Dear Friends,

Welcome to Providence, Rhode Island! Rhode Island may be the smallest state, but we have a lot to offer — something that will be clear to you after your stay in the Ocean State's capital.

Take a stroll down beautiful Benefit Street, a National Historic Landmark District featuring immaculately preserved buildings, homes and churches. Walk through Waterplace Park and experience WaterFire, a multisensory art installation that attracts admirers from around the world. See the latest art exhibition at the RISD Museum — or go on a tour of multiple galleries during Gallery Night and make some new friends along the way!

From our world-class universities to our award-winning restaurants, our reputation as The Creative Capital has been well-earned. However, the thing that I love most about Providence is that it's one big community, filled with warm and friendly people. As you explore the city and connect with the residents, you'll soon see why Reader's Digest named Providence "One of the Nicest Places in America."

Sincerely,

Gina M. Raimondo, Governor
State of Rhode Island

Dear Friends,

Together, we're creating a New Providence that's known for its honesty, integrity and optimism for what the future has in store. Because of this change in mindset, there's more activity happening than at any time in recent memory. Residents across our inclusive and thriving communities are now better connected to each other than ever and our downtown has been reinvigorated with family-friendly activities, history, art and world-class dining experiences.

With the arrival of spring comes fair weather and a chance to explore new opportunities waiting for you around every corner. From the charming historic neighborhoods of College Hill to the creative arts thriving in our Valley and Olneyville neighborhoods — there is truly something for everyone to enjoy! It is with this welcoming atmosphere that we were named "America's Coolest City" by GQ Magazine and "America's Favorite City" by Travel + Leisure Magazine. Don't just take our word for it — I encourage you to experience all that we have to offer with friends and family. With so much to do, see and discover, Providence will have you coming back again, and we will be here creating what's next.

Welcome to Providence. Please enjoy your stay and come back to visit us again soon!

Sincerely,

Jorge O. Elorza, Mayor

Al Fresco's Allure

Warm weather begs for enjoying meals outside.

Café Nuovo is a Providence icon of upscale continental dining. With patio seats right along the river, it is a hard reservation to come by on WaterFire nights. But at other times, the city views and the sublime food and wine delight.

CafeNuovo.com

Jacky's Waterplace & Sushi Bar offers a modern interpretation of Asian cuisine and drink in a sleek interior. Al fresco dining here is in the heart of Waterplace Park, where iron bridge railings, levels of concrete architecture and the river converge ... with tranquil results.

JackyGalaxie.com

Take a seat on the patio at The Capital Grille, order some colossal shrimp cocktail, a dirty martini, or a filet, and take in the views of the architecture of Waterplace Park and the majestic State House. TheCapitalGrille.com

On Providence's Federal Hill, pull up a seat at Blend and order up a savory Latin American dish and a refreshing mojito. Say hello to passersby who will ogle the deliciousness on your plate as they stroll through DePasquale Plaza. BlendPVD.com

Perhaps a perch higher up, with a view of historic architecture, is more your vibe. In that case, hightail it over to Mare Rooftop, located on the East Side near Brown University. Great cocktails and trendy interpretations of classic dishes rule here. MareRooftop.com

In the West Bay, head to Finn's Harborside in East Greenwich. This marina restaurant offers spectacular views from the open-air porch and is known for its casual, friendly vibe, weekend outdoor bands on the deck, and tasty interpretations of seaside faves — from clam cakes to bacon-wrapped scallops and beyond. FinnsHarborside.com

Across the bay, Bristol's Lobster Pot has delighted generations with its sublime views of Narragansett Bay's little islands from the stone patio, while serving up fresh, old school classics like surf and turf, and lobster bisque (with the traditional sherry, thank you very much). Paired with a Manhattan, perhaps? LobsterPotRI.com

HOT FUN in the SUMMERTIME

Warm weather ushers in a host of fun festivals held in Providence and throughout Rhode Island. Here are a few you won't want to miss this summer.

