Board of Governors
Ontario County Four Seasons Local Development Corp.

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Ontario County Four Seasons Local Development Corp. as of and for the year ended September 30, 2014, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered Ontario County Four Seasons Local Development Corp.'s internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the preceding paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses and, therefore, material weaknesses may exist that were not identified. However, as discussed below, we identified a deficiency in internal control that we consider to be a material weakness.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency or a combination of deficiencies in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. We consider the following deficiency in the entity's internal control to be a material weakness:

Material Auditor Adjustments

Based on the results of our audit procedures and discussions with management, we noted management primarily records cash receipts and disbursements during the year, rather than preparing financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP). Although cash receipt and disbursement transactions do represent the primary activities of the Organization, financial statements should be prepared in accordance with GAAP. During our audit, numerous adjustments were required to properly state financial statement balances in accordance with GAAP, including adjustments to cash, restricted cash and related liability, accounts payable, accrued leave, deferred revenue, revenue, and expenses.

Recommendation

We recommend the Organization consider recording all financial activity, preparing reconciliations of respective balance sheet accounts and adjust general ledger accounts to supporting detail throughout the year and especially as of year-end. Additionally, obtaining a better understanding in proper usage of the QuickBooks software will assist management in more easily preparing GAAP-basis financial statements on a regular basis. However, we recognize that the Organization may decide not to implement these changes due to the size of the Organization and the results of a cost benefit analysis.

In addition, during the course of our audit of the financial statements of Ontario County Four Seasons Local Development Corp. as of September 30, 2014, we observed the Organization’s significant accounting policies and procedures and certain business, financial and administrative practices. As a result of our observations, we suggest you consider the following comments which we do not consider to be a significant deficiencies or material weaknesses:

Credit Cards

During our audit, we noted the Organization uses credit cards for certain types of expenses. While credit cards do provide benefits to the Organization, they can also provide a significant opportunity for fraud if not properly monitored. Our review of five credit card transactions found two without supporting receipts. In addition, in accordance with the Policy Manual, the President or an Officer of the Board must approve the monthly credit card reconciliation or statement. Two of the five monthly statements we reviewed did not show evidence of this approval process.

Recommendation

We recommend management strictly follow the credit card procedures as documented in the Policy Manual. Receipts should be obtained for all purchases and an overall review of the credit card transactions should be performed as documented in the Policies Manual. Strong controls over credit card usage will protect the Organization from unauthorized or fraudulent transactions.

Committee Minutes

During our audit, we noted that minutes of Audit Committee meetings were not maintained.

Recommendation

We recommended minutes of all Board committees be maintained. The current Form 990 inquires if all committee meetings were documented as well as meetings of the governing body. Keeping minutes of all meetings is also an indication of good governance.
