CEDAR CITY

Population • 37,206
Elevation • 5,800 ft

Cedar City is a surprisingly cool mountain town that just happens to have world class cultural attractions in astonishing proximity to southwest Utah's famous Mighty Five® National Parks. At the end of the day, Cedar City is also known as "Festival City, USA" with a plethora of events taking place year-round from free music festivals, to downtown parades, touring bike races, and there's even a sheep parade!

Though free from crushing traffic and frantic city pacing, Cedar City doesn't skip on amenities. Historic Downtown is quaint with local shops and an impressive menu of "urban-esque" cuisine and southern Utah's only winery. Southern Utah University keeps things interesting with Division I athletics, guest lectures and concerts AND they just happen to be known as the "Unverisity of the National Parks." Paved trails weave the perimeter of town connecting you to the great outdoors and miles of recreational paths for mountain biking, hiking and OHV riding.

UTAH SHAKESPEARE FESTIVAL

Founded • 1962

As you walk the tree lined courtyard of the Utah Shakespeare Festival, lively music beckons you like a pied piper. Taking your seat in the grand Engelstad outdoor theater, the spotlight rises and Elizabethan costumed actors take to the stage. You've stepped through a window to the past and a magical evening under the stars is about to begin.

Seven plays are presented in repertory each season in three theaters: the outdoor Englestad Theatre, which is a replica of Shakespeare's Globe Theatre, the indoor Randall L. Jones Theatre, a stunning modern facility featuring contemporary works, and the indoor Anes Studio Theatre, an intimate 200 seat performance space. New to Shakespeare? Prepare by attending the play orientation just prior to the play's performance where informative talks are conducted by theatre experts.

The Festival also offers free seminars each morning where you can ask the experts, meet actors & directors, share your thoughts and opinions as well as get a close up look at props and costumes that come to life on stage.

Backstage Tours allow you to step behind the scenes and visit various production areas and see how all the magic comes together. One of the most incredible aspects of repertory theatre is the twice-a-day scene change. Lighting, scenery, props, costume, and sound technicians efficiently change everything from the matinee show to the evening show. Through Repertory Magic you can watch this fascinating and well-choreographed process and ask questions as it is happening. Please check with the box office or on bard.org for Backstage Tours and Repertory Magic availability.

FRONTIER HOMESTEAD STATE PARK MUSEUM

Imagine for a moment you're a stagecoach driver steering his team across the Old Spanish Trail, a pioneer woman crossing the plains in a covered wagon, or a steam shovel operator digging ore in an iron mine. Rather than imagine, why not experience all of this at Cedar City's own Frontier Homestead State Park Museum, where interactive displays and exhibits bring the early history of Cedar City and southern Utah to life.

You're greeted at the museum entrance by a 250,000 pound steam shovel used in the early days of the iron mines. Climb into this behemoth, as well as the Union Pacific caboose next to the shovel, for the perfect picture taking opportunity. Inside the museum is a world of preserved stage coaches and wagons. Also, peruse the special art and history exhibits that change on a quarterly basis.

The back of the museum is the "Homestead", with several preserved historic structures representing life of an early pioneer settlement. Here you can explore the Hunter House, Deseret School House, Sawmill, Blast Furnace, Sheep Shearing Shed and the Palisade. Each has a self-guided activity station for making rope, panning for gold, load a wagon, and write your name in the Deseret (Mormon) alphabet. Don't forget to visit the newly finished Native Heritage Exhibit to experience how Native peoples lived in Iron County prior to Euroamerican settlement.

Kids love to run, jump and crawl over the hunchbacked granite outcroppings expanding across the landscape. There's over 27 miles of mountain bike trails and 42 miles of OHV routes that zigzag through Three Peaks' 6,500 acres. There are two 18-hole disc golf courses and remote control flyers love the paved flying field. There is a developed campground and each of the 18 campsites/picnic sites have a covered pavilion and fire ring. Water and bathroom facilities are located throughout Three Peaks. Call (435) 586-5124.

