

Supporting Local Artists

Greenville Mural Project

Our city is proudly committed to showcasing the talent of our community! The Pitt County Arts Council hosts an Artist Directory page on their website containing performing, visual, and literary artists that live in Pitt County, North Carolina. This directory showcases the creative talent in our area as well as promotes our artists and connects them with opportunities to utilize their talents.

A very special shoutout to our friends at the Emerge Gallery & Art Center: Home of the Pitt County Arts Council

The Greenville Mural Project is a collaborative community effort to enhance the vibrancy and quality of life in our city through promoting the arts and working together to bring more murals and public art to Greenville. The group includes members from the Pitt County Arts Council, the Greenville-Pitt County Convention & Visitors Bureau, the City of Greenville, East Carolina University, Pitt Community College, Greenville Museum of Art, as well as undergraduate and graduate art & design students, photographers, graphic designers, and arts supporters.

Don't forget to show off your selfies and photos of the artwork and be sure to tag us:
