Willkommen to Fredericksburg!

For over 175 years, people have been drawn to the wide open spaces of the Texas Hill Country. Fredericksburg’s unique mix of German heritage and Texas hospitality can be found throughout the town. Today, Fredericksburg sits in the heart of Texas Wine Country and from wineries to wildflowers; history to honky-tonks; shopping to spas, you’ll find one of America’s best small towns. We invite you to come and experience this slice of heaven.

AN ELEGANT COMBINATION OF history & sophistication

Our founders knew this was someplace special when they settled here in 1846. Behind the elegant shops and fine dining, you can feel the authentic German soul and see reminders of our heritage in the historic buildings along Main Street, the German cuisine at local restaurants and the welcoming spirit of our people. Come and explore the Texas Hill Country.

One of the most iconic features of Fredericksburg is our historic Main Street. The mix of architectural styles, including original limestone and signature Basse block buildings dating back to the late 1800s, now house our many boutiques, art galleries, restaurants and tasting rooms.

"Among the Americans who served on Iwo Island, uncommon valor was a common virtue."

— Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz

The First Iwo Flag

On June 22, 1945, the United States Marine Corps raised the United States flag on Mount Suribachi, the highest point on Iwo Jima, Japan. This historic event was captured in a photograph by Joe Rosenthal, which won the Pulitzer Prize for Photography. The photograph is one of the most iconic images of World War II.

The National Museum of the Pacific War, located right on Main Street, is a world-class walk through history featuring interactive exhibits, gift shop and scheduled living history reenactments.

EVERY VISIT COMES WITH A rich history lesson

You don't have to work very hard to step back into history here. From the moment you drive into town, you'll notice a sprinkling of historical markers and attractions, not to mention the eclectic architecture and original Main Street buildings. From the beginning, Fredericksburg has had a spirit of friendliness thanks to forward-thinking leaders who crafted a peace treaty with the Comanche, commemorated by a life-size bronze statue within our Marktplatz in the center of town (a popular photo op, by the way). You might also visit Fort Martin Scott—the first U.S. military post to be established on the western frontier of Texas, where early soldiers helped assure peaceful relations—and its neighbor the Texas Rangers Heritage Center.

Fast forward more than 175 years, Fredericksburg and Gillespie County still have historical significance. Not only have its ancestors preserved structures and artifacts, but the warmth of the German settlers and the foundation on which the town was built is still evident today in shops, attractions, restaurants, parks and more.

To get a glimpse of what life was like in the 1800s for Fredericksburg's founders and settlers, head to Pioneer Museum, located on three acres on the west end of Fredericksburg's Main Street. This complex of original buildings features a home, blacksmith shop, one-room schoolhouse and a Sunday House—the "in-town" accommodations farming families would have for when they traveled in for church on Sundays.

Want to see a real working early 1900s farmstead? The Sauer-Beckmann Living History Farm in Stonewall operates year-round thanks to interpreters in period clothing who take care of the animals, work the garden, do the chores and conduct tours for visitors. No electricity. No running water. No problem. As part of Lyndon B. Johnson State and National Historical Parks, this farm is a favorite for families — especially to see kids reflect on a life with no Internet.

While you're out there, no trip to this area would be complete without visiting the LBJ Ranch and the Texas White House—home of our 36th

President, Lyndon B. Johnson (currently closed for renovation). LBJ was a larger-than-life figure in this area during much of his life and especially during his presidency. His ranch home is a surreal walk through the 1960s complete with a “hotline” to Washington from his dining room table. See his vintage car collection and his airplane fondly called “Air Force One-Half.”

Back in town and right in the heart of the historic district is a must-do even for non-history buffs. The National Museum of the Pacific War—including the Admiral Nimitz Gallery, named after Fredericksburg native, Fleet Admiral Chester W.

Nimitz—is a state-of-the-art facility and Smithsonian Affiliate, crafted with elegance and sophistication that pays homage to a war never to be forgotten.

Historically speaking, there’s so much to see. Visit St. Mary’s Catholic Churches, built in 1861 and 1908. Check out the Sunday Houses sprinkled throughout town (many now guesthouses) that stand as a reminder of our past. Get a walking map of our nationally-recognized historic district or explore the Gillespie County Country School Driving Trail.

