FOREWORD

MINISTER'S FOREWORD

The effects of bushfire and global pandemic made this a year like no other for the Melbourne Convention Bureau.

The experience of both in quick succession had a serious and unavoidable impact on the business of the MCB, which in the first six months of the period demonstrated why it is regarded as a world leader in delivering international conferences, corporate meetings and incentive travel programs.

As Victoria's lead agency in acquiring and delivering business events, the MCB has been an important contributor to our economy and will be a key player in our recovery on the other side of the pandemic.

While events were put on hold, the MCB was busy laying the foundations for the future. More than 140 events were secured for the coming five years, events which are anticipated to attract almost 50,000 delegates and contribute more than $230 million to the economy.

The Victorian Government recognises the widespread benefits that this allows.

The travels of conference delegates in regional Victoria provides a significant boost to many local economies. Every corporate meeting and incentive travel group program in 2019/2020 included a visit to regional Victoria, and 40 per cent of international delegates visited regional Victoria as part of pre- and post-conference touring options.

One stand-out was the 2019 International Convention of Jehovah's Witnesses, which attracted 50,000 delegates to Melbourne. The event's pre-convention touring program saw one-quarter of attendees visit some of the state's most popular regional attractions.

It's an example of the benefits that the sector produces for all Victorians and it's why we look forward to again welcoming business-event visitors to the state when it is safe to do so.

Hon Martin Pakula MP

Minister for Tourism, Sport and Major Events

CHAIRMAN'S FOREWORD

In the 2019/20 financial year MCB delivered a solid performance in a challenging environment and continued to leverage off its competitive position to achieve some significant bid wins.

It was an active year for MCB, winning 74% of all bid opportunities across international and domestic markets. 145 business events were won for Victoria, with a forecasted economic contribution of $234.3 million and 48,500 future delegates expected to come to the state over the coming years. This is good news for all our partners, the city and the state.

This strong pipeline of business events for Melbourne through to 2025 has been secured in a year challenged by unprecedented events, with competition to secure business events for Melbourne now stronger than ever as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic and uncertainty surrounding the resumption of international travel.

Commencing my position as MCB Chair in March 2020 right as the pandemic was unfolding across not only our city, our country, but globally, I am proud of Julia Swanson and the MCB team in rising to this challenge which saw the full shut down of the business events sector.

MCB implemented a number of strategies to ensure that efforts were focussed on winning business that delivered the most benefit back to stakeholders, while working harder than ever to support our partners, and working closely with clients to reschedule business events, originally planned for this year, rather than cancel.

The MCB team is passionate and committed and these financial results are a reflection of this; demonstrating to its partners, stakeholders and industry that MCB is a strong, experienced organisation delivering a valuable contribution to Victoria's tourism and wider economy and will play an essential role in the rebound and recovery of the business events sector in the wake of the COVID-19 pandemic.

On behalf of the Board of Directors I would like to thank the MCB team for the results they have achieved and acknowledge the industry and Government partnerships for their ongoing support provided to MCB.

I would also like to acknowledge outgoing MCB Chair Chris Barlow and thank him for his contribution and service to the MCB Board.

Peter Crinis
Chairman
Melbourne Convention Bureau

CEO'S FOREWORD

Shaped by the unprecedented COVID-19 pandemic, the 2019/2020 financial year evolved into a year of two halves - the time pre-COVID-19 and the months after its onset, with all business events scheduled from March 2020 cancelled or postponed due to the coronavirus pandemic.

Despite the disruptive effects of the pandemic, the Melbourne Convention Bureau (MCB) drove significant impact to Victoria and the business events sector, securing $234.3 million to the economy. This achievement demonstrates the ongoing commitment and passion of the MCB team to impactful outcomes that drive the visitor economy.

What has defined the business events industry in Victoria has been the inspiring way it has reacted to the challenges presented. As one of the first industries to feel the full effects of travel restrictions and mass gathering bans, helping our partners and clients navigate the challenges presented by this situation remained MCB's top priority. Responding quickly to changing market conditions, MCB worked closely with clients to reschedule planned events to next year and beyond, and embarked on significant digital transformation to support the sector plan future events in Melbourne with confidence.

Our 2019/20 Strategic Business Plan has been guiding MCB forward this year in terms of enhancing our profile and business opportunities, engaging stakeholders, focussing on our long term financial sustainability and solidifying the significant value that MCB contributes to the economy, the business events industry, and community.

