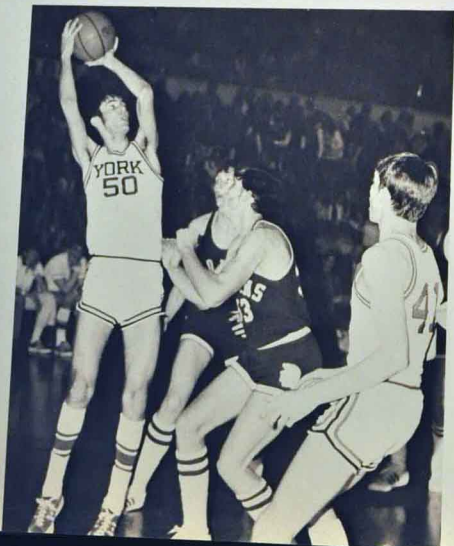

The sophomore basketball team, led by high scorers Ron Lorenz, Dean Sonneberg, and Tony Belville, closed out the year with a 10-11 record and fifth place in the conference. Voted Most Valuable and Team Captain by their teammates were Lorenz and Belville respectively, while Most Improved honors went to Craig Grimestad.

1971 REGIONAL CHAMPIONS: The Dukes of York.

Gary Pokorn, who is fourth among York all time scorers, was the varsity's most consistent performer.

Junior Mike Gleason, whose performance against Proviso East sent the game into overtime, improved steadily as the season progressed.

A superior ballhandler and excellent playmaker, Bill Uecker was one of two Dukes named to the All Conference team.

Priggee, Boggess All-WSC Choices

Wait'll next year. As far as the varsity wrestling team is concerned, this statement is not an idle cliché, but an inevitable truth. With a championship sophomore team and nearly all of this year's varsity grapplers returning next year, the outlook for the 1972 season is bright.

For the 1971 squad, though, the year was not a successful one. The Ducks were 1-6 in the West Suburban Conference, which put them in a tie for last place, and were 3-9 overall. Highlights of the season came in the Addison Trail Quadrangular, where Coach Lee Wachenheim's matmen took 2nd, and in the District Meet, where they placed 6th. Outstanding individual season records were turned in by Greg Henderson (13-7), and All-Conference wrestlers Steve Priggee (18-3) and Mike Boggess (12-6). Priggee, who copped 2nd place in the District Meet, was the only Duke to advance to the Sectionals. Orrin Pickell and Mark Wharton were voted Team Captain and Most-Improved, respectively.

The sophomore wrestling team, which captured the conference title with a 7-0 record, got its best work from Jim Benedetto (16-0), John Hamby (15-0), and Team Captain Gary Moore (15-0). Compiling an 11-1 overall record, Coach Anthony Portincaso's Barons also succeeded in winning both of the quadrangulares in which they were entered.

The Ducks, after opening the year with victories over non-conference foes Elmwood Park and Larkin, were unable to win another meet until they faced Riverside-Brookfield in the closing weeks of the season.

Steve Priggee, who had lost but once during regular season competition, advanced to the 2nd round in the Sectional Meet before being defeated.

Dukes Take 3rd in District, Sectional

Led by such standouts as Phil Elworth on the still rings, Greg Quimby in free-X, Mark Kennedy on the trampoline, and Ross Olsen on the high bar, Coach Ken Scorza's varsity gymnastics team came out strong in the latter part of the season, pulling out a 2nd place finish in the WSC meet, and then going on to take 3rd in both the District and Sectional Meets. Because of their strong showing in the conference meet, the Dukes, who were only 4-3 in league competition, finished 3rd in the final standings. On route to the Dukes' 3rd place finish in the Sectional Meet, the musclemen qualified six for the State Meet. The gymnasts didn't fare as well in that meet, though, failing to qualify anyone for the finals and therefore having to settle for 27th place.

Voted Most-Valuable and Team Captain by his teammates was Elworth, while Olsen was polled Most-Improved.

The sophomore gymnastics team, headed by Most-Valuable Curt Austin and Team Captain Rick Shea, compiled 6-1 and 11-3 overall records on route to a 2nd place finish in The West Suburban Conference. Phil Pearson was voted Most Improved.

Phil Elworth, as York's premier ringman, took 2nd place in the Conference Meet and then went on to capture the District title.

Taking 1st place in both the Conference and District meets, Mark Kennedy was regarded as one of the area's best competitors on the trampoline.

Participating during the season despite a back injury, junior Rick Hayden was eventually sidelined.

