1 SE Martin Luther King Jr Blvd, Evansville, IN 47708

The Ford Center is a cornerstone for continued revitalization downtown. Its sweeping curved forms evoke the unique nature of the horseshoe bend in the Ohio River while providing an aesthetic that is of its time, reflecting its citizens' forward-thinking nature. The use of native Indiana limestone at the arena's base creates a visual grounding for the building while also reflecting the materiality of Evansville's civic buildings. The focused use of glass is intended to give frequent views both out of and into the building and to become a beacon for the city and its development.

The 290,000 square foot arena is located in Downtown Evansville at the corner of Main Street and Martin Luther King Boulevard. It is the home to the Evansville Thunderbolts, our professional hockey team, and to the University of Evansville men's and women's basketball programs. # Victoria National Golf Club

VictoriaNational.com

2000 Victoria National Blvd, Newburgh, IN 47630

With on-site accommodations for up to 32 guests, a top-100 golf shop, and best-in-class dining, Victoria National delivers incredible golf with the character, charm, and hospitality of Southern Indiana.

Part of the Dormie Network, Victoria National earned its title as “America’s Private Retreat” from a history as unique as the land it’s built on.

Built atop Peabody Coal Company’s long-abandoned Victoria Strip Mine in Southern Indiana, Victoria National was a simple routing for Tom Fazio. He followed the corridors (the perfect width for fairways) that existed between mining spoil mounds (long since overgrown with trees) and some 40 acres of finger lagoons that had formed as steam shovels carved out coal deposits that hit the water table. The result encompasses 418 acres of bentgrass tees, fairways, and greens. The course at Victoria National was Fazio’s sixth private course. Since its founding in 1998, Victoria National has become a haven for a select group of discerning golf purists. Victoria National is rich in history and has a strong heritage of beautiful land and unparalleled golf.
