SHOPPING DISTRICTS

1 Old Town Eureka

The Victorian seaport features more than 19th century architecture, but a lively commercial district with eclectic bookstores, antique shops, art galleries, souvenir shops, chic apparel and storefronts that specialize in Humboldt-made foods and goods.

Eureka Main Street | 707-442-9054

2 Downtown Fortuna

The Friendly City boasts fine antique stores on Main Street like the Antique Depot, which with about 20 vendors is largest antique mall in the county. Gas pumps, Amish bowls, vintage toys and more abound. For a science detour, go south a few miles to Chapman's Gem & Mineral Shop.

3 Progressive Arcata

Known as Sixties By the Sea, Arcata's downtown merits a mention among the hippy capitals of California. with tie-dye stores, left-wing political bookstores, bead and crystal shops, and other counter-culture staples. Don't miss the historic Jacoby Storehouse.

4 Historic Ferndale

(see cover photo)

Known as California's best preserved Victorian Village, Ferndale's Main Street and its storefronts seem frozen in time. Nineteenth century curios, antiques, the old drug store, a mercantile emporium, a black smith shop and more await those seeking historic treasures.
