THE TWO-CHARACTER PLAY PERFORMANCE

7:30pm Fri. & Sat.; See website for ticket prices

On the evening of a scheduled performance, Felice and Clare discover that the rest of the acting company and stagehands have abandoned them. With an audience waiting and only two actors present, they decide to perform the aptly titled The Two-Character Play. As the evening unfolds, the boundaries between performance and reality begin to dissolve. What starts as a play becomes something far more intimate and unsettling, leaving both the actors and the audience to question whether Felice and Clare are performing a script, or reliving unresolved trauma from a past domestic tragedy. This event is at BLIXT Arts Lab, located at 2626 N. 48th Street. For more information visit www.facebook.com/events/865703282720648.
