COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

Dear Friend of Pennsylvania Agriculture:

Welcome to the 106th Pennsylvania Farm Show! We are honored to host the nation's largest indoor agricultural expo and Pennsylvania's State Fair. Every January, Harrisburg opens its arms to throngs eager to see and taste the best of Pennsylvania's agriculture and food industry. This year's theme, Harvesting More, celebrates a long-awaited reunion after a virtual 2021 show. We'll showcase a harvested bounty of innovative projects, sustainable practices, empowered agriculturalists, engaged youth, and inspiring stories of our powerful agriculture industry.

The Farm Show is an annual stage where the bounty and quality of Pennsylvania agriculture shine. Whether you're a seasoned veteran, a first-timer vying for a blue ribbon, a long-time fan, or a brand-new visitor, we're glad you've joined us to celebrate the rivalry and revelry of our $132.5 billion dollar agriculture and food industry.

Pennsylvania agriculture is a field rich with personally rewarding, diverse career options. Young people dreaming of the future can harvest a bounty of career inspiration, whether it's caring for animals, cultivating crops, enriching soil to produce life and beauty, navigating high-tech precision equipment to improve crop yield and reduce costs, protecting our precious land and water resources, or raising safer food to feed a hungry world. There is no better place than the Farm Show to meet people in those careers and see them skillfully demonstrate what they do and how they do it.

Food lovers will find ample opportunities to meet and support the neighbors who produce your food, to buy local goods, and to sample delicious food and beverages crafted by skilled culinary wizards and harvested from PA farms. And anyone can find hand-crafted creations to purchase or watch them being created by the skilled artisans who grace our great state.

In the span of eight exciting days and throughout our million-square-foot complex, the Farm Show brings together top youth and adult competitors from Pennsylvania's 108 county and community fairs to proudly display what they have planted, nurtured, cultivated, created, and harvested.

We hope you'll join us in Harvesting More as we celebrate our rich, agricultural past, present and future together at the 2022 Pennsylvania Farm Show.

Welcome to the 2022 Pennsylvania Farm Show!

Dear Friends:

On behalf of our Annual Friends, our Lifetime Friends, and the Board of Directors of the Friends of the Pennsylvania Farm Show Foundation, Inc., it is again my wholehearted honor and privilege to provide words of Welcome to our tens and even hundreds of thousands of visitors to this year's 106th Farm Show. The past eighteen plus months have presented quite a challenge with the impact of the world-wide pandemic. Many, Many, Leaders of Pennsylvania's agricultural industry were able to pull together with the leadership of both the Farm Show and the Department of Agriculture to create a virtual Farm Show with the theme "Cultivating Tomorrow" for 2021. Although not in-person, Facebook, Instagram, and other forms of technology enabled thousands of individuals to interact and gain knowledge of some vital parts of Pennsylvania's #1 Industry – Agriculture. It is difficult to contain the enthusiasm that exists as we look forward to the 2022 Farm Show and to the in-person event that has excited visitors for over 100 years.

It is fitting that this year's theme would be Harvesting More after last year's theme of "Cultivating Tomorrow." Investing in tomorrow, whether it is equipment technology, livestock science, plant science, soil science, poultry science, IT technology or human educational development, will permit agriculturalists to Harvest More from all knowledge gained. Pennsylvania's farmers have been able to protect, in perpetuity, through Pennsylvania's Land Preservation Program, over 600,000 acres of prime agricultural land for all types of future agriculture production. The guarantee of this acreage will provide an opportunity for the hundreds of 4-H and FFA Students from across our great Commonwealth to one day put to use skills that they learned while being involved in competitions at the Farm Show. Another example of Harvesting More from knowledge gained by our younger generation of agriculturalists.

The Board of Directors of the Foundation is very proud to report, that since our financial support of the first Farm Show in 2011, the Board, as of the end of the 2021 Farm Show, has contributed over $1.3 Million Dollars in support of our Mission Statement.

We are hopeful that this Visitor's Guide provides you with valuable information that enhances your educational experience at the 2022 Farm Show. The Foundation sincerely thanks the Visitor's Guide advertisers for their involvement and participation since, without their help, this publication would not be possible.

Thank you for being a friend of the Pennsylvania Farm Show. Enjoy the show!

Become a Farm Show AgExplorer!

Have you ever wondered where milk comes from? Or how important bees are in the production of the foods we eat everyday? What about how Pennsylvania produces wood that is naturally renewable and sustainable? Discover all this and more when you become a Farm Show AgExplorer.

Stations are designed with the entire family in mind. Sponsored by DFA, Friends of the Farm Show Foundation, Inc. and Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, this unique program teaches visitors of all ages about Pennsylvania agriculture through fun, interactive and hands-on learning.

Back this year from the virtual Farm Show will be the online stations. If you are unable to join us in person, students will still be able to learn online at www.farmshow.pa.gov. To participate onsite, maps will help guide our explorers throughout the complex to interactive stations. Pick up your maps when you arrive at the show! All stations will be identified by the AgExplorer logo. Students will learn about a variety of agriculture commodities at more than 23 stations including:

- So You Want to Be A Farmer
  - Edible Nuts
    - Goats
    - Sheep
  - Pa Preferred
    - Environment
- Woodmobile/Hardwoods
  - Bees and Honey
- Apple Production
  - Mushrooms
    - 4-H
    - Rabbits
    - Dairy
  - Pork Industry
- Beef from Farm to Fork
  - Vegetables
  - Family Living

    - Chick Hatch
  - STEAM/History
  - Potato Growers
  - Maple Syrup

What's New at 2022 PA Farm Show?

Food, Glorious Food – What would Farm Show be without it?!

New in the Food Court, PA Cooperative Potato Growers tempt you stop by for a pierogi. You're in for a treat if you haven't tried this PA favorite by way of our Polish and Russian roots.

Mushroom Farmers of Pennsylvania will offer melt-in-your-mouth shredded portabella nachos, savory wild portabella mushroom jerky, and fresh packaged mushrooms for you to take home and whip up mushroom culinary magic of your own.

PA Vegetable Growers Association has added veggie burgers and veggie corn dogs to its menu of tasty, wholesome PA-grown treats.

The State Horticultural Association of PA is getting in the culinary act with apple salsa, and apple sauce pouches. Q. What happens when your kids try apple cotton candy and Food Court-fave PA Maple Growers maple cotton candy? A. They'll be awake until Farm Show 2023!

Never fear, carnivores, PA Livestock Association has added beef jerky snack sticks to its meaty line-up of favorites. And C&J Catering will have Momma D's pork & kraut bowls and shepherd's pie bowls to feed your meat cravings.