MUSEUMS AND HISTORIC SITES

B ALBERT, TEXAS ICE HOUSE AND DANCEHALL alberttexas.com

5435 S. Ranch Road 1623
(830) 644-2042

The Albert Dancehall was built in 1922 by Max Beckman, and provided the community a place for Saturday night dances and social gatherings. It featured German brass bands rotating between the Luckenbach, Hye and Weinheimer dancehalls of the time. Located just south of Highway 290, halfway between Fredericksburg and Johnson City, the tradition of community gatherings and dancing continues.

1 4 CEMETERIES

Fredericksburg has two main historic cemeteries located at the east and west ends of town. Der Stadt Friedhof, located at the 300 block of N. Lee St., and the Catholic Cemetery, located on Catholic Cemetery Road, are both known for their striking granite markers and headstones, many in German.

2 CHRISTIAN METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

602 E. Main St.
Built in 1887 and formerly called “The Colored Methodist Episcopal Church,” this simple white frame structure, with its small steeple, sits atop a native limestone foundation and has been completely renovated in recent years.

C CROSS MOUNTAIN PARK fbgtx.org/415/Cross-Mountain-Park

On North Milam just at the outskirts of town. Cross Mountain is located on a historic Marl and Limestone hill with an elevation of 1,951 ft. featuring beautiful views, walking trails, butterfly garden and picnic areas. It was used as an Indian lookout prior to early settlers. In 1847 during the settling of Fredericksburg, a timber cross was found on the hilltop. Early Fredericksburg pioneers gave this hill the name “Kreuzberg” or Cross Mountain. In 1946, the permanent lighted cross was raised. Enjoy a walk to the top for the scenic overview.

F FORT MARTIN SCOTT HISTORIC SITE

fbgtx.org/416/Ft-Martin-Scott

1606 E. Main St.
(830) 307-8715

Take a self-guided walk at the site of a pre-Civil War (1848) military outpost to learn about one of the first frontier Army forts in Texas. A nature trail begins on the north side of the fort and winds along Baron’s Creek for about half a mile where you can see wildlife and wildflowers. Hours: Tour grounds daily from dawn to dusk. Buildings open Fri–Sun 10AM to 5PM. No admission charge.

G GILLESPIE COUNTY COUNTRY SCHOOLS DRIVING TRAIL

historicschools.org

View 12 historic country schools in Gillespie County. A special map with highlighted routes will direct visitors to schools in a particular quadrant of the county. Driving times on routes vary from one hour in length to half a day. Free maps of the trail are available at the Visitor Information Center at 302 East Austin Street in downtown Fredericksburg.

visit mother nature

There's spectacular golf, amazing back country roads for cycling, hiking and climbing areas, scenic overlooks, parks, pools, birds and bats. Our temps are pretty mild all year round, and every spring you can witness a carpet of our legendary wildflowers. They've garnered quite a reputation over the years, drawing many visitors just to see their blossoming rainbow of colors. The rolling hills of Gillespie County are unmatched. A short drive around the countryside, and you'll agree—Mother Nature has a sweet spot for the Texas Hill Country.

BICYCLING

The back roads of Gillespie County provide miles of scenic views for road bicycle riding. Although the area roads are lightly traveled compared to big cities, riders are encouraged to obey all rules of the road to ensure their safety. With the hilly terrain, autos can come upon bicyclists without much notice, so please stay as far to the right as possible. Mountain biking enthusiasts will enjoy Hill Country State Natural Area, near Bandera, and Pedernales Falls State Park, near Johnson City. See bicycle rentals, page 37.

BIRDING

Approximately 300 species of birds can be found in the Texas Hill Country, where birding is great all year. The area is an overlap zone of ranges of eastern and western bird species, as well as some north and south species. Be sure to look for the endangered Black-capped Vireos and Golden-cheeked Warblers. An excellent place to view birds in Fredericksburg proper is the Live Oak Wilderness Nature Trail in Lady Bird Johnson Municipal Park. Stop for a bird check list at the park office. Pedernales Falls State Park, near Johnson City, has wildlife viewing stations, while Enchanted Rock State Natural Area, 18 miles north of Fredericksburg, is also a premier bird-watching location.