This is most evident through the 145 business events secured, including prestigious global meetings, which will deliver increased sales leads and business opportunities for our partners.

International Association events are the most lucrative and we secured 36 of these, which will contribute 71 per cent of our economic contribution for the year.

Victoria's reputation as a knowledge and innovation hub also continued to dominate. MCB successfully leveraged Melbourne's medical and health infrastructure and research assets to secure 15 events in this field. Conferences in the health and medical sectors made up 42 per cent of conferences secured by MCB this financial year, contributing 52 per cent of all international association delegates and injecting $78.9 million into the economy.

Our incentive business, driven by both core and emerging markets was buoyed by the 72 incentive rewards programs held across the year, despite the disruptive effects of the pandemic on group travel.

MCB's success is underpinned by the support of the Victorian Government, Visit Victoria, City of Melbourne, Melbourne Convention and Exhibition Centre and our MCB partners culminating in an effective 'Team Melbourne' approach to move to the next phase of recovery and rebound.

I would like to acknowledge MCB's former Chairman Chris Barlow, who after over 12 years announced his departure from the MCB Board. Chris played a pivotal role in stewarding us through significant change at MCB with the successful transition and integration of MCB into Visit Victoria.

I would also like to welcome Peter Crinis as MCB's new Chair and thank him for his support in navigating us through what can only be described as an eventful year filled with uncertainty.

As we look to the year ahead, MCB will play a pivotal role on the road to recovery and growth for the business events sector delivering new business to the state creating trade, investment and commerce opportunities in a COVID normal world.

4. ENVIRONMENTAL REGULATION

The Company's operations are not subject to any significant environmental regulations under either Commonwealth or State legislation. However, the Board believes that the Company has adequate systems in place for the management of its environmental requirements and is not aware of any breach of those environmental requirements as they apply to the Company.

5. PRINCIPAL ACTIVITIES

The principal activities of the Company during the year ended 30 June 2020 comprised of business development activities promoting Melbourne as Australia's premier business events destination and the securing of business events for Victoria. These assist in achieving the Company's short term and long term objectives of generating economic wealth for Melbourne and regional Victoria by securing national and international conventions, corporate meetings, exhibitions and incentive travel reward programs. The Company measures its performance by assessing the economic contribution delivered as a direct result of the business secured.

6. OPERATING AND FINANCIAL REVIEW

Revenue from operations for the year ended 30 June 2020 was $11,808,694 (2019:$11,988,056). The result for the current year is a deficit of $292,735 (2019 deficit: $550,286).

COVID-19 began to have a moderate impact on Melbourne Convention Bureau's (MCB) operating revenue position in FY19/20, with a $300k reduction of membership revenue due to a free extension of membership coverage from an original period of 12 months to 18 months. This was partially offset by Government stimulus grants of $128k for the same period.

MCB's Business Events have seen a number of conferences postponed due to the pandemic with a smaller number of conferences cancelled. All income associated with Business Events is received from the State Government and is available for Events when the lockdown eases and conferences can resume.

7. STATE OF AFFAIRS

In the opinion of the directors there were no significant changes in the state of affairs of the company that occurred during the financial year under review.

8. DIVIDENDS

Under the constitution, no dividends are allowed to members of the Company.

9. EVENTS SUBSEQUENT TO REPORTING DATE

COVID-19 will have a moderate impact on MCB's operating revenue position for FY20/21, with expected reductions in revenues across various operating revenue streams including MCB's industry partnership program and AIME (MCB's International Tradeshow). The membership and AIME income streams will be highly dependent on when and if Covid-19 restrictions are eased. Furthermore, due to the state budget being postponed because of COVID-19, MCB has not yet had confirmation of Victorian Government funding for January to June 2021. For FY2019/20 this funding was $2M which represented 24% of operating revenue.

Whilst MCB's Business Events have been interrupted due to the pandemic, all Business Events income from the State Government remains available for Events when the environment allows conferences to resume, and will therefore not affect MCB's operating surplus.

The effect of COVID-19 has been to create a difficult economic environment and a high level of uncertainty for the business events industry. The expected impact on the results of the company is outlined in section 10 below.

Melbourne Convention Bureau Ltd

A.B.N. 62 072 324 933

DIRECTORS' REPORT

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30 JUNE 2020

10. LIKELY DEVELOPMENTS

The Company's Retained Earnings has sufficient capacity to absorb any potential losses in the 20/21 financial year which, coupled with targeted reductions in operating expenditure, is expected to be less than $300k on the basis that State Government funding is renewed at existing levels and there is some easing of restrictions on mass gatherings.

The Board is considering a potential structure change to address the impact from COVID-19 that will better support the Company's operations and the expected results of its operations.

11. INDEMNIFICATION AND INSURANCE OF OFFICERS AND AUDITORS

(a) Indemnification

Since the end of the previous financial year, the Company has not indemnified or made a relevant agreement for indemnifying against a liability for any person who is or has been an Officer or Auditor of the Company.

(b) Insurance premiums

During the financial year the Company has paid insurance premiums totalling $7,471 (2019: $4,411) in respect of Directors' and Officers' liability insurance. These insurance premiums related to insurance of Directors and Officers of the Company named in this report. The policies do not specify the premium for individual Directors and Officers.

The Directors' and Officers' liability insurance provides cover against all costs and expenses involved in defending legal actions and resulting payments arising from a liability to persons (other than the Company or a related body corporate) incurred in their position as Director or Executive Officer unless the conduct involves a wilful breach of duty or an improper use of inside information or position to gain advantage.

12. MEMBER'S GUARANTEE

The Company is limited by guarantee. If the Company is wound up the constitution states that each member is required to contribute a maximum of $1 towards meeting any outstanding obligations of the Company.

At 30 June 2020 the number of members was 170 (2019: 220).

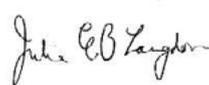

13. AUDITOR'S INDEPENDENCE DECLARATION

The auditor's independence declaration is set out on page 37 and forms part of the Directors' Report for the year ended 30 June 2020.

This report is made with a resolution of the Directors:

1. BASIS OF PREPARATION

(a) STATEMENT OF COMPLIANCE

In the opinion of the Directors, the Company is not publicly accountable. The financial statements are Tier 2 general purpose financial statements which have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements (AASBs) adopted by the Australian Accounting Standards Board (AASB) and the Corporations Act 2001.

The financial statements were authorised for issue by the Board of Directors on 12 October 2020. Details of the Company's accounting policies, including changes during the year, are included in note 2 and 3.

(b) BASIS OF MEASUREMENT

These financial statements have been prepared on the historical cost basis unless otherwise stated.

(c) FUNCTIONAL AND PRESENTATION CURRENCY

These financial statements are presented in Australian dollars, which is the Company's functional currency.

(d) USE OF ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENT

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future periods affected.

(e) GOING CONCERN

The financial report has been prepared on the going concern basis which assumes continuity of normal business activities and the realisation of assets and the settlement of liabilities in the ordinary course of business.

2. CHANGE IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Revenue from Contracts with Customers - Adoption of AASB 15

The Company has adopted AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers and AASB 1058 Income of Not-for Profit Entities for the first time in the current year with a date of initial application of 1 July, 2019.

The Company has applied AASB 15 and AASB 1058 using the cumulative effect method which means the comparative information has not been restated and continues to be reported under AASB 118 Revenue and AASB 1004 Contributions and related interpretations. All adjustments on adoption of AASB 15 and AASB 1058 have been taken to retained earnings at 1 July, 2019.

The key changes to the Company's accounting policies from applying AASB 15 and AASB 1058 are described below.

Melbourne Convention Bureau Ltd

A.B.N. 62 072 324 933

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

FOR YEAR ENDED 30 JUNE 2020

2. CHANGE IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

State Government funding DJPR

Under AASB 1004, grant income was recognised as revenue on receipt. Under AASB 1058 and AASB 15, where an agreement is enforceable and contains sufficiently specific performance obligations, the revenue is either recognised over time as the work is performed or recognised at the point in time that the control of the services pass to the customer.

Having reviewed the terms and conditions of grants received by the Company, some of them are within the scope of AASB 1058 and others within AASB 15 which has resulted in deferral of revenue for these monies.

Principal vs Agent

Prior to the adoption of AASB15, the Company assessed there was a principal in transactions where another party was involved in providing the services particularly where monies were received with the intention of passing them through to another entity. Under AASB 15, the indicators of a principal have changed and there are now a number of performance obligations within grant agreements where the Company is acting as Agent. The result is the Company, in respect of the Business Event Fund can no longer recognise excesses of grant receipts over grant payments in retained earnings but rather as liabilities in the statement of financial position as the Company has no claim to surpluses arising from certain grant agreements.

Change to retained earnings

The Company has applied the cumulative effect method on initial adoption of AASB 15 and AASB 1058. As a result comparative information in these accounts has not been restated. The Company instead elected to quantify the financial impact of this change in accounting policy and adjust retained earnings directly. The initial application of AASB 15 and AASB 1058 resulted in a reduction to retained earnings of $1,392,952 which is presented as an adjustment to opening retained earnings in the statement of changes in equity in the FY 19/20 financial statements.

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Except for any changes noted in 3(m), the accounting policies set out below have been applied consistently to all periods presented in these financial statements, and have been applied consistently by the Company.

(a) FOREIGN CURRENCY TRANSACTIONS

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated to the functional currency of the Company at exchange rates at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies at the reporting date are retranslated to the functional currency at the exchange rate at that date.

The foreign currency gain or loss on monetary items is the difference between amortised cost in the functional currency at the beginning of the period, adjusted for effective interest and payments during the period, and the amortised cost in foreign currency translated at the exchange rate at the end of the year.

Non-monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies that are measured at fair value are retranslated to the functional currency at the exchange rate at the date that the fair value was determined. Non-monetary items in a foreign currency that are measured in terms of historical cost are translated using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Foreign currency differences arising on retranslation are recognised in profit or loss.

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

(b) FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

(i) Non-derivative financial assets – recognition and derecognition

The Company initially recognises receivables and deposits on the date when they originated.

The Company derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows on the financial asset in a transaction in which substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred. Any interest in such transferred financial assets that is created or retained by the Company is recognised as a separate asset or liability.

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the statement of financial position when, and only when, the Company has a legal right to offset the amounts and intends either to settle on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

(ii) Non-derivative financial assets - measurement

The Company has the following non-derivative financial assets:

Receivables

Receivables are financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Such assets are recognised initially at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, receivables are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment losses.

Receivables comprise trade and other receivables.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash balances and call deposits with original maturities of three months or less.

(iii) Non-derivative financial liabilities – recognition and derecognition

The Company initially recognises debt securities issued and subordinated liabilities on the date they originated. All other financial liabilities are recognised initially on the trade date which is the date that the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

The Company derecognises a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged, cancelled or expire.

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the statement of financial position when, and only when, the Company has a legal right to offset the amounts and intends either to settle on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

The Company classifies non-derivative financial liabilities into the other financial liabilities category. Such financial liabilities are recognised initially at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, these financial liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method.

(iv) Non-derivative financial liabilities – measurement

Other financial liabilities comprise trade and other payables.

(c) PLANT AND EQUIPMENT

(i) Recognition and measurement

Items of plant and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses. When parts of an item of plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items of plant and equipment.

Any gain and loss on disposal of an item of plant and equipment are determined by comparing the proceeds from disposal with the carrying amount of plant and equipment and are recognised net within other income/other expenses in profit or loss.

(ii) Subsequent expenditure

Subsequent expenditure is capitalised only when it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Company.

(iii) Depreciation

Depreciation is calculated to write off the cost of property, plant and equipment less their estimated residual values using the straight-line basis over their estimated useful lives, and is generally recognised in profit or loss. Leased assets are depreciated over the shorter of the lease term and their useful lives unless it is reasonably certain that the Company will obtain ownership by the end of the lease term.

The estimated useful lives in the current and comparative periods are as follows:

	2020	2019
Plant and equipment	3-5 years	3-5 years
Leased plant	5 years	5 years

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each financial year-end and adjusted if appropriate.

(iv) Leasehold improvements

The cost of improvements to or on leasehold properties is amortised over the unexpired period of the lease, or the estimated useful life of the improvement to the Company, whichever is shorter.

(d) LEASED ASSETS

Under AASB 16, there is no differentiation between finance and operating leases for the lessee and therefore all leases which meet the definition of a lease are recognised on the statement of financial position (except for short-term leases and leases of low value assets). The Company has elected to use the exception to lease accounting for short-term leases and leases of low value assets, and the lease expense relating to these leases are recognised in the statement of profit or loss on a straight-line basis.

There are no leases recognised on the Company's statement of financial position.