Smacking your lips to whet your whistle with a tasty PA craft brew? For the first time, you can buy your favorite brew to take home and let the taste of Farm Show linger. New in 2019, and now eligible to sell products during the show, 121 artisan-crafted brews from 24 breweries were part of the 2022 Farm Show Beer Competition. Now you can swig a sample and maybe even take home a Best in Class, Best of Show or a PA Preferred® Legacy Award winner.

Back by popular demand for a third PA Farm Show, but still new to Farm Show old-timers, the Farmers Market will be your Main Hall stop for take-home tastes of Pennsylvania. Find cheese, honey, maple products, potatoes, veggies, apples and more treats to grace your home table and keep Farm Show memories alive.

And for something new every day, and almost every hour, the PA Preferred® Culinary Connection stage in Main Hall is the place to see Pennsylvania's most talented chefs prepare their masterpieces. Sample everything from Sweet Potato Donuts with Browned Butter Custard and Buttered Pecan English Toffee to Spicy Chicken Tangine and Chargrilled Broccoli. Or have fun saying, "Pork Schnitzel with Parsley Spaetzle" three times fast. Be sure to grab a recipe book and some inspiration for your own culinary adventures.

What's New at 2022 PA Farm Show?

New Things to Do, See and Learn

Here's a sampling of what's new to do in our million square feet of fun, excitement and education.

Canine Spectacular – our furry best friends are also working wonders on the farm. Come be wowed by canine smarts, speed and agility in the Equine Arena on Thursday.

Webbed Wonders – Our fan favorite fluffy ducklings in the Water Fowl Habitat in the poultry hall will be both online live-cam and live after wild success during the 2021 Virtual Farm Show. From the comfort of your couch or up close in person, see how these webbed wonders work with an underwater view.

Bethlehem's National Museum of Industrial History is among new stops for kids in the Ag Explorer educational scavenger hunt. Kids can stamp their passport and about Pennsylvania's beginnings as we grew into the national and world agricultural leader we are today!

Virtual educational adventures will surround the New Holland Arena 2nd level concourse in Nuts for You, interactive learning experiences brought to you by PA State Police, PA Farm Bureau Friends of Agriculture Foundation and more.

Check out Cowboy Church in the New Holland Arena Sunday morning the 9th for a nondenominational down-on-the-ranch-style service. Bring your singin' voice and spurs if you got 'em.

In the Main Hall's So You Wanna' Be a Farmer section, where you can learn all you need to grow your groceries or your hobby or earn a living, whatever size plot of land you have, find a new Urban Gardening feature – Reinventing the Corner Store with Philly's FarmerJawn CSA. Be wowed by wonders in small spaces, reclaiming and greening city spaces to feed and unite neighborhoods.

Multiplying true to bunny form, two new breeds of rabbits are hangin' in our hutch. Find out what Dwarf Papillon and Polish Lilac have in common with tiny butterflies and purple posies.

Learn what it takes to be a rodeo clown, barrel racer or rodeo queen during the Frontier Finals Rodeo. Meet star competitors and rodeo luminary Anthony Lucia of Live with Lucia. Thrills and new features are jam-packed into three days of rowdy, raucous rodeo Jan. 13-15!

If noisy engines and raw power are your thing, the Truck & Tractor Pull Demonstration in the Equine Arena on Saturday the 8th is the place to be.

And finally, to work off some of that food-fueled steam, join the Farm Show Junior Committee for an all-comers Cornhole Tournament Tuesday at 5:00 p.m. and Country Line Dance-off Wednesday 5:30-7:30 p.m., both in the New Holland Arena.

Protect yourself while you protect our farms and our farmers. Don't forget to wash your hands after you pet the animals. Wear a mask and social distance when possible. If you're experiencing symptoms of COVID-19, please stay home and join the action online. The only kind of viral you wanna' be is a social media star! Follow us, and tag us on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram. @PAFarmShow #PAFS22

Planning Your Visit

ADMISSION IS FREE

- Best time to arrive: between 9 a.m. and noon
- Busiest time: weekends and weekdays 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

• Parking is $15 at all Farm Show Complex-operated lots.

• Write down or photograph the parking lot name and location of your vehicle. Be prepared for heavy traffic and pedestrian congestion.

• Two offsite Farm Show lots offer free shuttle service for the entire show: East of the complex, at Elmerton Ave. and Sycamore Dr.; and directly North at Harrisburg Area Community College (HACC) on Wildwood Dr.

• Follow PennDot traffic signs to open parking lots. Signs on all major roads leading to the complex are updated throughout the day.

• Visit 511PA.com/farm\_show for travel times and route options, or download the app on your smartphone.

TRAVEL AND PARKING

SHUTTLE SERVICE

- Free shuttle service is available from all Farm Show-managed off-site parking lots. (Lots operated by other groups may not offer shuttle services.)
- There is a free, round-trip shuttle service between the complex and downtown Harrisburg on weekdays between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.
- Handicapped parking is available at all parking lots operated by the Farm Show Complex.

• Be careful around the animals. Farm animals can kick and bite, or move quickly, particularly if frightened or startled.

• If you have allergies to animals, hay or straw, plan accordingly.

• Wash your hands before eating or touching food. Remind children not to place their hands in their mouths without washing them first. Hand sanitizers are available throughout the complex.

2022 Farm Show - Harvesting More

A 20-pound mini butter sculpture of the 2022 Farm Show logo, sculpted by PA Garret McCall, winner of the Butter Up! competition during the virtual 2021 PA Farm Show.

In agriculture, you plant, you cultivate, then you harvest. Following the 2021 theme of Cultivating Tomorrow, we are Harvesting More in 2022. Throughout the past two years, we experienced less – less face-to-face time with family and friends, less time together at fairs and livestock shows, less opportunity to gather and network, less opportunity for hands-on agriculture education. Now is the time for more. Not only more of what we went without during the pandemic, but more of all that we need for a successful agriculture industry and a food-secure, sustainable world.

- Harvesting more innovation,
- Harvesting more conservation,
- Harvesting more investments,
- Harvesting more diversity,
- Harvesting more equality,
- Harvesting more education,
- Harvesting more food,
- Harvesting more empowerment,
- Harvesting more connections...

Pennsylvania is reaping the benefits of investments in agriculture over the past seven years. We are harvesting the products of our investments.

We are Harvesting More...together.

The FFA State Officer team is elected each year at their annual convention in June. A committee of their peers interview and select seven individuals to serve a one-year term. Each officer spends a gap year traveling the state as agriculture ambassadors, promoting agriculture, agriculture education and the FFA.

The FFA promotes premier leadership, personal growth and career success through agriculture education. FFA doesn't exist without the agriculture education classroom across the United States. Located in all 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, the national organization now has over 700,000 members in 8,612 local chapters. Over 13,000 are located in Pennsylvania in 148 chapters.

The teams' interests for the future include, becoming an Agriculture Education teacher, going into agriculture business, international agriculture, production agriculture and agriculture communications.