Tucked into the red hills of Cedar City, is Thunderbird Gardens. A true hidden gem, packed with hiking, biking, and OHV trails. # PAROWAN

Population • 3,132
Elevation • 6,000 ft

Parowan's "Mother Town" nickname comes from being the original southern Utah settlement that spurred the colonization of the west, including places like Cedar City, St George and Las Vegas. Every corner of Parowan has a story to tell from their preserved pioneer homes, to their Heritage Park, Old Rock Church and Meeks Pond. As you explore Parowan you'll observe that folks hold tight to their roots of faith, family and love of country, celebrating them whenever the occasion presents itself - like when all the kids from elementary to high school age perform pioneer dances at the town birthday party or when descendant families come home for the annual Iron County Fair. Cradling you with a hometown sense of pride, Parowan is straight out of a Norman Rockwell painting with her beautiful tree-lined streets, an old fashioned Main Street and a noticeable lack of traffic lights (no need). Simply put, Parowan is a sweet piece of Americana.

PAROWAN GAP PETROGLYPHS

Wind, water and sand carved out this natural passageway that was once used as a major thoroughfare by ancient people. The different cultures are evident by the hundreds of petroglyphs carved into Parowan Gap including geometric designs, lizards, snakes, mountain sheep, bear claws and human figures. With over 90 panels and 1,500 figures, the Gap is believed to be one of the most concentrated collections of petroglyphs in the West - and one of the most accessible (just a few miles off the Interstate).

Researchers have identified what they believe to be solar and lunar calendars, plus hunting and cultural glyphs which provided early civilizations with a calendaring system where various solar time events are marked by shadows cast by the natural rock formations. The Bureau of Land Management recently completed a project to provide long-term preservation of the resources at the site including a visitor trail, public parking, restroom facilities and several interpretive signs.

Also two miles east of the Gap is a small collection of petrified dinosaur tracks. Cast in relief, these tracks offer a glimpse even further into the past.

The Dixie National Forest occupies almost two million acres and stretches about 170 miles across southern Utah making it Utah's largest national forest. Elevations in the forest vary from 2,800 feet near St. George to 11,322 feet at Blue Bell Knoll on Boulder Mountain. Nowhere else can you be skiing in the morning at 10,000 feet and mountain biking in high desert that afternoon.

You can also enjoy camping, kayaking, fishing, hiking, horseback riding, hunting and swimming; and with 83,000 acres of wilderness you can find solitude away from the sights and sounds of motorized vehicles. If engine powered is more your scene, the forest has hundreds of miles of snowmobiling, OHV riding, plus boating and water skiing.

The Dixie National Forest supports a wide variety of wildlife species such as cougar, bobcat, blue grouse, golden eagle, cottontail rabbit, wild turkey, antelope and Utah prairie dog. Bring your camera and your binoculars to observe forest creatures in their native environment, just remember not to bother or feed them, they're called "wildlife" for a reason.

STARGAZING

Nature's Light Show at Cedar Breaks | Mike Saemisch

Natural darkness is quickly becoming a scarce resource, in fact, 80% of Americans live where they cannot see the Milky Way. Due to the lack of light pollution, southern Utah is an ideal place for gazing into the night sky. With an international Dark Sky Park (Cedar Breaks National Monument) in our backyard, Cedar City is fortunate to be home to some of the darkest skies around.

WHERE TO SEE NATURE'S NIGHTTIME GLORY

Cedar Breaks National Monument

In March 2017, Cedar Breaks National Monument was officially designated as an International Dark Sky Park. This designation recognizes Cedar Breaks as a night sky sanctuary; the first of its kind in southwest Utah. Night sky events are held in the summer and fall. Check nps.gov/cebr for a schedule.

Around Town

Parowan soccer fields and Cedar Canyon park offer great places for viewing constellations. The Big Dipper is prominent in the northern sky and readily seen in our city parks.

National Parks, Forests, and Public Lands

Brian Head Town, Kolob Canyons, Dixie National Forest, Three Peaks, and Parowan Gap are areas close to town that have very dark skies which make for viewing our home galaxy of the Milky Way easy. The dense white band of millions of stars is a sight not to be missed.

