

GRAPEVINE HERITAGE FOUNDATION

OUR PURPOSE

TEXANS ARE REDISCOVERING our state's traditions. Sharing in that spirit, interested citizens established the Grapevine Heritage Foundation to acknowledge our community has an authentic, historic heart worth preserving. The Grapevine Heritage Foundation has its roots in advocacy, education and outreach to the citizens of the community as well as the millions of visitors who explore Grapevine each year.

Past: Grapevine, Texas, is the oldest settlement in Tarrant County. Grapevine's Main Street buildings date from the late 1880s and are listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Grapevine is uniquely real and its past is alive.

Present: The Grapevine Heritage Foundation members serve as preservation advocates, and the board of directors serves as Grapevine's Main Street Board. Grapevine is the longest-tenured city in the Texas Main Street Program which operates through the Texas Historical Commission.

Future: By understanding preservation principles, advocating for historic sites and sharing programs with the public, members ensure that the future of Grapevine's history is bright. Become a member, bring the kids, learn new skills and make new friends. Join the Grapevine Heritage Foundation today.

History, Heritage & Heart

NESTLED IN THE heart of Grapevine, Nash Farm is a living testament to the region's history. Dating to 1859, Nash Farm offers a glimpse of early Texans' agrarian lifestyle. Nash Farm is the oldest in-tact farmstead in Tarrant County, is a Recorded Texas Historic Landmark and is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

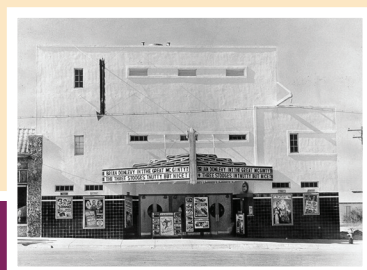

At Nash Farm, visitors witness daily activities such as plowing fields and tending animals, providing insights into 19th-century farming. The original 1869 farmhouse, restored to its former glory, offers an authentic glimpse into the family's homelife and lifestyle. The farm features structures such as a barn, smokehouse and chicken house, all showcasing the pioneers' resourcefulness. Visitors can engage in hands-on experiences, learn historic cooking techniques and participate in year-round seasonal farming tasks.

THE PALACE THEATRE stands as a cherished icon of Grapevine's vibrant history. Built in 1940, the Palace Theatre has hosted movie screenings, live musical performances and community events, captivating audiences with its character and charm. Thanks to the efforts of the Grapevine Heritage Foundation and with community support, the theatre has been meticulously restored and preserved, honoring its historic past, present and future. The Palace Theatre is listed on the National Historic Register.

Today, the Palace Theatre thrives as a vibrant cultural hub. An evening at the Palace Theatre offers a unique experience unlike other entertainment venues. Stepping into the Palace Theatre, with its original architectural details, transports visitors back in time.

The theatre regularly screens classic films, offers movies for children, and features an incredible lineup of live holiday performances during the annual Christmas Capital of Texas season.

THE 1888 COTTON BELT RAILROAD DEPOT stands as a treasured testament to the city's past. This iconic building serves as a reminder of Grapevine's railroad heritage and the economic impact it had on the Grape Vine Prairie. The Cotton Belt Railroad Depot has weathered the challenges of time and melds perfectly with modern transportation dynamics. Thanks to the efforts of the Grapevine Heritage Foundation and the community's support, the historic building has been meticulously preserved and restored.

Today, the Depot stands as a historic landmark and supports the Grapevine Vintage Railroad. The Depot's architectural charm and period detail transport visitors to an era of long ago.

The Grapevine Heritage Foundation's commitment to the preservation of the 1888 Cotton Belt Railroad Depot ensures that future generations will understand the railroad's role in shaping Grapevine's past and present. The Grapevine Cotton Belt Railroad Depot is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

LETTER FROM THE CHAIRMAN

Dear Friend,

Thank you for your interest in the Grapevine Heritage Foundation and Texas history. The Foundation serves as Grapevine's preservation advocates. We work diligently to preserve the history and heritage of the past while fully enjoying the present. There is nothing greater than seeing children's eyes light up when they meet a baby farm animal or learn something new.

Join the Grapevine Heritage Foundation today. You will meet fantastic people and be investing your time and talents well. We sincerely welcome you!
