

Visit Manchester Insider's Handbook 2025

The Worker Bee

Symbolising industry, work ethic and cooperation, the humble worker bee has been a symbol of Manchester since the 1800s. Today you can see the bee wherever you look – in our city crest, in our street art and mosaics, and on our lampposts and shop windows. It's a constant reminder of where this city's been, and what it stands for.

Welcome to Manchester

Whether you know us for our history, our music, our football, or something else entirely, you'll have some idea of what Manchester is about.

It's not until you explore for yourself, however – until you really get under the skin of the city – that you start to understand what Manchester really stands for. This is a city that marches forward; a city that celebrates diversity; a city that lives and loves; and a city that opens its arms to all.

The aim of this handbook is simple: we want you to use it to explore, discover, and find the version of Manchester that speaks to you.

Over the following pages, you will find some carefully curated ideas from people who live and breathe both the city of Manchester and the wider Greater Manchester region.

From much-loved coffee and brunch spots to our favourite neighbourhoods, towns full of character, museums, and galleries; this handbook has been compiled based on what we know first-timers enjoy most when they visit Greater Manchester.

And if you're a return visitor, welcome back! A lot has changed in recent years and there are plenty of new things to do and see, as well as many new developments to look forward to over the coming years. Check out our opening pages to get up to speed.

We hope this handbook gives you the confidence and knowledge to take off and go exploring beyond the obvious attractions; to seek out those hidden gems that even many locals struggle to uncover.

And when you've read this handbook, go speak to a local – whether that's a member of staff at one of our great pubs, an expert at the Visitor Information Centre, or a person in the street – to find out what they recommend; there are no better advocates for Manchester than the warm and friendly people who live here and who invariably love it.

I'd like to thank you for visiting us – and once you have, I'm confident you'll want to come back. Like many visitors you may even end up coming to live, study or work here. Manchester often has that effect on people these days.

Wherever you have travelled from and whoever you are, you are always welcome here.

Managing Director,
Marketing Manchester

Manchester

Energetic, diverse and individual, Manchester is a city with true character.

First finding global fame as the heart of the Industrial Revolution, Manchester has a proud history in science, politics, music, arts, and sport.

This is the city where the atom was first split, where the world's first passenger railway was opened, and where the modern computer was invented.

It's where bands like The Smiths, Oasis, Joy Division, and The Stone Roses were inspired to write music that moved the world.

It's the birthplace of modern vegetarianism, atomic theory, women's suffrage, and thermodynamics.

It's where Emmeline Pankhurst, Alan Turing, LS Lowry, and Anthony Burgess all called home.

Exploring Manchester city centre, you'll find it packed not only with remnants of this history but also with unique and independent restaurants, bars, shops, museums, galleries, and hotels, all gathered in neighbourhoods with their own distinct personalities.

Beyond Manchester, the surrounding nine boroughs of Greater Manchester offer some entirely different experiences including charming market towns, traditional country pubs, and beautiful green spaces and waterways.

All this doesn't scratch the surface of the modern Manchester experience. This city is what you make of it, so get out there, explore, and find the Manchester that speaks to you.

Neighbourhoods

Ancoats

Ancoats

The world's first industrial suburb, Ancoats has slowly been rising, threatening to take the Northern Quarter's crown as the city's coolest neighbourhood. It features an impressive list of bars and restaurants.

Altrincham

A 20-minute tram ride from the city centre, Altrincham has an award-winning high street and is now a foodie hub thanks to spots such as Blanchflower, The Con Club, and the iconic Altrincham Market.

Castlefield

This is where the Romans settled back in AD79 when they founded 'Mamucium'. Whilst the remnants of the fort can still be seen, this neighbourhood now makes for a picturesque walking spot along the canals.

Chorlton

In laid-back Chorlton, you'll find a medley of good pubs and bars, vegan delis, bakeries, and a strong foodie scene. Weekend strolls along Beech Road and around Chorlton Water Park make it difficult to leave.

Northern Quarter

Didsbury

Like Chorlton, the suburbs of Didsbury Village and West Didsbury have a hip, independent feel, full to the brim with restaurants, great shops and cafes, plus lush Fletcher Moss Park to explore.

Green Quarter

A growing pocket of green residential space that includes Angel Meadow Park, the Green Quarter is sowing seeds as a neighbourhood to watch with small businesses popping up under historic railway arches.

