

Wendy Martinez was born in Tlaxcala, Mexico, and raised in Jackson, Wyoming. She holds a master's degree in public administration from the University of Wyoming and has dedicated her career to serving the Jackson community. Wendy currently serves as the Director of Housing Solutions at the Community Foundation of Jackson Hole, where she leads collaborative efforts to advance affordable housing strategies and address systemic barriers to housing access.

With over seven years of experience in the nonprofit sector, Wendy has focused her work on expanding affordable housing opportunities and supporting community-driven solutions. She currently represents Wyoming on the Affordable Housing Advisory Council for the Federal Home Loan Bank of Des Moines and is an active board member of the Teton County Library Foundation and Immigrant Hope.

Wendy has served on the Jackson Hole Chamber of Commerce Board since 2022 and plays an active role on the Young Professionals of the Tetons Committee, where she fosters connection, cultural awareness, and inclusive community engagement among emerging leaders.

Wendy believes in the power of community partnerships and is excited to bring her nonprofit experience into her role with the Chamber. She sees meaningful opportunities to leverage cross-sector collaboration to strengthen housing solutions and tackle other complex community challenges.
