

Three Epic Road Trips Through Monterey County, California Indulge in the central coast's unique cuisine, wine and more this summer

Monterey, Calif., May 19, 2021 – With California set to fully reopen by mid-June and the majority of Americans ready to hit the road and explore, Monterey County Convention & Visitors Bureau (Monterey County CVB) has compiled a list of must-discover routes and corresponding not-to-miss local dishes and signature beverages throughout the breathtaking California central coast destination. After a long year of staying close to home, now is the time for travelers to venture out and taste their way through Monterey County.

“As the summer road trip season officially kicks off, we’re encouraging travelers to take advantage of the scenic routes throughout Monterey County,” says Rob O’Keefe, president and CEO of Monterey County CVB. “Nothing says ‘road trip’ more than seeking out local dishes and signature beverages in a destination, and Monterey County’s culinary bounty of produce, fresh seafood and well-rounded wines will not disappoint.”

Here are just three road trip ideas to explore in Monterey County:

Artichokes and Ethnic Cuisine

Travelers heading south from San Francisco along iconic Highway 1 should make their first stop in Moss Landing, a quaint fishing village in northern Monterey County. After marveling at the diverse wildlife found in the Elkhorn Slough, continue south to Castroville for a stop at Pezzini Farms – known for its artichokes for the past 80 years – and sample French-fried artichokes and other delicacies at the Choke Coach food truck onsite. Tip: View the fields and fields of the big spiky artichoke plants heading out of town.

Continue southeast on Highway 1 to State Route 183 to marvel at acres upon acres of farmland on the way to renowned author John Steinbeck’s hometown of Salinas. Stroll historic Old Town Salinas and grab lunch at one of the dozens of authentic Mexican eateries located within just a few blocks (Villa Azteca is a locals’ favorite), and be sure to peruse the recently reopened National Steinbeck Center.

Take the back roads about 15 minutes west to Marina to indulge in Urban Wine Row: a fun tasting atmosphere that gives guests access to three boutique wineries in one spot. Then, enjoy some beach time at Marina State Beach, known for its steady winds for paragliding perfection. End the day at one of the area’s eclectic eateries showcasing a variety of cuisines – from Filipino delicacies at Lola’s Kusina to fresh Asian fare at longtime Marina staple, Ho-Wah Chinese Restaurant.

STAY: Sanctuary Beach Resort offers a secluded oasis situated on Marina State Beach. Guests can enjoy resort activities including sunset bonfires, coastal hikes, weekend beach yoga and access to a heated swimming pool. The resort also offers onsite dining at Salt Wood Kitchen and Oysterette, which includes an oyster bar and live-fire open kitchen serving delectable wood-grilled delicacies.
