

A scenic view of Marble Falls, Texas, featuring a calm river flowing through a rocky landscape. Two people are kayaking on the water, one in a yellow kayak and the other in an orange kayak. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a warm, golden glow and long shadows. The sky is filled with soft, white clouds. The overall atmosphere is peaceful and inviting.

A Day in Downtown

Marble Falls is brimming with local businesses ready for you to explore.

Come on downtown! Our Downtown District is lined with dozens of independent storefronts. The unexpected is everywhere—boutique art galleries, distinctive architecture, even a candy shop owned and operated by a former party clown. From local food and handmade goods, to the performing arts and seasonal festivals, there's something for everyone. So take a stroll through the heart of Marble Falls. We're sure you'll find something to take home.

Mayfest

Festivals & Events

Every season is a reason to celebrate in Marble Falls.

SPRING

Two words: wildflower season. Two more words: and festivals. When you're not marveling at the bluebonnet displays, take in one of Marble Falls' signature outdoor gatherings, like Main Street Market Day, Mayfest, Paint the Town, or the Howdy Roo Food Festival.

SUMMER

It's an active kind of relaxed during the summer months, and Lake Marble Falls is the center of the action. Lakefest brings the boats and the adrenaline, while Fireworks on Lake Marble Falls brings the oohs and ahs. You might say Marble Falls was made for summer.

FALL AND WINTER

There's no hibernating in these hills. When the weather cools, it's time for celebrations. The Marble Falls Walkway of Lights is a can't-miss Hill Country tradition. And Sculpture on Main, Marble Falls Music Festival, and Victorian Christmas round out the season.

Walk. Stop. Shop. Repeat.

Local is the only way to shop in Marble Falls. Our Downtown District is filled with eclectic markets, nostalgic boutiques, even the world's best toffee – all in a short and leisurely walk. You'll find lakeside fashions, classic Texas antiques, and handmade Hill Country art, pottery, and jewelry—all destined to become antiques themselves. Find a full list of local shopping destinations on page 50.

NUMINOUS COFFEE ROASTERS

DEFINING A FAVORITE

Numinous (adj.): Being in the presence of something greater than yourself. This term was coined by Rudolf Otto and brought to life by Numinous Coffee Roasters in Marble Falls. Their in-house roasts, classic teas, and scratch-made bakery items have earned the reputation of being one of the local favorites.

Numinous Ginger Scone

Yields 10 scones

3½ cups flour	1 cup candied ginger, diced
½ cup sugar	2 sticks of butter, diced
1 tbsp baking powder	2 cups heavy cream
½ tsp salt	½ cup milk
Zest of 1 lemon

Combine the flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt in a bowl. Add the zest, ginger, and butter to flour mixture. Mix until coated in flour. Add the liquids and mix until combined (probably best by hand). Flour your work area and roll the dough out ~2/3" thick. Cut out round or whatever shaped scones you like!

After shaping, scones can be wrapped and frozen, or baked right away. Before baking, brush scones with cream and sprinkle sugar on top for an extra treat!

Bake at 350° for 20-30 minutes until golden brown. Enjoy!

Dessert and coffee. That's a meal, right?

Whether you're looking for a quick pick-me-up, a sweet spot to linger, or a reason to skip dinner altogether, Marble Falls has just the place to enjoy now—and maybe bring a little home with you, too.

MEET THE BREWMASTERS

DAVE AND QUYNH RATHKAMP

Dave and Quynh Rathkamp, owners of Save the World Brewing, saved lives before they started saving the world. Both former pediatricians, Dave and Quynh were inspired after visiting the Trappist Monks in Belgium where they saw monks brewing beers and giving their profits to charity. With Dave's passion for beer and Quynh's passion for philanthropy, they agreed to turn in their white coats, move to Marble Falls, and open up one of the first 100% philanthropic breweries in the nation. So you may ask, why just Belgian style beers? Dave's answer is because of the time, science, and level of care needed for just one brew. Just try their sours that have been brewing for close to 6 years! Dave's favorite beer is the PRINCEPS PACIS (Prince of Peace), but that might be because he won gold at the Great American Beer Festival for it. Known as "Marble Falls' Backyard" come Friday nights, you'll find all the locals here. Come for the great beer, and stay for the great conversation.

103 East Main Street, Llano

Steps for tasting wine

There's so much wine to savor in and around Marble Falls. So to taste like a sommelier, remember the four S method. Salud!

1. See

EVALUATE BY SIGHT

Assess the wine's visual character.

Varieties in color, haziness, and thickness are clues to a wine's type and origin.

2. Swirl

AERATE THE FLAVOR

Release the aromatics of the wine's flavor by giving the glass a swirl, allowing air to flow through it. Wine glasses are uniquely crafted to allow space for this step to take place.

3. Smell

IDENTIFY FLORAL AROMAS

Capturing the flavor's scent helps to determine whether a wine is young or old. Newer wines will have pungent aromas, while older wines will have subtle floral undertones.

4. Sip

SAVOR THE TASTE

Tasting the wine should confirm your interpretation of the flavor's bouquet. Take note of whether the wine releases floral, herb, mineral, or barrel flavors. Then neutralize your palate, and it's on to the next tasting.

A terroir worth tasting.

Ter-roir (noun) : The complete natural environment in which a particular wine is produced, including factors such as the soil, topography, and climate.

The Texas Hill Country is known for its wine scene, and Marble Falls is at the heart of both. Classic varietals, experimental ideas, and wide-open spaces—here's to finding your favorites.

10 QUESTIONS TO ASK AT A WINERY

1. What are the grape varieties used in this wine?

This will tell you the wine's composition, giving you the basic essentials to better understand the general properties and origins of wines.

