

Art is alive through theater, street musicians, galleries, and public displays of art.