"Multi-use" means paths may be shared with pedestrians, roller skaters, cyclists, motor vehicles, etc. Pedestrians have the right of way on these paths. To be considered pedestrians, cyclists must dismount and walk their bikes, including when crossing streets. Narrow, rural, or multi-use roads are part of our local charm, but be aware some paths offer little or no shoulder for cyclists. Cyclists are responsible for knowing the rules of the road and evaluating their own comfort riding on multi-use trails that may parallel or intersect with vehicular traffic. Please remain alert for motor vehicles on all multi-use trails. Georgia law requires all cyclists under the age of 16 to wear a helmet, although we recommend cyclists of all ages wear helmets.

HAMILTON PLANTATION TABBY SLAVE CABINS
Two tabby slave cabins built on Hamilton Plantation remain today at Gascoigne Bluff near Epworth by the Sea. The two modest structures have been carefully restored and received their placement on the National Register of Historic Places in 1988. Open for tours on Wednesdays during the summer, by appointment the rest of the year.

THE AVENUE OF THE OAKS
These magnificent oaks were planted in 1826 to provide an entrance to Retreat Plantation, once a prosperous cotton plantation. Visitors are welcome to drive around the magnificent double row of nearly 200-year-old live oaks.
Access beyond the gate is for guests of Sea Island only.