This talented group of young people represent a slice of the diversity and breadth of Pennsylvania's agriculture industry. We are Pennsylvania proud of the team and all FFA members across the commonwealth

PENNSYLVANIA 4-H

Above: The 2021 Pennsylvania 4-H State Council

4-H is Pennsylvania's largest youth development organization. Our programs are delivered through Penn State Extension in all 67 counties. We work to achieve our mission of empowering young people through myriad hands-on opportunities for personal growth, leadership, and preparation for lifelong learning.

The 2021 Pennsylvania 4-H State Council has 71 collective years of 4-H experience, completing projects such as livestock, leadership, cultural exchange, culinary, entrepreneurship, equine, photography, pet, square dancing, potato judging, public speaking, vet science, and career exploration.

The team members credit 4-H with leading them to future career paths, including careers such as small business owner, national park ranger, change agent, English teacher, occupational therapist, and various careers in animal science.

2022 Lancaster Farming Stage

Come to Learn. Leave Inspired.

From a farm that's been in the same family for a hundred years, to a conservation leader working to ensure their farm will be around for another 100 years, Lancaster Farming Stage is your destination to learn about Pennsylvania's heritage and meet the leaders shaping our future. Catch a glimpse of our future by grabbing a seat to see FFA students vying to present the most informative, engaging agriculture how-to projects or 4-H students demonstrating their winning Rube

Goldberg Engineering Design Challenge entries. Join the audience for a live WITF SmartTalk radio broadcast on the state of PA Ag or Lancaster Farming's panel on Pennsylvania's agricultural apprenticeships – the learn-while-you-earn programs shaping tomorrow's ag workforce.

Opportunities for inspiration are endless – learn something you can use on your farm or just wow your friends with your insight into agriculture trends, technology and tomorrows.

Touring the Food Court

Farm Show Food Court Serves Up Rich History, Delicious Eats

By Mary Klaus

There's something about the Pennsylvania Farm Show that makes people hungry. Always has been, always will be.

No food was available for purchase on Jan. 23, 1917 when the first Farm Show opened. Yet visitors to the first show, held in a farm implement building at 10th and Market streets in Harrisburg, got hungry just looking at exhibits of apples, celery, carrots, corn, turnips, potatoes, milk and butter.

Over the next few years, the Farm Show outgrew its original home and spread to about a dozen locations. By the 1923 Farm Show, a hungry visitor could buy a baked potato for a nickel. The tradition of eating at the Farm Show was born.

Farm Show food for decades consisted of baked potatoes, milkshakes, apple, honey, chicken and various honey products, all sold at the end of the Main Exhibition Hall. Religious and civic groups also sold everything from subs to hot dogs. The Farm Show Complex lunch bars and cafeteria also sold food.

In 1991, the various agricultural commodity food booth were moved into a section of the East Hall dubbed the Farm Show Food Court. The name has stuck. Years later, the Food Court moved into what is now called the Giant Exposition Hall.

Now, the Food Court consumes about 40% of the 172,000 square foot hall with various commodity booths and has a smaller presence in the Main Exposition Hall.

After walking around the 24-acre Farm Show Complex, few visitors can resist the thick chocolate milkshakes, deep fried vegetables, fluffy maple cotton candy and rich sticky buns available in the Food Court. If they look behind the food, they'll also find a rich history.

Pennsylvania State Beekeepers Association sells honey, honey ice cream, honey waffles and beehive products. It also features the Fisher family.

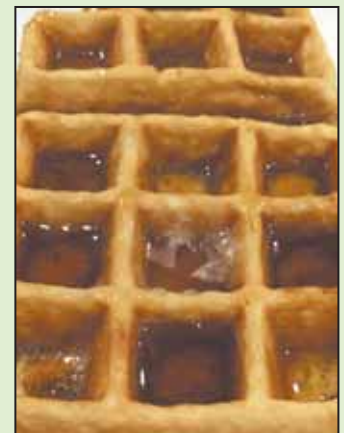

The late Merle P. Fisher, a Mifflin County beekeeper, participated in the Farm Show since 1932 and managed the honey booth there for decades. These days, J. Aaron Fisher – Merle's grandson, a third-generation beekeeper and a sixth-generation farmer – runs the stand.

Wearing a dressy shirt, a bow tie and a big smile, Merle Fisher brought a friendly feel to the honey booth. He also started the Pennsylvania honey queen program in the 1950s, financing it with profits from the sale of honey ice cream at the Farm Show.

Fisher loved and lived for the Farm Show. Fellow beekeeper Stewart Mathias of Hummelstown, another longtime worker at the State Beekeepers' Association Farm Show booth, recalled how he and Fisher slept overnight at the Farm Show during a big snowstorm in 1960.

The next morning, he said, "We made waffles and fed everyone." Fisher did same thing after a blizzard dumped 22.2 inches of snow on Harrisburg during the 1996 Farm Show. He served waffles, honey ice cream and coffee to hungry visitors.

Touring the Food Court

Pennsylvania Cooperative Potato Growers Inc., which sells baked potatoes, baked sweet potatoes, fresh cut French fries and potato doughnuts, has the longest food presence at the Farm Show. The cooperative turns 100 in 2022.

The group's baked potatoes debuted in 1923 for a nickel each. Rahn Troutman of Dornsife, potato booth manager for decades, said that "a potato farmer baked some potatoes, put them in a cooler to keep them hot, set up across the street one of the buildings where the Farm Show was being held and sold them. They were popular."

Nathan Tallman, cooperative CEO, said that Mrs. Frank Diehl of Hegins bought the 1 millionth Farm Show baked potato in 1952.

"That year then Sen. Richard Nixon of California spoke to more than 700 people at the cooperative's banquet at the Farm Show," Tallman said. "His nephew, Dr. Ernest Nixon, worked for the cooperative developing varieties of potatoes and making fertilizer recommendations."

President Richard Nixon spoke about the world Communist conspiracy, calling Communists "our major potential enemy." Ernest Nixon talked about potatoes, noting that the one million potatoes required seven tons of butter and a million dashes of salt.

Troutman, whose parents met on a high school trip to the Farm Show, started working at the potato stand with them when he was 10. Back then, baked potatoes sold for 60 cents. The booth also sold potato doughnuts and French fries.

"When we were in the main hall, we were near milkshakes and apples," he said. "We stored our potatoes in a storeroom 50 or 75 feet away and carried each bag of potatoes in. It was really crowded."

"Baked potatoes used to be our most popular item because people like potatoes with their meals," Troutman said. "Now, it's between French fries and potato doughnut. Years ago, we sold 12 to 15 tons of baked potatoes at the Farm Show. Now, we sell eight tons of baked potatoes and 12 tons of French fries. The cooperative uses the money for potato research at Penn State, for scholarships and to promote potato consumption."