(e) IMPAIRMENT

(i) Non-derivative financial assets

A financial asset not carried at fair value through profit or loss is assessed at each reporting date to determine whether there is objective evidence that it is impaired. A financial asset is impaired if objective evidence indicates that a loss event has occurred after the initial recognition of the asset, and that the loss event had a negative effect on the estimated future cash flows of that asset that can be estimated reliably.

Objective evidence that financial assets are impaired can include default or delinquency by a debtor, restructuring of an amount due to the Company on terms that the Company would not consider otherwise and indications that a debtor will enter bankruptcy.

(ii) Financial assets measured at amortised cost

Loans and receivables

The Company considers evidence of impairment for receivables at both a specific asset and collective level. All individually significant receivables are assessed for specific impairment. All individually significant receivables found not to be specifically impaired are then collectively assessed for any impairment that has been incurred but not yet identified.

Receivables that are not individually significant are collectively assessed for impairment by grouping together receivables with similar risk characteristics.

In assessing collective impairment, the Company usually uses historical trends of the probability of default, timing of recoveries and the amount of loss incurred, adjusted for management's judgement as to whether current economic and credit conditions are such that the actual losses are likely to be greater or less than suggested by historical trends. Due to the impact of Covid-19 an individual assessment was made of each debtor in FY 19/20.

An impairment loss in respect of a financial asset measured at amortised cost is calculated as the difference between its carrying amount and the present value of the estimated future cash flows discounted at the asset's original effective interest rate. Losses are recognised in profit or loss and reflected in an allowance account against receivables. Interest on the impaired asset continues to be recognised through the unwinding of the discount. When a subsequent event causes the amount of impairment loss to decrease, the decrease in impairment loss is reversed through profit or loss.

(iii) Non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the Company's non-financial assets are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists then the asset's recoverable amount is estimated.

An impairment loss is recognised if the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. Impairment losses are recognised in profit or loss.

An impairment loss is reversed if there has been a change in estimates used to determine the recoverable amount. An impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, if no impairment loss had been recognised.

(f) EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

(i) Defined contribution superannuation funds

Obligations for contributions to defined contribution superannuation funds are recognised as an expense in profit or loss in the periods during which services are rendered by employees. Prepaid contributions are recognised as an asset to the extent that a cash refund or reduction in future payment is available.

(ii) Other long-term employee benefits

The Company's net obligation in respect of long-term employee benefits is the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods plus related on-costs. That benefit is discounted to determine its present value, and the fair value of any related assets is deducted. The discount rate is the yield at the reporting date on government bonds that have maturity dates approximating the terms of the Company's obligations. Remeasurements are recognised in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

(iii) Short term benefits

Short-term employee benefit obligations are expensed as the related service is provided. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid if the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

(g) PROVISIONS

A provision is recognised if, as a result of a past event, the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. Provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows at a rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The unwinding of the discount is recognised as a finance cost in profit and loss.

(h) REVENUE

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Amounts disclosed as revenue are net of returns, trade allowances, rebates and amounts collected on behalf of third parties. The company recognises revenue when the amount of revenue can be reliably measured, it is probable that future economic benefits will flow to the entity and specific criteria have been met for each of the company's activities as described below. Revenue is recognised for the major business activities as follows:

(i) Government funding

Grants made by the State Government are recognised as revenue when the Company receives the contribution, or where conditions are attached to the grants and when those conditions are satisfied.

(ii) Membership and industry co-operative revenue

Membership contributions and income from co-operative projects are recognised when received or due and receivable, except where received in respect of the following financial year.

(iii) Advertising sales revenue

Advertising revenue is recognised when services are performed by the Company.

(iv) In-kind revenue

In-kind contributions that are non-reciprocal transfers to the Company are recognised at their fair value as income and expenditure when received, where fair value is determined with reference to similar goods and services.

3. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

(i) LEASE PAYMENTS

No leases payment are recognised in profit or loss after adoption of AASB 16.

Minimum lease payments made under leases are apportioned between the finance expense and the reduction of the outstanding liability. The finance expense is allocated to each period during the lease term so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability.

Determining whether an arrangement contains a lease

At inception of an arrangement, the Company determines whether such an arrangement is or contains a lease.

