

Wyandotte County Lake Park is part of a large regional and local park system managed by the Unified Government of Wyandotte County/Kansas City Kansas.

This beautiful 1,500 acre regional park contains many amenities including a beautiful 400 acre lake. The lake was constructed in the mid 1930's with funding from the WPA and the county to create jobs and establish water conservation by impounding. Work was mainly hand labor; lumber was milled on site and stone was quarried from the lake bottom. Designs for the shelters, buildings and other structures were provided by the National Park Service. In 1944, water was allowed to start impounding and it rose so quickly, a rock crusher had to be abandoned and it remains in Wilson Cove today.

Wyandotte County Lake is a popular fishing and boating lake. Rainbow Trout and Channel Catfish are stocked prior to opening day each year. It is used by many families for picnics, playing on the large playground, bike riding, running or walking the main road. The most popular activity is a nice leisurely drive on the winding 6.5 mile road observing wildlife and the beautiful changing seasons.