2. What types of grapes are grown at this vineyard?

There are over 10,000 varieties of grapes in the world, inspiring wineries to create signature blends based on the region they reside in.

3. How long are your wines aged?

The timeline of wine aging varies based on grape varietal, fermentation technique and desired flavor.

4. How does barrel-aging change the flavors of your wines?

Barrel aging gives wine a unique, oak-like flavor. And steel barrel-aging offers a different profile. After enough wine tasting, you may be able to identify a barrel-aged wine from a wine that undergoes a different fermentation process.

5. How are your wines fermented?

Fermentation processes vary by winery, wine type, and region. Differences in fermentation techniques determine sugar-alcohol content—and flavor.

6. How do you know when a wine is at its peak?

Winemakers can identify a wine's peak years, indicating when one should drink it to enjoy the best flavor.

7. What would you pair these wines with?

Most wineries will have recommendations about spices or recipes that pair well with their wines.

8. What is your go-to wine for each season?

Often, wine preference mirrors food preference, meaning seasonal flavor choices will translate to seasonal wine recommendations.

9. Are any of your wines a blend?

"Blended" refers to wine that is composed of more than one grape varietal, sometimes from the same vineyard, sometimes from different regions, to create new flavors.

10. At what temperature should this wine be served to ensure the best flavor?

The temperature at which a wine is served will greatly impact its flavor. The ideal temperature varies based on the type of wine.

But wait, fish don't have noses.

There isn't another nose around for miles.

You don't need no stinkin' deodorant.

Welcome to the Highland Lakes

The Highland Lakes is a chain of six spectacular freshwater lakes that double as reservoirs along the lower Colorado River. Formed by six dams, the Highland Lakes wind through the Texas Hill Country, from Lake Buchanan all the way down to Lake Austin.

BOATS

Have boat, will float. Lake Marble Falls and the neighboring Highland Lakes are all about captaining your own ship. Sporty ski boats, partying pontoons, and calming canoes all share our waterways to enjoy a fun day on the gentle waves. Got a boat? Bring it. Need a boat? Rent it. There are lots of ways to get on—and in—the water.

Ramp access to the Highland Lakes can be found at these spots:

Johnson Park
LAKE MARBLE FALLS

KAYAK & CANOE

We may be named after a falls, but we've got a lake with our name on it too. As you can imagine, there's no better place to paddle. Kayaks and canoes are almost like native aquatic species on Lake Marble Falls. Jump in and explore the shoreline, or just let yourself go with the flow.

SWIMMING HOLES

Natural springs. Hidden oases. There are plenty of swimming holes tucked in and around Marble Falls, ready for you to fall into.

Devil's Water Hole
Located in Inks Lake, it's a great place for a swim, or to hop in a kayak and enjoy the water.

Canoe. Rod. Bait. Bliss.

If you're a lake town, then you're a fishing town. So grab some gear and let's get to casting. Lake Marble Falls is home to a hearty population of large mouth bass (we're talking up to 10 pounds). And catfish, striped bass, and even carp are known to swirl just beneath the surface. Fish in splendid solitude, or join in one of the local tournaments. Whether you're in a kayak, on a SUP, or perched on the banks of Johnson Park, it's easy to put yourself right where they're biting.

DOWN WHERE THE WHITE BASS RUN

The warm weather in early spring and late fall really brings out the bass. The White Bass Run in March and April is when white bass leave the depths of the lake to spawn in the shallow creeks. With a legal catch limit of 25 fish per day, you won't go home empty handed on your gone fishin' day.

DANIEL ADAMS

Daniel Adams was drawn to Marble Falls for its acceptance of artists and the potential for community growth, and much of his work is featured in the galleries around town. He looks forward to the impact of new downtown development and how it can positively impact both art and culture in Marble Falls. Adams views the arts community here as very professional yet quite varied in levels, ranging from amateur interests to inspiring.

Artist: Mitch Caster

When not working, he enjoys visiting other galleries and meeting colleagues, community events including "Sculpture on Main", the activities sponsored by the library, and the resurgence of the Uptown Theatre among other initiatives. Beyond art, Adams appreciates the natural beauty available because of the parks and the water. He is also an avid disc golfer.

Enjoy the wildest of color palettes.

Wake up and smell the bluebonnets—and over a dozen other wild blossoms of Texas. When the calendar turns to spring, the fields around Marble Falls are awash with an unnatural amount of nature's color. Yep, it's pretty spectacular. When you get here, be sure to stop by the Visitor Center for an updated map of the season's best spots.

DID YOU KNOW?

A healthy rain in the late fall and early winter months can make for a strong wildflower season in early spring. Bluebonnets, for example, tend to peak in April and taper in May, but a wetter fall can bring an earlier bloom.

A beautiful round, all year round.

The History of Marble Falls

Established in 1887 on the hillside above the Colorado River, Marble Falls quickly became a bustling Hill Country hub. With a population of over 1,800 in just ten years, Marble Falls grew with the vision of industrial commerce powered by the river. The dams that created Lake Marble Falls were fully realized in 1951, and by the 1970s, word got out that Marble Falls was a great place for lakeside tourism and recreation. And today, well, here you are. Welcome!

SHE DID IT FIRST

In 1917, Texas history changed forever, right here in Marble Falls. Years before women had the right to vote, Ophelia “Birdie” Harwood was elected Mayor of Marble Falls, becoming the first female mayor in Texas. Her tenure was driven by transparency and safety, publishing the Marble Falls budget, and cleaning up the town. Her home at 119 Avenue G still stands today, adjacent to the Marble Falls Visitor Center.