FISHING

Fishing opportunities are available in Hill Country state parks and at area lakes. The closest place for kids to drop a line in the water is Lady Bird Johnson Municipal Park on Highway 16 South. Tres Molinos Ranch & Resort in Harper, TX, (830) 992-8783, offers a stocked pond along with bait and tackle. The Country Flyfisher, (830) 990-9453, can also help find places to fish around the area. See city and state parks, pages 10–11.

HIKING

The Hill Country region of Texas offers numerous state parks for hiking. See list of state parks and natural areas in this brochure, pages 10–11.

HUNTING

The Fredericksburg area of the Texas Hill Country is home to many native and exotic species of animals, which allow sportsmen almost year-round hunting opportunities. White-tail deer are the most popular and plentiful quarry pursued by hunters, but there are also turkey, doves and quail. Many ranches in the Hill Country now manage their herds to improve the quality and health of the animals. In addition to the native game, exotics such as axis deer, blackbuck antelope, fallow deer, sika deer and feral hogs are abundant.

ROCK CLIMBING

Estimated to be over one billion years old, the pink granite domes and boulders of Enchanted Rock State Natural Area make it one of the best climbing venues in all of Texas. See State Parks, pages 10–11.

Enchanted Rock State Natural Area is the outdoor lover's haven—with all levels of hiking, climbing, camping, picnic areas, bird watching and various events. Tip: purchase your Day Pass in advance online to ensure your entry to the park.

OLD TUNNEL SP

tpwd.texas.gov/state-parks/old-tunnel

Located 10.5 miles south of Hwy. 290 on the Old San Antonio Road
(866) 978-2287
Old Tunnel State Park features an abandoned railroad tunnel that was built in 1913. The tunnel is now home to a colony of approximately 3 million Mexican free-tailed bats. These bats migrate up from Mexico and are present in the tunnel from May through October each year. Visitors can come out and view the bat emergence from the upper viewing area any night of the week during bat season for $2 per person fee (regardless of age). The lower viewing area is only open on Thursday through Sunday evenings for a $5 per person fee, regardless of age, which also includes a formal interpretive program. Due to the bats' sensitivity to noise, children age 3 and under are not allowed at the lower viewing area. State Parks and Bluebonnet passes are not accepted for this activity tour fee. Permits for both viewing areas can only be purchased online through the reservation system. No permits will be sold at the park. The park is open from sunrise until 5 pm – no entrance fee or permit required. After 5 pm, all visitors must have a bat viewing tour permit. If you have a permit, we recommend arriving at least one hour before the earliest posted emergence time. Please check the Old Tunnel State Park Facebook page for current emergence times and additional information

texaspeaches.com

Gillespie County produces 40% of all the peaches grown in the state of Texas. Roadside stands line many of the roads leading into Fredericksburg, with a major concentration along Highway 290 between Fredericksburg and Stonewall and along Highway 87 South. The peach season runs from mid-May through mid-August in a normal year. The Hill Country Fruit Council produces a listing of its members in a brochure titled Fredericksburg-Stonewall Peaches, which is normally available at the Fredericksburg Visitor Information Center.

WILDFLOWERS

Over 5,000 wildflower species make their home in the State of Texas, products of the state's different ecosystems. The Texas Hill Country is defined by limestone cliffs, granite outcrops and hidden springs, providing diverse habitats for wildflowers.

AROUND EVERY CORNER YOU'LL FIND priceless inspiration

The Texas Hill Country has a long history of inspiring artistic creativity with its rough and rolling landscape, expansive skies, native plants and abundant wildlife. Classically trained artists from Dresden, Friedrich Richard Petri and Hermann Lungkwitz, were among our earliest settlers. Named among the "Top Five Western Art Towns" by Southwest Art magazine, Fredericksburg has continued its tradition of artistic collaboration, which in turn draws art lovers and collectors. Plan a visit during First Friday Art Walk Fredericksburg and you'll experience it all up close.

