

FEATURED BITE: Foie Gras Pemmican

DAVID SKINNER

Ishtia is the creation of Chef David Skinner, a Choctaw tribal member, inspired by his ancestors' stories. His vision was to offer a space where people could experience indigenous culture through food and storytelling. He believes every dish has a story, and at Ishtia, those stories come to life.

The tasting menu showcases the diversity and richness of indigenous cuisine, featuring dishes from various indigenous peoples. Each dish is made with traditional ingredients and a blend of traditional and modern gastronomic techniques. The menu includes ingredients indigenous to North and South America and some colonial imports, illustrating how these elements transformed cultures and influenced the destinies of indigenous peoples.