Levenshulme

Just one stop on the train out from Piccadilly station, Levenshulme has got plenty going on, from the community-run weekly market to the wonderful antiques village, plus plenty of good foodie spots.

Northern Quarter

The Northern Quarter is a hipster haven; a gritty area that's fiercely independent. It's overflowing with street art, galleries, cafés, bars, restaurants, boutiques and the unmissable Manchester Craft and Design Centre and Afflecks.

Neighbourhoods

New Islington

Follow the canals into the marina and you'll find New Islington blending into its neighbour, Ancoats. Spend the morning wandering watching wildlife, or devouring goods from the locals' favourite artisan bakery, Pollen.

Prestwich

This buzzing Bury town hosts independent and specialist retailers giving it a unique bohemian feel. You will also find plenty of green space including Prestwich Clough and nearby Heaton Park, Europe's largest municipal park.

Sale

A plethora of local stores, canal side pubs, and Waterside Arts Centre can be found in Sale. From the town, it's a short distance to Walkden Gardens or Sale Water Park.

Salford Quays

A unique waterfront location adjacent to MediaCity's tech and broadcasting hub, Salford Quays is home to the Lowry arts centre, the visually striking Imperial War Museum North, The Coronation Street Experience, and a cavernous food hall at Central Bay.

Salford Central

The area of Salford that meets the western edge of Manchester city centre features great bars and restaurants along Chapel Street as well as masses of green space at Peel Park and The Meadow.

Stockport

A ten-minute train out of the city, Stockport is full of cool businesses, foodie hotspots and some unique attractions including 1930s art deco Stockport Plaza and Grade II listed 1460s Staircase House.

Stretford

With a major regeneration plan in place, Stretford has become one of Greater Manchester's most sought-after neighbourhoods and is home to Old Trafford Stadium. The Sunday Times lists it as one of the UK's coolest neighbourhoods.

Urmston

Having undergone revamp in recent years, Urmston is emerging as a strong alternative to Manchester's leafy southern suburbs, with lots of great coffee shops, pubs, bars, and restaurants opening across the town.

Getting to Greater Manchester

Manchester is one of the best-connected and accessible cities in the UK, and because of its central location, it can provide a superb hub for your travels.

By Train

There are three main inter-city stations in the city centre: Piccadilly, Oxford Road, and Victoria. With direct rail services from across the country getting here is easy. Operators include: TransPennine Express, CrossCountry, East Midlands Railway, Northern, Transport for Wales, and Avanti West Coast.

Train journey times from:

London	2hrs 7mins
Edinburgh	3hrs 15mins
Birmingham	1hr 28mins

By Road

Manchester is well connected to the rest of the UK via excellent motorway links. The M60 ring road connects the city to motorways north, south, east, and west..

Car journey times from:

London	4hrs
Edinburgh	4hrs
Birmingham	1hr 45mins

By Coach/Bus

National Express provide services from all over the country into Manchester Central Coach Station on Chorlton Street in the heart of the city centre. Shudehill Interchange has services to destinations across the north of England and is also a base for Megabus and Flixbus nationwide services.

By Plane

Manchester Airport is the third-largest airport in the UK. Pre-Covid it handled 27 million passengers each year and was home to more than 70 airlines offering direct flights to Manchester from over 210 destinations worldwide. It is connected to the wider transport network via its own train and Metrolink tram stations as well as excellent road infrastructure.

Note: Manchester Airport has started work on the next major phase of its £1.3bn Transformation Programme, which will see construction of a new pier connecting to Terminal 2.

Getting Around Greater Manchester

Getting around the city-region and surrounding areas is easy once you're here thanks to the fleet of buses, trains, and trams. The compact nature of the city centre also makes walking easy and safe.

Journey Planning

The Bee Network is the new name of Greater Manchester's integrated transport system. The Bee Network website and app have a wealth of information and several journey planning tools to take the stress out of travelling by bus, tram, train, walking, and cycling.

Metrolink

There are 99 stops on the Metrolink tram network, with lines connecting north, south, east, and west. Purchase a ticket from ticket machines or on the Bee Network app before boarding, or touch in using contactless smart readers – don't forget to touch out when you complete your journey using the same contactless device.
