

Landrum

Do & See

Downtown ▶

Landrum's compact downtown is chock-a-block with shops, galleries, restaurants and two coffee shops. The Saturday morning farmers market runs May through October and features local produce, crafts and flowers.

Get wet

All summer long, guides from Green River Adventures in nearby Saluda, North Carolina, lead guided waterfall treks, rappelling excursions, stand-up paddleboard tours, kayaking adventures and more.

Blue Wall Preserve

This virtually undisturbed 575-acre area is part of a 22,000-acre parcel of pristine nature. Trails lead to waterfalls and through forested hills alive with deer and 114 species of birds.

Eat & Drink

◀ Van in Black

Four vineyards are scattered about the Tryon Foothills that surround Landrum; Van in Black's wine experts lead tasting tours to all, with lunch on a shady bluff overlooking the Parker-Binns Vineyard.

Stone Soup

Stone Soup turns out everything from burgers and wraps to wood-fired pizza and tasso-spiked shrimp and grits. There's also an attached to-go market with cheeses, casseroles and specialty items for sale. The restaurant is currently open Thursday-Saturday.

The Hare & Hound

This lively restaurant serves up classic pub and traditional American fare such as fish and chips and iconic bar-food appetizers.

Discover more attractions and AAA Approved hotels and restaurants with AAA Mobile. Get it at AAA.com/Mobile.

Please call ahead to confirm the status and hours of any place you plan to visit. AAA Living's articles are only intended to inform readers of the available options in their states. Our magazine encourages readers to be mindful of all state and local orders related to COVID-19 safety guidelines and protocols.

CLOCKWISE FROM BOTTOM LEFT: RYAN WATTS/VAN IN BLACK; DISCOVER SOUTH CAROLINA; EMELINE AND LINDSEY SHORTER (2)