PVDFest is The Creative Capital's signature summer festival where artists, chefs, musicians, dancers — you name it — converge on Providence from all over the world to deliver an experience that stimulates all the senses. PVDFest will reign supreme from June 11–14 throughout the city's public spaces. PVDFest.com

To celebrate the start of the annual CVS Health Charity Classic Golf Tournament, the Dunkin' Donuts Center will host Crave RI on June 18 and 19. This family-friendly food fest will feature good eats from dozens and dozens of restaurants, as well as crafty cocktails, beer and more. Like they say, it's good eats for a good cause! CVSHealthCharityClassic.com

National Geographic recently named Providence one of the world's best destinations for LGBTQ celebrations. And it's no wonder: on June 20, a bevy of social events and a lively and spectacular illuminated night parade make Rhode Island's PrideFest, now in its 44th year, a true celebration of love and diversity. PrideRI.org

Visitors and locals alike love Federal Hill, Providence's "Little Italy." The Hill has an old-school, authentic vibe, which will be on display during this year's Federal Hill Summer Festival. Day and night on June 27 and 28, the festival will spotlight Federal Hill's restaurants and shops, and Atwells Avenue will be bustling with food vendors (ah, sausage and peppers!) and entertainment. It's fun for the whole family. FederalHillProv.com

There are few events in the country as venerable as the Newport Jazz and Folk Festivals. Born in the 1950s and held seaside, these events have hosted the world's most exalted musicians and nurtured new trends and talent at the same time. The Newport Folk Festival will be held July 31–Aug. 2, and the Newport Jazz Festival will run Aug. 7–9. NewportFestivals.org

For six days running from Aug. 4–9, the Rhode Island International Film Festival heralds, at venues around the city, creative interpretations of film from all over the world. The largest public film festival in New England, it is a qualifying event for both the Oscars and BAFTAs (in other words, it's a Big Deal). Film-Festival.org

ALL GOOD IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Providence is such a delightful city to live, work, play — and visit — in part because of its collection of distinctive neighborhoods. You can find information on all the neighborhoods on our website at GoProvidence.com/Neighborhoods. Here are three to get you started on your exploration.

College Hill & Benefit Street

This neighborhood, bordering the East Side of the city, is the intellectual and architectural heart of Providence. It is home to the finest art school in America — Rhode Island School of Design (RISD... say "riz-dee") — and Ivy League Brown University.

The epicenter of College Hill is the Brown campus and Thayer Street, which teems with youthful energy as well as dozens of restaurants and shops. This is also the place to be if you want to get smart (or, as we say in New England, "smaah"). The John Brown House Museum showcases the wealth and power of the 18th century, while Brown University's Haffenreffer Museum of Anthropology chronicles global cultures throughout history.

Anchoring College Hill is Benefit Street, which dates back to the Revolutionary-era founding of Providence. Lined with old trees and historic homes, Benefit Street begs to be strolled in any season. Here you'll find the RISD Museum, which features a breathtaking collection of art and design dating to the 5th century BCE (and a terrific gift shop).

Don't miss the Providence Athenaeum, a gorgeous example of Greek Revival architecture, which houses thousands of books and collections and also has a children's library. Afterwards, stop at Café Choklad for a snack, or check out Mill's Tavern for sublime entrees and a great wine list.

The West End

Providence's West End is a hip combination of residences and urban businesses in the areas around Broadway, West Fountain Street and Luongo Square. It's a diverse and historic neighborhood in the midst of a revitalization that has produced awesome places to eat, shop and play.

Lucky for you, several of the city's best restaurants call the West End home. Arrive early at Nicks on Broadway and Julian's to beat the lines that often form on weekend mornings for their epic brunches (lunch and dinner are killer, too), featuring super-fresh and sophisticated takes on the classics. But you'll find every imaginable cuisine here, too — whether you want barbecue, hot pot, craft beer or just a darn good cup of coffee. Le Mei Hot Pot has an addictive sauce bar to accompany their Chinese broth-cooked entrees; Great Northern Barbecue has the low-and-slow cooking method down pat; The Avery is your go-to for sublime cocktails, while Long Live Beerworks hits the spot for locally crafted beer. And Bucktown — oh, the fried chicken!

The West End is where you want to shop for funky vintage or just downright creative takes on clothing, accessories and home goods, textiles and more. Rocket to Mars and Hall's on Broadway are small but have a curated collection of great finds.

Elmwood

The Elmwood section of Providence is representative of the city's past — witness dozens of gorgeous plaque-house Victorians — as well as its evolution into a multicultural hub. The Southside Cultural Center, the Cambodian Society of Rhode Island, Rhode Island Latino Arts and many other community organizations make Elmwood their home and offer all kinds of opportunities for learning and exploring.

Check out the Chinese Apothecary Yuen Yuen Teas and Herbs or peruse the sauces and spices at the Good Fortune Supermarket. Or pop in to the Knight Memorial Library, home to the Sankofa World Market, featuring locally-made food and crafts.

Elmwood's most popular attraction, though, is Roger Williams Park, 430 acres of gorgeous grounds and an impressive collection of historic trees. You could spend all day here, at the Museum of Natural History and Planetarium, meandering through the Botanical Center, on Swan Boats in Carousel Village or, most notably, in the award-winning zoo. Afterwards, chill out over the delish Asian food at Apsara restaurant.