The potato booth has seen changes over the years. The cooperative bought bigger, faster doughnut making equipment to increase production. These days, workers use three doughnut machines and gas convection ovens.

The cooperative staffing increased from 35 to 40 workers years ago to 65 to 70 workers now who staff the potato booths in the Exposition Hall and Main Hall.

"It's like one big family," Troutman said. "We've had up to four generations of one family working at one time. We also get college students on winter break, friends, etc."

He recalled the Blizzard of 1996, saying he left the Farm Show Complex amid the snow the night before.

"The potatoes weighed my van down," he said. "When I got to Millersburg, my van was able to push snow. We got a phone call that the governor declared a state of emergency and that roads would be closed."

Although Troutman didn't get to the Farm Show the next day, the booth had lots of doughnuts left. "We called security and told them to set the doughnuts out so people could help themselves," he said.

Touring the Food Court

Pennsylvania Dairymen's Association has been selling milkshakes at the Farm Show since 1955. It also sells deep fried mozzarella cubes with marinara sauce, toasted cheese sandwiches, white and chocolate milk, ice cream sundaes and ice cream cones.

The association provides the ingredients while Valley Grange 1360 of Lewisberry provides the volunteers to staff the booth. The public drinks more than 100,000 milkshakes each Farm Show.

Over the years, the association has featured three women it calls "the Golden Girls of Farm Show Milkshakes" – Janet Eppley, Fae Snyder and Betty Yinger, who made milkshakes for six decades.

"When I started selling milkshakes in 1955, they cost 25 cents," Snyder said during an interview at the 2020 Farm Show. "We would put bricks of vanilla ice cream in a cup, add vanilla or chocolate syrup, add milk, put the stainless steel sleeve on the milkshake machine and turn it on. Each milkshake was made separately. We made about half vanilla and half chocolate." Years later, the workers began using a liquid mix for the milkshakes.

Snyder said she loves working at the stand and seeing the same customers each year. She said sales usually are brisk, although "once it starts snowing, people leave. Otherwise, they buy a lot of milkshakes. It's a long day here but I just love it."

Pennsylvania Maple Syrup Producers Council has one of the sweetest stands in the Food Court, where it sells maple syrup, maple sugar, maple candy, maple sundaes, maple yogurt, maple cotton candy, maple-coated nuts, maple cream sugar and cookbooks.

Jim and Dora Tice of Mainsburg in Tioga County have worked in the stand since 1993. They tell people that maple is not just for breakfast.

"I especially remember working here during the Blizzard of 1996," Jim Tice said. "When we left, I bought a snow shovel from another vender. I drove my Dodge Caravan to a hotel in Harrisburg and we stayed till the next day. I helped people dig their vehicles out from that snow. I still use that same snow shovel!"

He said the maple stand rotates 20 to 25 volunteers a day through the booth, which does a steady business.

Pennsylvania Livestock Association

sells roast beef sandwiches, ham and cheese sandwiches, beef meatball sandwiches, pork barbecue sandwiches, lamb stew, hot dogs, beef sausage, Italian sausage, steak salad, ham salad, gluten-free meatballs, horseradish and pink lemonade, walking goat tacos.

Mike Firestine has worked in the Livestock Association booth for about 45 years. He remembers when the booth was in the Main Hall.

"When I first started, we sold roast beef sandwiches, ham sandwiches, barbecue and shepherds stew with roast beef as our best seller," he said. "We later added to our menu. Now we even offer goat meet along with lamb, pork and beef."

Firestine recalled various governors enjoying the association's food and especially remembers a "young lady who said she was a vegetarian, tasted her husband's pork barbecue and wanted to buy half a pork barbecue because she liked it so much!"

Like other booth workers, Firestine said that the Blizzard of 1996 stands out in his mind.

"We had eight people in our Jeep and made it back to our hotel," he said.

"Some of the judges were stuck in the Farm Show Complex. We did what we could to offer them food. We had a limited menu."

Firestine praised the camaraderie among the various Food Court commodity stand workers, calling them "one big happy family. We work non-stop to serve the public. We help each other out. I've served honey ice cream and helped serve milkshakes when those booths were short of help. We all serve simple, wholesome food that people like to eat."

Sue Sansom and her husband worked at the livestock booth for many years.

"Working at the Farm Show was such a joy but such hard work," she recalled. "We had many volunteer groups that helped us with the food prep such as United Church of God, Boiling Springs Band Boosters, First Church of God Youth Group, Lebanon County Farm Women, and Mechanicsburg Sertoma. It also was great to employ energetic college students each year."

Pennsylvania Mushroom Growers Cooperative

sells fried mushrooms, fresh mushrooms, cream of mushroom soup, mushroom salad, blended mushroom burger and Philly Port sandwiches.

Gale Ferranto, president of Buano Foods of Landenberg and Food Court mushroom booth manager, started working at the booth when she was 7.

"We were in the East Hall and shared a space with the vegetable growers," she said. "The poultry was in the same area. Mushrooms were new at the Farm Show then, so people were curious. We had mushrooms lovers and mushroom haters. I wore a cowboy hat and handed out a lot of samples. We sold one product then, breaded white mushrooms."

Bob Ferranto, her dad, started growing mushrooms in the early 1960s. His wife, Rosemarie, came up with the marinated mushroom salad that the booth sells. Their daughter, who grew up in the business, took over running the booth in 2007.

She said that mushrooms became mainstream over the years, with breaded mushrooms remaining the top seller.

"Now, we have mushroom mania," she said. "We show the versatility of mushrooms. We started with mushroom soup in the mid-1980s and added a lot of other choices. We give out recipes too. People are more interested in plant-based food."

Touring the Food Court

Pennsylvania Vegetable Growers Association sells vegetable soup, chicken corn soup, broccoli soup, vegetable wraps, blooming onions, bean salad, chili, broccoli-cauliflower salad, fried vegetables, dill pickles, carrots and celery, tomato juice, chili breakfast sandwich, strawberry slush drink, berry pie, pumpkin pie and chocolate-dipped strawberries.

"We've been selling at the Farm Show since the late 1970s," said Bill

Troxell, association executive director. "We started with vegetable soup, then added broccoli cauliflower salad and dill pickles. At first, we shared space with mushrooms in the Main Hall. Then we moved to the East Hall, then later the Expo Hall where we have a lot more room."

Troxell, who has run the booth since 1984, said that profits fund vegetable and berry research projects.

"Vegetable soup is not as popular as it once was," he said. "Batter dipped vegetables and blooming onions are our best sellers. We've recently added water infused with flavors like blueberry, raspberry, strawberry, cucumber and melons."

Troxell said that during the 1996 blizzard, he walked to the Farm Show from his motel and served vegetable soup to people stranded in the complex. "We did some business, but things were pretty slow," he said.

