Over 30 restaurants in and around Howard County are offering fifteen days of unique menus, tastings, and specialty craft beverages.

Ellicott City, MD (January 2020)

Visit Howard County is bubbling up its semi-annual Restaurant Weeks promotion with the addition of Craft Beverages. Visit Howard County's Restaurant Weeks & Craft Beverages runs January 20 - February 2, 2020. Howard County is quickly becoming one of Maryland's hot spots for foodies. New restaurants such as Rathskeller in Elkridge and Cilantro's Neighborhood Cantina in western Howard County and over 9 breweries and distilleries have brought exciting new energy to developing Howard County's food and craft beverage scene.

Restaurants, breweries, and distilleries across Howard County are serving up fresh and unique food and beverages. Participating locations are offering fixed-price menus and specialty local craft beverages (beverages, tax, gratuity not included, promotions and menus vary.) Over thirty businesses are participating, so there is sure to be something for every taste and budget.

"Howard County Restaurant Weeks are the perfect time to step out of your comfort zone and try some of the incredible restaurants, breweries and distilleries across Howard County," said Howard County Executive Calvin Ball. "There are more than 16,500 people working in the hospitality industry in our County, and it's an integral part of our growing economy. I encourage residents and visitors to take the time to try something new or visit an old favorite, with more than 30 establishments participating, there is something for everyone."

"There are thirty-five and counting participating locations including restaurants that are new to Howard County and restaurants that are participating for the first time," said Amanda Hof, Executive Director for Visit Howard County, "We are especially excited to welcome our first distillery, Lost Ark Distilling Company, to the program. There are more choices than ever."
