

Itineraries for Littles

FAMILIES WITH LITTLE LITTLES

Grab breakfast and a little history at the Rainbow Restaurant – Fayetteville's oldest dining establishment. Opened in 1938, the family-owned restaurant is known for its scratch-style cooking. The restaurant was a downtown staple for decades before moving to 3708 Ramsey St. Its former Hay Street location is now occupied by the Rainbow Room, one of the city's most popular wedding and meeting venues.

After fueling up on pancakes and history, head downtown to Fascinate-U Children's Museum to continue the learning. Located at 116 Green St., the interactive gem of a museum is a lovely way to spend time having fun with the kids. www.fascinate-u.com

The next stop is Greg's Pottery, where fun for the entire family can be found. Select your piece, choose your colors, and let your inner artist take over! Deciding what to paint is your only challenge to be found here.

The last two stops can really work up an appetite, so now is the perfect time to head to Gaston's Brewing Company for a late lunch. You would never know their specialty is beer because their food is so delicious! And don't worry about picky little eaters—the menu offers something for everyone! www.gastonbrewing.com

FAMILIES WITH BIG LITTLES

Teens aren't the earliest risers, so brunch at Blue Moon Café in the downtown Cool Spring Social District is ideal for those who hate the break of dawn. A Sunday Brunch is offered with scenic outdoor patio seating if desired! www.310bluemooncafe.com

Nothing says family bonding time like working together! Xscape Factor, located at 136A Bow St., is the perfect place to test your family's critical thinking and teamwork skills. www.xscapefactor.com

Vinyl records are coming back; you can find plenty at Back-A-Round Records. The downtown music shop is the perfect place to bridge generational gaps as you browse the store's extensive records collection. Bonus points for the new Fayetteville-inspired mural on the side of the building. It's the perfect background for your next family selfie. This hidden treasure of a musical shop is a real crowd-pleaser!

Looking for the sweet life? Try the Sweet Palette life instead! The ice cream shop is located right below Back-A-Round Records in downtown Fayetteville, so you can grab some ice cream or other sweet treats to top off your lovely day. And if you need some mid-afternoon caffeinated energy, mosey over to the Blanc Roasters side in the same shop. Delicious coffee, cappuccinos and more await! www.thesweetpalette.com
