

3-DAY GROUP TRAVEL ITINERARY DAY ONE

Make the most of your Cumberland County Destination Passport with this easy three-day itinerary! From hands-on museums and historic sites to scenic gardens and local flavor, you'll experience the best of Cumberland County while making unforgettable family memories.

Afternoon: Arrival and Check-In

Greater Fayetteville sits along I-95, making it a practical addition to many routes. Hotels in the area are familiar with group arrivals and can support large group or motorcoach parking and coordinated check-in.

After arrival, travelers have time to settle in before the evening.

Evening: Downtown Exploration and Group Dining

Start the evening with time in downtown Fayetteville, where groups can explore local shops, galleries, and walkable points of interest at their own pace.

Afterward, reboard the motorcoach for a short drive to dinner at a restaurant equipped to handle group seating and reservations.

Recommended options include:

Luigi's Italian Restaurant

A long-standing local favorite known for hosting large groups

Hudson Bay Seafood

Classic Fayetteville dining with space for group seating

Golden Corral or Cracker Barrel

Reliable options for quick seating and broad menu variety

3-DAY GROUP TRAVEL ITINERARY DAY TWO

Morning: Airborne & Special Operations Museum

Begin the day at the Airborne & Special Operations Museum. It is one of Fayetteville's most consistent group experiences and works well across a wide range of audiences.

- Free admission supports overall trip value
- Exhibits are easy to navigate as a group
- Visits can be structured to fit your timing

Lunch Break

Stop for lunch at Fuller's BBQ for a classic Southern meal in a setting that can accommodate groups. A sit-down lunch keeps the schedule predictable and provides a comfortable break before the afternoon.

Afternoon: Cape Fear Botanical Garden

FSpend the afternoon at Cape Fear Botanical Garden. The setting offers a slower pace and gives travelers time to explore comfortably.

Flexible Evening Options:

For the evening, groups can choose from several options that accommodate larger parties and a range of dining styles.