At inception or upon reassessment of the arrangement, the Company separates payments and other considerations required by such an arrangement into those for the lease and those for other elements on the basis of their relative fair values. If the Company concludes for a lease that it is impracticable to separate the payments reliably, an asset and a liability are recognised at an amount equal to the fair value of the underlying asset. Subsequently the liability is reduced as payments are made and an imputed finance charge on the liability is recognised using the Company's incremental borrowing rate.

(j) FINANCE INCOME AND FINANCE COSTS

Finance income comprises interest income on funds invested. Interest income is recognised as it accrues, using the effective interest method.

Finance costs comprise interest expense and the financial effect of unwinding of the make good provision. Borrowing costs that are not directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of a qualifying asset are recognised in profit or loss using the effective interest method.

(k) INCOME TAX

No income tax expense is charged and no income tax is payable by the Company as the Australian Taxation Office granted the Company an exemption from income tax under section 8.1 of section 50-40 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997. The Company reviews its income tax exemption status annually.

(l) GOODS AND SERVICES TAX

Revenue, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST), except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the taxation authority. In these circumstances, the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense.

Receivables and payables are stated with the amount of GST included. The net amount of GST recoverable from, or payable to, the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) is included as a current asset or liability in the statement of financial position. Cash flows are included in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis. The GST component of cash flows arising from investing and financing activities which are recoverable from, or payable to, the ATO are classified as operating cash flows.

(m) NEW STANDARDS AND INTERPRETATIONS

(i) Change in accounting policies

The Company has consistently applied the accounting policies set out in note 3 to all periods presented in these financial statements unless otherwise stated.

As disclosed in Note 2, the Company has applied AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers and AASB 1058 Income of Not-for Profit Entities and AASB 16 Leases for the first time in the current year with a date of initial application of 1 July, 2019, using the cumulative effect method,

As a result:

a) All adjustments on adoption of AASB 15 and AASB 1058 have been taken to retained earnings at 1 July, 2019.

b) No Right of Use Asset and Lease Liability were recognised as the company has no long term or material lease agreement existing.

For other loans and receivables, the Company applies the AASB 9 Financial Instruments simplified approach to measure expected credit losses (ECL) based on the change in the ECL's over the life of the asset. Application of the lifetime ECL allowance method did not result in a change in the impairment loss allowance of $197,315. Refer to note 3(e)(ii) for details about the calculation of the allowance.

(ii) New standards and interpretations not yet adopted

Certain new and revised accounting standards have been issued but are not effective for the 2019-20 reporting period. These accounting standards have not been applied to the Company's Financial Statements. The Company is reviewing its existing policies and assessing the potential implications of these accounting standards which include:

AASB 2018-7 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Definition of Material

This Standard principally amends AASB 101 Presentation of Financial Statements and AASB 108 Accounting Policies, Changes in Accounting Estimates and Errors. It applies to reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2020 with earlier application permitted. The Company has not earlier adopted the Standard.

AASB 2020-1 Amendments to Australian Accounting Standards – Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non- Current

This Standard amends AASB 101 to clarify requirements for the presentation of liabilities in the statement of financial position as current or non-current. It initially applied to annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2022 with earlier application permitted however the AASB has recently issued ED 301 Classification of Liabilities as Current or Non-Current – Deferral of Effective Date with the intention to defer the application by 1 year to periods beginning on or after 1 January 2023. The Company will not early adopt the Standard.

However, in connection with my audit of the financial report, my responsibility is to read the Other Information and in doing so, consider whether it is materially inconsistent with the financial report or the knowledge I obtained during the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work I have performed, I conclude there is a material misstatement of the Other Information, I am required to report that fact. I have nothing to report in this regard.
Directors' responsibilities for the financial report	The Directors of the company are responsible for the preparation of a financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards and the Corporations Act 2001, and for such internal control as the Directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of a financial report that gives a true and fair view and is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error. In preparing the financial report, the Directors are responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless it is inappropriate to do so.
Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial report	As required by the Audit Act 1994, my responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial report based on the audit. My objectives for the audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes my opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of this financial report. As part of an audit in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards, I exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. I also: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. • obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control. • evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Directors.

- conclude on the appropriateness of the Directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern. If I conclude that a material uncertainty exists, I am required to draw attention in my auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial report or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify my opinion. My conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of my auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the company to cease to continue as a going concern.
 - evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial report, including the disclosures, and whether the financial report represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

I communicate with the Directors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that I identify during my audit.

I also provide the Directors with a statement that I have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on my independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.