OUR HILLS ARE ALIVE WITH jaw-dropping talent

The German settlers brought more than their accordions with them. Their love of music remains a strong thread woven throughout the area. So hang onto your cowboy hats, and prepare to be blown away by some of the best performers in Texas. Every weekend, countless stages, restaurants and dancehalls feature an array of musical genres, including Rockbox Theater's tribute band lineup and original artist series. For 80 years, the Fredericksburg Music Club has hosted classical musicians from across the globe. And for over 20 years, the Fredericksburg Theater Company has been "wowing" audiences with award-winning dramatic, comedic and musical productions like South Pacific, Les Miserables and Beauty and the Beast. It's truly an entertainment cornucopia with events like the Luckenbach Blues Festival, Van Der Stucken Festival, Maifest German Chorale Concert, Hill Country Film Festival and —of course— the three days of polka at Oktoberfest.

YOU'LL ENJOY THE CUISINE AND

savor the memories

From authentic German to traditional slow-smoked barbecue, we Texans take our food pretty seriously. The variety of cuisine to be found in and around Fredericksburg is astounding, and the sophistication level of its preparation is nothing short of inspiring. Our talented chefs have built a loyal following for themselves—and the area. Many use locally sourced ingredients, including meats, cheeses, fruits and vegetables, and of course, wine.

If the casual nature of a backyard picnic or family gathering is more your style, we certainly have the venues to satisfy. But if you're in the mood for something a bit "higher-end," you can choose from an impressive array of sophisticated and elegant dining options designed with meticulous detail and surprisingly modern creativity.

Homemade ice cream. Fresh-baked bread. Liquor-filled chocolates. Jams and jellies. Gourmet coffee. Brick oven pizza. Farmers Market. Food festivals. Peaches in the summer. Cooking classes. The list goes on. And of course, we have the perfect wine, beer or cocktail to go with it all. Take your taste buds on vacation with you this time.

AWARD WINNING AND SIMPLY SCENIC

we'll toast to that

The Texas Hill Country is home to over 100 wineries and vineyards, and Fredericksburg is the epicenter of Texas Wine Country. There are 50 wineries and tasting rooms located in Fredericksburg and Gillespie County. Our wineries have been producing a variety of quality wines that have won both state and national honors.

Believe it or not, wine production in Fredericksburg dates back to the original settlers who used the native mustang grape to produce wines. Modern winemakers realized the landscape and climates in the Texas Hill

Country were conducive to expanding on the idea and a booming industry was reborn.

Now the region draws visitors from all over the globe. Each winery and vineyard has its own distinct personality. From quintessential Tuscan to simply modern, some feature courtyards with spectacular views while others offer quiet patios with lush shade.

While Texas Wine Country has certainly grown, so too has the number of our craft breweries and distilleries.

Enjoy responsibly. See transportation services and tours on pages 27 and 37.

Please confirm days and hours of operation before visiting.

WINERIES

Tours and tastings available at most wineries in Gillespie County. Tasting fees apply. Groups are highly encouraged to make tasting reservations prior to visiting. Note: These facilities have a winery "G" permit from the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission.

THE PERFECT ACCOMMODATIONS COME WITH real sweet dreams

Have you ever looked at a magazine and said, "I want to stay THERE!"? Well, Fredericksburg is chock-full of those kinds of accommodations. From romantic country cabins to luxury Main Street lofts, you will be astounded at the variety of lodging available—no matter the age, taste, budget or size of your group. Prefer name brand hotels? No problem. We have plenty of those, too.

CHOOSE FROM:

- Hotels
- Motels
- B&Bs
- Guesthouses
- Inns
- Lodges
- Vacation Rentals
- Campgrounds
- RV Parks

Our accommodations have grown over the years as people realize that Fredericksburg is simply not a day trip anymore. But, not to worry. We have experienced travel planners at the Fredericksburg Convention and Visitor Bureau's Visitor Information Center to guide you in the right direction, as well as several lodging reservation services in Fredericksburg.

There are nearly 1,500 vacation rentals, B&Bs and guesthouses in Gillespie County. Many are historic homes which adds to the nostalgic charm some travelers seek. Rest assured, Fredericksburg is known for its warm Texan hospitality, and that comes standard with every night's stay, no matter where you choose to lay your head down. Find a full list of accommodations at VisitFredericksburgTX.com/lodging.

