

Carriage Rides in Fort Wayne

The holidays and winter may not be the best time to be outdoors, but a carriage ride through downtown Fort Wayne makes for a magical experience and the perfect end to a romantic evening!

Sentimental Journey

Sentimental Journey is one of three carriage companies that provide rides through Fort Wayne year-round starting at 6 p.m. They are available most nights through December at the Gas House. Reservations are recommended closer to holidays.

Cost: $40 for 30-minute ride; $80 for a 60-minute ride. The carriage holds up to four adults. Cindy also has a wagon available for larger parties of up to eight adults. In inclement weather, the carriage and wagon can be covered on the sides.

Camelot Carriage Rides

DeAnn Lengerich, owner and operator of Camelot Carriage Rides, has been in business since 1997. Her teams of white Percheron and black Clydesdales pull carriage and wagons from Don Hall's Gas House, but special pick up locations can be negotiated. DeAnn and her crew provide monologs about the history of downtown Fort Wayne.

Cost: $40 for 30-minute ride; $80 for a 60-minute ride. The carriage holds up to four adults.