The early Paiute people called Cedar Breaks the “Circle of Painted Cliffs” referring to the multi-colored stone ridges of this naturally carved amphitheater. Home to curious wildlife and Bristlecone pines that have been hanging around since the last millennium, time seems to stand still at Cedar Breaks. At night, as the reds of the rocks and the sunset fade to black, the sky is filled with luminous stars. Designated as an International Dark Sky Park, the monument is an ideal location to marvel at the night sky.

Cedar Breaks from the South Rim Trail

MUST DO'S

Cedar Breaks Hwy 148, offers beautiful views of the rock formations, meadows, and forests. Four developed overlooks, and trailheads for two hiking trails are located along the scenic drive. You can connect to Hwy 148 via Hwy 143 from Brian Head/Panguitch or by Hwy 14 from Cedar City. The scenic drive through Cedar Breaks is closed in winter. The Alpine Pond Trail is a moderate two mile route offering excellent views of the wildflower meadows. The South Rim Trail follows the plateau's edge for one mile to the Spectra Point Overlook. Hikers who are prepared for a slightly more strenuous stretch on this trail may continue one mile further to the Ramparts Overlook.

During July and August, the meadows surrounding Cedar Breaks are full of wildflowers. Take a camera and wear good sturdy shoes to discover the beauty of the alpine flowers, but be sure to stay on designated trails. In late September, the fall colors surrounding the Breaks really start to shine. USA Today rated the Cedar Breaks area as one of their "Top 5 Places to See Fall Colors".

Cedar Breaks skies are some of the darkest in the nation making it an ideal location to wonder at the stars above. Park Rangers offer many stargazing parties throughout the summer/early fall.

Geology talks and evening campfire programs are offered by park rangers each day. Check with the Visitor Center for schedule.

In winter, scenic Hwy 148 through Cedar Breaks is closed and becomes a groomed trail for snowmobiles, cross country skiing, and snowshoeing. Tours and rentals are available in nearby Brian Head and Cedar City.

“Kolob” is a word from Mormon scripture that means “star closest to heaven”. As you round that first corner in the Kolob scenic byway you just might agree. These canyons are often considered hidden in plain sight as most travelers aren’t aware of the wonder that is waiting just minutes from Interstate 15.

Kolob Canyons from the Taylor Creek Trail | Arika Bauer

MUST DO'S

Kolob is one of the few national parks that can be experienced from both the comfort of your own vehicle or while wearing a good pair of hiking boots. If you're driving, the short scenic drive is only 12 miles round trip with several pull off points along the route. The scenic drive will often close temporarily during inclement weather conditions. Call ahead to check road conditions.

The easiest hike is the Timber Creek Trail, which is located at the Canyon Overlook Picnic Area. Timber Creek is about one mile round trip and offers incredible views of the "Finger Canyons". The Middle Fork of Taylor Creek is a moderately strenuous trail that leads to a scenic double arch alcove. A great day hike to one of the world's largest freestanding arches, the Kolob Arch, can be found seven miles up the La Verkin Creek trail.

La Verkin Creek, Willis Creek, and Hop Valley trails offer excellent backpacking opportunities and connection to backcountry trails into some of the Zion main canyons. Permits are required for backcountry camping and are issued at the Kolob Canyons Visitor Center. Check for campfire regulations and restrictions. Always tell someone where you are going and your anticipated return.

Kolob is wildly popular for afternoon picnics. A great area is located at the Canyon Overlook with its incredible panoramic view of the red rock towers and multiple canyons. Keep your camera ready because the light in the afternoons and near twilight can be the best time to photograph Kolob.

VISITOR CENTER

Open year round from 8:00 am - 4:30 pm.
Extended hours in the summer.

SEASON

Open year round though snow may close the scenic drive during winter months. Call ahead for road conditions.

FEES

A 7-day pass into the park is $35, which includes entrance into the Zion Main Canyon. Interagency Park Passes are also accepted.

CAMPING

Overnight camping facilities are not available inside the park. Tent and RV sites are available in the nearby towns of Kanarrville and Cedar City. Backcountry camping requires a permit.

