The Winnebago System is comprised of several bodies of water, lakes Winnebago, Butte des Morts, Winneconne, Poygan and the Fox and Wolf Rivers.

Lake Winnebago is located in east central Wisconsin. It is 28 miles long and 10 miles wide with a maximum depth of 22 feet. It covers 137,708 acres and is home to one of the largest Lake Sturgeon populations in the world.

Lake Butte des Morts, located west of the city of Oshkosh and southeast of the village of Winneconne, is 8,857 acres with a maximum depth of 19 feet.

Lake Winneconne is the smallest of the upriver lakes and covers 4,507 acres. The main base has a maximum depth of 9 feet. It is located immediately north of the village of Winneconne and east of and connected to Lake Poygan.

Lake Poygan is the largest of the upriver lakes and covers 14,102 acres. Poygan has a maximum depth of 12 feet. It is located northeast of the village of Winneconne and south of Fremont.

he Fox River runs from the Eureka Dam, downstream to Lake Butte des Morts, to Lake Winnebago through the city of Oshkosh.

The Wolf River flows from the town of New London, downstream to Lake Poygan. From there, it flows from Lake Winneconne to Lake Butte des Morts.

Don't take these

f Invasive species like zebra mussels, Eurasian water-milfoil and rusty crayfish are causing problems for Wisconsin's lakes and rivers. Did you know that you might be helping them spread?

The main way invasive species get into lakes, rivers, and wetlands is by "hitching" rides with unsuspecting boaters, anglers, and other outdoor recreators. If you leave a body rhagic Septicemia virus (VHS) can affect numerous species of water without taking the precautions recommended here, of fish, including many sport fish. you could be transporting these harmful species from one species which are not yet in Lake Winnebago and you can help keep them out. You can also help keep these invaders from spreading to other lakes and rivers—many of which are still free from invasive species.

The good news is that you can help protect our valuable lakes, rivers and wetlands by taking a few easy steps. Each time you get ready to leave a water body, make sure to:

- Inspect your boat, trailer and equipment and remove visible aquatic plants, animals and mud
- Drain water from your boat, motor, bilge, live wells and bait containers
- Dispose of leftover bait in the trash, not in the water • Rinse your boat and recreational equipment with hot water OR dry for at least five days.

Taking these simple actions will help protect Wisconsin's waters for our children and grandchildren—ensuring that our scenic and bountiful waters will still be healthy the next time you come to visit!

It's the Law!

Wisconsin statutes prohibit launching a boat, boat trailer or boating equipment if there are any aquatic plants attached.

When inspecting your boat for plants and animals, be sure to check the spots labeled in the drawing above. VHS Alert