The Pennsylvania FFA in the early 1990s sold Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture T-shirts, FFA baseball jerseys, two editions of their Winross trucks and 12 editions of their PA FFA collector tractors. The group then got into the food business at the annual Farm Show.

Originally, the FFA food stand shared space with the state beef producers in the Main Exhibition Hall Food Court Annex which later included milkshakes and baked potatoes. The FFA first sold Hatfield pork products including hot-dogs, rib sandwiches, and pulled pork sandwiches.

A few years later, the FFA also sold deep-fried cheese made by the Pennsylvania Dairymen's Association, then apple dumplings alamoade from the State Horticulture Association and maple ice cream provided by Pennsylvania Maple Council.

By the time the FFA was invited to participate in the larger Farm Show Food Court, it already had been operating the food stand in the Main Hall. The FFA ran food booths in both places for a few years. Its first food item in the main Food Court was its Orchard Freeze, a fruit slushie which it sold for two years before moving into the current business. Now, the FFA sells fresh apple pie pizza, chicken buffalo pizza, cheese pizza and pepperoni pizza along with freshly squeezed lemonade and orangeade.

Touring the Food Court

Penn Ag Industries Association has a larger than life presence at the Food Court.

Most years, it sells chicken nuggets, chicken breast sandwiches, hot dogs, turkey barbecue, wings, bucket of chicken, chicken cheese steak, seasoned slow-roasted rotisserie sliced chicken, chicken soup, deviled eggs, red beet eggs, mustard eggs, chicken parmesan sandwich, turkey meatball sandwiches, pork nachos, chicken nachos, chicken chili, fish sandwich, trout chowder, tortilla-crusted tilapia, bagels, cinnamon sticky buns, shoofly pie, whoopie pies, cookies, cinnamon buns, breakfast sandwiches and slow-roasted pulled pork. Yet Penn Ag didn't always have such a big menu.

Chris Herr, Penn Ag executive vice president, began selling Farm Show food in the 1970s when he worked with his mother at the then Pennsylvania Poultry Federation.

"When I came to Penn Ag in 2002, our equipment at the Food Court was in bad shape," Herr said. "We were doing chicken nuggets, chicken sandwiches, chicken in a bucket, mustard and hardboiled eggs and chicken corn soup." Penn Ag eventually got more and better equipment.

Over the years, various groups joined Penn Ag as "councils." Penn Ag now has a Feed and Grain Council, Poultry Council, Aquaculture Council and Swine Council. Each contributes to Penn Ag's Food Court menu.

"We added pulled pork, trout sandwiches, trout chowder, tilapia, sticky buns, whoopie pies, cookies, breakfast sandwiches and much more," Herr said. He called Penn Ag's week at the Food Court "long and exhausting. It's a great fundraiser." Money raised goes to scholarships and promoting agriculture.

"It takes a big team to staff the Food Court," he said. "We use about 300 volunteers who work the counter and 30 others who prepare the food, with a captain in each area. It's a monumental task."

State Horticultural Association has been a steady Food Court presence, where it sells apples, apple dumplings with ice cream, apple cider, apple butter, cider floats, dried apples, caramel apples, cider slushies, dried apple snacks and apple or peach sundaes. The apples come from various association member farms.

The Strite family, which has been farming in the Harrisburg area since 1843, has worked at the Farm Show for generations.

"I remember my Dad, Earl, running the apple booth in the Main Exhibition Hall for years," said Joe Strite. "I helped him carry his apples into the Farm Show. Back then, we sold cider for $1 a quart and apples for a quarter. I took over our Farm Show stand after I graduated from Penn State in 1976. I remember how popular the apple dumplings were when we added them. They still are."

Later, Strite said, the Food Court expanded into the East Hall. Strite said it usually took the association workers a day to set up the stand, although tear-down was faster.

"On opening day, the governor would tour the Food Court," Strite said. "We usually gave him an apple or maybe a quart of cider."

Strite said that over the years, the Farm Show lengthened to eight days, the Food Court moved to what's now the Giant Expo Hall, the crowds increased, and the State Horticultural Association made more money at its booth.

Weather always has impacted the success of Food Court stands, Strite said, noting that, "Snowstorms are never good for us."

Strite said that the stand usually is open from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m., with volunteers committing to days and times to work. Now, he said, his nephew, Matt Strite works at the association Farm Show booth.

Mary Klaus, Pennsylvania Farm Show historian, is the author of "Hold Your Horses! The Pennsylvania Farm Show at 100." She's a Westmoreland County 4-H kid, grew up to be a journalist and has covered the Farm Show since the late 1970s. She also works as a nurse for Hospice of Central Pennsylvania.

PA Preferred® Food Court

The Pennsylvania Farm Show is the largest indoor agricultural event in the nation. The PA Preferred® Food Court — one of the show's most popular highlights — is filled with several taste-tempting dishes showcasing some of the highest-quality Pennsylvania food products. Located in the GIANT Expo Hall and Food Court Annex in the Main Hall, the 2022 PA Preferred® Food Court promises to be a delicious reminder of the importance of PA Agriculture. From mushroom salad, apple dumplings to the always popular pork barbecue, the food court displays a slice of the diversity for every taste bud featuring PA-made and PA-grown products.

The food court requires an estimated 2,000 volunteers to operate successfully. Significant revenue is generated to benefit programming, research and scholarship opportunities for the commodity organizations as well as supporting a variety of small, local businesses, and Pennsylvania farmers. Supporting organizations continue to invest their time, money and passion for promoting agriculture to serve the growing needs of Farm Show crowds.

Here's a taste of the delicious diversity of PA products you'll find in the 2022 Food Court:

2022 Pennsylvania Farm Show Junior Committee

Twelve fantastic youth were selected to serve as ambassadors for the 2022 Pennsylvania Farm Show from across the commonwealth. After a highly competitive application and interview process, the following youth were chosen:

- Cheyenne Bastian-Brown of Lycoming County
- Ryleigh Libell of Lancaster County
- Amanda Hollabaugh of Adams County
- Jessica Herr of Lancaster County
- Laurel Fogleman of Centre County
- Samantha Benham of Chester County
- Autumn Moore of Perry County
- Gabriella Coffman of Huntington County
- Hannah Hoover of Montgomery County
- Erica Teagarden of Washington County
- Jillian Ranko of Butler County

- Addison Neff, 2021 Pennsylvania Fair Queen, of Dauphin County

These youth have an exciting opportunity to be involved in a large role at the Farm Show. These youth and the committee's advisors would like to thank the Friends of Farm Show and Mid-Atlantic Farm Credit for their sponsorship!

The 2022 Pennsylvania Farm Show Junior Committee is looking forward to the many opportunities they will receive and provide for other youth at the Farm Show. This dynamic group is hosting and facilitating a number of events at the Farm Show. These events include hosting two Showmanship Clinics/ Exhibitor Parties, hosting Cornhole Tournament, AG Jeopardy, a Line Dance, an auction, a daily meet-up between youth in agriculture and leaders in the industry, and more. Additionally, the committee members are excited to voice their passions as they will present a speech or demonstration on a topic of their choice!