The only thing more plentiful than the things to do in and around Fredericksburg is the abundant variety of places to stay.

SO FUN, YOU DON'T EVEN NEED A reason to celebrate

Get ready to enjoy some time with hundreds of your closest friends! With a festival or event just about every weekend, there's always something going on. There's music, food, art, flowers, nature, holidays, history ... events for every interest!

Spring is blooming with events: The spring months include fun events like the annual Crawfish Festival as well as family-friendly spring break events and celebrations of the Texas Hill Country's beautiful wildflower season.

Summer is a hot time for fun: Our summer months include the Stonewall Peach JAMboree and Rodeo, Gillespie County Fair, the Hill Country Film Festival, a myriad of July 4th festivities, grape stomps at several wineries, the Fredericksburg Craft Beer Festival and so much more.

Fall is a season of festivals: Oktoberfest may be the most well-known, but fall also brings the Fredericksburg Food & Wine Fest, the Texas Mesquite Arts Festival, Bestfest, Back to the Basics Music Festival and others.

Are you a Christmas connoisseur? Then November/December is the time for you. German traditions, special seasonal events and timeless holiday décor abound for four weeks of festive holiday entertainment. Go ice skating. Marvel at our 30-foot Christmas tree and 26-foot German Christmas pyramid. Enjoy our lighted parade. Shop Main Street. Revel in Fredericksburg—the perfect Old World holiday getaway.

Home to nearly 400 festivals and special events throughout the year, there is always something happening around town.

THE BEST HOME BASE FOR daily exploration

Fredericksburg makes a great central location from which to explore other towns and cities in the Texas Hill Country region, a geographic area of rugged beauty along the Balcones Escarpment, encompassing roughly 10,000 square miles. Here are a few suggestions for day trips from Fredericksburg:

Kerrville, Camp Verde, Bandera and Medina

Visit the Museum of Western Art, the YO Ranch, Stonehenge II, the headquarters of James Avery Craftsman and art galleries in the Kerrville area. Make a quick stop for lunch and shopping at Camp Verde on your way to Bandera, the Cowboy Capital of the World, where horseback riding and boot-scootin' to country western music are the order of the day and night. Then head to Medina to check out the local apple crop.

Comfort, Boerne, Sisterdale and Luckenbach Texas

Shop for antiques in Comfort and don't miss the Treue der Union Monument, dedicated to the men from Comfort, Sisterdale, Fredericksburg and the surrounding area who were sympathetic to the Union cause and who died for their beliefs in the Battle of the Nueces in 1862. Boerne offers art galleries, dining and unique shopping in its historic district. Return to Fredericksburg from Boerne via 1376, stopping for the Sisterdale Dance Hall and Opera House or for a "cold one" at Luckenbach Texas, where "Everybody's Somebody!"

Venture beyond Fredericksburg's city limits to experience authentic Texas Hill Country history, lakes, food, winemaking, music and more.

Mason, Llano and Lake Buchanan

Take Highway 87 north to Mason, home to historic Fort Mason and the 1928 Odeon Theatre. Blue topaz, the state gem, is found only in Mason County. Head east to Llano, known for its historic courthouse, barbecue restaurants, deer hunting and the Llano River. From Llano it is a short drive to impressive Lake Buchanan, covering over 23,000 acres. A thriving colony of bald eagles lives on the upper reaches of the lakeshore during the winter months.

Stonewall, Johnson City and Blanco

Head east on Highway 290 and take in small town life in Stonewall, as well as the LBJ Ranch. Stonewall is famous for its peach crops and Peach JAMboree in June each year. In Johnson City, stop at the Visitor's Center for the LBJ National Historical Park and check out the Exotic Resort Zoo and the Science Mill—great stops for families. In Blanco, park near the lovely old courthouse on the town square and check out the shops. Blanco State Park offers opportunities for picnics, fishing, swimming and tubing. Return from Blanco to Fredericksburg via FM Road 1623 for a scenic drive.

EXPLORE THE TEXAS HILL COUNTRY

Make your first stop in town the Visitor Information Center, where you'll find brochures, maps and friendly staff to help plan your visit.