Winner in the Conference, District, and DuPage Meets, weightman Chris Rentsch was one of the state's top discus throwers.

Dukes Claim WSC, District Titles

Led by All-Staters Tom Case, Pat Kever, and Chris Rentsch the varsity track team took command of yet another season, capturing both the indoor and outdoor West Suburban Conference titles while compiling a 10-1 dual meet record. Coach Joe Newton's Dukes again won the DuPage County Meet, and continued their domination of the Rockford Relays, taking first place for the eighth time in nine years. In defeating powerhouse Oak Park for the District title, the thinclads qualified for downstate competition in ten events. Oak Park also fell prey to York in the Proviso West Invitational, where the cindermen again took first place honors. Consistent outstanding performances earned Case Most Valuable honors while he and Kever were elected Co-captains.

Capturing a half dozen second place finishes in big meet competition, the frosh-soph trackmen were paced by sprinters Ken Paulson and John Case, and weightman Roger Leone. The Barons credited themselves with a 9-4 dual meet record and a second place finish in the West Suburban Conference.

Headed by Dale Deidrichs, York's pole vaulters played a key role in many of the Dukes' championship efforts.

On route to becoming the Baron's leading scorer, Ken Paulson broke two all time sophomore records.

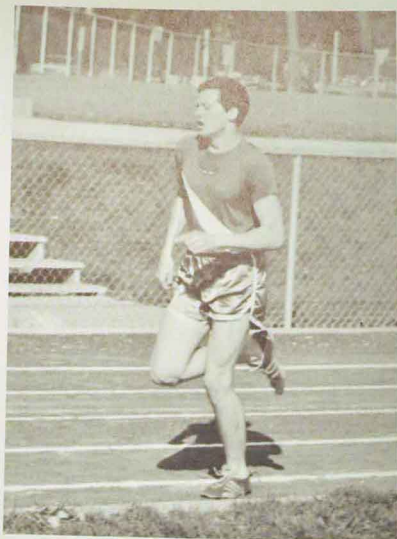

Pat Keever, whose long jump of 22'10 $\frac{1}{4}$ " in the Conference Meet set a new school record, was one of the three Dukes to place in the State Meet.

The route to becoming a successful distance runner is a tedious one, requiring a great deal of mental and physical strain.

Recognized as one of Illinois' best sprinters, Tom Case captured two fifth place finishes in the State Meet.

By adding a consistent serve to the other aspects of his game, Dave Krohne became the Dukes' Most Valuable player.

Sophs Finish 16-1, Best Record Ever

Without losing a single match until midway through the schedule, the frosh-soph tennis team recorded the best season in the history of York tennis. Coach Robert Paddock's Barons, 16-1 over-all, had a conference record of 6-1, succumbing only to conference champion Hinsdale Central. Unusually strong throughout their lineup, the netmen were headed by Captain and Most Valuable Steve Erickson, who later became York's lone representative in the State Meet. Fritz Tellefsen was voted Most Improved.

The varsity tennis team, though not faring as well in conference play, waged a successful campaign against their non-conference foes, gaining six of seven contests, and placing second in the District Meet. Against the conference, the Dukes closed out the season with a 3-4 record, finishing in fifth place, just one point out of fourth. Senior Dave Krohne was polled Captain and Most Valuable, while Most Improved honors went to Dave Patterson.

Sophomore Steve Erickson, by claiming second place in the District Meet, earned a chance to participate in competition at the state level.

Coordination, stamina, and concentration all play essential roles in the shaping of the complete tennis player.

Dukes Place 4th Behind Ekblad, Binek

The ability to gain victories in important meets, a trait not known to York golf teams of the past, was a key factor in the Dukes' most successful season in recent years. Finishing firmly in fourth place in the West Suburban Conference, the linksters compiled an 8-4 overall dual meet record. Jim Ekblad headed the team with a low average of 83, while the entire squad sported an average of 329. Leading individual efforts were low rounds of 77 and 78 by Most Improved Kent Krause and junior George Binek, respectively.

Led by freshmen Chuck Graber and Bob Kay, the frosh-soph golf team placed fifth in the conference. Enabling them to do so was a third place finish in the Conference Meet. Graber was selected Most Valuable.

For the second consecutive year, Captain Jim Ekblad was among the team's top golfers.

Developing a constant rhythm enabled George Binek to become the Dukes' Most Valuable Player.

As the Dukes' leading batsman, Dan Purdom was York's only representative on the All-Conference team.