Farming.

It's our way of life, too.

At New Holland, we live for farming and building new ways to make farmers around the world more productive. With our roots deeply planted here in central PA, we're proud to support local farmers and the vibrant farm communities that help to sustain an important way of life. Here's to a successful 106th PA Farm Show.

2021 Virtual Farm Show – Cultivating Tomorrow

The 2021 Pennsylvania Farm Show — a virtual and visual bounty of the people, places and issues shaping the industry's future, creating jobs, building a stronger food system and feeding our nation and our world. Virtual events reached more than 800,000 individuals via Farm Show's Facebook page, and more than 300,000 individuals who visited the Farm Show website, from all 50 United States and Washington, D.C., the U.K. and Canada, with repeat visits near 2 million.

Viewers toured PA farms, met some the youth, women, and diverse new faces shaping Pennsylvania agriculture, took a deep-dive into PA Farm Bill investments attracting new people and jobs to grow the industry, and explored some of the most pressing challenges facing PA Ag in a Cultivating

Tomorrow discussion series.

Cooking demos featured PA chefs of all ages crafting PA-grown magic. STEM demos, how-to videos by Pennsylvanians of all ages, and 728 competitive entries, with top youth finishers qualifying for the National FFA Agriscience Fair and breweries and vineyards whose award-winning products you can enjoy year-round. Youth scholarships of $52,500, awarded by the Pennsylvania Farm Show Foundation during the show, will cultivate tomorrow by funding career education for PA youth.

More than 130 do-it-yourselfers got into the act entering our Butter Up! Contest. The PA Farm Show Trail map featured more than 250 buy-local destinations and viewers flocked to the Live Duckling and Beehive Cams — all making repeat appearances in 2022. Find it all at farmshow.pa.gov and follow PA Farm Show on Facebook and Instagram.

Cultivating Tomorrow means continuing to share the stories of tenacious, innovative people who are tackling with grace and courage whatever nature, the marketplace, technology or the pandemic throws their way. We'll continue to share those stories, online and in-person, as we celebrate Harvesting More in 2022!

Pennsylvania Commodity Representatives

PA Commodity Representatives educate fair and festival-goers year-round about the animals, products, and organizations they are chosen to represent. They are passionate about Pennsylvania agriculture and we asked them what inspires them most.

ABIGAIL O'NEILL 2021 PA FFA State President

Hometown: East Earl

Parents: Thomas and Carla O'Neill

Sponsor: Pennsylvania FFA

"The FFA Organization never ceases to amaze me with its nationwide camaraderie and consistent growth. We are all connected by the future of agriculture and are united as a family through our blue jackets and passion for the world's largest growing industry. I am forever inspired by the way FFA members embrace adversity, never back down from a challenge, seek the opportunity to grow, and lead with the intentions to serve those around them."

ISAAC BELL 2021 PA Rabbit King

Hometown: Hummelstown

Parents: Brian and Ruth Ann Bell

Sponsor: PA State Rabbit Breeders Association

"What inspires me the most about the rabbit hobby is how we prepare our youth for their future. Just a few ways that we do this is giving them experience in skills such as testing, interviewing and public speaking as well as giving them the opportunity to meet people in important government positions that can help them achieve their goals later in life."

SARAH BRANDON 2021 PA Rabbit Queen

Hometown: Butler

Parents: Mike Best and Shannon Brandon; Charlie and Bobbi Brandon

Sponsor: PA State Rabbit Breeders Association

"What inspires me the most about rabbits is the many uses of rabbits and their byproducts as well as how rabbits bring people together. Rabbits are shown, hopped and eaten (perhaps not in that order) worldwide."

OLIVIA JUMPER 2021 4-H State Council President

Hometown: Butler

Parents: James and Jacqui Ranko

Sponsor: Pennsylvania 4-H

"4-H inspires me every day because I can tell absolutely anyone and everyone how to get involved with it. This organization is never limited to a certain gender, class, race, age or even interest. There is a way for every single person to become a part of 4-H, and it is always heartwarming to represent such inclusivity."

Pennsylvania Commodity Representatives

RHEINA ADRIANTO 2021 PA Apple Queen

Hometown: Fairfax, VA

Parents: Budi Adrianto and Carmellia Vollianty

Sponsor: Adams County Fruit Growers Association

"The thing that inspires me the most about the commodity I represent, apples, are the local apple growers in Pennsylvania. Seeing how hard the apple growers work to provide fresh, high quality apples inspires me to work harder to educate the community about apples. The reason I wanted to become Apple Queen was that I wanted to educate and become a larger part of this community."

MIKAYLA DAVIS 2021 PA State Dairy Princess

Hometown: Leesport

Parents: Mike and Angie Davis

Sponsor: PA Dairy Princess and Promotion Services, Inc.

"I am extremely honored to represent our hard-working dairy farmers across Pennsylvania. Farmers work each day taking great care of their land and animals to provide us with wholesome, nutritious milk. This year I hope to bridge the gap between farmers and consumers while also inspiring young girls in agriculture to follow their passion and chase their dreams."

MIKARA ANDERSON 2021 PSU Agriculture Advocate Senior majoring in Landscape Contracting

Hometown: Three Springs

Sponsor: Penn State College of Agricultural Sciences

"I chose Penn State and the College of Agriculture Sciences because I knew Penn State was a highly recognized university with one of the most prestigious animal science programs in the country."

DAVID BUCKWALTER 2021 PSU Agriculture Advocate Junior majoring in Animal Science

Hometown: Elizabethtown

Sponsor: Penn State College of Agricultural Sciences

"I chose Penn State and the College of Agricultural Sciences because of the amazing faculty and staff that were willing to help me achieve my personal and career goals."

REBECCA KUGLER 2021 PA Sheep & Wool Queen

Hometown: Oley

Parents: Mark and Julie Kugler

Sponsor: PA Sheep and Wool Growers Association

"It inspires me how diverse the sheep and wool industry is. Sheep provide both meat and fiber for a growing population, which allows for so much innovation and improvement!"

CASSANDRA LANZA 2021 PA Alpaca Princess

Hometown: Shermans Dale

Parents: David and Sally Lanza

Sponsor: PA Alpaca Owners and Breeders Association

What inspires you the most about the commodity you represent?

"Despite their relatively recent debut in the United States, alpacas and their products have quickly become an established part of the Pennsylvania agriculture industry. The versatility of their fiber coupled with their overall uniqueness have interested and impressed me, as well as many others."

