

PURPOSE

In partnership with NCAA Team Works, Fort Worth Sports Commission and our vendor, Helper Helper, Fort Worth ISD students in grades K - 5 will have the opportunity to participate in the Readers Become Leaders® Literacy Program. The purpose of this program is to provide school districts a program to create excitement about reading for elementary student in NCAA Championship cities with a friendly competition.

Competition Outline

The overall competition is based on the collective average number of minutes read by each student. This allows for schools with a smaller number of students to compete with larger schools.

Schools will register their grades and determine whether they want one person entering all of the minutes or if they prefer the individual teacher go in and register on the link and upload their classes minutes weekly. Once the program starts, students will submit their minutes read each week to their teacher and the school/teacher will get those comprehensive totals uploaded in the system.

The totals will be posted each week so schools can see how they are doing against the other schools. The program will last 10 weeks and the top three schools will be invited to the NCAA Women's Gymnastics Championships open practice on April 13 where a winner will be announced.

Competition Rules

- Each teacher will provide their students with a reading log.
- The child and parent/guardian will be responsible for filling out the number of minutes they read each day.
- Weekly Reading Log will go from Monday – Sunday.
- At the end of the week (Sunday), the parent/guardian needs to sign off on the reading log and the student will turn it in to their teacher by the time designated by their teacher
- The teacher will add their classes minutes up and turn that number into the school captain (or log themselves).

- We ask that all minutes be logged for the week on Monday by 8pm CST for the previous week's minutes.
