Fayetteville Area Convention & Visitors Bureau (FACVB)

Project Overview

Purpose. The goal of the 2022 Stakeholder Research was to explore how local stakeholders perceive Fayetteville/Cumberland County as a travel destination, how they feel about key local organizations and the value propositions they provide, and how the community feels it can or should position itself to optimize travel perceptions in the future.

Target Audience. This research was conducted among local organizations’ internal email lists of local business contacts and consumers. This included lists from the Greater Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce, Fayetteville Area Convention & Visitors Bureau (FACVB), Cool Spring Downtown District, Fayetteville Public Works Commission and others. The survey reached 76,085 business and consumer households across the region and via social media was available to everyone in the area.

Sample. In total, 1,433 area stakeholders were interviewed in an effort that resulted in 722 completed responses that provide for a maximum margin of error of +/-3.6% at a 95% confidence interval.
Preface

- The purpose of this study was to solicit input from community stakeholders to inform the nature of questions that are being asked of regional travelers. The idea was to objectively begin the process with the businesspeople and consumers who know Fayetteville/Cumberland County best and to leverage those insights as we seek to better understand how regional travelers perceive the area’s tourism brand, what they look like and what aspects of the community are most compelling in attracting their attention.

- Additionally, this study explored the level of community awareness of three key organizations (Greater Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce, Cool Spring Downtown District and FACVB); and perhaps more importantly, explored the relative importance of their respective programs, actions and opportunities in order to quantify the strengths and opportunities that exist for each of these entities.

- This study builds upon the insightful findings delivered in the North Star Study in 2018. But, in contrast to the purpose of that study, this research initiative is intended to help shape Fayetteville/Cumberland County’s image among regional and national travelers. The hope is to use the preponderance of information gathered from both efforts to help optimize community assets and the Fayetteville/Cumberland County tourism brand.
Topline Takeaways

• Given the purpose of the study, this survey inherently covered a great deal of real estate that took the average respondent nearly 17 minutes to fully complete. The fact that more than 6,500 area stakeholders engaged with the survey and that 1,433 submitted responses is a testament to the commitment area stakeholders feel for the Fayetteville/Cumberland County area and the level of support they are willing to provide. Their time and commitment will be used to help make the area a more compelling regional tourist destination and guide the efforts of local organizations.

• Some of the key takeaways’ community stakeholders offered include:

  • Fayetteville/Cumberland County’s Defining Characteristics. Area stakeholders feel Fayetteville/Cumberland County most excels in the areas of Military/Government, Downtown District, Accommodations & Food, Arts & Entertainment and Travel & Tourism. That is, stakeholders feel the community serves as a gracious host that excels at welcoming and entertaining residents and tourists alike.

  • Key Points of Interest (POI). As a gracious and welcoming host for regional travelers, it is no surprise that many of the region’s most compelling points of interest (POI) or attractions include Military/Historic Sites, the Airborne & Special Operations Museum (ASOM), Cape Fear Botanical Garden, Spectator Sports and Museums among other things. Thus, stakeholders feel that visitors to the community would benefit most by exploring the history of the area, embracing its beauty and enjoying spectator sports. The intent in the next step will be to determine which POI tourists themselves say they are most interested in visiting.

  • Fayetteville/Cumberland County’s Brand Perception as a Tourist Destination. Stakeholders were most likely to describe the area with words and phrases such as: A place with a sense of history and military presence that inspires a culture of readiness & action, a city with lots of diversity, a great place to meet interesting people and being a destination, whose diverse strengths may be unknown to many, but the stage is set for a welcome surprise.
FACVB Takeaways

• Awareness and Program Importance. Over three-quarters (82%) of area business stakeholders and 89% of the FACVB’s member/partners indicate familiarity with FACVB as an organization. Additionally, nearly three-quarters (73%) of the business community and 87% of member/partners are aware of at least one major program or initiative the FACVB is responsible for.

• Most Important Programs & Initiatives. More importantly, however, is which programs or initiatives are considered most important. The business community indicates that the three most important initiatives the FACVB is responsible for includes the community’s Visitor Profile, Marketing Communications and Publicity. Member/partners agree all three of these programs are important, but they rank them in a slightly different order of importance: Marketing Communications, Visitor Profile and Stewardship of the Community’s Tourism Brand. It is also worth mentioning that the average FACVB program/initiative earns a somewhat/very important rating that averages 86% among the business community and 89% among member/partners, meaning that all programs are considered comparatively important to the community’s tourism efforts.

• Satisfaction with FACVB Programs & Initiatives. The FACVB programs/initiatives that the business community are most satisfied with include Marketing Communications, Publicity and the Visitor Profile. Thus, the business community is most satisfied with the very same things they consider most important. Not surprisingly, these three initiatives also serve as the FACVB’s greatest strengths as far as the general business community goes. Member/partners are also the most satisfied with the FACVB’s marketing efforts, but they are also quite satisfied with the organization’s Social Media Presence and stewardship of the community’s tourism brand which also, by the way, accounts for their perception of the FACVB’s biggest strengths as an organization.

• FACVB’s Unique Selling Proposition (USP). By exploring the relationship between each target audience’s level of satisfaction with their corresponding degree of organizational engagement, it is possible to identify the FACVB’s “Unique Selling Proposition” or USP. This is often different from what are considered the organization’s strengths because rather than comparing importance and satisfaction we are examining what most drives the engagement with the organization. Based upon this algorithm, the general business community sees the FACVB’s USP as being Marketing Communications. However, member/partners feel that for them the FACVB’s real USP is Generating/Share Sales Leads with Area Tourism Partners.