GAIL SWITZER

2021 PA State Grange Outstanding Young Patron

Hometown: West Chester

Parents: Marie and the late Leonard Switzer

Sponsor: PA State Grange

"For almost 20 years I have had the pleasure of being a part of this organization that continues to give so much back to the members and the community. The Grange continues to serve the ag communities today and since its beginning in 1867 and provides a multitude of opportunities for all members, young and old. While the opportunities are great, the one thing that will always resonate with me most about Grange is that many of my Grange friends are now considered my family."

AUTUMN TWORKOSKI

2021 PA State Grange Youth Ambassador

Hometown: Hamburg

Parents: Eric and Connie Tworkoski

Sponsor: PA State Grange

"What inspires me the most about the Grange is the seeing the compassion that everyone has for each other in and out of the organization. Everyone in the Grange is focused on making their community a better place for everyone in it. It's wonderful seeing everyone work together toward a common goal. As one of the Youth Ambassadors, I can't wait to share my Grange experience and watch the Grange grow so that more people can experience the same things that I have."

ASHLAN SMITH

2021 PA State Grange Youth Ambassador

Hometown: Elizabethtown

Parents: James and Becky Smith

Sponsor: PA State Grange

"What inspires me the most about representing the Grange is how closely knit every member is with each other and how we are like one big family. I am proud to be a part of an organization that is filled with people who strive to be good and do good and how we also help the community outside of Grange. We all continue to love each other and look forward to seeing our Grange friends and family at every event we attend. As PA Grange Youth Ambassador, I am happy to represent an organization that drives themselves to be better for the organization and for those around them."

2020 Sale of Champions

Supporting Agriculture's Future

At 2020 Farm Show's annual Junior Market Livestock Sale, more than 400 market animals — hogs, steers, lambs, rabbits, lambs and goats — raised and shown by youth, were auctioned off. A percentage of auction earnings goes to the Pennsylvania Farm Show Scholarship Foundation, which uses the money, along with donations, to provide scholarships for agriculture students. In total, 24 college students received $84,000 in scholarships through the foundation. Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences and Delaware Valley University awarded an additional $2,000 to their students for receiving the award.

Grand Champion Jr. Market Steer

The Grand Champion Market Steer, exhibited by Karli Berkheimer of Dillsburg, York Co., was purchased by Giant Foods and Bell & Evans for $20,000.

Grand Champion Jr. Market Lamb

The Grand Champion Market Lamb, exhibited by Hunter McMillen of New Florence, Indiana Co., was purchased by Hoss's Steak and Sea House for $6,000.

2021 Sale of Champions

In 2021, the Jr. Market Livestock Sale was held at New Holland Sales Stables, without the youth on halter and without the usual crowd that packs the sale arena at the Farm Show Complex. The pandemic scaled back the noise and excitement, but generous buyers enthusiastically supported youth scholarships. The total raised for scholarships from the sale of cattle and additional donations was $56,450.

Pennsylvania Farm Show Scholarship Foundation

In the Farm Show tradition of providing educational activities and support, the Farm Show Scholarship Foundation was established to assist Pennsylvania youth with financial support in their goal to pursue continued education. Recognizing the value of agriculture to the state's economy, this program is designed to help students reach their goals and hopefully keep them our agriculture industry.

The Farm Show Scholarship Foundation was established in 1993 through the vision and generous support of several key leaders in agriculture and three companies that contributed more than $11,000 toward scholarships. Since then, the Foundation has awarded nearly $1.7 million in scholarships to nearly 600 worthy 4-H and FFA youth.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE FOR THE SCHOLARSHIP?

Eligible applicants must be enrolled in a post-secondary educational institution and have been a PA Farm Show exhibitor of junior market livestock including sheep, steers, swine, rabbits or goats. Junior breeding project exhibitors, Farm Products, and Family Living youth exhibitors are also eligible to apply.

HOW DO I BECOME A FOUNDATION MEMBER?

There are three types of memberships: Ambassador Club, Regular and Past Scholarship Recipient.

The Ambassador Club is available for those individuals and corporations who wish to visibly demonstrate their support of agriculture and the Foundation. Annual membership dues start at $300/ individual and $500/ corporations/ businesses. Of course, you're encouraged to contribute much more than those minimum levels! As an Ambassador Club member you receive tickets to the breakfast and access to the lounge with food and refreshments both during the PA Farm Show event in January.

Regular Membership is open to any person interested in supporting the mission of the Foundation. Annual membership dues are $50.

The past scholarship recipient membership fee of $40 for those who have received the scholarship in the past 10 years.

To become a Foundation member, complete the form and send it along with a check made payable to the PA Farm Show Scholarship Foundation.

Purchasing Livestock shown at the Pa Farm Show

‘Ever thought about bringing home the bacon? The Farm Show Junior Livestock Sale provides the opportunity to take home meat raised right here in the Keystone State.

4-H and FFA members work hard for a year or more, to prepare to show their market livestock over the three days at the beginning of the PA Farm Show. Their work purchasing, raising, training, clipping, and showing their market animals has all led to the minute they bring their animal to the auction block at Tuesday’s sale. Bidders support these youth, who then invest the money in their education or their herds and flocks.

Why buy an animal at the Junior Livestock Sale?

- Cheaper than purchasing meat at the store.
- Knowing where your food comes from and who raised it.
- Supporting the next generation of agriculturalists and agriculture promoters.

But before you seek the winning bid:

Do you have enough freezer space?

(Here’s how much meat to expect!)

- Steer: 450-500 pounds of beef
- Hog: 120-150 pounds of pork (bacon, sausage, ham)
- Sheep: 40-55 pounds of lamb
- Goat: 35 pounds of meat
- Rabbit (sold by pen): 3-4 pounds each

Do you have a preferred butcher shop?

- If so, let them know you’d like them to handle harvesting and fabrication of an animal you hope to purchase at the Farm Show. If not, contact your county Penn State Extension office for help locating a shop. If you are purchasing a hog: all hogs must go directly to harvest with pre-approval of trucking and harvest facilities.
- If you don’t have a livestock trailer, your butcher shop, or the exhibitor you plan to purchase from, may be able to help you find a hauler.

Please contact the PA Farm Show’s livestock office at 717-787-2905 if you need more info.

Secretary of Agriculture Confirms Return of In-Person PA Farm Show, Reveals 2022 Theme: Harvesting More

Harrisburg, PA – Agriculture Secretary Russell Redding confirmed today that the 106th Pennsylvania Farm Show will return to a traditional, in-person event in January 2022. The event will run from Saturday, January 8 through Saturday, January 15 and will be hosted at the Pennsylvania Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg.

"Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, we all experienced less – less gatherings with family and friends, less agricultural fairs and livestock shows, less opportunities to gather and network, and less of what we call normal," said Redding. "Now, it's time for more. Not only more of what we went without last year, but more of all that we need for a successful agriculture industry and a food-secure, sustainable world. And, of course, more milkshakes, butter sculptures, culinary inspirations and Farm Show memories."