Posting a team-low 2.71 ERA, Steve Manning proved to be the Barons' most effective pitcher.

Varsity Stumbles, Barons Finish Last

Unable to come up with the big runs, the varsity baseball team fell into a tie for seventh place with a 4-10 conference record. Overall, Coach Erl Ellingson's Dukes were 6-13.

Dan Purdom, who was selected to the All-Conference team, led the diamondmen with 17 hits for a .321 batting average. Rich Hart and Jim Thon followed with averages of .300 and .292. John Niemeyer drove in nine runs to top that column, while Bill Werly and Purdom collected eight apiece. The pitching chores were usually at the hands of Tom Overly and Denny Suominen, who sported 1.81 and 3.08 ERA's respectively. Co-captains of the team were Purdom and Mike Cleary, while Pat Stinson was Most-Improved.

Though undefeated in non-conference play, the Barons carried only a 4-10 record in the conference which resulted in a last place finish. Mike McDrew, Frank Seter, and Jerry Slovick were the sophs' leading batsmen, while the mound duties usually went to Steve Manning and Mike Ebeling.

The ability to react quickly is a necessary quality of the successful baseball player.

Benezra Places 8th, 9th in State

SWIMMING TEAM. Phil Benezra, Steve Erickson, manager.

The York swimming team, led by and consisting of only senior Phil Benezra, finished the season by placing 23rd in the State Meet. In that meet, Benezra collected nine points, placing ninth in the one hundred yard backstroke, and then going on to capture eighth in the fifty yard freestyle. In the District Meet, Benezra took first honors in the backstroke and fourth in the freestyle event, accumulating 27 points placing York 11th in the team totals. While participating in the West Suburban Conference Meet, Benezra compiled 14 points, taking a third and fourth in his two specialty events.

Benezra was sponsored by Miss Betty Bingham, and, because of York's lack of a swimming pool, worked out with the age-group swimmers at Hinsdale Central where he was coached by Bob Teichart, Hinsdale's assistant swimming coach.

IN MEMORIAM — DAVID A. BEUTER

In this age of too many unnecessary deaths and too few meaningful lives, the passing of someone who has touched many lives with gentleness and understanding is a sad thing. David A. Beuter was more than a devoted teacher. He taught us compassion, understanding, and sympathy. We watched his face come alive as he pointed out a universal truth, and we took that truth as our own. We watched his courage, and it made us ashamed of our own feeble complaints. We listened to the beauty of his voice reading poetry, and to his gentle humor. He gave each of us the love for good books and the capacity to understand and evaluate their worth. How do you say goodbye to someone who has shown you how to find enough beauty to last the rest of your life.

Teachers are those mysterious individuals who everyday are forced with the task of communicating with a group of students who not always are the best of pupils. Teachers are those extroverts who are constantly in quest of the "Impossible Dream," to reach out and inject their knowledge into those minds that repel all efforts. Teachers must pride themselves on the feeling of accomplishment for other rewards are few; it takes great personal stamina to be a teacher.

A record of the involvement of the individual—a description through prose and pictures of a year of interaction between students, students and faculty, and students, faculty, and administration . . . the story of students involved in activities, studies, in the high school experience. A yearbook is a record of a year. It is a memento, a souvenir of one high school year that everyone takes with him so that children can laugh at the way their parents and classmates dressed and wore their hair.

To produce an accurate and descriptive log of a year is an abstract and often frustrating job. It requires more than a photograph and a clever blurb to describe the complex involvement of a high school year. Yearbook staffs are supposed to be terribly creative and perceptive with pens and cameras in order to catch the unique aspects of that particular year. Since students are rarely original and the face of the school changes slowly, yearbooks tend to look somewhat alike.

Deadlines came and were almost met; pictures were taken and copy collected as in every yearbook production. As always there were problems, long hours after school, late nights, laughter and near tears, and frustration. The Y's Tales 71 staff has attempted in the preceeding 231 pages to record not only a year but to produce a lasting memory of student life.

The staff wishes to give special thanks to the people who helped the cause so much. Mr. Leander Hagerty of Leander Studios who with the help of Mr. "Sam" Becker supplied the staff with a continual flow of pictures. Mrs. Thor Holter typed the never-ending supply of copy. The S. K. Smith Company produced the cover. Last but not most certainly not least, the staff wishes to thank Mr. Ed Hackleman, who as the representative of the Delmar Printing Company gave everyone guidance in the preparation of the book.