TOKEN REMINDERS

Rhode Island may be small, but its distinctive spirit is huge. We celebrate our size, poke fun at our icons, take joy in our beauty. Don't leave Little Rhody without taking part of us home with you!

CRAFTLAND calls itself “part gift emporium, part art gallery and part candy-colored theme park.” It’s no doubt delightful. Located downtown, Craftland features both appealing and cheeky designs by local artists. Some of them are perfect souvenirs — T-shirts (“Rhode Island: 3 percent bigger at low tide!”), wall art (Del’s Lemonade still life), and other Rhody-themed gifts.

Shop.CraftlandShop.com

It’s impossible to imagine there’s a memento of your time spent in Rhode Island that isn’t found at OCEAN STATE SOUVENIRS in Warwick. Magnets, shirts, snow globes, embroidered plush lobsters and crabs, bumper stickers and more extol the icons and beauty of the state. There are also local food products from honey and hot sauce, to clam chowder and coffee syrup.

OceanStateSouvenirs.com

DELIN DESIGN is a top branding firm in Providence that creates on-point souvenirs celebrating Little Rhody through its RED DOT MERCH CO. retail venture. The easiest way to indulge is to go online and peruse a selection of modern and boldly patterned T-shirts, magnets, and even stationery. Some are inside jokes for Ocean Staters, some are iconic Rhode Island, some are artful and minimalist. All are fabulous.

RedDotMerchCo.com

In the East Side neighborhood of Providence, RHODY CRAFT sells a carefully curated collection of locally handmade fine art, paper goods, jewelry, tote bags and more. You’ll love the playing cards featuring picturesque shots of the state, the Rhody-shaped Christmas tree ornaments, and the Del’s Lemonade-scented candle. RhodyCraft.com

NEWPORT VINEYARDS is a gorgeous (even romantic) one-stop destination for tours and tastings at the vineyard and their brewery, and is home to several dining options featuring locally sourced ingredients. Take home to your oenophile and craft-brew friends a T-shirt or ballcap, a bottle or two of their wines or brews, or a gift card so they can experience it all in person.

NewportVineyards.com

Don’t forget to stop by the PROVIDENCE VISITOR INFORMATION CENTER (run by the Providence Warwick CVB) for any last-minute trinkets. From magnets and postcards to calendars and wall art, you’ll find a variety of locally made goodies plus answers for all of your questions about how to make the most of your stay. Find it on the ground floor of the Rhode Island Convention Center. GoProvidence.com

Walking Tall

There's no better way to absorb the sights and soul of a city than walking it. Providence has five self-guided historic walking tours, called Providence Walks, which encourage you to witness the architecture, landmarks and stories that make Providence such a pivotal American city.

Let's start where Providence did, on the historic East Side. Enmeshed mostly along the campus of the Rhode Island School of Design (their museum is fantastic), this tour features the majestic, white-Georgia-marble Rhode Island State House, built in 1895, and the First Baptist Church in America. Founded by religious freedom pioneer Roger Williams in 1638, the breathtaking church is a traditional, steepled New England meeting house.

Across the river, the Downtown tour focuses on some of the city's grandest 19th-century buildings such as the Providence Public Library and the Arcade — technically the first indoor shopping mall in America. This is where the performances happen, too, at the gorgeous Providence Performing Arts Center and Trinity Repertory Company, both Tony Award winners.

As do many cities on the East Coast, Providence has a somber history in the slave trade. The Early Black History tour features elements of that time, homes where slaves worked and lived, and buildings they constructed. But there is also a more hopeful aspect, featuring places where Black Rhode Islanders worshipped or were educated. Visiting and reflecting on this time in history pays respect to the men and women who endured it.

The Jewelry District tour takes you back in time, to when 18th century “costume” jewelry creator Nehemiah Dodge and Jabez Gorham (of your mother's, and the White House's, sterling silver place settings) established their trades. Thanks to their ingenuity, by the 1940s, companies in the south side of downtown — now called the Jewelry District — mass produced 80% of the costume jewelry sold in America.

The West Side of Providence (or West End) embodies the complex nature of the city — it is hip and emerging, yet also traditional and authentic. Originally home to Italian immigrants who arrived in the 19th century, this part of the city has a history rich with characters, lore, murder and mayhem, success stories, romance and ... food. Highlights on this tour map a love story to immigration and evolution.

Grab a walking tour map at the Providence Visitor Information Center, on the ground floor of the Rhode Island Convention Center at 1 Sabin Street, or view the tours online at GoProvidence.com/ProvidenceWalks.