LOCAL FAVORITE

Navajo Loop Trail

MUST DO'S

Explore the park on 50 miles of hiking and nature trails; the easiest is the 1/2-mile (one way) section of the Rim Trail between Sunset and Sunrise Points. Another favorite hike is the Navajo Loop, a moderately strenuous hike that begins at Sunset Point and descends 520 feet through a slot canyon known as "Wall Street." Spring through fall, wranglers lead 2-hour and 4-hour horse and mule rides into the Bryce Amphitheater along scenic horse trails.

If you only have a few hours, stop at Sunrise, Sunset, Inspiration, and Bryce points. Have all day? Go all the way to Rainbow Point and take in all 13 viewpoints on your return trip. Bryce Canyon faces east so it is easier to pull into the viewpoints on your way back.

Clear mountain air and a location far from city lights and air pollution make for some of the starriest night skies in the country. Ranger staff provide several night programs, including telescope viewing, constellation tours, full moon hikes, and astronomy talks throughout the year. Check at the Park Service Visitor Center for schedules.

Winter brings plenty of snow to Bryce Canyon, but don't let that deter you from visiting. The red rock spires or "hoodoos" are a sight to behold when wrapped in a blanket of white. Ski-set trails inside the park are interconnected with groomed ski tracks at nearby Ruby's Inn Nordic Center.

Ever wonder why the rocks are red in Bryce Canyon? Where they got the name Hoodoo? What's a deer's favorite food? The Ranger programs are free and a great way to expand your exploration of Bryce Canyon. Schedules are available at the visitor center.

VISITOR CENTER

Open year round from 8:00 am - 4:30 pm.
Extended hours in the summer.

SEASON

Reserve your site at recreation.gov. Additional camping options can be found at nearby Bryce Canyon City & Tropic Reservoir.

BRYCE CANYON SHUTTLE

The optional Bryce Canyon Shuttle operates daily April through October. The shuttle is free with your park entrance fee and stops at the visitor center plus all the viewpoints in the park's main amphitheater. A shuttle schedule is available at the entrance station.

Zion Canyon, Watchmen

MUST DO'S

Zion offers many paths that range from "leg stretchers" to extensive backcountry treks. Emerald Pools is a popular hike. Its lower, middle, and upper pools are sectioned so you can customize your trip from a fairly easy walk to a more adventuresome hike that's strenuous but extremely rewarding for those with no fear of heights.

Get with a local guide for the ultimate Zion thrill, canyoneering! A true adventure where you often wade through water, repel off cliffs and squeeze yourself through narrow slot canyons.

Immerse yourself in the diverse ecosystem of the park by joining one of the many ranger led activities hosted by Zion Park staff. Everything from Junior Ranger Programs, guided hikes, daytime talks, and evening programs are offered. Check at the visitor center for schedules. For an even more in depth experience, the Zion Canyon Field Institute offers workshops, field trips, and service learning projects year-round. Topics often include geology, archeology, photography, flora and fauna. Call (435) 772-3264 or zionpark.org.

Permanent exhibits display the rich human history of Zion National Park. Showcasing American Indian culture, historic pioneer settlement, and Zion's growth as a national park, the Human History Museum also illustrates the effects of water in Zion. A free 22-minute orientation film is shown throughout the day.

Zion is Utah's busiest national park and some trails require a permit. Plan ahead and check the park's website for the most up to date visitor information including trail closures and weather precautions.

Adults of legal age can order and consume beer, wine and hard liquor at licensed bars, pubs, restaurants and a variety of other establishments throughout the state.

- You must be 21 to purchase or consume alcoholic beverages in Utah. Alcoholic beverages (wine, liquor, and beer) are available two ways in Utah: by the drink, or packaged by the bottle.

- Mixed drinks, heavy beer and wine may be ordered with food in state licensed restaurants from 11:30am - 1am. Patrons may be served at their tables or in waiting areas.

- Taverns and beer establishments sell beer from 11:30am - 1am. This includes a variety of venues: taverns, lounges, cabarets, nightclubs, cafes, bowling centers, golf courses, etc. Beer may be purchased without ordering food and is sold on draft and in bottles and cans. (Service in a licensed restaurants does require that you order food with your drink.) Beer sales "to go" are also allowed, but not in open containers.
