Kick it up a notch this summer! Over twenty-five restaurants in and around Howard County are offering fifteen days of fresh and unique chef's menus of multi-course, specialty plates.

Ellicott City, MD (July 2019)

Visit Howard County's Summer Restaurant Weeks runs July 22 - August 5, 2019. Howard County is quickly becoming one of Maryland's hot spots for foodies. Newer restaurants such as Mad Chef Kitchen & Bar, Cured | 18th & 21st, Food Plenty, Hudson Coastal Raw Bar & Grille, and The Walrus Oyster and Ale House, are bringing exciting new energy to the Howard County food scene.

Restaurants across Howard County are serving up fresh and unique dishes at prices diners will love. Participating restaurants are offering fixed-price, multi-course chef's menus (beverages, tax, gratuity not included, promotions and menus vary) Over thirty restaurants are participating, so there is sure to be something for every taste and budget.

"I am excited to launch another Restaurant Weeks in Howard County," said County Executive Calvin Ball. "When we launched our winter Restaurant Weeks a few months ago, it was during the historic federal government shutdown that negatively impacted all of our Howard County restaurants this year. To help our restaurants continue to make up for that unnecessary loss of revenue, I encourage all Howard County residents and visitors from around the region to enjoy our upcoming summer Restaurant Weeks. We have some of the best restaurants, chefs, and diversity of cuisines that can be found anywhere in Maryland. Please explore and enjoy!"

"We love Howard County Restaurant Weeks and look forward to it every year. We've been participating since 2008 when we first opened Victoria Gastro Pub. We continue to participate as it's a great opportunity for people to visit our newest restaurant, Food Plenty as well as try something new from Victoria Gastro Pub and Manor Hill Tavern." expresses Corey Mull of Victoria Restaurant Group.

Joe Barbera, proprietor and owner of Aida Bistro & Wine Bar and Past President of Visit Howard County, who helped start Howard County Restaurant Weeks in 2008 reflects, "The quality, quantity, and diversity of restaurants in Howard County have increased exponentially. Our county is quickly becoming a foodie epicenter in Maryland."

Amanda Hof, Executive Director for Visit Howard County, adds "with so many new restaurants Howard County is quickly becoming a foodie hotspot. There are more choices than ever. Howard County Restaurant Weeks is a great opportunity for visitors and residents alike to see all that Howard County has to offer and try something new."