Following the 2021 virtual Farm Show and its theme of Cultivating Tomorrow, the 2022 PA Farm Show theme will be Harvesting More. With the Department of Agriculture currently in the process of rolling out programs and funding opportunities for the third Pennsylvania Farm Bill, Pennsylvania is harvesting the products of investments in the industry made by Governor Tom Wolf. Pennsylvania has harvested increased engagement in Farm to School programming, increased urban agriculture infrastructure for improved access to nutritious food, more than 600,000 acres of farmland preserved for agricultural production forever, and a record number * of young agriculture producers in the commonwealth who will feed us tomorrow.

Each year, the Pennsylvania Farm Show chooses a theme to convey our vision for the future of Pennsylvania agriculture.

In honor of the 2022 show, McCall sculpted a 20-pound mini butter sculpture of the 2022 Harvesting More logo which was unveiled at Vale Wood Farms today. The 2022 Pennsylvania Farm Show will feature a return of fan-favorites like the 1,000 pound butter sculpture, Famous Farm Show Food Court, bunny hopping and sheep shearing competitions (among hundreds of other competitive agricultural events), cooking demonstrations at the PA Preference® Culinary Connection, and more than one million square feet of hands-on agriculture education opportunities and chances to engage with the people who power Pennsylvania's $12.5 billion agriculture industry.

After cultivating virtually in 2021, it's only natural that we Harvest More in 2022 as we join together in Harrisburg once again," said Pennsylvania Farm Show Complex Executive Director Sharon Myers. "We'll showcase a harvested bounty of innovative projects, sustainable practices, empowered agriculturalists, engaged youth and inspiring stories of our powerful agriculture industry. I hope you join us as we Harvest More, together, in Harrisburg in January."

Redding unveiled the Harvesting More theme at Vale Wood Farms in Cambria County, with help from Garrett McCall, winner of the 2021 Butter Up! competition held during the virtual 2021 PA Farm Show. McCall's entry in the first-ever PA Farm Show butter sculpture contest, The Good Shepherd, garnered the most engagement in the social media contest.

"While the show will return to an in-person format, the department will offer a variety of virtual opportunities to experience the show and celebrate agriculture. Successful virtual events from the 2021 show that will return include the Butter Up! competition, duckling and bee live live cams, Ag Explorer stations, and the PA Farm Show Trail. Pennsylvanians can also tune in on the Pennsylvania Farm Show Facebook and Instagram accounts for a sampling of virtual farm tours, STEM demos for kids, Farm Show trivia and stories of agriculture."

Friends of the Farm Show News

Linda Wilhide was presented with a plaque and shadow box with Farm Show Pins by Chairman William Piper, Friends of Farm Show Foundation Inc, for her years of service to the organization.

Linda Wilhide honored by Friends of the Farm Show

The Friends of Farm Show Foundation honored Linda Wilhide for her service to the organization at the July Board meeting held at the Farm Show Complex in Harrisburg.

Wilhide has been with the Friends of Farm Show for 7 years serving as the Administrative Assistant. Chairman William Piper described her as dedicated, and the hub of the wheel that kept us all moving. Piper went on to elaborate, "Linda was there to assist in whatever our operational needs were. Her expertise was invaluable as the Friends of the Farm Show grew and evolved into the very successful organization that it is today."

Gerald Reichard, Special Advisor to the Friends of the Farm Show Foundation spoke of Wilhide's knowledge and kindness. Reichard had recently stepped into the position of Special Advisor and shared, "Linda was a delight to work with and she made my transition into the Liaison position easier with her helpfulness, knowledge, and resources."

FOFS board member Larry Weaver shared, "I was so appreciative of all the work that Linda did for the foundation. I enjoyed working with her."

Wilhide said, "I came to the FOFS Foundation in 2014, and I loved being in the Farm Show building, it seemed right for me, as I had a history here. I showed horses with 4H when I was younger. She also spoke very fondly of the foundation in working with great people."

The FOFS Foundation has generated 13 million dollars which flows back through the Farm Show for educational programming, incentives, and events. Wilhide shared, "It is important to be part of an organization. There are many non-profits that are the backbone for a lot of organizations to be successful. The growth was phenomenal over the years with the Friends of the Farm Show Foundation. My time with the foundation was very interesting and it kept me busy, but I enjoyed the work." When asked what she plans on doing in retirement, Wilhide replied, "VACATION". Everyday life keeps her busy but she is looking forward to relaxing!

Farm Show Summer Fest a Big Success!

Thank you to all!

The PA Farm Show held its third Food Fest on July 16-18, 2021 with a couple thousand people in attendance! The Fest had 18 vendors, along with the Dairy Princesses, Dept. of Health offering vaccines and The Friends of the Farm Show.

Attendees found many of their favorite foods like milkshakes, donuts, bloomin' onions, breaded mushrooms, sausages, french fries, funnel cakes and so much more!

We would like to thank the following vendors for their participation in making this event a big success!

PA Dairymen's Association
The American Mushroom Institute

PA Dairy Princess Program

The Farm Show is an incredible community asset and getting people back in the building was just one of the goals. Supporting the commodity groups, Farm Show Vendors and concessionaires who use the annual Farm Show as an organizational fund raiser was important.

PA Dairy Princesses Share Program Information and a Refreshing Recipe!

Our county dairy princesses join together with their alternates, junior promoters, and county committees to promote across the state on local, regional, and state levels to deliver the dairy message to the public: Pennsylvania's official beverage, MILK – contains 13 essential nutrients to help keep the body healthy! They communicate the importance of the dairy industry and its products to the economic well-being of our state's economy and remind consumers to Choose Pennsylvania Dairy – Goodness that matters!

The mission of Pennsylvania Dairy Princess & Promotion Services, Inc. is:

- To work with local county committees in their promotional efforts and their dairy princess

2020-2021 Pennsylvania State Dairy Royalty: PA State Alternate: Katerina Coffman - Huntingdon, PA, PA State Princess: Gabrielle Swavely - Centre, State Alternate: Kristin Johns - Berks

programs to promote the sale and consumption of milk and dairy products at the grassroots level throughout the state of Pennsylvania.

- To plan and conduct the training of young people to serve as dairy industry promoters now and the agricultural leaders of the future.

- To coordinate the selection and activities of the State Dairy Royalty Team.

We believe that by communicating and working with grassroots promotion efforts and regional dairy promotion programs that we can combat the health crisis that many of Pennsylvania's consumers are suffering; have a healthier, happier public; and create a stronger, more productive dairy industry.

Milk Punch Recipe

1 1/2 quarts of soft vanilla ice cream
3 cans (46 fl. oz.) of pineapple juice
1/2 cup orange juice
1 tbs lemon juice
1 quart of cold milk

In a punch bowl combine all ingredients and stir until blended. Serve and enjoy!
