THE SOUTH'S BEST FARMERS' MARKETS

BY GEORGIA CLARKE

WHERE TO SHOP FOR SUMMER PRODUCE

SEASIDE FARMERS' MARKET

SEASIDE, FLORIDA
facebook.com/seasidefarmersmarket

Each Saturday and Sunday, this Florida beach town's amphitheater transforms into a lovely farmers' market where raved-about food trucks and local vendors and growers unite. Whether you're a visitor on a beach vacation or right at home in Seaside, you'll love browsing the goods available here like locally harvested honey from Register Family Farm, JC's Gourmet's outstanding Snapper Dip, and, of course, plenty of fresh Florida produce.

LAFAYETTE FARMERS' AND ARTISANS' MARKET

LAFAYETTE, LOUISIANA
marketatmoncuspark.com

Set beneath a canopy of majestic oak trees, this South Louisiana Saturday market is one of the best in the state. Whether you're hunting for seasonal produce and fresh meats to do your own cooking or you want to pick up ready-made tamales, Neapolitan pizza, or freshly baked bread, add this market to your weekend plans. Lively music from area talent, part of the weekly Cajun Music Jam, sets the tone for a fun morning spent outdoors.

GREENVILLE SATURDAY MARKET

GREENVILLE, SOUTH CAROLINA
saturdaymarketlive.com

Each Saturday from May to October, downtown Greenville's charming Main Street transforms into a sprawling two-block farmers' market worth experiencing. A treasured part of warm-weather weekends since 2003, this flourishing market now hosts more than 70 vendors each Saturday. Baked goods like gorgeous pies from Bossy Bakers and local restaurant Swamp Rabbit Café's famous Stecca Bread are items to add to your list among tons of fresh, locally grown summer veggies.
