ANGELS CROSSING GOLF CLUB

3600 E. W Ave., Vicksburg, MI 49097 • (269) 649-2700

Third-generation course architect W. Bruce Matthews III created a modern classic with features inspired by the likes of Shinnecock Hills, Charleston Country Club and Fox Chapel. Five sets of tees present 350 acres of generous fairways, large rolling greens and bold bunkering overlooking Portage Creek, Barton Lake, native wetlands, and prairie grasses. An extensive practice facility — including target greens, bunkers and a short game area — are available.

HERITAGE GLEN GOLF CLUB

29795 Heritage Lane, Paw Paw, MI 49079 • (269) 657-2552

Built in the mid-1990s, this course has been acclaimed as one of Michigan's most scenic courses, located in a well-forested setting in the heart of the state's wine country. Architect Jerry Matthews used this landscape to create intriguing holes with a great amount of variety and opportunities for golfers of all levels to test their skills. On some holes, thick with pines, you'll feel as if you're in the Northwoods; on others, wide open fairways offer a taste of Scottish links design.

ISLAND HILLS GOLF CLUB

61809 Stonegate Drive, Centreville, MI 49032 • (269) 467-7261

Created by international designer and architect Raymond Hearn, this course is unique in both its bold beauty and broad playability. The layout moves through constantly changing terrain, making each hole a distinct and memorable experience. So memorable that the late Phil Kosin, golf critic and Chicagoland Golf publisher, said, "This one's definitely worth the drive ...[It's] one of the sweetest 18s I've seen rural or urban."

GULL LAKE VIEW (EAST COURSE)

7417 N. 38th St., Augusta, MI 49012 • (269) 731-4149

This challenging course, designed and built in 1973 by Darl, Charles and Jim Scott, calls for careful shot placement and consistent accuracy. The course features the region's hilly terrain, undulating greens and natural water hazards, including 10 unique water holes, making this par 70 rarely challenged. Rated as high as the 10th best course in Michigan, this 18-hole course has enjoyed a long reputation as one of the finest in the state.

STOATIN BRAE

15579 E. Agusta Dr., Augusta, MI 49012 • (269) 220-3976

Renaissance Golf Design and Gull Lake View began construction on Stoatin Brae in the spring of 2015. Stoatin Brae is slated to be a par 71 playing over 6800 yards from the tips. As one of the highest spots in Kalamazoo County, it has amazing views all around the course. The designers envision a championship caliber course with something for everyone, including a variety of tees for all ages and skill levels.
